Credit Suisse Enters Agreement to Resolve Claims Asserted by Enron in U.S. Bankruptcy Megaclaim Litigation

New York, May 9, 2006 - We are pleased to announce that Credit Suisse has entered into an agreement in principle with the bankruptcy estate of Enron Corporation and its affiliates to resolve claims asserted by Enron against all named Credit Suisse First Boston and Donaldson Lufkin & Jenrette entities in the so-called megaclaim litigation pending in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York.

Under the settlement, Credit Suisse will pay US$90 million and Enron will allow US$92 million in bankruptcy claims that Credit Suisse no longer holds. The remainder of Credit Suisse's claims in the Enron bankruptcy will be equitably subordinated. The settlement also resolves claims asserted by Enron against all named Credit Suisse First Boston and Donaldson Lufkin & Jenrette entities. Credit Suisse acquired DLJ in 2000. The settlement payment is covered by existing reserves and is subject to execution of definitive documentation and court approval. The settlement does not cover separate litigation by Enron in U.S. Bankruptcy Court to recover certain payments in connection with equity forward and swap transactions or other Enron-related litigation.

By entering into this agreement, Credit Suisse does not admit any liability or wrongdoing.

The megaclaim litigation refers to Enron's adversary proceedings in U.S. Bankruptcy Court seeking avoidance and recovery of various alleged preferential, illegal and fraudulent transfers; disallowance and equitable subordination of Credit Suisse and its affiliates' claims in the bankruptcy proceedings and damages, attorneys' fees and costs for alleged aiding and abetting of fraud and breaches of fiduciary duty by Enron employees and civil conspiracy.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Information

This press release contains statements that constitute forward-looking statements. In addition, in the future we, and others on our behalf, may make statements that constitute forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements may include, without limitation, statements relating to our plans, objectives or goals; our future economic performance or prospects; the potential effect on our future performance of certain contingencies; and assumptions underlying any such statements. Words such as believes, anticipates, expects, intends and plans and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. We do not intend to update these forward-looking statements except as may be required by applicable laws. By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties, both general and specific, and risks exist that predictions, forecasts, projections and other outcomes described or implied in forward-looking statements will not be achieved. We caution you that a number of important factors could cause results to differ materially from the plans, objectives, expectations, estimates and intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements. These factors include (i) market and interest rate fluctuations; (ii) the strength of the global economy in general and the strength of the economies of the countries in which we conduct our operations in particular; (iii) the ability of counterparties to meet their obligations to us; (iv) the effects of, and changes in, fiscal, monetary, trade and tax policies, and currency fluctuations; (v) political and social developments, including war, civil unrest or terrorist activity; (vi) the possibility of foreign exchange controls, expropriation, nationalization or confiscation of assets in countries in which we conduct our operations; (vii) the ability to maintain sufficient liquidity and access capital markets; (viii) operational factors such as systems failure, human error, or the failure to implement procedures properly; (ix) actions taken by regulators with respect to our business and practices in one or more of the countries in which we conduct our operations; (x) the effects of changes in laws, regulations or accounting policies or practices; (xi) competition in geographic and business areas in which we conduct our operations; (xii) the ability to retain and recruit qualified personnel; (xiii) the ability to maintain our reputation and promote our brand; (xiv) the ability to increase market share and control expenses; (xv) technological changes; (xvi) the timely development and acceptance of our new products and services and the perceived overall value of these products and services by users; (xvii) acquisitions, including the ability to integrate acquired businesses successfully, and divestitures, including the ability to sell non-core assets; (xviii) the adverse resolution of litigation and other contingencies; and (xix) our success at managing the risks involved in the foregoing. We caution you that the foregoing list of important factors is not exclusive; when evaluating forward-looking statements, you should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other uncertainties and events, as well as the risks identified in our most recently filed Form 20-F and reports on Form 6-K furnished to the US Securities and Exchange Commission.
