PROXY STATEMENT

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Board of Directors of Dynegy Inc., or the Board, is soliciting the enclosed proxy for use at the 2007 annual meeting of stockholders, or the annual meeting, to be held on Wednesday, July 18, 2007 at 10:00 a.m., local time, at The Westin Galleria Houston, 24th Floor, 5060 West Alabama, Houston, Texas 77056, or at any reconvened meeting after an adjournment or postponement of the annual meeting. This proxy statement, the notice of annual meeting and the proxy card will be first mailed to stockholders on or about May 29, 2007.

Quorum and Vote Required

Quorum. The following quorum requirements apply to the matters to be considered at the annual meeting:

The presence of a majority of the shares of our Class A common stock represented in person or by proxy at the annual meeting and entitled to vote on the election of the Class A common stock directors will constitute a quorum for that matter;

The presence of a majority of the shares of our Class B common stock represented in person or by proxy at the annual meeting and entitled to vote on the election of the Class B common stock directors will constitute a quorum for that matter; and

The presence of a majority of the shares of our Class A common stock and our Class B common stock, counted together, represented in person or by proxy at the annual meeting and entitled to vote on the ratification of independent registered public accountants and on the stockholder proposal will constitute a quorum for such matters.

Abstentions and broker non-votes are counted in determining the number of shares represented in person or by proxy at the annual meeting.

Broker Non-votes. A broker non-vote occurs if a broker or other nominee who holds shares in street name for the beneficial owner of those shares does not have discretionary voting authority with respect to a particular item and has not received instructions from the owner of the shares. Under the rules of the New York Stock Exchange, or NYSE, in effect at the time this proxy statement was printed, if you hold your shares through a broker, your broker is permitted to vote your shares on routine matters even if the broker does not receive instructions from you. Routine matters to be voted on at the annual meeting are the election of directors and the ratification of the independent registered public accountants. Your broker is not permitted to vote your shares on non-routine matters if the broker does not receive instructions from you. The only non-routine matter to be voted on at the annual meeting is the stockholder proposal.

Election of Directors. Eleven persons have been nominated by the Board for election to serve as directors for one-year terms. In accordance with our Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, or our Certificate of Incorporation, of the 11 director nominees, eight are to be elected by the holders of our Class A common stock and three are to be elected by the holders of our Class B common stock.

The holders of our Class A common stock are entitled to vote on the election of the Class A common stock directors. The Class A common stock directors are elected by a plurality of the shares of Class A common stock represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the election of Class A common stock directors. This means that the eight individuals nominated for election to the Board as Class A common stock directors who receive the most FOR votes among votes properly cast in person or by proxy will be elected. Each holder of our Class A common stock is entitled to one vote for each share held. Holders of our Class B common stock do not vote in the election of Class A common stock directors.

The holders of our Class B common stock are entitled to vote on the election of the Class B common stock directors. The Class B common stock directors are elected by a plurality of the shares of Class B common stock represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the election of Class B common stock directors. This means that the three individuals nominated for election to the Board as Class B common stock directors who receive the most FOR votes among votes properly cast in person or by proxy will be elected. Each holder of our Class B common stock is entitled to one vote for each share held. Holders of our Class A common stock do not vote in the election of Class B common stock directors.

Only FOR or WITHHELD votes are counted in determining whether a plurality has been cast in favor of a director nominee. Abstentions and broker non-votes are not counted for purposes of election of directors. If you withhold authority to vote with respect to the election of some or all of the director nominees for which you are entitled to vote, your shares will not be voted with respect to those nominees indicated. A WITHHELD vote will have the same effect as a vote against the election of that director nominee under our majority voting policy, which is described below. Under our Certificate of Incorporation, stockholders do not have cumulative voting rights.

In April 2007, we adopted a majority voting policy for our Class A common stock directors. This policy states that in an uncontested election, any director nominee who receives a greater number of votes WITHHELD for his or her election than votes FOR such election must offer his or her resignation to the Board promptly following certification of the stockholder vote. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee is required to recommend to the Board whether such offered resignation should be accepted or rejected. The Board will determine whether to accept or reject the resignation offer and will promptly disclose its decision-making process and decision regarding an offered resignation in a document furnished to or filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, or the SEC. Please see our Corporate Governance Guidelines posted in the Corporate Governance section of our web site at www.dynegy.com for more information regarding our majority voting policy.

Please read Proposal 1 Election of Directors below for a discussion of our director nominees and Corporate Governance Affirmative Determinations Regarding Director Independence and Other Matters below for a discussion of the affirmative independence determinations made by the Board with respect to such director nominees.

Ratification of Independent Registered Public Accountants. The holders of our Class A common stock and the holders of our Class B common stock are entitled to vote together as a single class on the ratification of independent registered public accountants. The affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Class A common stock and Class B common stock, represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote, is required to ratify the choice of independent registered public accountants. Each holder of our Class A common stock and Class B common stock is entitled to one vote for each share held. Abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the ratification of independent registered public accountants.

Approval of Stockholder Proposal. The holders of our Class A common stock and the holders of our Class B common stock are entitled to vote together as a single class on the stockholder proposal regarding pay-for-superior-performance. The affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Class A common stock and Class B common stock, represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote, is required to approve the stockholder proposal. Each holder of our Class A common stock and Class B common stock is entitled to one vote for each share held. Abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the stockholder proposal. The Board has recommended a vote AGAINST the stockholder proposal.

Record Date and Outstanding Shares

The Board has fixed the close of business on May 21, 2007 as the record date for determining holders of outstanding shares of Class A common stock and Class B common stock entitled to notice of and to vote at the annual meeting or any adjournment or postponement of the annual meeting. As of the record date, there were outstanding 494,650,375 shares of Class A common stock and 340,000,000 shares of Class B common stock. Class A common stock and Class B common stock are the only classes of outstanding securities entitled to notice of and to vote at the annual meeting.

Solicitation of Proxies

We will bear the cost of soliciting proxies. Proxies may be solicited by mail or facsimile, or by our directors, officers or employees, without extra compensation, in person or by telephone. We have retained The Altman Group, Inc. to assist in the solicitation of proxies for a fee of approximately $15,000 plus out-of-pocket expenses. We will reimburse brokerage houses and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses for forwarding solicitation material to the beneficial owners of our common stock.

Questions concerning the proposals to be acted upon at the annual meeting should be directed to our Secretary at (713) 507-6400. Additional copies of this proxy statement or the proxy card may be obtained from our Investor Relations Department at our principal executive office. The mailing address of this office is 1000 Louisiana Street, Suite 5800, Houston, Texas 77002, and the telephone number is (713) 507-6400. For a period of at least ten days before the annual meeting, a complete list of stockholders entitled to vote at the annual meeting will be available for inspection during ordinary business hours at our principal executive office by stockholders of record for proper purposes. The list of stockholders will also be available at the annual meeting and may be inspected by any stockholder who is present.

With respect to shares of our Class A common stock held by 401(k) plans, Fiduciary Counselors Inc. has been appointed to act as the independent fiduciary responsible for ensuring that procedures are in place to safeguard the confidentiality of your proxy directions to the Trustee and that those procedures are being followed.

Revocation of Proxies

The enclosed proxy, even though executed and returned, may be revoked at any time prior to the voting of the proxy by:

Executing and submitting a revised proxy (including a telephone or Internet vote);

Sending written notice of revocation to our Secretary at the address provided at the beginning of this proxy statement; or

Voting in person at the annual meeting.

In the absence of a revocation, shares represented by proxies will be voted at the annual meeting.

Voting by Telephone or Internet

Stockholders of record can simplify their voting and reduce our costs by voting their shares by telephone or through the Internet. The telephone and Internet voting procedures are designed to authenticate stockholders' identities, allow stockholders to vote their shares and confirm that their instructions have been properly recorded.

If your shares are held in the name of a bank or broker, the availability of telephone and Internet voting will depend upon the voting processes of the bank or broker. Accordingly, stockholders should follow the voting instructions on the form they receive from their bank or broker.

Stockholders who elect to vote through the Internet may incur telecommunications and Internet access charges and other costs for which they are solely responsible. The telephone and Internet voting facilities for stockholders of record will close at 11:59 p.m., Eastern Time, on July 17, 2007. Instructions for voting by telephone or through the Internet are contained on the enclosed proxy card. Voting your shares by telephone or through the Internet will not affect your right to vote in person if you decide to attend the annual meeting; however, if you attend the annual meeting and vote using the enclosed proxy card, any votes you cast previously via telephone or the Internet will automatically be revoked and superseded by the votes reflected on your proxy card.

Voting by Mail

Stockholders who elect to vote by mail are asked to sign, date and return the enclosed proxy card using the postage-paid envelope provided.

Voting of Proxies

The persons named as proxies on the proxy card were designated by the Board. Any proxy given pursuant to this solicitation and received prior to the annual meeting will be voted as specified in the proxy card. If you return a properly executed proxy card but do not mark any voting selections, then your proxy will be voted as follows in accordance with the recommendations of the Board: FOR the election of the nominees to the Board; FOR ratification of the appointment of Ernst & Young LLP as our independent registered public accountants; AGAINST the stockholder proposal regarding pay-for-superior-performance; and in accordance with the judgment of the persons named on the proxy card on such other matters as may properly come before the annual meeting or any adjournment or postponement of the annual meeting.

Meeting Attendance

Because of limited seating, only stockholders, their proxy holders and our guests may attend the annual meeting. If you plan to attend the annual meeting, you must be a stockholder of record as of May 21, 2007 or, if you have beneficial ownership of shares of our common stock held by a bank, brokerage firm or other nominee, you must bring a brokerage statement or other evidence of your beneficial ownership of common stock as of May 21, 2007 in order to be admitted to the annual meeting.

Incorporation by Reference

To the extent that this proxy statement is incorporated by reference into any other filing by us under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act, the sections of this proxy statement entitled Compensation and Human Resources Committee Report and Audit and Compliance Committee Report will not be deemed incorporated unless specifically provided otherwise in such filing, to the extent permitted by the rules of the SEC. Audit and Compliance Committee Charter;

Compensation and Human Resources Committee Charter;

Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee Charter; and

Corporate Governance Guidelines

Our Corporate Governance Guidelines govern the qualifications and conduct of the Board. The Corporate Governance Guidelines address, among other things:

The independence and other qualifications of our Board members, with respect to which we require that at least 60% of our Board members be independent of Dynegy and our management;

The requirement that any Class A common stock director nominee in an uncontested election who receives a greater number of votes withheld for his or her election than votes for such election must offer his or her resignation to the Board;

The regular meetings of our non-management directors;

The nomination of persons for election to the Board;

The evaluation of performance of the Board and its committees;

Our expectation that our Board members will attend all annual stockholder meetings;

The Chairman of the Board, or Chairman, and chief executive officer, or CEO, positions;

The approval of the compensation of the CEO; and

The review of performance-based compensation of our senior executives following a restatement that impacts the achievement of performance targets relating to that compensation.

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics

Our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics applies to all of our directors, officers and employees. The key principles of this Code include acting legally and ethically, notifying appropriate persons upon becoming aware of issues, obtaining confidential advice and dealing fairly with our stakeholders.

Code of Ethics for Senior Financial Professionals

Our Code of Ethics for Senior Financial Professionals applies to our CEO, chief financial officer, or CFO, Controller and other designated senior financial professionals. The key principles of this Code include acting legally and ethically, promoting honest business conduct and providing timely and meaningful financial disclosures to our stockholders.

Complaint and Reporting Procedures for Accounting and Auditing Matters

Our Complaint and Reporting Procedures for Accounting and Auditing Matters provide for the (i) receipt, retention and treatment of complaints, reports and concerns regarding accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters and (ii) the confidential, anonymous submission of complaints, reports and concerns by employees regarding questionable accounting or auditing matters, in each case relating to Dynegy. Complaints may be made through a toll-free Integrity Helpline telephone number operated by an independent third-party and a dedicated e-mail address. Complaints received are logged by the Ethics and Compliance Office, communicated to the chairman of our Audit and Compliance Committee and investigated, under the supervision of our Audit and Compliance Committee, by our internal audit department or Ethics and Compliance Office. In accordance with Section 806 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, or SOX, these procedures prohibit us from taking adverse action against any person submitting a good faith complaint, report or concern.

Policy for Communications with Directors

Our Policy for Communications with Directors provides a medium for stockholders and other interested parties to communicate with the Board. Under this Policy, which is posted on our web site at www.dynegy.com under Corporate Governance, stockholders and other interested parties may communicate with the Board or specific members of the Board by sending a letter to Dynegy Inc., Communications with Directors, Attn: Secretary, 1000 Louisiana Street, Suite 5800, Houston, Texas 77002.

Director Attendance at Annual Meeting

As detailed in our Corporate Governance Guidelines, Board members are requested and encouraged to attend the annual meeting. All of the members of the Board then in office attended last year's annual meeting held on May 17, 2006.

Separation of Chairman and CEO; Lead Director

As discussed in our Corporate Governance Guidelines, the Board has no firm policy with respect to the separation of the Chairman and CEO positions. Rather, the Board believes that the interests of our stockholders are best served by a policy that enables the Board to make a determination regarding its Chairman based on our needs at the time. To that end, the Board has determined that Bruce A. Williamson, our current Chairman and CEO, will remain the Chairman following the annual meeting, assuming he is re-elected by our stockholders to serve as a director for another year.

The Board also intends that Patricia A. Hammick will remain Lead Director, assuming she is re-elected by our stockholders to serve as a director for another year. As Lead Director, Ms. Hammick presides over the regular executive sessions of our non-management directors and has the other powers and duties described in our Amended and Restated Bylaws, or Bylaws, and Corporate Governance Guidelines, including the power to serve as a conduit to senior management between Board meetings and to consult with the Chairman regarding Board meeting agendas.

Stock Ownership Guidelines

We have adopted stock ownership guidelines for members of the executive management team and other officers. These guidelines, which were developed with the assistance of an independent compensation consultant based on comparable guidelines employed by other Fortune 500 companies, support our corporate governance focus and provide further alignment of interests among our executive officers and stockholders.

The shares counted for purposes of our stock ownership guidelines include: shares owned outright, unvested restricted shares, in-the-money vested stock options, shares held pursuant to our employee benefits plans and other share-based equivalents that we may use from time to time. The guidelines are expressed as a multiple of base salary and vary by level as follows:

Chief Executive Officer	5 x annual base salary
President & Chief Operating Officer	4 x annual base salary
Executive Vice President	3 x annual base salary
Senior Vice President	2.25 x annual base salary
Vice President	1 x annual base salary

There is a mandatory five-year compliance period, and executives are encouraged to accumulate 1/5 of their holding requirement during each year of the five-year period. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee will monitor each executive's progress toward the required ownership level on an annual basis. At the end of the five-year period, if any executive fails to attain the required level of stock ownership, action may be taken, including awarding annual incentive cash bonuses in the form of restricted shares or requiring an executive to refrain from disposing of any vested shares and shares realized from an option exercise.

Affirmative Determinations Regarding Director Independence and Other Matters

The Board previously determined that each of the following directors who served in 2006, as well as the nominees proposed to be elected at the annual meeting, were or are, as the case may be, independent as such term is defined in the NYSE Listed Company Standards:

Charles E. Bayless

David W. Biegler

Linda Walker Bynoe

Thomas D. Clark, Jr.

Barry J. Galt

Victor E. Grijalva

Patricia A. Hammick

George L. Mazanec

Robert C. Oelkers

Joe J. Stewart

William L. Trubeck

The Board has also determined that each member of the Audit and Compliance Committee, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee and the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee meets the independence requirements applicable to those committees prescribed by the NYSE and the SEC. The Board has further determined that more than one of the members of the Audit and Compliance Committee, including its current Chairman William L. Trubeck, are audit committee financial experts as such term is defined in Item 407(d) of Regulation S-K promulgated by the SEC.

With the assistance of legal counsel to Dynegy, the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee reviewed the answers to annual questionnaires completed by the directors as well as the above-described legal standards for Board and committee member independence and the criteria applied to determine audit committee financial expert status. On the basis of this review, the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee made its recommendation to the full Board and the Board made its independence and audit committee financial expert determinations after consideration of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee's recommendation and a review of the materials made available to the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee.

Director Nomination Process

Our director nominees are approved by the Board after considering the recommendation of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee. A copy of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee's charter is available in the Corporate Governance section of our web site at www.dynegy.com.

Under our Certificate of Incorporation, our Board consists of 11 members. Up to three seats on the Board are filled by Class B common stock directors, which directors are elected by the holders of the outstanding shares of our Class B common stock, and the remaining seats are filled by Class A common stock directors, which directors are elected by the holders of the outstanding shares of our Class A common stock. With respect to nominations for Class B common stock directors, our Certificate of Incorporation provides that the Board will nominate such individuals as may be specified by a majority vote of the then existing Class B common stock directors or, if there are no such directors, by holders of a majority of the Class B common stock. The three Class B common stock director nominees set forth in this proxy statement were specified by the unanimous vote of the current Class B common stock directors.

The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee identifies nominees for Class A common stock directors in various ways. The committee considers the current directors that have expressed interest in and that continue to satisfy the criteria for serving on the Board as set forth in our Corporate Governance Guidelines. Other nominees that may be proposed by current directors or members of management or by stockholders are also considered. From time to time, the committee engages a professional firm to identify and evaluate potential director nominees.

All director nominees, whether put forth by a stockholder or otherwise, are evaluated in accordance with the qualifications set forth in our Corporate Governance Guidelines. These guidelines require that directors possess the highest personal and professional ethics, integrity and values and be committed to representing the long-term interests of our stockholders at large. They must also have an inquisitive and objective perspective, practical wisdom, mature judgment and sufficient personal resources such that any director compensation to be received from Dynegy would not be sufficiently meaningful to impact their judgment in reviewing matters coming before the Board. Finally, they must be able to work compatibly with the other members of the Board and otherwise have the experience and skills necessary to enable them to serve as productive members of the Board. Directors also must be willing to devote sufficient time to carrying out their fiduciary duties and other responsibilities effectively and should be committed to serve on the Board for an extended period of time. For additional information, please read our Corporate Governance Guidelines.

All of the director nominees set forth in this proxy statement and the accompanying proxy card are current directors standing for re-election.

For purposes of the 2008 annual meeting, the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee will consider any Class A common stock director nominations received by the Secretary from a stockholder of record by the close of business on April 18, 2008, but not before the close of business on March 20, 2008. See Future Stockholder Proposals below for more information. Any such nomination must be accompanied in writing by all information relating to such person that is required under the federal securities laws, including such person's written consent to be named in the proxy statement as a nominee and to serve as a director if elected. The nominating stockholder must also submit its name and address, as well as that of the beneficial owner if applicable, and the class and number of shares of our common stock that are owned beneficially and of record by such stockholder and such beneficial owner. Finally, the nominating stockholder must discuss the nominee's qualifications to serve as a director as described in our Corporate Governance Guidelines.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Class A Common Stock Directors

Eight Class A common stock directors are to be elected at the annual meeting by the holders of Class A common stock to serve one-year terms. The Class A common stock directors are elected by a plurality of the shares of Class A common stock represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the election of Class A common stock directors. This means that the eight individuals nominated for election to the Board as Class A common stock directors who receive the most FOR votes among votes properly cast in person or by proxy will be elected. Only FOR or WITHHELD votes are counted in determining whether a plurality has been cast in favor of a Class A common stock director nominee. If you withhold authority to vote with respect to the election of some or all of the Class A common stock director nominees, your shares will not be voted with respect to those nominees indicated. Under our majority voting policy, in an uncontested election, any director nominee who receives a greater number of votes WITHHELD for his or her election than votes FOR such election must offer his or her resignation to Board promptly following certification of the stockholder vote. Abstentions and broker non-votes are not counted for purposes of election of directors.

Unless you withhold authority to vote or instruct otherwise, a properly executed proxy will be voted FOR the election of the nominees listed below as the proxies may determine. Although the Board does not contemplate that any of the nominees will be unable to serve, if such a situation arises prior to the annual meeting, the persons appointed in the enclosed proxy card will vote for the election of such other persons that may be nominated by the Board.

Class B Common Stock Directors

Three Class B common stock directors are to be elected at the annual meeting by the holders of our Class B common stock to serve one-year terms. The Class B common stock directors are elected by a plurality of the shares of Class B common stock represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the election of Class B common stock directors. This means that the three individuals nominated for election to the Board as Class B common stock directors who receive the most FOR votes among votes properly cast in person or by proxy will be elected. Only FOR or WITHHELD votes are counted in determining whether a plurality has been cast in favor of a Class B common stock director nominee. If you withhold authority to vote with respect to the election of some or all of the Class B common stock director nominees, your shares will not be voted with respect to those nominees indicated. Abstentions and broker non-votes are not counted for purposes of election of directors.

Unless you withhold authority to vote or instruct otherwise, a properly executed proxy will be voted FOR the election of the nominees listed below as the proxies may determine.

Directors Meetings and Committees of the Board

During 2006, our Board held 14 meetings. Each director attended at least 75% of the aggregate of the total number of meetings of the Board and the total number of meetings held by all committees on which he or she served during the period for which he or she has been a director. Under our Corporate Governance Guidelines, directors who are not members of a particular committee are entitled to attend meetings of each such committee.

We dissolved two committees of the Board, the Executive Committee and the Risk, Environment and Operations Committee, in May 2006. We also formed the Performance Review Committee in April 2007 to review commercial, operating and environmental health and safety performance relative to our power industry peers and to develop and recommend strategies to maximize shareholder value. In addition, after the 2006 annual meeting, we changed the composition of some of the remaining committees of the Board. We have provided the information below regarding committee members and the number of meetings held in 2006 in two separate tables to reflect these composition changes.

The following table reflects the members of each of the committees of the Board and the number of meetings held in 2006 before the annual meeting.

(1) Audit Committee Financial Expert.
The Board has the following committees:

Audit and Compliance Committee. The Audit and Compliance Committee, which currently is comprised of Messrs. Trubeck (Chairman), Grijalva, Mazanec and Oelkers, met a total of 11 times during 2006. Each member of the Audit and Compliance Committee is independent as defined in the NYSE Listed Company Standards. The Audit and Compliance Committee assists the Board in its oversight of the integrity of our financial statements, our compliance with legal and regulatory requirements and our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, our independent auditors' qualifications and independence, the performance of our internal audit function and the independent auditors and the performance of our risk assessment and risk management policies. Please read Audit and Compliance Committee Report for a discussion of the Audit and Compliance Committee's review of our 2006 audited financial statements.

Compensation and Human Resources Committee. The Compensation and Human Resources Committee, which currently is comprised of Messrs. Biegler (Chairman), Clark, Mazanec and Trubeck, met a total of six times during 2006. Each member of the Compensation and Human Resources Committee is independent as defined in the NYSE Listed Company Standards. The purpose of the Compensation and Human Resources Committee is to assist our Board in fulfilling the Board's oversight responsibilities on matters relating to executive compensation, oversee our overall compensation strategy, administer our equity-based compensation plans, prepare the annual Compensation and Human Resources Committee report required by the rules of the SEC and review and discuss with our management the Compensation Discussion and Analysis to be included in our annual proxy statement to stockholders. The Compensation and Human Resources Committee does not assist the Board with respect to director compensation, which is the responsibility of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee. For more information regarding the role and scope of authority of the Compensation and Human Resources Committee in determining executive compensation, please read Compensation Discussion and Analysis below.

The Compensation and Human Resources Committee may delegate specific responsibilities to one or more subcommittees to the extent permitted by law, NYSE listing standards and our governing documents. As such, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee is responsible for pre-approving all services performed by any independent compensation consultant in order to assure that the provision of such services does not impair the consultant's independence. As a result, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee has established a policy requiring its pre-approval of the annual executive compensation services, engagement terms and fees. The policy requires that requests to provide services requiring pre-approval by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee or Chair will be submitted to the Committee or Chair by both the independent compensation consultant and our Vice President of Human Resources and must include a joint statement as to whether in their view, the request or application is consistent with maintaining the consultant's independence.

Further, under the policy, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee delegates to its Chair the authority to pre-approve any services (other than annual engagement services) if necessary or appropriate between scheduled meetings; provided, however, that the Chair will cause any such pre-approvals to be reported to the Compensation and Human Resources Committee at the next regularly scheduled meeting. For a discussion of the role of the independent compensation consultant retained by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee in recommending executive compensation and the participation of our CEO in the review of the compensation of other executives that report to the CEO, please read Compensation Discussion and Analysis below.

Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee, which currently is comprised of Messrs. Clark (Chairman), Grijalva, Mazanec and Oelkers, met a total of five times during 2006. Each member of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee is independent as defined in the NYSE Listed Company Standards. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee is responsible for identifying director nominees, developing and reviewing our Corporate Governance Guidelines and overseeing the evaluation of the Board and management.

Performance Review Committee. The Performance Review Committee, which currently is comprised of Messrs. Segal (Chairman), Biegler, Grijalva and Oelkers, was formed in April 2007. The Performance Review Committee is responsible for reviewing our overall commercial and operating performance relative to our power industry competitors, the external market structure and our internal capabilities, reviewing our environmental, health and safety performance, developing and recommending to our management opportunities to maximize value for our stockholders, and assessing, with management, our execution of value-enhancing opportunities.

Executive Committee. The Executive Committee, which was comprised of Messrs. Williamson (Chairman), Clark, Galt, Oelkers, Sheppard and Stewart and Ms. Hammick, did not hold any meetings in 2006 before it was dissolved following the 2006 annual meeting. The Executive Committee was comprised of the Chairman and/or Lead Director, the CEO, the Committee Chairpersons and one Class B common stock director. This committee had the authority to review certain matters below the approval threshold for the full Board and was principally responsible for reviewing policies and programs designed to create a strong corporate image and for advising the Board on significant public affairs.

Risk, Environment and Operations Committee. The Risk, Environment and Operations Committee, which was comprised of Messrs. Stewart (Chairman), Mazanec, Oelkers and Trubeck and Ms. Roberts following the retirement of Mr. Wilcox, met one time during 2006 before it was dissolved following the 2006 annual meeting. The Risk, Environment and Operations Committee was responsible for reviewing our environmental and occupational health and safety programs and policies and our compliance with these programs and policies, reviewing our loss prevention policies and risk management programs, including our insurance coverage, and monitoring the operational performance trends of our major operating segments. These duties and responsibilities formerly handled by the Risk, Environment and Operations Committee were assumed by the full Board after the 2006 annual meeting.

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The following discussion should be read together with the compensation tables and disclosures for our Named Executive Officers below under Executive Compensation. The following discussion contains statements regarding future company performance targets and goals. These targets and goals are disclosed in the limited context of our compensation programs and should not be considered as statements of our expectations or estimates of results or other guidance.

Overview

Dynegy's executive compensation program is primarily designed to attract, motivate and retain a highly qualified executive management team capable of efficiently managing and opportunistically growing our power generation business. This program is administered by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee, which utilized Mercer Human Resource Consulting LLC, or Mercer, an independent compensation consultant, to assist it in discharging its responsibilities for the 2006 performance year. In the following discussion and analysis, we describe in detail our executive compensation philosophy and objectives and the 2006 compensation for each individual who served as (i) our CEO during 2006, (ii) our CFO during 2006 and (iii) our three other most highly compensated executive officers at the end of 2006 based on total compensation for 2006, or, collectively, our Named Executive Officers.

Executive Compensation Philosophy

Our executive compensation program reflects a fundamental belief that rewards should be competitive, both in structure and amount, with the broad market in which we compete for executive talent, and commensurate with corporate and individual performance. In 2006, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee utilized Mercer to assist in reviewing and updating, where appropriate, Dynegy's compensation philosophy to ensure alignment with our near-term and long-term business strategy. The resulting Compensation Guiding Principles, which are listed below, serve to formalize and document our compensation philosophy. In addition, these principles provide a foundation on which compensation decisions are made, as well as a common language for communicating those decisions to executives, employees and stockholders.

Our compensation strategy will support Dynegy's core values and business strategy.

Our compensation programs should provide reasonable upside earning potential for exceptional performance, while maintaining competitiveness during down cycles in the market.

Our compensation delivery practices should allow for differential pay levels based on performance.

Our key compensation elements—base pay, short-term incentives and long-term incentives—should complement each other.

Our variable pay programs should be designed as forward-looking incentives with clear line of sight.

Our long-term incentives should encourage share ownership and a strong link to stockholder interests.

Our compensation programs will be designed and administered to encourage sustained growth, and help support the notion that sustained growth is attainable even in a cyclical industry.

Our overall compensation strategy should recognize that attraction and retention of key talent is critical to the attainment of Dynegy's stated goals and objectives and to the creation of stockholder value.

Executive Compensation Program Objectives

Consistent with the stated purpose and the Compensation Guiding Principles listed above, the structure of our compensation program reflects the following key objectives: (i) Pay for Performance; (ii) Market Competitiveness; and (iii) Long-Term Stockholder Value.

Pay for Performance. It is our belief that the variable components of compensation should not be viewed as entitlements, but rather should be awarded to executives for delivering results relative to pre-determined goals and objectives and for executing on Dynegy's business strategy to create long-term value for our stockholders. To this end, each year the Board approves a comprehensive set of goals and objectives for the coming year. Dynegy's progress, and the Named Executive Officers' contributions relative to these goals and objectives, is monitored and discussed on a quarterly basis by the Board and the Compensation and Human Resources Committee. At year-end, executive compensation decisions are made based on the degree to which these goals and objectives have been achieved.

The annual goals and objectives are typically segregated into two categories. The first category comprises a set of core financial metrics used by executive management and the Board in assessing Dynegy's annual performance and communicating that performance to the investment community. For 2006, there were three financial metrics included in this first category: EBITDA(1); Operating Cash Flow, or OCF, and Free Cash Flow, or FCF(2). In early 2006, the Board of Directors approved targets for each of these three measures for 2006. At each subsequent regular meeting in 2006, executive management updated the Board and the Compensation and Human Resources Committee on Dynegy's EBITDA, OCF and FCF performance compared to the original targets. Please read "Named Executive Officer Compensation" below for a discussion of 2006 compensation and the specific financial targets on which such compensation was based.

Note:

Edgar Filing: DYNEGY INC. - Form DEF 14A

EBITDA can be reconciled to Net income (loss) in our financial statements using the following calculation: Net income (loss) less Income tax benefit (expense), plus Interest expense and Depreciation and amortization expense.

- (2) FCF can be reconciled to OCF, a U.S. generally accepted accounting principles measure, using the following calculation: OCF plus investing cash flow (consisting of asset sale proceeds less business acquisition costs, capital expenditures and changes in restricted cash).

The second category of goals and objectives are operational in nature and are developed annually by each of Dynegy's executive officers for his or her respective areas of functional responsibility. These goals and objectives were also defined at the beginning of 2006 and approved by the Board. The Board and the Compensation and Human Resources Committee were updated as to the executive officers' performance relative to the approved goals and objectives at regular meetings during 2006 and, at year end, their accomplishments were heavily considered when determining their compensation awards. Please read "Named Executive Officer Compensation" below for a discussion of 2006 compensation and the functional goals and objectives underlying the applicable compensation decisions.

In addition to the above-described goals and objectives, executive compensation decisions also consider the behavioral attributes of our executive officers. In particular, Dynegy has adopted a set of core values that reflect the key leadership qualities and behavioral attributes that our executive compensation program is designed to foster and reward. These qualities and attributes include, among others: honesty and integrity; individual responsibility and accountability; engagement and development of Dynegy's employees; and doing the right things with an expectation that the right things will happen. In evaluating Dynegy's CEO from this perspective, the Board conducts an annual performance review of the CEO and evaluates his performance based on interaction with him throughout the year. Similarly, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee, which approves the compensation for Dynegy's non-CEO executive officers, consults with the CEO as to his performance review of Dynegy's other executive officers and their achievements relative to Dynegy's core values.

Market Competitiveness. We believe that in order to attract and retain highly qualified executives, our executive compensation program must be competitive, both in structure and amount, with the broad labor market in which we compete for talent. To support our objective of paying market competitive compensation, each year the Compensation and Human Resources Committee conducts a detailed competitive evaluation (including, among other things, a review of proprietary and proxy information) with its independent compensation consultant. For 2006, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee utilized Mercer to compile, review and interpret certain data and information comparing Dynegy's executive compensation with that of companies considered to be peers for compensation and performance purposes. Mercer reported to and acted at the discretion of the Compensation and Human Resources Committee. Our management did not direct or oversee the activities of Mercer with respect to our executive compensation program.

In an attempt to ensure meaningful comparisons for 2006 executive compensation purposes, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee approved Mercer's recommendation of a two-prong approach to constructing Dynegy's comparative peer group. First, Mercer compiled a general industry peer group comprised of approximately 30 companies derived from a broad group of 3,000 U.S. publicly traded companies that constitute the Russell 3000 index. From the broad group of 3,000 companies, Mercer narrowed its focus to those companies with revenues and quantitative business characteristics (scale, capital structure, profitability and asset and employee intensity) similar to those of Dynegy. The resulting 30 general industry peer group companies selected share similar qualitative characteristics with Dynegy, including an engineering/process focus, a wholesale business model and market performance.

Second, Mercer compiled a power industry peer group comprised of publicly traded, independent power producers and domestic companies that possess unregulated power generation operations. This power industry peer group includes six companies (AES Corp., Allegheny Energy Inc., Edison International, Mirant Corporation, NRG Energy Inc. and Reliant Energy Inc.) that we, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee and Mercer, believe experience industry influences similar to Dynegy and represent appropriate energy comparators for executive compensation purposes. This peer group provides an industry-based context to our executive compensation decisions. However, because of the limited number of power industry peer companies, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee uses this power industry peer group merely as a reference point for consideration. Primarily, the general industry peer group described above is relied upon in determining market competitiveness, as its larger statistical sample size should reflect less variability and volatility in the comparative data.

The Compensation and Human Resources Committee considers comparative data in structuring our compensation program elements and determining the value of each element to be awarded to our executive officers. Based upon this market review, in terms of structure, we provide three types of compensation to our executive officers: base salary, annual short-term incentives and long-term incentives. Proportionally, base salary comprised approximately 13% of the Named Executive Officers' total compensation package for 2006, with annual short-term incentives and long-term incentives comprising approximately 12% and 75%, respectively. This compensation mix is generally consistent with those of our peer group companies and reflects what we believe is a competitive balance between current and long-term compensation and cash and non-cash compensation. It also supports Dynegy's stated strategy of pursuing growth opportunities for the benefit of its stockholders. Please read "Elements of Compensation" below for a detailed discussion of these compensation types and the specific reasons for using them.

Long-Term Stockholder Value. We continually seek to create a total compensation strategy that includes long-term incentive awards designed to align individual executive performance with the interests of our stockholders. In furtherance of this strategy, our long-term incentive awards are targeted at the 60th percentile of the market, or higher than the market median. Please read "Elements of Executive Compensation: Long-Term Incentive Awards" below for further discussion. Additionally, in early 2006, the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee adopted stock ownership guidelines for members of the executive management team and other Dynegy officers. Please read "Corporate Governance: Stock Ownership Guidelines" above for a description of these guidelines.

Potential Impact of Restatements. Our Corporate Governance Guidelines provide a mechanism to address any restatements that may impact Dynegy's key financial metrics and its financial performance generally. Pursuant to this mechanism, in the event of a material restatement of Dynegy's financial statements, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee will review all bonuses and other incentive and equity compensation awarded to executive officers that were based on the achievement of specified performance targets during the period for which such financial results are or will be restated. The Compensation and Human Resources will take action, as appropriate, with respect to any such bonuses or other incentive or equity compensation awards to the extent such specified performance targets were not achieved in light of the restatement, which action could include attempts to recoup amounts paid. We believe this mechanism effectively allows for remedial action to be taken if executive compensation is awarded for achievement of financial performance that is later determined not to have been achieved, and further aligns the interests of our executive officers with those of our stockholders.

Elements of Executive Compensation

As previously described, our executives are eligible to receive three primary forms of compensation: base salary; annual short-term cash incentive awards; and long-term incentive awards. In determining the appropriate amounts to award our executive officers, we generally target the following percentiles when analyzing the amounts paid by our peer group companies:

Base Salary	50th percentile
Short-Term Incentives	50th percentile
Long-Term Incentives	60th percentile
Total Compensation	50th-60th percentile

Base Salary. Base salaries function as the fixed, recurring portion of the executive's total compensation package that provides a baseline reward in contrast to the potential variability of short-term and long-term incentive opportunities. In determining the level of base salary for each executive, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee considers the Named Executive Officer's job responsibilities, experience and performance. The Compensation and Human Resources Committee annually reviews external benchmark data, provided by its independent compensation consultant, to ensure that base salaries remain competitive. Any adjustments are made based upon the executive's position relative to competitive market data, as well as individual performance measured against pre-established goals and objectives. For base salaries, we believe that the 50th percentile of the market is the appropriate target in that it allows us to offer cash compensation awards at a competitive level of pay. Additional upside, generally up to 20% over the 50th percentile, may be provided to recognize exceptional performance. Similarly, to reflect limited experience, lack of tenure in the position or performance below expectations, base salaries generally up to 20% below the 50th percentile may be appropriate. In our estimation, to target base salaries lower than the 50th percentile of the market would restrict our ability to attract and retain key talent; to target a higher percentile would potentially result in greater compensation than is necessary to attract and retain key talent to the detriment of our stockholders. Please read "Named Executive Officer Compensation" below for further discussion on the Named Executive Officers' base salaries.

Short-Term Incentives. Short-term incentives serve as a variable, at-risk element of the executive's total compensation package that provides an incentive award based on the attainment of performance goals and objectives during the performance year. Short-term incentives are generally paid in the form of cash. Our short-term incentive compensation plan is structured to appropriately align executive interests with both investor interests and Dynegy's annual performance goals and objectives. The annual cash incentive bonus opportunity for each executive officer, typically a percentage of his or her annual base salary, is established at the beginning of the performance year and is targeted at the 50th percentile of the market for our peer companies and commensurate with each executive's job responsibilities. For the 2006 performance year, the short-term incentive target for each Named Executive Officer was 100% of annual base salary. The target amount is determined by multiplying the target award percentage by the executive's total base earnings for the performance period. There is upside potential for an executive's annual short-term incentive bonus to exceed the target level in the event of exceptional performance by Dynegy and/or the individual executive. Similarly, annual cash incentives are not guaranteed for our executives, and company performance or individual performance can result in either no annual incentive bonus or an annual incentive bonus award that is less than the target level. The determination of any award is dependent upon both Dynegy's performance and the individual executive's performance during the performance year. Our annual short-term incentive targets and any approved payments are reviewed annually with the Compensation and Human Resources Committee's independent compensation consultant. Please read "Named Executive Officer Compensation" below for further discussion of the Named Executive Officers' short-term incentive awards for the 2006 performance year.

Long-Term Incentive Awards. Long-term incentive awards serve as the most significant at-risk element of the executive's total compensation package, which focuses on creating meaningful long-term value for investors and the attainment of long-term performance goals and objectives. Long-term incentives, in the form of equity-based awards that generally do not fully vest until three years after the grant date, are structured to achieve a variety of long-term objectives, including: retaining executives; aligning executives' financial interests with the interests of investors; and rewarding the achievement of long-term specified strategic goals and/or superior stock price performance. While we target the 50th percentile of the market for base salaries and short-term incentive awards, we target the 60th percentile of the market for long-term incentive awards. It is our belief that by targeting the 60th percentile for long-term incentive awards, we drive greater alignment of the near-term and long-term interests of our executives with those of our stockholders, and further support our stated emphasis on opportunistic growth. While the Compensation and Human Resources Committee believes that the long-term incentive opportunity appropriately motivates our executive officers to implement strategies that further our ongoing efforts to position the company as a major player in the consolidating independent power producer sector, award levels above the 60th percentile may be warranted in certain instances.

The Compensation and Human Resources Committee has traditionally granted long-term incentive awards to Dynegy's executive officers in the form of stock options and restricted stock. Restricted stock and stock options tie directly to the performance of Dynegy's common stock and provide the executive an incentive to build long-term value for our investors. Restricted stock and stock options also provide an effective means of executive retention because the awards are focused over the longer term and vest over a period (or at the end) of three years. The market competitiveness of this mix is reviewed annually by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee with its independent compensation consultant. The number of stock options awarded is typically based on the Black Scholes valuation model, while the number of restricted shares awarded is typically based on the fair market value of Dynegy's common stock as of the date of grant. Long-term awards for executive officers are generally made at the same time that annual cash incentive awards are made.

In the past, Dynegy's significant self-restructuring activities made precise long-term planning difficult, particularly considering the impact that refinancings and legacy legal matter settlements had on Dynegy's financial performance. As a result, Dynegy did not believe it prudent to adopt long-term award payouts conditioned on achievement of specified long-term performance or financial objectives. However, due in large part to the success of Dynegy's self-restructuring efforts, for awards granted in 2006 and again in 2007, a portion of each executive's long-term incentive award value was made in the form of performance units. Effective January 1, 2006, the Dynegy Inc. 2002 Long Term Incentive Plan and the Dynegy Inc. 2000 Long Term Incentive Plan were amended to include operating cash flow, free cash flow, any other cash flow metric or any other performance metric selected by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee as performance measures for grants of performance awards under the Plans. In 2006 (for the 2005 performance year), performance units comprised 20% of each executive's long-term incentive award value and reflected the following terms:

Denominated in $100 units, payable in cash or stock, at the Compensation and Human Resources Committee's discretion;

Payable at the end of three years based on Dynegy's cumulative three-year OCF as originally forecasted, subject to earlier vesting and payment upon specified circumstances, including a change in control; and

Payable at the following threshold, target and maximum levels:

Payout per Unit	Performance	Three-Year OCF Target
$0	< 70% of OCF target
$50	70% of OCF target	$ 671 million
$100	100% of OCF target	$ 959 million
$200	130% of OCF target or more	$ 1.247 billion

The remaining portion of each executive's long-term incentive award value granted in 2006 consisted of 60% stock options with three-year ratable vesting and 20% restricted stock with three-year cliff vesting, with the level of each based on 2005 performance.

In 2007 (for the 2006 performance year), in an attempt to further align Dynegy's executive officers' performance with the long-term interests of our stockholders, and in consideration of the accelerated vesting associated with the LS Power Merger further described below, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee approved long-term incentive award grants for our executive officers as follows:

LTI Award
Element	Percentage of LTI Award Value	Vesting Schedule
Stock Options	40%	Ratable vesting of 1/3 each year
Restricted Stock	20%	Cliff vesting on the three-year anniversary of the grant date
Performance Units	40%	Award, if any, determined at the end of the three-year performance period

As awards granted in 2007 were made after the closing of the LS Power Merger, the event has no impact on the vesting of these awards. Further discussion of the long-term incentive awards for the 2006 performance year, including the performance metrics underlying the performance units, can be found under "Named Executive Officer Compensation below. It is our belief that the current long-term incentive awards mix of ratable vesting stock options, cliff vesting restricted shares and performance units provides an appropriate balance between executive performance, stockholder interests and the retentive value of equity instruments.

Equity Grant Practices. The Compensation and Human Resources Committee has the authority to administer Dynegy's equity-based compensation plans. In carrying out its duties, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee may from time to time authorize the granting of stock options or other equity-based awards pursuant to the terms and conditions of such plans. As a matter of policy, stock options and other equity-based awards are generally granted by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee in conjunction with the annual compensation cycle. All such award grants are made at a scheduled meeting of the Compensation and Human Resources Committee, and the exercise price of any stock option grant is the closing price of our Class A common stock on the date of said meeting (the grant date). These and the other terms of any stock option or other equity-based award grants are documented in the form of one or more award agreements approved by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee on or before the grant date.

From time to time, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee may determine that it is desirable or appropriate to grant stock options or other equity-based awards to an individual upon employment by or commencement of service with Dynegy. Any such stock option or other equity-based award grants must be approved by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee at a meeting, which meeting may be telephonic. The exercise price of any such stock option grants is the closing price of our Class A common stock on the date of the meeting, which will constitute the grant date.

Executive Perquisites. In reviewing the total compensation packages for our Named Executive Officers with its independent compensation consultant, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee reviews executive perquisites that may be received on an annual basis. Our internal assessment of perquisites provided to Named Executive Officers during 2006 revealed that no material perquisites were awarded. In fact, the perquisites awarded generally were limited to cell phones and personal digital assistants, primarily used for business purposes. While the Compensation and Human Resources Committee will continue to assess the competitiveness of executive perquisites offered, we believe the current limited use of this element of total compensation is appropriate.

Other Compensation and Benefit Plans. Qualified benefit plans comprise additional elements of the total compensation packages for our Named Executive Officers. Each Named Executive Officer is eligible, as are all Dynegy corporate employees, to participate in our 401(k) Plan, which provides for a dollar-for-dollar match of up to 5% of contributed salary payable in the form of Class A common stock (capped at $15,000 for 2006). The Named Executive Officers are also eligible for qualified pension benefits under the Dynegy Inc. Retirement Plan, or the Retirement Plan. This pension benefit is based on the Portable Retirement Benefit, or PRB, portion of the Retirement Plan and provides a defined benefit that grows each year at a variable rate (30-year Treasury rate). This benefit, introduced in 2001, provides an annual contribution of 6% of the Named Executive Officer's salary (capped at $200,000 for 2006). Dynegy's contributions to both the 401(k) Plan and the PRB of the Retirement Plan vest at a rate of 25% per year. All of our Named Executive Officers are fully vested in all past and future Dynegy contributions based on their years of service.

Dynegy also has a legacy non-qualified executive deferred compensation plan, the Dynegy Inc. Deferred Compensation Plan, or the Deferred Compensation Plan. The Deferred Compensation Plan was suspended in 2003 and no contributions have been made under the Plan since that time. Only one Named Executive Officer, Mr. Lednicky, has a remaining balance in the Deferred Compensation Plan. No other deferred compensation non-qualified plans are currently provided to our Named Executive Officers.

Change in Control Arrangements. We have entered into certain arrangements and maintain certain plans that require us to provide certain payments and benefits to some or all of our Named Executive Officers in connection with a change in control. These plans and payments are described below under Executive Compensation Potential Payments Upon Termination or a Change in Control. In particular, a Change in Control supplement to our Amended and Restated Executive Severance Pay Plan, both as amended, or our Change in Control Plan, provides for the vesting of outstanding equity-based awards and the payment of certain severance benefits to our executives in connection with a change in control, as defined in the Change in Control Plan. The Change in Control Plan, approved by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee in 2003 after consultation with an independent compensation consultant, was adopted to enable Dynegy to attract and retain critical talent in a marketplace with a potential for industry consolidation and significant shortfalls in the talent pool projected over the following five years.

Before April 2, 2007, our Change in Control Plan defined change in control to include:

a merger, consolidation or the sale of assets or equity interests that results in (i) the equity securities holders immediately prior to such event no longer being entitled to 60% or more of the votes eligible to be cast in the election of directors in the resulting entity or (ii) the Board members immediately prior to such event no longer constitute at least a majority of the Board of the resulting entity;

a dissolution or liquidation of Dynegy (under Illinois statutes);

any person or group gains ownership or control of more than 20% (40% in the case of ownership or control by Chevron Corporation) of the combined voting power of the outstanding securities of (i) Dynegy, if Dynegy has not engaged in a merger or consolidation, or (ii) the resulting entity, if Dynegy has engaged in a merger or consolidation;

a contested election of directors which results in members of the Board immediately before such election ceasing to constitute a majority of the Board;

the adoption by the Board or the Compensation and Human Resources Committee of a resolution declaring that a change in control has occurred; or a consolidation, merger or sale of the assets of a principal business unit to another entity not affiliated with Dynegy, or the Board or the Compensation and Human Resources Committee adopts a resolution declaring that a change in control has occurred with respect to the principal business unit (in both cases only executives employed by the principal business unit are entitled to severance benefits in connection with such change in control).

On April 2, 2007, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee approved an amendment to the Change in Control Plan to modify the definition of change in control. The references to Illinois statutes were deleted to reflect our incorporation in Delaware. In addition, the clause of the change in control definition applicable to principal business units was removed because it no longer applies to our corporate structure. This amendment was approved to provide a more precise definition of a change in control.

The Compensation and Human Resources Committee further modified the change in control definition included in all long-term incentive award agreements for such awards granted on April 2, 2007 to include:

a merger, consolidation or the sale of assets or equity interests that results in (i) the equity securities holders immediately prior to such event no longer being entitled to 51% or more of the votes eligible to be cast in the election of directors in the resulting entity, or (ii) the Board members immediately prior to such event no longer constituting at least a majority of the Board of the resulting entity; or any person or group gains ownership or control of 50% or more of the combined voting power of the outstanding securities of (i) Dynegy, if Dynegy has not engaged in a merger or consolidation, or (ii) the resulting entity, if Dynegy has engaged in a merger or consolidation.

Edgar Filing: DYNEGY INC. - Form DEF 14A

This modification will continue to allow vesting of outstanding equity awards upon consummation of a change in control, with the resulting types of change in control events that will trigger vesting being more limited than under the prior definition.

The Compensation and Human Resources, together with its independent compensation consultant, reviewed its change in control arrangements in connection with the above-described modification and will do so periodically to ensure alignment with competitive practices and shareholder interests. It is our belief that given the likelihood of further power industry consolidation, the continued provision of change in control benefits will be necessary to enable Dynegy to attract and retain highly qualified executive talent.

Determination of Named Executive Officer Compensation

The Board has delegated to the Compensation and Human Resources Committee, through its committee charter, the following responsibilities with respect to Named Executive Officer compensation:

Review and approve Dynegy's goals and objectives relevant to compensation of its CEO, evaluate the CEO's performance in light of these goals and objectives and, either as a committee or together with the other independent directors (as directed by the Board), determine and approve the CEO's compensation based on this evaluation; and

Review and approve the compensation for Dynegy's other Named Executive Officers.

The CEO, with the assistance of our Human Resources Department, presents a number of compensation alternatives for the executives that report to him consistent with his views of their contributions during the performance year. These alternatives are reviewed and considered by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee, with input from its independent compensation consultant, when approving the compensation for Dynegy's non-CEO executive officers.

The Board's practice is for the independent directors to determine the CEO's annual compensation after considering recommendations from the Compensation and Human Resources Committee and the Board's annual evaluation of the CEO's performance.

LS Power Merger. The recently completed LS Power Merger represents a critical milestone in our efforts to both run and grow our business. The closing of the merger also constituted a change in control under our Executive Severance Pay Plan as it existed at that time. This resulted in the accelerated vesting of all previously issued, and unvested, equity awards upon closing, as was disclosed in the proxy solicitation materials for the LS Power Merger. As all equity awards granted prior to 2005 had otherwise vested by the time of the expected closing, this accelerated vesting impacted the unvested portions of long-term incentives granted in 2005 and 2006.

The following provides additional information as to the impact of the accelerated vesting for each Named Executive Officer.

Stock Options. Stock option awards for our Named Executive Officers have been granted under a three-year ratable vesting schedule with 1/3 of the awards vesting each year. The closing of the LS Power Merger resulted in the accelerated vesting of the remaining 1/3 unvested portion for the 2005 awards and the remaining 2/3 unvested portion of the 2006 awards. The vested awards generally will be exercisable for the remaining option term (10 years from the date of the initial award).

Restricted Stock Awards. Restricted stock awards, or RSAs, have been granted under a three-year cliff vesting schedule for our Named Executive Officers. As a result of the closing of the LS Power Merger, the restrictions lapsed on all outstanding RSAs granted in 2005 and 2006. Each restricted share is equal to the value of a share of Class A common stock.

Performance Unit Awards. The use of Performance Unit awards was adopted by the Compensation and Human Resources Committee in 2006, the level of which was determined based on 2005 performance and represented 20% of the total long-term incentive award value for the Named Executive Officers. These units, valued at $100 per unit, were based upon the attainment of certain OCF targets at threshold, target or maximum levels over a three-year performance period. Under the Performance Unit award agreements, the closing of the LS Power Merger triggered the vesting of these units and a cash payment to each Named Executive Officer as if the OCF performance goals were achieved at the target level, or 100%.

The invested long-term incentives for each Named Executive Officer subject to this accelerated vesting are as follows:

Named Officer	Unvested Stock Options	Restricted Stock	Performance Units
Bruce A. Williamson	1,877,248	360,261	8,000
Stephen A. Furbacher	843,597	68,251	2,000
Holli C. Nichols	223,124	28,672	1,000
J. Kevin Blodgett	181,090	30,854	1,000
Lynn A. Lednicky	355,486	30,854	1,000

Named Executive Officer Compensation

For the 2006 performance measurement year for short-term incentive awards, the following overarching goals and objectives were recommended by management and approved by the Board at the beginning of the year. These goals and objectives, as supplemented by approximately 100 more detailed supporting goals and objectives put forth by our Named Executive Officers, provided a framework for the Compensation and Human Resources Committee to assess Dynegy's 2006 performance and to determine the Named Executive Officers' compensation. Relative weights were not expressly assigned to any or all of these goals and objectives. Additionally the financial performance goals were established based on various assumptions, including assumptions with respect to commodity prices, with the understanding that Dynegy's actual financial performance would be assessed taking into account the impact of events or activities that were not anticipated or were different than the assumptions made when the goals were set.

Financial Performance	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> EBITDA target of $665 million OCF target of $289 million FCF target of $100 million

Operational Excellence	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Operate our assets safely, reliably, efficiently, and in a manner friendly to the environment Successfully complete the transition to run and grow a regionally-focused generation business Continue to develop tools and processes for control and planning purposes, with an emphasis on simplicity and cost effectiveness

2006 Performance Assessment. The Compensation and Human Resources Committee assessed Dynegy's performance for 2006 based on its attainment of the foregoing goals and objectives and the other performance-related factors that it deemed relevant. In assessing Dynegy's financial performance for 2006, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee considered Dynegy's EBITDA, OCF and FCF as reported in its year-end financial results and 2006 Form 10-K. It also considered the effect of several unusual events and impairments that could not have been anticipated and were not contemplated when Dynegy's EBITDA, OCF and FCF targets were established, including payments made to settle certain legacy contract and litigation matters, which payments were believed to be in the best interests of Dynegy's stockholders. Finally, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee considered the impact of commodity prices, which were significantly lower than those reflected in Dynegy's 2006 business plan on which its financial targets were based, and Dynegy's commercial strategy of maintaining commodity price exposure for a sizeable portion of its generation capacity. For example, the actual average on-peak price for power in the Midwest region, the region that accounts for most of our power sales, was 66% of that reflected in Dynegy's 2006 business plan.

In addition to Dynegy's 2006 financial performance, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee also considered management's attainment of the other goals and objectives described above for purposes of assessing Dynegy's corporate performance and the performance of the Named Executive Officers individually. Among other things, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee considered the following:

the execution of the Merger Agreement with the LS Entities;

the successful disposition of Dynegy's West Coast Power, Rockingham and Panama facilities and the termination of its Sterlington Power tolling arrangement;

the operating performance of Dynegy's power generation fleet;

the successful execution of multiple liability management activities culminating Dynegy's multi-year self-restructuring program; and Dynegy's transition to a power generation company focused on efficiently running and opportunistically growing its business. The Compensation and Human Resources Committee concluded that Dynegy and the Named Executive Officers met or exceeded their performance goals for 2006.

Base Salary Determinations. In determining the level of base salary for each Named Executive Officer, in addition to their contributions during the 2006 performance year and the overall nature and responsibility of each position, relative comparability to the median base salary paid to those in similar roles within the peer group was considered. Given his acceptable position relative to peer group CEOs, it was determined that Mr. Williamson would not receive an increase above his current base salary of $1,000,000. It was determined that Messrs. Furbacher and Lednicky, while positioned favorably compared to the market median, warranted increases that recognized their contributions and deep experience in their respective leadership positions. Mr. Blodgett and Ms. Nichols, who had not received base salary increases since their promotions to their current positions in November 2005, both received salary adjustments consistent with their significant contributions and the Compensation and Human Resources Committee's desire to attain increased alignment of their salaries with those in comparable positions as identified in the peer group benchmark data. The chart below illustrates the new base salary for each Named Executive Officer (effective February 26, 2007).

Named Executive Officer	2006 Base Salary	2007 Base Salary
Bruce A. Williamson	$ 1,000,000	$ 1,000,000
Stephen A. Furbacher	$ 500,000	$ 525,000
Holli C. Nichols	$ 290,000	$ 370,000
J. Kevin Blodgett	$ 290,000	$ 370,000
Lynn A. Lednicky	$ 290,000	$ 325,000

Short-Term Incentive Determinations. In determining short-term incentive awards for 2006, Dynegy's performance and the contributions of each Named Executive Officer during the 2006 performance year were considered. Having reviewed the contribution that Mr. Williamson made to Dynegy's performance in 2006, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee recommended, and the Board approved, an annual short-term incentive award at 100% of his stated target, payable in cash. Mr. Williamson produced significant results in 2006 and has demonstrated the integrity, vision, planning and leadership qualities that the executive compensation program was designed to foster and reward. Similarly, based on 2006 results and their respective contributions, Ms. Nichols and Messrs. Furbacher, Lednický and Blodgett received awards at a level commensurate to approximately 100% of their stated short-term incentive targets. While each of the Named Executive Officer's contributions to Dynegy's significant accomplishments in 2006 may have otherwise resulted in short-term incentive awards above the target award level, given the value associated with the vesting of previously granted equity awards upon closing of the LS Power Merger and the Compensation and Human Resources Committee's desire to provide an increased percentage of their total compensation for 2006 in the form of long-term incentive awards as further described below, short term incentive awards made at 100% of target were deemed to be appropriate. The chart below illustrates the short-term incentive award for each Named Executive Officer and the amount earned as a percent of his or her 2006 base salary.

Named Executive Officer	Short-Term Incentive Target	Award Amount	Award Earned as a Percent of 2006 Earnings
Bruce A. Williamson	100%	$ 1,000,000	100%
Stephen A. Furbacher	100%	$ 490,385	100%
Holli C. Nichols	100%	$ 290,000	100%
J. Kevin Blodgett	100%	$ 290,000	100%
Lynn A. Lednický	100%	$ 290,000	100%

Long-Term Incentive Determinations. In determining the long-term incentive awards for each Named Executive Officer, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee also considered:

the vesting of all previously issued equity awards upon closing of the LS Power Merger, which reduced the retentive value associated with those previously issued equity awards; and the value created as a result of the LS Power Merger closing, which it believes positions Dynegy to be a leader in the consolidating power generation industry.

As a means of maintaining continued alignment of the Named Executive Officers' long-term incentives with the interests of investors, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee, with input from Mercer, considered various alternatives for the long term incentive awards for the 2006 performance year. The Compensation and Human Resources Committee's objective was to reward the achievement of long-term specified strategic goals and superior stock price performance, while ensuring an appropriate level of equity holdings to aid in the retention of our Named Executive Officers. Taking these factors into account, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee determined that for the 2006 performance year, long-term incentive awards should be significantly increased above the prior year's target of the 60th percentile. As a result, long-term incentive awards were granted to each Named Executive Officer as shown in the table below.

Named Executive Officer	2007 Equity Award Value	Stock Options (40%)	Restricted Stock (20%)	Performance Units (40%)
	Bruce A. Williamson	$ 8,000,000	651,732	165,461
Stephen A. Furbacher	$ 2,100,000	171,080	43,434	8,400
Holli C. Nichols	$ 1,750,000	142,567	36,195	7,000
J. Kevin Blodgett	$ 1,500,000	122,200	31,024	6,000
Lynn A. Lednický	$ 1,400,000	114,053	28,956	5,600

The above-described stock options and restricted shares were granted to the Named Executive Officers on April 2, 2007 at a meeting of the Compensation and Human Resources Committee following the closing of the LS Power Merger. The stock options vest equally in three annual installments and have an exercise price equal to $9.67, the market price of Dynegy's Class A common stock on the grant date. The restricted stock awards vest in full on the three-year anniversary of the grant date.

The above-described performance units were granted to the Named Executive Officers on April 24, 2007 at a meeting of the Compensation and Human Resources Committee. The performance units are intended to further motivate the Named Executive Officers to create long-term value for Dynegy's stockholders as reflected in the trading price of its Class A common stock. The Compensation and Human Resources Committee chose to base the performance units on long-term stock price performance because it believes it provides a simple, transparent and meaningful measure of Dynegy's performance relative to its long-term goal of creating value for stockholders. The material terms of the performance units are summarized below:

Denominated in $100 units, which are payable in the form of cash or stock, at the Compensation and Human Resources Committee's discretion;

Payment (if any) to be made in April 2010 based on Dynegy's three-year stock price performance;

Ending share price will be the average closing price of Dynegy's Class A common stock during March 2010;

Awards are payable at threshold, target, stretch and maximum levels as illustrated in the table below;

The Compensation and Human Resources Committee determined the performance goal share price after reviewing and taking into account various factors, including: (i) Dynegy's share price history and the share price history of its power generation industry peers; (ii) the underlying value of Dynegy's power generation portfolio based on various valuation methodologies; and (iii) potential growth opportunities that may be available to Dynegy;

The threshold, target, stretch and maximum share price performance goals represent compound annual growth rates above the average March 2007 share price ($8.79) over the three-year performance period of approximately 10%, 13%, 16% and 20%, respectively, and, in the judgment of the Compensation and Human Resources Committee, represent appropriate performance goals for share price growth; and

In the event a change in control occurs during the performance period, provided the ending share price would entitle participants to receive a performance award, the payment will be determined by using either, as applicable (a) the agreed price per share received by the stockholders of Dynegy as a result of the change in control, or if there is no agreed price per share, then (b) the average closing share price for the 20 consecutive trading days immediately preceding the effective date of the change in control, as the ending share price for the performance period.

	Threshold	Target	Stretch	Maximum
Performance Goal Achieved Share Price	$ 11.75	$ 12.75	$ 13.75	$ 15.25
Award Level (% of each $100 performance unit)(1)	0%	100%	200%	300%

(1) Resulting payment levels between Achieved Share Prices will be interpolated.

Tax Implications

As part of its role, the Compensation and Human Resources Committee reviews and considers the deductibility of executive compensation under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Section 162(m) generally affects Dynegy's federal income tax deduction for compensation paid to Dynegy's CEO and four other highest paid executive officers in excess of $1 million each. To the extent compensation is performance-based within the meaning of Section 162(m), the Section's limitations will not apply. Dynegy's 2000 and 2002 Long-Term Incentive Plans, pursuant to which long-term incentive awards are granted to the Named Executive Officers, were approved by the Board and its stockholders and generally were structured to qualify as performance-based compensation plans under Section 162(m). A majority of the long-term incentive awards granted under these plans are designed to meet the requirements of Section 162(m). The Compensation and Human Resources Committee generally strives to make awards under Dynegy plans that are intended to qualify as performance-based compensation under Section 162(m); however, in certain situations, compensation paid to Dynegy's CEO and other executive officers that may not meet the standards of deductibility under Section 162(m) may be approved if deemed appropriate. We believe that all short-term incentive and long-term incentive awards to the Named Executive Officers for 2006 performance are deductible for tax purposes.

- (1) The amounts shown under Non-Equity Incentive Plan Compensation reflect cash bonuses awarded under the Dynegy Inc. Incentive Compensation Plan. The bonuses were earned in 2006 and paid in March 2007.
- (2) The amounts shown under Stock Awards and Options Awards reflect the dollar amount recognized for financial statement reporting purposes for restricted stock awards and performance unit awards, in the case of Stock Awards, and option awards, in the case of Option Awards, during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006, calculated in accordance with FAS No. 123R. Please see the discussion of the assumptions used in such valuation in Note 19 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in our 2006 Form 10-K. In general, FAS 123R requires the amounts for all equity-based awards to employees to be recognized in the income statement based on their fair values. The compensation costs associated with our equity-based awards are generally recognized in the income statement over the vesting period based on the grant date fair value of the award. Amounts for performance unit awards are accrued based on the expected payout of the awards and are re-evaluated at the end of each reporting period. Because these awards are expected to be settled in cash or stock, they will be expensed over the vesting period, with the corresponding liability recognized on the balance sheet. The table does not include information regarding equity-based awards related to 2006 performance that were granted to the Named Executive Officers in March 2007. For a discussion of these equity-based awards, please read Compensation Discussion and Analysis Named Executive Officer Compensation above.
- (3) The amount shown for Mr. Lednický includes a change in pension value of $18,895 under the Dynegy Inc. Retirement Plan and a change in Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Earnings of $24,874 under the Deferred Compensation Plan. The amounts shown for each other Named Executive Officer reflect only a change in pension value under the Dynegy Inc. Retirement Plan, as no such other Named Executive Officer participates in the Deferred Compensation Plan.
- (4) The amounts shown as All Other Compensation for 2006 include the following matching contributions under our 401(k) Plan, defined contributions under our portable retirement plan, and life insurance premiums paid by Dynegy for each of the Named Executive Officers as part of our standard employee health and welfare benefit plans:

Name	401(k) Plan Contributions	Portable Retirement Plan Contributions	Life Insurance Premiums		Total

No Named Executive Officer received perquisites or other personal benefits with an aggregate value of greater than $10,000. Please see Compensation Discussion and Analysis Elements of Executive Compensation Executive Perquisites above for a discussion of the limited perquisites received by our Named Executive Officers.

In connection with the closing of the LS Power Merger (see Transactions with Related Persons, Promoters and Certain Control Persons The LS Power Merger below) on April 2, 2007:

all of the Named Executive Officers option awards vested;

the restrictions lapsed on all of the restricted stock awards held by the Named Executive Officers; and each Named Executive Officer received a cash payment for performance unit awards based on the assumption that the performance goals contained in the performance unit award agreements had been achieved at the target level as required by the terms of such agreements.
