Item No. 1: Approval of the Proposal of Profit Appropriation for the 102nd Business Term

Considering further reinforcement of the business organization and the development of the business operation in the future, the Proposal of Profit Appropriation for the 102nd Business Term is intended to be as described in the enclosed Report for the 102nd Business Term (page 51).

Regarding the dividends, in order to respond to the continuing support from our shareholders, it is intended to be 17.50 yen per share, which is an increase by 3.00 yen compared to the dividend for the previous term.

Since we have already paid an interim dividend of 12.50 yen per share, together with the above dividend, the dividend for the entire business term will be 30.00 yen total per share, an increase of 5.00 yen compared to the dividend for the previous entire business term.

As for the bonus for Directors, it is intended to be 139,300,000 yen.

In addition, you are requested to approve that, under the provision of tax law, Reserve for Deferral of Capital Gain on Property should be reversed and the Reserve for Special Depreciation should be reversed and accumulated.

Item No. 2: Partial Amendment of the Articles of Incorporation

1. Reason and purpose of amendment

- (1) Since the preparation of the register of shareholders by electronic means was provided by The Law to Revise Part of the Commercial Code, etc. effective as of April 1, 2002 (Law No. 128, 2001), the required amendments to Article 9, Article 32 and Article 33 shall be implemented.

Further, due to the creation of the share acquisition rights system, Article 34 and Article 35, which relate to convertible debentures, are no longer necessary, and thus they will be deleted.

Please note that, pursuant to Article 7 of the supplementary provisions of the abovementioned law, the initial date for calculating dividends for the shares to be issued upon the conversion of convertible debentures which have already been issued shall be the same as before.

- (2) Since the Auditors' obligation to attend the meetings of the Board of Directors and to state their opinions have been stipulated by The Law to Revise Part of the Commercial Code and the Law Regarding Exceptional Rules of the Commercial Code concerning Auditing, etc. of Stock Corporation effective as of May 1, 2002 (Law No. 149, 2001), and the term of office of Corporate Auditors has been extended from three years to four years by the same law, the required amendments to Article 20 and Article 25 shall be implemented.

Please note that, pursuant to Article 7 of the supplementary provisions of the abovementioned law, the term of office of Corporate Auditors who are already in office before the end of this Meeting shall remain to be three years.

- (3) Since the system for buying additional shares of less-than-one-unit shares was created by The Law to Revise Part of the Commercial Code, etc. effective as of April 1, 2003 (Law No. 44, 2002), in order to adopt this system, the required amendments to Article 6, Article 7 and Article 8 shall be implemented.

Also, since it is possible to relax the quorum for the special resolution of the General Meeting of Shareholders, an amendment for such purpose shall be implemented to Article 12.

Further, in accordance with the creation of the system for the annulment of stock certificates, the required amendments to Article 7 and Article 8 shall be implemented.

In this connection, in order to clarify that these amendments shall become effective as of April 1, 2003, a supplementary provision shall be inserted.

- (4) For the purpose of building a management structure capable of responding rapidly to changes in the business environment, the Company proposes to shorten the term of office of Directors provided in Article 16 from two years to one year.

To Our Shareholders

It is a great pleasure to present our report for the 102nd Business Term, from January 1, 2002, through December 31, 2002.

During the term concerned, corporations faced an extremely severe business environment due to such factors as the slump in the global economy, the prolongation of the domestic recession in Japan, and the spreading distrust caused by the succession of corporate scandals both in Japan and abroad. Nevertheless, Canon was able to achieve record-high levels of sales and profits as a result of actively advancing policies in each area of development, production, sales, and services to strengthen its management foundation and to raise the competitiveness of its products.

Regarding dividends, although the interim dividend was 12.50 yen per share, in appreciation for the ongoing support of our shareholders, we intend to propose the distribution of a year-end dividend of 17.50 yen (30 yen total per share for the entire business term, representing a 5-yen increase versus the previous term) during the 102nd Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders.

Although the future outlook of the business environment permits no predictions, we will work toward establishing a global tripolar organization centered in Japan, the U.S., and Europe, and actively extend our activities into Asia, including China, with the aim of wider global multilateralism. We also plan to further heighten the added value of our products and aim for the sustained growth of our business operations. We will, of course, continue to promote transparency in our business management in accordance with our corporate principle of compliance with the law.

We hope that you will extend even greater support and encouragement to Canon in the time to come.

March, 2003

FUJIO MITARAI
President and C.E.O.

BUSINESS REPORT

(from January 1, 2002 to December 31, 2002)

1. General Business Outline

(1) Business Progress and Results

General Business Conditions

To summarize the global economy during the 102nd business term, though the U.S. economy started out on a basic tone of recovery, its recovery remained at a standstill due to bankruptcies of large firms, the deceleration of personal consumption, and other factors. European economies headed for a gradual recovery, but a sense of economic deceleration intensified from the middle of the year, with a focus on Germany, thus slowing down the pace of recovery. Asian economies, except for China which continued to exhibit steady economic growth, generally went no further than a gradual recovery. In Japan, on the other hand, amidst a growing sense of uncertainty about the future, share prices fell and Japan's economy demonstrated low growth without showing any prospects of economic recovery. In the foreign exchange market, compared with the previous term, the yen rate depreciated versus European and U.S. currencies.

In markets relevant to Canon, the demand for digital copying machines grew for both monochrome and color models. Influenced by the worldwide slump in the market for personal computers, the market for computer peripherals stagnated. The market for digital cameras and digital video cameras continued to expand greatly. In the market for semiconductor production equipment, on the other hand, severe circumstances prevailed because of the continued restraint among semiconductor manufacturers in investments for plants and equipment.

Within such a business environment, during the 102nd business term which coincided with the second year of Phase II (2001 to 2005) of the Excellent Global Corporation Plan, Canon successfully pushed forward structural reforms and operational reforms in the areas of development, production, and sales.

Particularly in the area of development, the comprehensive introduction of 3-D CAD substantially shortened the development schedule for products. Consequently, we released a succession of competitive, new products and were able to secure a high profit ratio. Moreover, we continued to advance production reforms. In September of 2002, for example, we abolished conveyer belts at all of our production sites, including those overseas, and completed our transition to a cell production system. As the result of such accumulated efforts to reform both development and production activities, we greatly cut back costs and improved our profit structure.

Furthermore, we endeavored to build efficient group production structures and improve sales capability by such means as promoting structural reforms to, for example, spin off Canon plants into subsidiaries and to transform publicly-listed

Edgar Filing: CANON INC - Form 6-K

Canon subsidiaries into wholly-owned Canon subsidiaries by share exchange; complete the construction of new plants in China and Vietnam; and relocate the functions of the Asian regional headquarters from Hong Kong to Beijing.

As a result of the preceding activities, the total sales for this term increased to 1.789 trillion yen (a 4.8% increase versus the previous term) and ordinary profit increased to 240.9 billion yen (a 14.1% increase versus the previous term), and net income rose to 144.1 billion yen (a 268.2% increase versus the previous term), representing record-high levels in each category.

Copying Machines

While competition in the copying machine market grew increasingly fierce, in the market for monochrome copying machines, we directed our sales efforts on our versatile lineup of imageRUNNER Series digital network-compatible multifunctional machines, ranging from low-speed to high-speed models, and increased their sales with a focus on the intermediate-speed iR2200/2800/3300 models and the high-speed iR5000/6000 and iR7200/8500 models. As for color copying machines, on the other hand, though the expansion of the market was boosted by the trend toward color processing by office machines, the sales of our products were sluggish. In these circumstances, the network-compatible iR C3200/C3200N equipped with our progressive color iR controller were released in November to bolster sales and exhibited a favorable performance, but our overall sales of color copying machines dropped versus the previous term.

As a result, sales in this category posted a 1.5% decrease versus the previous term.

Computer Peripherals

The market for computer peripherals continued to face a harsh environment both in Japan and abroad due to the worldwide slump in the market for personal computers. As for laser beam printers, Canon released and promoted the sales of such new models as the monochrome LBP-1120 and the color LBP-2710/2810, and also increased its sales of OEM products during the second half of the term. Regarding BubbleJet printers, the BJ S500/530 continued to post a favorable performance and the PIXUS 950i, PIXUS 550i, and other models in the PIXUS i Series which offer even higher speed and image quality were released in October, earning great acclaim in the market and by the media. As for scanners, on the other hand, amidst the leveling off of their market, we released and promoted the sales of such new products as the CanoScan

LiDE Series models equipped with Canon's original image-reading technology and the CanoScan 8000F which features high-quality image scanning.

As a result, sales in this category posted a 5.0% increase versus the previous term.

Business Systems

In the facsimile market, because the decreased demand for single-function machines was compensated by an increased demand for multifunctional machines, the overall market demand remained nearly level. In such circumstances, we focused our efforts on selling single-function products such as the CF-VL10 Home Faxphone and the L200 compact laser facsimile, and flatbed-type multifunctional products including the PC1250/1270 and the MultiPASS C70. On the other hand, in conjunction with an increased demand for affordable flatbed-type multifunctional machines without telecommunications functions, our products of this type sold well. In particular, the sales of the PIXUS MP10/55 models equipped with a Card Direct Print function in addition to color printing, color copying, and scanning functions steadily increased after their release in October.

Consequently, sales in this category posted a 24.3% increase versus the previous term.

Camera Operations

While the demand for digital cameras sustained a high growth rate worldwide, we released a succession of new digital compact cameras in the PowerShot Series and IXY DIGITAL Series, strengthened their respective product lineups, and greatly increased sales of digital cameras. In particular, the sales of the PowerShot G Series and PowerShot S Series rose considerably. As for single-lens reflex cameras, we created a full-scale lineup of digital single-lens reflex cameras capable of addressing a wide range of shooting requirements as a result of releasing the EOS D60 and EOS-1Ds models and by enhancing our selection of EF lenses and camera accessories. Furthermore, we promoted our digital photo business by such means as advocating industry standards for directly printing images captured by a digital camera, with no need of going through a personal computer. As for silver-halide cameras, although new products such as the EOS Kiss 5 earned favorable acclaim in the market, overall sales dropped due to the adverse influence of decreased demand. On the other hand, within the rapid upswing in the market for digital video cameras, sales grew steadily for our new models in the Torebian Series, IXY DV Series, and so forth, with the FV30 KIT and FV200 KIT achieving especially high growth.

As a result of these activities, sales in this category posted a 28.3% increase versus the previous term.

Optical and Other Products Operations

Regarding semiconductor production equipment, amidst the prolonged slump in the semiconductor market and the fall in market demand, Canon released new products such as the FPA-5000AS3 scanning stepper with an ArF (argon fluoride) excimer laser as its light source, but sales performance was unavoidably influenced by market conditions and decreased sharply versus the previous term. On the other hand, amidst brisk activity in the market for LCD panels and a growing demand for mirror projection mask aligners for the production of large-format panels, the new MPA-7500, designed for producing the world's largest panels (1,100 x 1,250 mm), sold well and greatly increased sales. As for broadcasting equipment, we strove to expand sales of lenses for television broadcasting and also announced, in September, a new broadcasting lens that achieves the world's highest zoom rate at 100x. Sales fell, however, due to restrained investments in the broadcasting industry. Moreover, in the market for medical equipment, we endeavored to increase the sales of our digital non-mydiatic retinal cameras and X-ray digital cameras.

As a result, sales in this category posted a 30.6% decrease versus the previous term.

(2) Management Perspectives

Regarding the business environment that Canon will be facing, severe circumstances are expected to continue without the global economy showing any signs of recovery. Canon has positioned 2003, the third year of Phase II (2001-2005) of the Excellent Global Corporation Plan, as the year for carrying through structural reforms toward the target year of 2005 and will thus implement diverse measures in order to attain our objectives for 2005.

First of all, we will advance further operational reforms throughout the development, production, and headquarter management divisions to extensively promote higher productivity and the elimination of wastefulness. Especially in the area of development, we will further strive to shorten product development schedules and raise the quality of design as well as to substantially reduce production costs by the early introduction of digital prototyping without the manufacture of actual prototypes. As for production, we will continue activities to reform production and focus on the development of innovative factory automation equipment.

Regarding sales, we will support the implementation of sales reforms, such as structural reforms of each of our sales subsidiaries and the strengthening of sales channels, and reinforce our solutions business, with a special emphasis on improving our capacity to address the hardware aspects of our customers needs.

As a result of these activities, we hope to further consolidate the structures that will enable Canon to release competitive and progressive products of high added value ahead of our rivals.

In addition, we will work in close collaboration with member companies of the Canon group toward the diversification of business operations by, for example, implementing structural reforms to strengthen the autonomous operations of manufacturing subsidiaries in Japan and launching original regional businesses towards the establishment of a global tripolar organization.

Moreover, because we perceive environmental preservation and management as inseparable activities, we will continue to ambitiously engage in the development of ecology-conscious products, the enhancement of recycling systems, increased green procurement, and similar initiatives.

98th Term

During this term, the U.S. economy upheld steady growth and European economies showed an economic slowdown. On the other hand, amidst the economic slowdown of Japan and other Asian economies, the steep appreciation of the yen rate from October onward also cast a dark cloud over the export environment. Under such circumstances, based on the Global Excellent Corporation Plan which was in its third year, Canon focused its efforts on strengthening and expanding its development, production, and sales structures, advanced the digitalization and color processing of its products, and cultivated new businesses such as multimedia-related products. As a result of these activities, our total sales increased 2.1% and ordinary profit increased 2.2%, but net income decreased 4.9% versus the previous term.

99th Term

During this term, the U.S. economy sustained favorable performance and the European economies shifted to a basic tone of expansion. Asian economies excluding Japan exhibited a basic tone of recovery, whereas Japan's economy demonstrated a trend toward gradual improvement. Within this business environment, based on the Global Excellent Corporation Plan which entered its fourth year, Canon promoted globalization and diversification and also focused efforts on implementing various policies such as the release of new products, enhancement of the corporate disposition by management reform activities, and the reinforcement of group management. As a result of these activities, although the number of units sold increased, due to the drop in product prices in addition to considerable appreciation of the yen in the foreign exchange market, our total sales fell 5.4%, ordinary profit fell 24.4%, and net income fell 27.8% versus the previous term.

100th Term

During this term, the U.S. economy posted high growth and the European economies shifted to an overall pace of steady growth. Asian economies excluding Japan also sustained favorable growth, while Japan's economy shifted to a basic tone of gradual recovery. Within this business environment, Canon released various new products by advancing the digitalization and networking capability of its products. Moreover, Canon established consolidated management structures and finished implementing the major measures of Phase I of the Excellent Global Corporation Plan (1996-2000), which included further transforming member companies of the Canon group into excellent companies and conducting management reform activities. As a result of these activities, our total sales rose 13.6%, ordinary profits rose 37.4%, and net income rose 49.5% versus the previous term, reaching record-high levels for both total sales and profits.

101st Term

During this term, the U.S. economy slowed down abruptly from September onward, and European economies exhibited an overall stronger sense of economic decline. The economies of Asian countries, except for China, were sluggish and Japan's economy remained in a severe phase of economic recession. In this term that coincided with the first year of Phase II (2001 to 2005) of the Excellent Global Corporation Plan, Canon took up the challenge of diverse operational reforms and pushed forward with reducing costs and expanding sales. Furthermore, we strategically confronted a wide range of issues, such as establishing a digital photo business and reinforcing our development capacity for key components. As a result of such activities, the total sales for this term increased 1.4% versus the previous term and ordinary profit increased 35.4% versus the previous term, both reaching record-high levels. Due to a one-time amortization of unrecognized net pension obligations, net income dropped 55.7% versus the previous term.

Significant Accounting Policies

1. Valuation of Securities

(1) Securities of affiliates stated at cost based on the moving average method.

(2) Other securities

Securities with quotation stated at fair value (unrealized holdings gains and losses are reported in stockholders equity, when sold, the cost is based on the moving average method.)

Securities without quotation stated at cost based on the moving average method.

2. Valuation of Inventories

(1) Finished goods, work in process valued at cost based on the periodic average method.

(2) Raw materials and supplies valued at cost based on the moving average method.

3. Depreciation Method for Fixed Assets

(1) Property, plant and equipment calculated by declining-balance method according to the Corporation Tax Law, except for buildings acquired after April 1, 1998, depreciation is calculated by straight-line method.

(2) Intangible fixed assets calculated by straight-line method according to the Corporation Tax Law, except for software to be sold by straight-line method over the estimated economic life of the product and internal-use software by straight-line method over the estimated useful life.

4. Deferred Charges The items which can be deferred under the Commercial Code are charged to operations as incurred.

5. Standard for Allowance

(1) Allowance for doubtful accounts provided as a general provision for uncollectible receivables.

(2) Accrued bonuses for employees provided as a general provision for bonus payable to employees for the current term.

(3) Accrued pension and severance cost provided as general provision for employee retirement and severance benefit based on projected benefit obligation and expected plan asset. Prior service cost and unrecognized loss is to be amortized by straight-line method with average remaining service periods.

6. Hedge Accounting

- (1) Hedge accounting deferral hedge accounting (except for interest rate swap) has been applied. The amount of interest rate swap is recognized as a component of interest income or expense of such related underlying assets or liabilities.
- (2) Hedging instrument and hedged asset/liabilities
Hedging instrument derivative transaction (foreign exchange contract and interest rate swap)
Hedged asset/liabilities accounts receivables denominated in foreign currency for forecasted transaction and interest rate for bonds.
- (3) Hedge policy derivative financial instruments are comprised principally of foreign exchange contracts to manage currency risk and interest rate swap to manage interest rate risk. Canon does not hold derivative financial instrument for trading purpose.
- (4) Assessment of hedge effectiveness Foreign exchange contract due to the same quantity of the same underlying at same time, is fully effective. As the notional amount of the interest rate swap matches the principal amount of interest-bearing asset or liabilities and the expiration date of the swap also matches the maturity date of interest-bearing asset or liabilities, interest rate swap is fully effective.

7. Consumption Taxes excluded from the statements of income and are accumulated in other receivables or other payables.

(Classification of Stockholders equity)

From this period Stockholders equity is classified and expressed in terms of Common Stock, Capital Surplus, Retained Earnings, Net Unrealized Gains (Losses) on Securities and Treasury Stock.

Audit Report

The Board of Corporate Auditors, has received reports from each Corporate Auditor on the auditing methods and the auditing results regarding the performance by the Directors of their duties during the 102nd business term from January 1, 2002 to December 31, 2002, and has prepared this Audit Report upon deliberation, and hereby report as follows:

1. Outline of Corporate Auditors Auditing Methods

In accordance with the auditing policies, share of assignment, etc. stipulated by the Board of Corporate Auditors, each Corporate Auditor attended meetings of the Board of Directors and other important meetings; received reports related to business operations from directors, etc.; inspected important decision documents, etc.; investigated the activities and assets of the headquarters and of other principal places of business; and also demanded the subsidiaries, as the occasion demands, to render reports on their business operations. In addition, we also received reports and explanations from accounting auditors and examined the accounting documents and accompanying detailed statements.

Regarding competitive transactions by Directors, transactions between directors and the Company bearing a conflict of interests, gratuitous offering of proprietary profit by the Company, any transaction not customary in nature between the Company and its subsidiaries or shareholders, and the acquisition, disposal, and other transactions involving the Company's own shares, we made detailed investigations of the pertinent transactions and demanded reports from the Directors, etc., as the occasion demands, in addition to methods of audit mentioned above.

2. Results of Audit

- (1) The methods and results of the audit made by the accounting auditors, Shin Nihon & Co., an incorporated auditing firm, are found to be proper.
- (2) The business report is found to accurately present the status of the Company in conformity with the laws, regulations and Articles of Incorporation.
- (3) The proposition of profit appropriation is found to have nothing to be pointed out in light of the status of corporate assets and other circumstances.

Edgar Filing: CANON INC - Form 6-K

- (4) The accompanying detailed statements are found to accurately present the matters to be stated therein and to have nothing to be pointed out.
- (5) In connection with the performance by the Directors of their duties, including the duties relating to the subsidiaries, no dishonest act or significant fact of a violation of laws, regulations, or the Articles of Incorporation is found to exist.

Regarding competitive transactions by Directors, transactions between Directors and the Company bearing a conflict of interests, gratuitous offering of proprietary profit by the Company, any transaction not customary in nature between the Company and its subsidiaries or shareholders, and the acquisition, disposal, and other transactions involving the Company's own shares, we find that there is no breach of duties on the part of the Directors.
