NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

OCTOBER 31, 2007
(Unaudited)
(Stated in U.S. Dollars)

1. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The unaudited financial information furnished herein reflects all adjustments, which in the opinion of management are necessary to fairly state the Company's financial position and the results of its operations for the periods presented. This report on Form 10-QSB should be read in conjunction with the Company's financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's audited financial statements for the fiscal period ended July 31, 2007. The Company assumes that the users of the interim financial information herein have read or have access to the audited financial statements for the preceding fiscal year and that the adequacy of additional disclosure needed for a fair presentation may be determined in that context. Accordingly, footnote disclosure, which would substantially duplicate the disclosure contained in the Company's audited financial statements for the fiscal period ended July 31, 2007, has been omitted. The results of operations for the three-month period ended October 31, 2007 are not necessarily indicative of results for the entire year ending July 31, 2008.

2. NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND GOING CONCERN

a) Organization

Language Enterprises Corp. was incorporated under the laws of Nevada, U.S.A., on October 25, 2005. The Company's principal executive offices are in Surrey, British Columbia, Canada.

b) Development Stage Activities

The Company was formed to broker the professional translation of documents. The Company markets its services in particular to public companies operating internationally in the resource sectors of oil and gas and mining. The Company is in the development stage. Successful completion of the Company's development program and its transition, ultimately to the attainment of profitable operations, is dependent upon it generating a significant level of business and obtaining adequate financing to fulfil its development activities.

c) Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern.

As shown in the accompanying financial statements, the Company has accumulated a deficit of $154,032 for the period from October 25, 2005 (inception) to October 31, 2007. The future of the Company is dependent upon its ability to obtain financing and upon future profitable operations. If necessary, management may seek additional capital through a private placement and public offering of its common stock.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. Because a precise determination of many assets and liabilities is dependent upon future events, the preparation of financial statements for a period necessarily involves the use of estimates which have been made using careful judgement.

The financial statements have, in management's opinion, been properly prepared within reasonable limits of materiality and within the framework of the significant accounting policies summarized below:

a) Development Stage Company

The Company is a development stage company as defined in the Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 7. The Company is devoting substantially all of its present efforts to establish a new business and has only recently commenced operations. All losses accumulated since inception have been considered as part of the Company's development stage activities.

b) Cash

For purposes of the balance sheet and statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. At October 31, 2007 and July 31, 2007, the Company had no cash equivalents.

c) Office Equipment

Office equipment is recorded at cost and is amortized on a straight line basis which will reduce original cost to estimated residual value over the assets' useful life of three years. Maintenance and repairs that do not extend an assets life are charged to expense as incurred.

d) Revenue Recognition

The Company earns revenue by providing document translation services. Revenue is recorded when service has been provided, the product has been delivered and settlement is reasonably assured.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

e) Foreign Currency Translation

The Company's functional currency is the U.S. dollar. Transactions in foreign currency are translated into U.S. dollars as follows:

- i) monetary items at the rate prevailing at the balance sheet date;
- ii) non-monetary items at the historical exchange rate;
- iii) revenue and expense at the average rate in effect during the applicable accounting period.

Translation adjustments resulting from this process are recorded in Stockholders' Equity as a component of Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss).

Gains and losses arising on translation or settlement of foreign currency denominated transactions or balances are recorded in the Statement of Operations.

f) Financial Instruments

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash, accounts payable and amounts due to related party.

Unless otherwise noted, it is management's opinion that this Company is not exposed to significant interest or credit risks arising from these financial instruments. The fair value of these financial instruments approximate their carrying values, unless otherwise noted.

j) Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share

In accordance with SFAS No. 128, Earnings Per Share, the basic loss per common share is computed by dividing net loss available to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted loss per common share is computed similar to basic loss per common share except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if the potential common shares had been issued and if the additional common shares were dilutive. At October 31, 2007 the Company has no common stock equivalents that were anti-dilutive and excluded in the earnings per share computation.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

l) Comprehensive Loss

Comprehensive loss is the total of (1) net loss plus (2) all other changes in net assets arising from non-stockholder sources, which are referred to as other comprehensive income. The Company has presented a statement of operations that includes other comprehensive income. An analysis of changes in components of accumulated other comprehensive loss is presented in the statement of stockholders' equity.

m) Use of Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of financial statements, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying disclosures. Actual results may differ from the estimates.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATION.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements contained in this Quarterly Report constitute "forward-looking statements." These statements, identified by words such as "plan," "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," "should," "expect" and similar expressions include our expectations and objectives regarding our future financial position, operating results and business strategy. These statements reflect the current views of management with respect to future events and are subject to risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause our actual results, performance or achievements, or industry results, to be materially different from those described in the forward-looking statements. Such risks and uncertainties include those set forth under this caption "Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation" and elsewhere in this Quarterly Report. We do not intend to update the forward-looking information to reflect actual results or changes in the factors affecting such forward-looking information. We advise you to carefully review the reports and documents we file from time to time with the SEC, particularly our Annual Reports on Form 10-KSB, our Quarterly Reports on Form 10-QSB and our Current Reports on Form 8-K.

As used in this Quarterly Report, the terms "we," "us," "our," the Company and Language mean Language Enterprises Corp. unless otherwise indicated. All dollar amounts in this Quarterly Report are in U.S. dollars unless otherwise stated.

INTRODUCTION

The following discussion and analysis summarizes our plan of operation for the next twelve months, our results of operations for the three months ended October 31, 2007, and changes in our financial condition from July 31, 2007. This discussion should be read in conjunction with the Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation included in our Annual Report on Form 10-KSB for the fiscal year ended July 31, 2007.

Overview

We were incorporated on October 25, 2005 under the laws of the State of Nevada. We are a translation brokerage business, acting as an intermediary between clients and the independent, professional translators located throughout the world with whom we are associated. While we maintain an internet presence at www.languageenterprisescorp.com, we are not an internet-based translation service. Clients engage us to source professional translations of their documents and we, in turn, engage an appropriate translator that is acceptable to the client. Our focus is translations between the world's main commercial and scientific languages. Public companies operating in the resource sectors of oil & gas and mining often require professional independent translations of technical and other documents. We market our services to these potential clients in particular.

Recent Corporate Developments

The following significant developments occurred since the completion of our fiscal year ended July 31, 2007:

1. Effective October 9, 2007, Michael Heithaus resigned as a member of our board of directors. Mr. Heithaus resigned for personal reasons and there was no disagreement between him and our management regarding any matter relating to our operations, policies and practices.

2. On November 21, 2007, Dr. Paul C. Kirkitelos was appointed our Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, President, Secretary and Treasurer to fill the vacancies created by the resignations of Jonathan Moore as our President and Treasurer and Naomi Moore as our Secretary.
3. On November 23, 2007, pursuant to the terms of a Share Transfer Agreement (the Share Transfer Agreement) among Paul C. Kirkitelos, our sole executive officer, Jonathan Moore, a member of our board of directors, and Naomi Moore, also a member of our board of directors, Dr. Kirkitelos purchased 1,170,000 shares of our common stock from each of Mr. Moore and Mrs. Moore, being 2,340,000 shares of our common stock in aggregate (the Shares). In consideration of the Shares, Dr. Kirkitelos paid $124,990 to each of Mr. Moore and Mrs. Moore, equal to $249,980 in the aggregate.

As a result of the completion of the sale of the Shares to Dr. Kirkitelos, Mr. Moore and Mrs. Moore no longer own any shares of our common stock and Dr. Kirkitelos now owns approximately 58.4% of the outstanding shares of our common stock, resulting in a change of control. Pursuant to the terms of the Share Transfer Agreement, Mr. Moore and Mrs. Moore have agreed to resign from our Board of Directors and to have Dr. Kirkitelos appointed as our sole director. This change in our Board of Directors is expected to take place 10 days after an information statement prepared in accordance with Rule 14f-1 promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the Exchange Act) has been mailed to our stockholders and filed with the SEC.

PLAN OF OPERATION

During our fiscal year ended July 31, 2007, we conducted a mail out marketing campaign that was designed primarily to target new prospective customers for our services. The target of this campaign was companies in the oil and gas and mining sectors. We also targeted businesses that provide professional services to these companies, including law firms, accounting firms and engineering businesses. Despite this campaign, we have been unable to generate any significant revenues to date.

We are currently considering whether or not to hire a marketing professional to assist us in developing a more effective marketing program.

We currently estimate our budgeting needs as follows; however, as we proceed with the development of our business, our anticipated expenses could change significantly.

Category	Planned Expenditures Over The Next 12 Months (US$)
Marketing	$5,000
Legal	$8,000
Office and Administration	$10,000
Accounting	$8,000
Audit	$10,000
Transfer Agent	$2,500
Contingency/Miscellaneous	$5,000
TOTAL	$48,500

As at October 31, 2007, we had $20,949 in cash and a working capital surplus of $113. As such, we do not have sufficient funds to meet our anticipated expenses for the next twelve months. We have not earned significant revenues from our operations to date and there are no assurances that we will be able to do so in the near future. As a result, we will likely have to rely on external sources of financing in order to pay for anticipated costs of operating our business. In addition, there are no assurances that the actual costs of our anticipated expenses will not exceed the estimates of those costs. We have an agreement with Jonathan Moore, one of our directors, under which Mr. Moore has agreed to loan us $40,000 on an as needed basis at an interest rate of prime plus 2%. We do not have any other financing arrangements in place at this time.

We have not yet earned revenue from operations as we are still in the development stage. We can provide no assurance that we will earn significant revenues from our business operations in the future.

Operating Costs and Expenses

Our operating expenses for the three months ended October 31, 2007, and 2006, consisted of the following:

	Three Months Ended October 31		Percentage Increase / (Decrease)
	2007	2006
Amortization	$36	$36	n/a
Bank Charges	149	35	325.7%

Travel and Entertainment	212	521	(59.3)%
Total Operating Expenses	$35,763	$26,632	34.3%

The increase in our total expenses is primarily a result of the increase in legal and professional fees. The majority of the amounts spent by us on legal and professional fees are amounts paid in connection with meeting our ongoing reporting obligations under the Exchange Act.

The amounts recorded for management services and rent were recorded solely for accounting purposes and reflect the estimated fair value of the services and rent provided to us free of charge. A corresponding increase in additional paid in capital has been recorded with respect to these amounts.

Cash Flows from (used in) Financing Activities	$(4,277)	(1,728)
Net Increase (decrease) in Cash During Period	$(10,266)	$(14,846)

The decreases in our working capital at October 31, 2007 from our three months ended October 31, 2006, and the increase in our cash used during the three months ended on October 31, 2007, from the preceding fiscal quarter are primarily a result of the fact that we did not earn any significant revenue and had no sources of financing with which to pay the ongoing costs of our business for the fiscal quarter ended October 31, 2007.

Since our inception, we have used our common stock to raise money for our operations. Our operations are not currently profitable and are dependent upon outside sources of financing. We currently have an agreement with Jonathan Moore under which he has agreed to loan us $40,000 on an as needed basis at an interest rate of prime plus 2%. We may also rely on sales of our common stock in order to continue to fund our business operations, if and when needed. Issuances of additional shares will result in dilution to our existing stockholders. There is no assurance that we will be able to sell any additional equity securities in the future. There are no assurances that we will be able to arrange for other debt or other financing to fund our planned business activities.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

We have no significant off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenue or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources that is material to our stockholders.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial statements presented with this Quarterly Report on Form 10-QSB have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America for interim financial information. These financial statements do not include all information and footnote disclosures required for an annual set of financial statements prepared under United States generally accepted accounting principles. In the opinion of our management, all adjustments (consisting solely of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position, results of operations and cash flows as at October 31, 2007, and for all periods presented in the attached financial statements, have been included. Interim results for the three months ended October 31, 2007 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the fiscal year as a whole.

Our significant accounting policies are disclosed in the notes to the interim financial statements in this Quarterly Report.

RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

We have an operating deficit and have incurred losses since inception.

To date, our operations have not been profitable. We have generated a cumulative net loss of $154,032 from inception to October 31, 2007. Our inability to achieve profitability is directly related to our inability to earn significant revenues. We may never be able to earn significant revenues or achieve profitability.

We have only a limited operating history and therefore face a high risk of business failure and this could result in a complete loss of investors' investments.

Investors' evaluations of our business will be difficult because we have a limited operating history. We face a number of risks encountered by early-stage companies, including our need to develop infrastructure to support growth and expansion; our need to obtain long-term sources of financing; our need to establish our marketing, sales and support organizations; and our need to manage expanding operations. Our business strategy may not be successful, and we may not successfully address these risks. If we are unable to sustain profitable operations, investors may lose their entire investment in us.

We face competition from existing and potential competitors which could adversely affect our business.

We face competition in the industry. Due to our small size, it can be assumed that many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical, marketing and other competitive resources. Many of our competitors and potential competitors have greater name recognition and more extensive marketing and customer bases that could be leveraged, for example, to position themselves as being more experienced, and having greater expertise. To compete, we may be forced to offer lower prices, increase our marketing budget, and narrow our marketing focus, resulting in reduced revenues, if any.

The loss of our key persons, or our failure to attract and retain additional personnel could adversely affect our business.

Our success depends largely upon the efforts, abilities, and decision-making of Dr. Paul C. Kirkitelos, our Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, President, Secretary and Treasurer. The loss of this individual would have an adverse effect on our operations. We do not currently maintain "key-man" life insurance and there is no contract in place assuring the services of Dr. Kirkitelos for any length of time. In addition, our success depends on the efforts and abilities of the professional translators we engage and the availability of these translators. If we are unable to engage new translators and renew and maintain existing relationships, this will have an adverse effect on our operations. In the event that we should lose our sole officer and we are unable to find a suitable replacement, we may not be able to maintain our business and might have to cease operations, in which case investors might lose all of their investment.

One stockholder owns a majority of our common stock and may act, or prevent certain types of corporate actions, to the detriment of other stockholders.

Dr. Paul C. Kirkitelos owns 2,340,000 common shares, which is approximately 58.4% of our issued and outstanding common stock. Accordingly, he may exercise significant influence over all matters requiring stockholder approval, including the election of a majority of the directors and the determination of significant corporate actions. This concentration could also have the effect of delaying or preventing a change in control that could otherwise be beneficial to our stockholders.

If we are unsuccessful at surmounting difficulties normally faced by new enterprises, our business could fail, leading to a loss by our investors or their investment capital.

As noted in our financial statements that are included in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-QSB, we are a development stage company. Potential investors should be aware of the difficulties normally encountered by a new enterprise and the high rate of failure of such enterprises. The likelihood of success must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties complications and delays encountered in connection with the development of a business in the areas in which we intend to operate and in connection with the formation and commencement of operations of a new business in general. These include, but are not limited to, unanticipated problems relating to the development of our brokerage service, marketing and competition, and additional costs and expenses that may exceed current estimates. There is limited history upon which to base any assumption as to the likelihood that we will prove successful, and there can be no assurance that we will generate any significant operating revenues or ever achieve profitable operations. If we are unsuccessful in addressing these risks, our business will most likely not be successful to the point that investors will receive a return on their investments

Because we have only recently commenced business operations, we expect to incur operating losses for the foreseeable future.

We have never earned revenues and we have never been profitable. Prior to completion of our development stage, we anticipate that we will incur increased operating expenses while realizing limited or no revenues. Therefore we expect to incur significant losses into the foreseeable future. We recognize that if we are unable to generate significant revenues from our business development, we will not be able to achieve profitability or continue operations.

If we issue additional shares of common stock in the future this may result in dilution to our existing stockholders.

Our articles of incorporation authorize the issuance of 100,000,000 shares of common stock. Our board of directors has the authority to issue additional shares of common stock up to the authorized capital stated in the articles of incorporation. Our board of directors may choose to issue some or all of such shares to provide additional financing in the future. The issuance of any such shares may result in a reduction of the book value or market price of the outstanding shares of our common stock. It will also cause a reduction in the proportionate ownership and voting power of all other stockholders.

If our estimates related to expenditures are erroneous, our business may fail.

Our success is in part dependent upon the accuracy of our management's estimates of expenditures. If such estimates are erroneous or inaccurate we may incur unexpected and/or unnecessary costs that could result in the failure of our business and an investor losing their entire investment. Specifically, our office overhead and marketing budgets for the upcoming year are modest. If unanticipated exigencies significantly increase these budgets, we may be unable to finance operations and our business will fail.

We are a start up business with a small client base and, if we do not expand our customer base, our business will likely fail.

We are a start-up business with a small client base. In order to become profitable, we will have to develop a substantial client base and generate sufficient revenues to cover our expenses and eventually become profitable. We may not be successful at attracting clients. If we are unsuccessful at generating revenues from clients, our business will likely fail and investors may lose some or all of their investment.

We have never paid dividends and do not intend to pay any in the foreseeable future, which may delay or prevent recovery of your investment.

We have never paid any cash dividends and currently do not intend to pay any dividends in the foreseeable future. If we do not pay dividends, this may delay or prevent recovery of your investment. To the extent that we require additional funding currently not provided for in our financing plan, it is possible that our funding sources might prohibit the payment of dividends.

We rely on third parties to provide translation services. Our business will be adversely affected to the extent these third parties do not provide an effective service or are unable to provide the service on terms acceptable to us.

We act as an intermediary between clients and third party translators who are independent of us. We depend on the quality, timeliness, availability, and competitive pricing of these translators. While we believe the translators will consistently produce and deliver high-quality professional translations, there can be no assurance that they will. Nor is it certain that translation services will be available to us in the future, and if available, will be available on financial terms that are acceptable to us and to our clients. Any such quality problems, unavailability of translators or increased costs could have a material adverse effect on our business.

The trading price of our common stock may be volatile, with the result that an investor may not be able to sell any shares acquired at a price equal to or greater than the price paid by the investor.

Our common shares are quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board under the symbol "LNKG. Companies quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board have traditionally experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations. In addition, our stock price may be adversely affected by factors that are unrelated or disproportionate to our operating performance. Market fluctuations, as well as general economic, political and market conditions such as recessions, interest rates or international currency fluctuations may adversely affect the market price of our common stock. In addition, to date, there has been no trading volume for our shares on the OTC Bulletin Board. As a result of this potential volatility and potential lack of a trading market, an investor may not be able to sell any of our common stock that they acquire that a price equal or greater than the price paid by the investor.

Because our stock is a penny stock, stockholders will be more limited in their ability to sell their stock.

The SEC has adopted rules that regulate broker-dealer practices in connection with transactions in penny stocks. Penny stocks are generally equity securities with a price of less than $5.00, other than securities registered on certain national securities exchanges or quoted on the Nasdaq system, provided that current price and volume information with respect to transactions in such securities is provided by the exchange or quotation system.

Because our securities constitute "penny stocks" within the meaning of the rules, the rules apply to us and to our securities. The rules may further affect the ability of owners of shares to sell our securities in any market that might develop for them. As long as the trading price of our common stock is less than $5.00 per share, the common stock will be subject to rule 15c-2 under the Exchange Act. The penny stock rules require a broker-dealer, prior to a transaction in a penny stock, to deliver a standardized risk disclosure document prepared by the SEC, that:

1. contains a description of the nature and level of risk in the market for penny stocks in both public offerings and secondary trading;
2. contains a description of the broker's or dealer's duties to the customer and of the rights and remedies available to the customer with respect to a violation to such duties or other requirements of securities laws;
3. contains a brief, clear, narrative description of a dealer market, including bid and ask prices for penny stocks and the significance of the spread between the bid and ask price;
4. contains a toll-free telephone number for inquiries on disciplinary actions;
5. defines significant terms in the disclosure document or in the conduct of trading in penny stocks; and
6. contains such other information and is in such form, including language, type, size and format, as the SEC shall require by rule or regulation.

The broker-dealer also must provide, prior to effecting any transaction in a penny stock, the customer with: (a) bid and offer quotations for the penny stock; (b) the compensation of the broker-dealer and its salesperson in the transaction; (c) the number of shares to which such bid and ask prices apply, or other comparable information relating to the depth and liquidity of the market for such stock; and (d) a monthly account statements showing the market value of each penny stock held in the customer's account. In addition, the penny stock rules require that prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from those rules; the broker-dealer must make a special written determination that the penny stock is a suitable investment for the purchaser and receive the purchaser's written acknowledgment of the receipt of a risk disclosure statement, a written agreement to transactions involving penny stocks, and a signed and dated copy of a written suitability statement. These disclosure requirements may have the effect of reducing the trading activity in the secondary market for our stock.

ITEM 3. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, we have evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as required by Exchange Act Rule 13a-15(b) as of the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report. Based on that evaluation, our principal executive officer and principal financial officer has concluded that these disclosure controls and procedures are effective.

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the last fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
