SECTION 1. REGISTRANT'S BUSINESS AND OPERATIONS

ITEM 1.01 ENTRY INTO A MATERIAL DEFINITIVE AGREEMENT

Assumption Agreement

Effective on May 15, 2013, GDT TEK, Inc., a Florida corporation (the "Company"), entered into an assumption of convertible notes and debt agreement (the "Assumption Agreement") with Seamless Corporation, a private corporation organized under the laws of Nevada ("Seamless").

In November 2009, the Company merged with a subsidiary of Seamless pursuant to which Seamless survived the subsidiary's merger with the Company and, thus, Seamless became a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company. In accordance with the merger, the Company incurred substantial amount of debt to use as working capital to develop the assets of Seamless, which assets of Seamless are the S-Gen Mini Computer and corresponding patents and the Peer 2 Peer software and corresponding patents (collectively, the "Seamless Assets"). The debt is evidenced by the following convertible notes (collectively, the "Convertible Notes"):

On June 24, 2010, the Company entered into an agreement to sell all of the Company's subsidiaries, including Seamless in consideration for the issuance of shares of common stock of the Company. Subsequent to the sale of Seamless, the Company retained the Convertible Notes, which Convertible Notes were reflected on the Company's audited financial statements for fiscal years ended December 31, 2010, 2011 and 2012 (the "Financial Statements"). Approximately June 1, 2010, both the Company and Seamless had agreed that Seamless would assume the Debt. The Board of Directors of the Company has determined that it is in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders to evidence the assumption of debt by Seamless, to transfer all associated liability from the Company to Seamless (the "Assumption of Debt"), and to enter into the Assumption Agreement.

The Company intends to restate its Financial Statements and file amended Annual Reports on Form 10-k for fiscal year ended June 30, 2010.
