Item 4

Appointment of the Independent Auditors for the period 2019 - 2027

On the date set for the Shareholders' Meeting to approve the Eni financial statements at December 31, 2018, the appointment of EY (formerly Reconta Ernst & Young) for the 2010 – 2018 audit engagement approved by the Shareholders' Meeting on April 29, 2010, will expire.

The Board submits to the Shareholders' Meeting's approval the justified proposal presented by the Board of Statutory Auditors of Eni S.p.A., pursuant to art. 13, paragraph 1, and article 17, paragraph 1, of Legislative Decree no. 39 of January 27, 2010, for the appointment of Eni's Independent Auditors for the period 2019-2027, as illustrated in the following report of the Board of Statutory Auditors:

“Report of the Board of Statutory Auditors in its capacity as the Internal Control and Audit Committee on Item 4 of the Agenda: Appointment of the independent auditors for the Period 2019-2027”

Dear Shareholders,

With approval of the 2018 financial statements by the Shareholders’ Meeting to be convened in 2019, the appointment of EY (formerly Reconta Ernst & Young) for the 2010 – 2018 audit engagement approved by the Shareholders’ Meeting on April 29, 2010, will expire. Under current legislation, last amended by Regulation (EU) no. 537/2014 and Legislative Decree no. 135/2016: (i) the engagement granted to EY may not be renewed or reappointed for at least four financial years following the expiry of the current engagement; (ii) the new statutory audit engagement must be appointed by way of a specific selection process to be conducted in accordance with the criteria and procedures established under Article 16 of the European Regulation referred to above.

In order to ensure a period of transition from the current independent auditor to the incoming auditor that is appropriate to the size and complexity of the Eni Group (hereinafter the Group), the Board of Statutory Auditors (hereinafter the Board), in its capacity as the Internal Control and Audit Committee (hereinafter also ICAC) and as the body performing the functions of the Audit Committee in accordance with applicable US legislation given that Eni is publicly listed on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), concurred with the proposal of the competent company bodies to bring forward the selection process for the audit engagement for 2019-2027 in order to enable the Shareholders’ Meeting of May 10, 2018 to approve the engagement. Bringing forward the selection process, which is permitted under Italian legislation, is in line with the existing practice of other companies in Italy and abroad.

The Board first agreed with the competent company units the transparent and non-discriminatory selection of the audit firms to invite to submit bids, as required by law, opening participation to bidders with the appropriate expertise and sectoral experience and an appropriate structure for auditing a group such as Eni. These criteria were determined taking into account of: (i) the Group’s geographical presence in over 70 countries, certain of which are of strategic importance; (ii) the dual-listed nature of the company, being publicly listed on both the Milan and New York stock exchanges; (iii) the fact that the Group operates in the oil & gas industry, which has its own specific industrial, regulatory, and contractual characteristics; (iv) the Group’s businesses other than oil & gas, each of which, in turn, has its own specific characteristics. The Board then established the criteria for evaluating the financial and qualitative aspects of the proposals, with the latter guiding the selection of the most appropriate independent auditor based on Eni’s specific industrial structure, excluding any recourse to the clauses referred to in 16(6) of Regulation (EU) no. 537/2014 aimed at restricting the shareholders’ choices to certain categories of auditors.

In performing our duties, the Board was assisted by a Commission of Enquiry made up of representatives from the various company departments involved in the selection process, whose task was to check the proposals submitted by the bidders and prepare a list of successful candidates to be submitted to the Board for approval.

In accordance with the provisions of Article 16 of Regulation (EU) no. 537/2014, as this process involves an engagement for the statutory auditing of a “public-interest entity” as defined by current legislation, given that Eni S.p.A. is an Italian company that issues financial instruments traded on regulated markets in Italy and in the European Union, the Board’s proposal presents two alternatives for the engagement and gives a justified preference for one of the two.

Scope of the engagement

The scope of the engagement to be awarded through the selection process has been determined in accordance with the specific needs of Eni, as a company listed on both Borsa Italiana and the NYSE (as a foreign private issuer). In addition to requiring the auditing of Form 20-F to be filed with the SEC, the latter listing requires an auditor's assessment of the effectiveness of the internal control system over financial reporting (hereinafter also "Sarbanes-Oxley Act activities" or "SOX activities"). This assessment of the internal control system is closely integrated into the overall audit process. As for the duration of the audit engagement, in accordance with EU legislation and given that Eni S.p.A. is a public-interest entity, the period required to the independent auditor for providing the service is to be the nine financial years from 2019 to 2027.

With a view to optimising the work of the auditors throughout the Group, the scope of the engagement specified for the selection process included not only the assessment of the adequacy of the internal control system over financial reporting and the audit of Eni S.p.A.'s separate and consolidated financial statements but also the audit of the financial statements of the subsidiaries, including the other companies of the Group that qualify as public-interest entities, such as Eni Finance International SA, Eni Insurance DAC and Banque Eni SA. The scope of the engagement also includes the audit of the financial statements of the main entities in joint operations, joint ventures, and associates that are not publicly listed,¹ for which the willingness of the other partners to appoint the audit engagement to the audit firm selected by Eni shall be verified. Without prejudice to the independence of these companies in the selection of their independent auditor, the appointment of the engagement by the subsidiaries and other investees that opt for the same audit firm as Eni shall take place in accordance with applicable local law.

The audit engagement also includes auditing the reporting packages of the subsidiaries, assessment of the consistency of the report on corporate governance and ownership structure, and the Report of Directors on operations with the financial statements, as well as the new legislative requirements concerning the audit of the Report of Directors on operations, the limited review of the half-year interim financial report as recommended under Consob Resolution no. 97001574/1997, the audit of the annual accounts prepared for the Italian Authority for Electricity and Gas and the Water System, and the audit of the report prepared in accordance with Article 2433-bis of the Italian Civil Code for distribution of interim dividends. The engagement also includes certain additional services (e.g. auditing the general and operating expenses billed to partners in mineral joint ventures, issuance of comfort letters regarding bond-issue plans, etc.), which have been verified as being compatible with the audit engagement in accordance with national, European and US law and which Eni has the option of activating in accordance with the authorisation procedures established under applicable laws, regulations, and internal procedures.

In order to ensure uniform quality standards ensuring the quality of the audit service and the comparability of the bids, bidders were asked to provide the same mix of professional personnel, with a greater concentration of partners and managers (10% partners; 35% managers; 30% senior auditors; 25% assistant auditors) than recommended in Consob Communication no. 96003556 of April 18, 1996 (partners between 4 and 7%, managers between 14 and 17%, seniors between 25 and 35%, and assistants between 41 and 57%).

Finally, an integral part of the request for bids was the map of the evolution of the IT systems and support to the administrative processes and controls planned by Eni for the coming years in consideration of the transformative effect that evolving technology will have on audit activities in the future.

Pre-selection and selection procedure

In view of the size and the industrial and geographical complexity of the Group, Eni's status as a dual-listed company - being listed on the stock exchanges in both Milan and New York - and the characteristics of the oil & gas industry, the criteria for the pre-selection of audit firms to be invited to submit a bid were as follows:

firms whose network had been awarded, within the last five years (2012-2016) at least one engagement to audit the consolidated financial statements of the Eni peers specified in the Eni Fact Sheet of May 2017 or of other listed oil & gas companies included on at least three industry panels that also include Eni prepared by banks/analysts that monitor Eni as at June 1, 2017; firms whose networks have been awarded, within the last five years (2012-2016), at least one engagement to audit of the consolidated financial statements of a company included in the FTSE MIB 40 index as at December 31, 2016.

Based on this scouting, PricewaterhouseCoopers (hereinafter also "PwC"), KPMG, and Deloitte & Touche (hereinafter also "Deloitte") were found to meet these prerequisites and were sent calls for expressions of interest on June 27, 2017 and, in September 2017, a request for bids prepared based on the criteria described below.

In particular, in order to assess the proposals on the basis of the financial aspects and the technical and qualitative appropriateness of the service provided and in line with the standards adopted by Eni, the Board of Statutory Auditors approved the scoring model for evaluating the proposals and established that the selection of the preferred audit firm would be based on the "lowest adjusted price". The "adjusted price" is calculated by taking the price proposed by the bidder and adding a value (the "adjustment factor") equal to the difference - weighted on the basis on the importance assigned to qualitative factors in respect of financial factors - between the score given to the technical aspects of each proposal and the score given to the technically best proposal.

The technical criteria were primarily defined in line with Eni's specific needs and characteristics, the significance of their experience in the industries in which Eni operates and in the use of new technologies such as robotics, analytics and big data, with their knowledge of Eni based on previous engagements performed for the Group, with the quality of their operational approach, and with the adequacy of their technical efficiency in terms of effort.

More specifically, the scoring model took account of the following criteria:

Experience (weighted at 25%): particularly regarding audit engagements in the oil & gas industry, audits conducted with the use of new technologies (robotics, analytics, big data), and understanding of the Group;

Qualifications (weighted at 30%) of the partners and managers of the teams proposed for the most important companies in relation to their expertise in the oil & gas industry, finance and trading, retail, and SOX;

Operational approach (weighted at 15%), with a particular emphasis on risk assessment, the organisation of labour, the degree of independence in decision making, and the use of new technologies;

Effort proposed (weighted at 30%), scored based on: i) a benchmark effort for the 2019-2020 period, determined by Eni based on past experience and specified in the request for bids; and ii) the trend in effort for the subsequent seven years, weighting this component in order to take account of the score given for the other elements of the scoring model (i.e. Experience, Qualifications, and Operational Approach) in order to penalise, at equal levels of effort, the bidder with the lowest score in these elements. .

Evaluation of the proposals

The proposals submitted by the three bidders involved in the selection process were received by Eni on November 21, 2017, in accordance with the deadline specified and in the forms specified in the request for bids.

On December 7, 2017, after examining the administrative documentation and prior to completing the technical assessment based on the scoring model described above, Deloitte informed Eni that it would not be possible to continue with the bidding process in accordance with the objectives that Eni had established given circumstances that were deemed to compromise Deloitte's independence as an auditor for Eni. As such, Eni did not complete the technical assessment of the proposal presented by Deloitte and did not view the bid price submitted.

On December 13, 2017, as established in the request for bids, the Board, together with the Commission of Enquiry and representatives of the competent Eni units, met with each of the two bidders in order to evaluate their approach to operations so as to obtain a better understanding of the manner in which they would perform the engagement presented in the proposal.

On January 19, 2018, after noting the high quality of both bids, the Board of Statutory Auditors evaluated and approved the findings of the technical assessment of the Commission of Enquiry, which, based on the criteria described above of particular interest to Eni, gave a higher overall technical score to PwC compared with KPMG.

Accordingly, on February 15, 2018, the Board of Statutory Auditors evaluated and approved the report with the findings of the cost assessment conducted by the Commission of Enquiry, which, for the set of activities within the scope of the engagement described earlier (in brief, the audit of the Eni S.p.A. separate financial statements, of the consolidated financial statements - including for the purpose of compliance with US law - and of the financial statements of the subsidiaries; the audit of the internal control system for the purpose of compliance with US law, and the provision of additional services) showed a total bid price for PwC for the 2019-2027 period of €87,657,037.05 (of which €32,542,568.63 related to activities for Eni S.p.A.) and a bid price for KPMG of €112,406,521.10 (of which €55,267,751.57 related to activities for Eni S.p.A.) as shown below:

Services	PwC		KPMG

Additional services	77,247	4,171,415.25	140,122	9,948,521.88

² Including costs related to significant unlisted entities in joint operations, joint ventures and associates, the Group total would be €94,067,295.46 with 1,527,037 hours of effort for PwC and €117,215,191.07 with 1,728,796 hours for KPMG.

In conclusion, the proposal submitted by PwC received the highest technical score and was also the most efficient in terms of effort and had the lowest bid price. As a result, the PwC proposal has the lowest adjusted price.

In relation to the above, on February 15, 2018, following the evaluation process described in detail earlier, Eni's Board of Statutory Auditors resolved to:

recommend, in accordance with Article 16 of Regulation (EU) no. 537/2014, that the Company's shareholders engage for the 2019-2027 audit either PwC or KPMG based on the proposals submitted by the two bidders; express a justified preference for the proposal submitted by PwC, which received the highest technical score and offered the lowest price.

As specified in the request for bids set to the bidders in accordance with Consob Communication no. DAC/RM/96003556 of April 18, 1996, the fees indicated for performance of the engagement may be adjusted in the event of exceptional or unforeseeable circumstances that could not have been known at the time the contract was signed. The meaning of exceptional and/or unforeseeable circumstances is further defined by contract to include events that result in an increase or a decrease in fees.

Declaration of independence

Prior to presenting the proposal to the shareholders, the Board of Statutory Auditors obtained from the bidders PwC and KPMG the communications required by Rule 3526 of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB) and by the provisions of Legislative Decree no. 39/2010 regarding the absence of circumstances that could adversely bear on their independence in performing the engagement beginning on the date of the grant of the engagement by the Shareholders' Meeting.

Yesterday, Eni's Board of Directors approved the Group results for the first quarter of 2018 (unaudited). Commenting on the results, Claudio Descalzi, CEO of Eni, remarked:

“In the first quarter of 2018, Eni achieved excellent economic and financial results, over and above the rising price of oil. As the Brent price in euros rose 8% relative to the first quarter of 2017, Eni's adjusted operating profit increased by 30%, while operational cash generation at replacement cost grew by 22%. These results were achieved primarily because of an increase in our hydrocarbon production, which produced a 47% increase in adjusted operating profit from E&P. In addition, the first quarter saw the continuation of the optimization of our asset portfolio with our entry into the United Arab Emirates, one of the most productive areas in the world, and the sale of a further 10% of the Zohr field in Egypt. The Mid-Downstream businesses also achieved important results in the quarter, despite a less favorable scenario compared to 2017. The divisions benefitted from the strengthening and development measures we have implemented over the past three years. In particular, LNG achieved significant results due to increased integration with other Group activities. On the basis of these results and the strategy announced in the 2018-2021 plan, I confirm the objective of cash neutrality for 2018 at a Brent price of $55 per barrel.”

Highlights

Exploration & Production

Strong growth reported in hydrocarbon production:

up by 4% q-o-q at 1.87 million boe/d, in line with the FY 2018 guidance. Net of price effects in PSAs, the growth rate was 4.4%;

Outlook 2018

Exploration & Production

Hydrocarbon production: the Company has raised its initial growth forecast and now expects a 4% increase for the FY 2018 vs. 2017, equalling to a production level of about 1.9 million boe/d. This growth is expected to be driven by continuing production ramp-up of fields started up in 2017, particularly in Egypt, Indonesia and at the Kashagan field, new fields start-ups in Angola and Ghana, the plateau achievement at Goliat (Norway), as well as the contribution of the new venture in UAE. These increases are expected to be partly offset principally by mature field declines.

Gas & Power

Expecting a strengthening of profitability: projecting a FY adjusted operating profit of €0.3 billion, which will be underpinned by new initiatives to optimize the gas portfolio, improved performance at the power business and synergies in the LNG business from business integration with the upstream segment, as well as better results expected in the retail business.

Gas sales: expected to decline in line with an expected reduction in long-term contractual commitments both to procure and to supply gas. By 2018 year-end, expected an increase in LNG contracted volumes at approximately 6 million tons.

Refining & Marketing and Chemicals

Expecting a refining break-even margin of approximately 3 $/barrel by the end of 2018, leveraging on further supply and plant optimizations.

Refining throughputs on own accounts expected to be flat compared to 2017, due to better performance at the Sannazzaro and Livorno refineries because of unplanned shutdowns in 2017, offset by reductions at the Taranto and Milazzo plants. Expected a higher refinery utilization rate.

Retail sales unchanged y-o-y.

Versalis: spreads of the main commodities vs. the feedstock are expected to normalize compared to the highs recorded in 2017 particularly in the butadiene and benzene markets. Sales volumes are expected to grow in all business lines driven by higher production volumes driven by fewer planned standstills and accidents.

Group

Cash neutrality: funding of capex for the FY and the dividend is confirmed at a Brent price of approximately 55 $/bbl in 2018.

2018 FY Capex expected to be €7.7 billion.

In the first quarter of 2018, oil and natural gas production averaged 1,867 kboe/d, up by 4% from the first quarter of 2017. This performance was driven by the ramp-up at fields started up in 2017, mainly in Angola, Egypt, Ghana and Indonesia and the 2018 start-ups (with an overall contribution of 238 kboe/d), as well as the acquisition of the two Concession Agreements of Lower Zakum (5%) and Umm Shaif/Nasr (10%) producing off the United Arab Emirates. These positives were partly offset by negative price effects at PSAs contracts, lower production as a result of planned shutdowns in Algeria and the activities slowdown in Venezuela, as well as declines from mature fields. When excluding price effects at PSAs contracts, hydrocarbons production increased by 4.4%.

Liquids production (885 kbb/d) increased by 53 kbb/d, or 6.4% from the first quarter of 2017 due to the ramp-ups of the period being partially offset by price effect and planned shutdowns.

Natural gas production (5,358 mmcf/d) increased by 104 mmcf/d, or 2% compared to the first quarter of 2017 driven by ramp-up of producing assets, partly offset by mature field declines.

In the first quarter of 2018, the Exploration & Production segment reported an adjusted operating profit of €2,085 million, an increase of 47% from the first quarter of 2017. This improvement reflected an ongoing recovery in crude oil prices (with the Brent price in dollars up by 24%), narrowing differentials between the Brent benchmark and Eni's crudes, which determined a 26% rise in Eni's average realizations in dollar terms, and production growth. These positives were partially offset by exchange rate headwinds (the EUR/USD exchange rate was up by 15% q-o-q).

In the first quarter of 2018, adjusted net profit was €924 million, up by €294 million or 47% compared to the first quarter of 2017, due to a recovery in operating performance and a normalized tax rate (down by approximately 2.5 percentage points) due to higher profit before taxes, which helped improve the deductibility of operating expenses including those incurred in connection with PSAs schemes and reduce the incidence of non-deductible expenses.

Sales in Italy were up by 7.8% to 11.19 bcm, due to higher spot sales, partly offset by lower sales to large clients and the residential segment. Sales in European markets (8.39 bcm) decreased by 20% reflecting expiration of some long-term contracts and lower sales in Benelux and Germany as result of portfolio rationalization.

Power sales were 9.22 TWh in the first quarter of 2018, down by 1.6% mainly due to the disposal of retail activities in Belgium in 2017.

In the first quarter of 2018, the Gas & Power segment reported an adjusted operating profit of €322 million, almost in line q-o-q (down by €16 million from the first quarter of 2017). This result reflected the improved performance in the LNG business due to higher margins and sales, thanks to higher availability of equity gas production in Indonesia, as well as positive results from the power business. These positives were offset by lower non-recurring gains relating to renegotiations performed in 2017 and by lower gas volumes sold.

Adjusted net profit amounted to €215 million.

In the first quarter of 2018, Eni's Standard Refining Margin – SERM – was 3 $/barrel, down by 29.3% from the first quarter of 2017 (4.2 $/barrel), due to lower relative prices of products compared to the cost of the petroleum feedstock.

Eni refining throughputs were 6.2 mmt tonnes, up by 6.4% from the first quarter of 2017, due to higher volumes processed throughout all refineries, mainly due to the downtime of some plants at the Sannazzaro and Taranto refineries in 2017 and lower shutdowns at other plants.

Volumes of biofuels produced at the Venice Green refinery reported a three-fold increase from the first quarter of 2017 mainly due to a planned standstill in the first quarter of 2017.

Retail sales in Italy of 1.40 mmt tonnes fell by 1.4%, in a declining consumptions environment, reflecting lower volumes sold at leased stations and at the highway segment, partially offset by higher volumes sold at company-owned fuel stations. Eni's retail market share was 25.1%, higher than in the first quarter of 2017 (24.7%), leveraging on effective marketing campaign.

Wholesale sales in Italy were 1.68 mmtonnes, unchanged q-o-q in all the main products marketed, except for higher sales of jet fuel offset by lower sales of gasoil.

Retail and wholesale sales in the rest of Europe increased by 1.6% from the first quarter of 2017 due to higher sales volumes in Spain and Germany, partly offset by lower sales in France and Austria.

Sales of petrochemical products of 981 ktonnes decreased by 1.1% in the first quarter mainly due to competitive pressure in the polyethylene business and lower demand in elastomers, partially offset by higher sales of intermediates.

In the first quarter of 2018, the Refining & Marketing and Chemicals segment reported an adjusted operating profit of €77 million, lower than the first quarter of 2017 (€189 million).

The Refining & Marketing business reported an adjusted operating profit of €18 million, down by 73% q-o-q due to an unfavorable margin environment with the refining margin indicator down by 29%. Moreover, the appreciation of the euro against the US dollar (15%) negatively affected the refining business results. These negatives were partially offset by better refineries performance and various supply and plant optimizations. The marketing business reported a positive performance driven by effective commercial initiatives.

The Chemical business reported an adjusted operating profit of €59 million, down by 52% q-o-q. This decrease was due to a downward trend in polyethylene prices, affected by heightened competitive pressures from Middle-Eastern streams of products, and peak prices recorded on certain commodities like butadiene and benzene in the first quarter 2017 due to product shortages at main consumption geographies (USA and Asia).

Adjusted net profit amounting to €67 million in the first quarter of 2018 decreased by 48% due to lower operating performance.

Adjusted results

In the first quarter of 2018, Eni's consolidated adjusted operating profit of €2,380 million increased by 30% from the first quarter of 2017. The improvement was driven by a robust performance in the E&P segment (up by €0.67 billion or 47%) due to an ongoing recovery in crude oil prices, partly offset by a weaker dollar (the Brent benchmark in euro terms was up by 8%), as well as production growth. The G&P segment reported an adjusted operating profit of €0.3 billion, unchanged from the first quarter of 2017. This result reflected an improved performance in the LNG business due to better margins and higher volumes thanks to synergies with the upstream segment, as well as further actions at the long-term supply contracts, partly offset by one-off gains recorded in the same quarter of 2017. The R&M and Chemicals segment reported a decrease of 59% in operating profit due to an unfavorable trading environment, partly offset by better utilization rates, continued efficiency initiatives and plant optimizations.

Adjusted net profit for the first quarter of €0.98 billion improved by 31% compared to the first quarter of 2017, driven by an improved operating performance. Tax rate of 56% was barely unchanged compared to the first quarter of 2017.

Special items

The break-down by segment of special items of operating profit (a net charge of €76 million) is:

E&P: net charge of €119 million in the first quarter mainly composed of: risk and environmental provisions (€65 million and €18 million, respectively), impairment of certain trade receivables (€14 million) as well as a provision for redundancy incentives (€2 million).

G&P: net gains of €76 million composed of: the effects of fair-valued commodity derivatives that lacked the formal criteria to be accounted as hedges under IFRS (net gains of €67 million), an impairment relating to the alignment of the book value of the Hungarian gas distribution activity to its fair value, being a sale negotiation ongoing at the balance sheet date (€13 million), as well as provision for redundancy incentives (€3 million). The G&P adjusted operating result also includes the negative balance of €19 million related to derivative financial instruments entered into manage margin exposure to foreign currency exchange rate movements and exchange translation differences of commercial payables and receivables.

R&M and Chemicals: net charge of €38 million composed of: the write down of capital expenditure relating to certain Cash Generating Units, which were impaired in previous reporting periods and continued to lack any profitability prospects (€15 million); environmental provision (€33 million) and a compensation gain from a third-party insurer relating to an incident occurred in 2017 (€20 million).

Reported results

In the first quarter of 2018, net profit attributable to Eni's shareholders was €946 million compared to €965 million in the year-ago quarter that included a gain recorded on the divestment of a 10% interest in the Zohr gas field amounting to €339 million. Net of the effect of that deal, the Group's consolidated net profit recorded an improvement q-o-q driven by a better performance of the E&P segment, which benefitted from strengthening crude oil prices (up by 24% q-o-q for the Brent crude oil benchmark) on the back of a global economic recovery, and production growth. Those positives were partly offset by a weakening USD (the EUR/USD exchange rate appreciated by 15% on average) that negatively affected the translation to euros of operating profit and cash flow of E&P's subsidiaries that use the dollar as functional currency. The G&P segment reported robust results, confirming the long-term sustainability of the business, driven by an excellent performance delivered in the LNG business, also leveraging on synergies with the upstream segment. The R&M and Chemicals segment was weighted down by an unfavourable trading environment where refining margins fell by 29% q-o-q and the spreads vs. the feedstock of the main petrochemicals commodities shrunk noticeably as in the case of polyethylene down by 47% due to competitive pressures and butadiene down by 60% due to the winding down of certain contingent market situations that sustained prices a year ago.

A better reported operating profit (up by €288 million) was offset by higher income taxes (up by €258 million). The Group reported tax rate was 57.7% up by six percentage points q-o-q due to the effect in 2017 of the Zohr transaction that was classed as a non-taxable item.

Net cash flow from operating activities before changes in working capital at replacement cost was €3.17 billion, up by 22% compared to the first quarter of 2017.

Capital expenditure for the period was €2.58 billion. Net capex was €1.78 billion, which excluded an entry bonus paid in connection with the award of the two Concession Agreements in UAE (€712 million) and the share of 2018 capex pertaining to a 10% interest in the Zohr project, which is in the process of being disposed of. That share of capex will be reimbursed by the buyer to Eni at the closing of transaction, having retroactive effect to January 1, 2018. The self-financing ratio of net capex was 123% in the first quarter of 2018.

As of March 31, 2018, fixed assets increased by €100 million to €71,515 million due to capital expenditure for the period (€2,541 million) partly offset by DD&A (€1,864 million) and negative currency movements (€1,280 million). The increase in the item "Equity-accounted investments and other investments" was €624 million due to a new accounting of equity instruments required by IFRS 9.

Net working capital was in negative territory at minus €11,122 million and increased by €512 million from December 31, 2017 driven by higher trade receivables (€1,547 million), mainly in the G&P segment reflecting the impact of seasonal factors as well as lower volumes of trade receivables due beyond end of the reporting period, which were transferred to factoring institution.

Shareholders' equity including non-controlling interest was €48,232 million, up by €153 million. This was due to the net profit for the period, which was offset by negative foreign currency translation differences (€1,007 million) reflecting a weaker dollar compared to the euro (the exchange rate at March 31, 2018 was down by 3% from the end of 2017).

Net borrowings² at March 31, 2018 was €11,278 million, slightly higher than 2017 (up by €362 million).

As of March 31, 2018, the ratio of net borrowings to shareholders' equity including non-controlling interest – leverage² – was 0.23, unchanged from the end of 2017.

Disclaimer

This press release, in particular the statements under the section “Outlook”, contains certain forward-looking statements particularly those regarding capital expenditure, development and management of oil and gas resources, dividends, allocation of future cash flow from operations, future operating performance, gearing, targets of production and sales growth, new markets and the progress and timing of projects. By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that will or may occur in the future. Actual results may differ from those expressed in such statements, depending on a variety of factors, including the timing of bringing new fields on stream; management’s ability in carrying out industrial plans and in succeeding in commercial transactions; future levels of industry product supply; demand and pricing; operational issues; general economic conditions; political stability and economic growth in relevant areas of the world; changes in laws and governmental regulations; development and use of new technology; changes in public expectations and other changes in business conditions; the actions of competitors and other factors discussed elsewhere in this document. Due to the seasonality in demand for natural gas and certain refined products and the changes in a number of external factors affecting Eni’s operations, such as prices and margins of hydrocarbons and refined products, Eni’s results from operations and changes in net borrowings for the quarter of the year cannot be extrapolated on an annual basis.

Alternative performance measures (Non-GAAP measures)

Management evaluates underlying business performance on the basis of Non-GAAP financial measures, not determined in accordance with IFRS (“Alternative performance measures”), such as adjusted operating profit and adjusted net profit, which are arrived at by excluding from reported operating profit and net profit certain gains and losses, defined special items, which include, among others, asset impairments, gains on disposals, risk provisions, restructuring charges and, in determining the business segments’ adjusted results, finance charges on finance debt and interest income (see below). In determining adjusted results, also inventory holding gains or losses are excluded from base business performance, which is the difference between the cost of sales of the volumes sold in the period based on the cost of supplies of the same period and the cost of sales of the volumes sold calculated using the weighted average cost method of inventory accounting as required by IFRS, except in those business segments where inventories are utilized as a lever to optimize margins.

Management is disclosing Non-GAAP measures of performance to facilitate a comparison of base business performance across periods, and to allow financial analysts to evaluate Eni’s trading performance on the basis of their forecasting models.

Non-GAAP financial measures should be read together with information determined by applying IFRS and do not stand in for them. Other companies may adopt different methodologies to determine Non-GAAP measures. Follows the description of the main alternative performance measures adopted by Eni. The measures reported below refer to the performance of the reporting periods disclosed in this press release:

Adjusted operating and net profit

Adjusted operating and net profit are determined by excluding inventory holding gains or losses, special items and, in determining the business segments’ adjusted results, finance charges on finance debt and interest income. The adjusted operating profit of each business segment reports gains and losses on derivative financial instruments entered into to manage exposure to movements in foreign currency exchange rates, which impact industrial margins and translation of commercial payables and receivables. Accordingly, also currency translation effects recorded through profit and loss are reported within business segments’ adjusted operating profit. The taxation effect of the items excluded from adjusted operating or net profit is determined based on the specific rate of taxes applicable to each of them. Finance charges or income related to net borrowings excluded from the adjusted net profit of business segments are comprised of interest charges on finance debt and interest income earned on cash and cash equivalents not related to operations. Therefore, the adjusted net profit of business segments includes finance charges or income deriving from certain segment operated assets, i.e., interest income on certain receivable financing and securities related to operations and finance charge pertaining to the accretion of certain provisions recorded on a discounted basis (as in the case of the asset retirement obligations in the Exploration & Production segment).

Inventory holding gain or loss

This is the difference between the cost of sales of the volumes sold in the period based on the cost of supplies of the same period and the cost of sales of the volumes sold calculated using the weighted average cost method of inventory accounting as required by IFRS.

Special items

These include certain significant income or charges pertaining to either: (i) infrequent or unusual events and transactions, being identified as non-recurring items under such circumstances; (ii) certain events or transactions which are not considered to be representative of the ordinary course of business, as in the case of environmental provisions, restructuring charges, asset impairments or write ups and gains or losses on divestments even though they occurred in past periods or are likely to occur in future ones; in this respect, from the reporting period 2017 special items comprise an adjustment to align the doubtful credit allowance of the retail G&P business (included in the G&P reportable segment) to the “expected loss” accounting model replacing the criteria of the incurred loss in the evaluation of the recoverability of trade receivables. The new criterion will be adopted in GAAP accounts effective January 1, 2018. This result adjustment is consistent with management assessment of this business performance and improves the correlation between revenues and costs incurred in the period with respect to the current accounting method; or (iii) exchange rate differences and derivatives relating to industrial activities and commercial payables and receivables, particularly exchange rate derivatives to manage commodity pricing formulas which are quoted in a currency other than the functional currency. Those items are reclassified in operating profit with a corresponding adjustment to net finance charges, notwithstanding the handling of foreign currency exchange risks is made centrally by netting off naturally-occurring opposite positions and then dealing with any residual risk exposure in the exchange rate market.

As provided for in Decision No. 15519 of July 27, 2006 of the Italian market regulator (CONSOB), non-recurring material income or charges are to be clearly reported in the management’s discussion and financial tables. Also, special items allow to allocate to future reporting periods gains and losses on re-measurement at fair value of certain non hedging commodity derivatives and exchange rate derivatives relating to commercial exposures, lacking the criteria to be designed as hedges, including the ineffective portion of cash flow hedges and certain derivative financial instruments embedded in the pricing formula of long-term gas supply agreements of the Exploration & Production segment.

Leverage

Leverage is a Non-GAAP measure of the Company's financial condition, calculated as the ratio between net borrowings and shareholders' equity, including non-controlling interest. Leverage is the reference ratio to assess the solidity and efficiency of the Group balance sheet in terms of incidence of funding sources including third-party funding and equity as well as to carry out benchmark analysis with industry standards.

Gearing

Gearing is calculated as the ratio between net borrowings and capital employed net and measures how much of capital employed net is financed recurring to third-party funding.

Free cash flow

Free cash flow represents the link existing between changes in cash and cash equivalents (deriving from the statutory cash flows statement) and in net borrowings (deriving from the summarized cash flow statement) that occurred from the beginning of the period to the end of period. Free cash flow is the cash in excess of capital expenditure needs. Starting from free cash flow it is possible to determine either: (i) changes in cash and cash equivalents for the period by adding/deducting cash flows relating to financing debts/receivables (issuance/repayment of debt and receivables related to financing activities), shareholders' equity (dividends paid, net repurchase of own shares, capital issuance) and the effect of changes in consolidation and of exchange rate differences; (ii) changes in net borrowings for the period by adding/deducting cash flows relating to shareholders' equity and the effect of changes in consolidation and of exchange rate differences.

Net borrowings

Net borrowings is calculated as total finance debt less cash, cash equivalents and certain very liquid investments not related to operations, including among others non-operating financing receivables and securities not related to operations. Financial activities are qualified as "not related to operations" when these are not strictly related to the business operations.

Leverage and net borrowings

Leverage is a measure used by management to assess the Company's level of indebtedness. It is calculated as a ratio of net borrowings to shareholders' equity, including non-controlling interest. Management periodically reviews leverage in order to assess the soundness and efficiency of the Group balance sheet in terms of optimal mix between net borrowings and net equity, and to carry out benchmark analysis with industry standards.
