Residential Resources Securitization Commitment

On September 10, 2002 the Company received a Securitization Commitment (the "Commitment") from Residential Resources, Inc. (RRI) wherein RRI agrees to act as the exclusive agent in selling or hypothecating certain assets of Voyager through a bond issuance for up to One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000), where the proceeds will be utilized for financing the Company's entertainment attraction planned for development in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Under the terms of the Securitization Commitment, the Company or its affiliates will enter into a separate agreement to sell or hypothecate the Assets to an affiliate of RRI in order to be utilized as collateral for a bond issuance. The actual terms and conditions will not be finalized until the closing of the transaction. In connection with the transaction, RRI is to use its best efforts to structure the transaction so that the proceeds will be sufficient to: (i) purchase or hypothecate the Assets; and (ii) generate certain additional income to the Company in the form of the residual income interests in the Securities issued in connection with the transaction.

Voyager paid an initial due diligence fee of $30,000. Upon the completion of the due diligence, Voyager received the Securitization Commitment from RRI. Under the terms of the Securitization Commitment Voyager paid an additional commitment fee of $70,000 to RRI.

Additionally, RRI will also receive at the closing/bond issuance, an amount equal to 2% of the aggregate bonds issued in connection with the transaction, less the $100,000 total fees paid as above. The total transaction is anticipated to be One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000), essentially the amount required to construct the 560-foot tall high-tech "Voyager" Ferris Wheel attraction proposed by the Company for the Las Vegas Strip.

The transaction with RRI is primarily a financing transaction which is conditional upon RRI being able to effectuate the 100 Million Dollar securitization through the sale of bonds, utilizing the Company's product/assets as collateral.
