Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

On September 10, 2015, with the approval of the Mine Safety and Health Administration, Intrepid Potash, Inc. (Intrepid, we, us, or our) resumed production at our West Mine near Carlsbad, New Mexico. As previously disclosed, on August 26, 2015, we temporarily suspended production at the West Mine while we took corrective actions to resolve maintenance issues and salt build-up in the ore hoisting shaft at the mine.

We are updating our outlook for the second half and full year of 2015, as shown in the table below. Primarily as a result of the production outage at the West Mine, we have lowered our potash production ranges. Our outlook for per-ton potash cash operating costs and potash cost of goods sold has not changed from our previous outlook. Excluded from the potash cost ranges are expected lower-of-cost-or-market adjustments. Separately, we also expect abnormal production costs for the second half of 2015 of between $6 million and $8 million relating to the production outage at the West Mine, including incremental costs related to maintenance work in the ore hoisting shaft, some of which will continue into the fourth quarter. We have also updated our potash and Trio® sales volume outlooks to reflect current demand across the fertilizer sector, which has been slow to develop for the fall season. We have slightly lowered production ranges and increased per ton cost estimates for Trio® to reflect our current production plans. We have not changed our estimates for the line items shown in Other .
