Item 8.01 Other Events

On October 2, 2017, MagneGas Corporation (“Company”) issued a press release announcing that the Company is applying for an innovative grant to produce a multi-fuel gasification system which is small, efficient and cost effective. The grant is supported by the Small Business Innovation Research Program, National Institute of Food & Agriculture and is led by the United States Department of Agriculture, which recently awarded MagneGas its first grant. The stated purpose of the grant is to develop a new type of gasification system which follows the principles of clean coal technology, by transforming low efficiency fuels such as coal or wood, and gasifying it into a syngas.

A copy of the press release that discuss this matter is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1, and is incorporated herein by reference.
