Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Effective July 28, 2006, Angelica Corporation (the “Company”) entered into the First Amendment (the “First Amendment”) to the Second Amended and Restated Loan Agreement with LaSalle Bank National Association and other third party lenders (the “Loan Agreement”). The Loan Agreement, which was previously entered into and reported by the Company on November 30, 2005, increased the amount that may be borrowed by the Company under a secured revolving line of credit to $150 million. The Company anticipates that the First Amendment will provide the opportunity to take better advantage of the borrowing capacity offered by the Loan Agreement. The Loan Agreement expires in 2010.

The First Amendment provides that for purposes of computing financial ratios under the Loan Agreement, certain current expenses will be added back in determining earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA). The amounts to be added back include legal fees and costs associated with the activities of the Board of Directors’ Special Committee and the Company’s efforts to evaluate and respond to various proposals and actions by the Company’s largest shareholder. In addition, the First Amendment allows certain consulting fees related to the Company’s strategic initiative for operational improvements to be added back as well in determining EBITDA.

The First Amendment also revises the definition of Funded Indebtedness. For purposes of the Loan Agreement, Funded Indebtedness is determined by reducing debt by the amount of cash on hand in excess of $500,000. The First Amendment has eliminated through the end of the current fiscal year the current prohibition on utilizing this reduction if the Company had outstanding borrowing against the life insurance policies it owns.
