Restatement of Prior Financial Information

As previously disclosed by Time Warner Inc. (Time Warner or the Company), the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) had been conducting an investigation into certain accounting and disclosure practices of the Company. On March 21, 2005, the Company announced that the SEC had approved the Company's proposed settlement, which resolved the SEC's investigation of the Company. Under the terms of the settlement with the SEC, the Company agreed, without admitting or denying the SEC's allegations, to be enjoined from future violations of certain provisions of the securities laws and to comply with the cease-and-desist order issued by the SEC to AOL LLC (formerly America Online, Inc., AOL), a subsidiary of the Company, in May 2000. The Company also agreed to appoint an independent examiner, who was to either be or hire a certified public accountant. The independent examiner was to review whether the Company's historical accounting for certain transactions (as well as any subsequent amendments) with 17 counterparties identified by the SEC staff, principally involving online advertising and including three cable programming affiliation agreements with related online advertising elements, was appropriate, and provide a report to the Company's Audit and Finance Committee of its conclusions, originally within 180 days of being engaged. The transactions that were to be reviewed were entered into (or amended) between June 1, 2000 and December 31, 2001, including subsequent amendments thereto, and involved online advertising and related transactions for which the majority of the revenue was recognized before January 1, 2002.

The independent examiner began his review in June 2005 and, after several extensions of time, has recently completed that review, in which he concluded that certain of the transactions under review with 15 counterparties, including the three cable programming affiliation agreements with advertising elements, had been accounted for improperly because the historical accounting did not reflect the substance of the arrangements. Under the terms of its SEC settlement, the Company is required to restate any transactions that the independent examiner determined were accounted for improperly. Accordingly, on August 15, 2006, the Company determined it will restate its consolidated financial results for each of the years ended December 31, 2000 through December 31, 2005 and for the six months ended June 30, 2006. The Company also has determined that investors should not rely on the Company's consolidated financial statements for those periods pending that restatement. In addition, investors should no longer rely on any audit reports of Ernst & Young LLP, the Company's independent auditor, for those periods. The Company's Audit and Finance Committee has discussed the independent examiner's conclusions and the matters disclosed in this Current Report on Form 8-K with Ernst & Young LLP.

The transactions requiring restatement are principally transactions in which (i) AOL secured online advertising commitments from counterparties (and subsequently delivered on such commitments) at the same time that the Company entered into commitments with those same counterparties to purchase products or services or to make an investment in such counterparties and (ii) in the case of three counterparties, Time Warner Cable, a subsidiary of the Company, entered into cable programming affiliation agreements at the same time it committed to deliver (and did subsequently deliver) network and online advertising services to those same counterparties. Total advertising revenue recognized by the Company under these transactions was approximately $584 million¹ (approximately $24 million in 2000, approximately $378 million in 2001, approximately $107 million in 2002, approximately $67 million in 2003 and approximately $8 million in 2004). In addition to reversing the recognition of revenue, based on the independent examiner's conclusions and as described more fully below, the Company is required to record corresponding reductions in the cost of the products or services that were acquired or investments that were made contemporaneously with the execution of the advertising agreements. The independent examiner also concluded that certain marketing expenses were not recognized in the appropriate accounting period.

Included in the approximately $584 million of advertising revenues being restated is approximately $310 million of advertising revenues in which the advertising arrangements were secured by AOL contemporaneously with the purchase of products or services or making an investment. In restating these transactions, the Company will reduce the cost of the related products, services or investment, which has the effect of increasing earnings during certain of the periods restated. The remaining balance of the $584 million (or approximately $274 million) consists of advertising arrangements that were secured contemporaneously with cable programming affiliation agreements where the revenues under these advertising arrangements were recognized during 2001 and 2002. In restating these advertising arrangements, the Company will recognize reduced cable programming costs over the life of the related cable programming affiliation agreements (which range from 10 to 12 years), which has the effect of increasing earnings during certain of the periods restated and in future periods.

Edgar Filing: TIME WARNER INC - Form 8-K

¹ Included in the $584 million is approximately $37 million related to operations that have been subsequently classified as discontinued operations and approximately $12 million of amounts that will be reclassified to another revenue category (content or other) in connection with the restatement.

Edgar Filing: TIME WARNER INC - Form 8-K

The net effect of restating these transactions is that the Company's net income will be reduced by approximately $1 million in 2000 and approximately $161 million in 2001 and will be increased by approximately $62 million in 2002, approximately $18 million in 2003, approximately $30 million in 2004, approximately $16 million in 2005, and approximately $15 million for the first six months of 2006 (the impact for the year ended December 31, 2006 is estimated to be an increase to the Company's net income of approximately $20 million). Included in the 2002 incremental net income of approximately $62 million is a $42 million decrease in the aggregate goodwill impairment charge recognized by the Company during 2002. While the restatement will result in changes in the classification of cash flows, it will not impact total cash flows during the periods.

The Company expects to file amendments to its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005 and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarters ended March 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006 before the end of the third quarter.

The accompanying financial information reflects the impact of the adjustments that will be made in the restatement of the Company's consolidated financial statements for the six months ended June 30, 2006 and 2005, and for each of the six years ended December 31, 2000 through December 31, 2005 (all amounts are unaudited):

³ Because the merger of AOL and Historic TW Inc. was not consummated until January 2001, the historical information for the year ended December 31, 2000 included herein reflects only the financial results of AOL. As a result, Time Warner's subsequent historical operating results and financial condition are not comparable to those for the year ended December 31, 2000.
