Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 2, 2011 (the Effective Date), Ampio Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Ampio or the Company) entered into an Asset Purchase Agreement (the Agreement) with Valeant International (Barbados) SRL (formerly Biovail Laboratories International SRL) (Valeant). The Agreement relates to the acquisition by Ampio from Valeant of certain assets and rights that Ampio intends to use in connection with Ampio's product Zertan^{EM} (a formulation of the chemical compound tramadol) for the treatment of premature ejaculation.

The Agreement provides for the sale and transfer by Valeant to Ampio of all of Valeant's rights, title and interest in and to certain specified data, information and know-how relating to an oral rapid dissolve tablet (ODT) formulation of tramadol that had been previously in development by Valeant (the Know-How) and a specified amount of samples of such development product (the Samples), as well as the assignment by Valeant to Ampio of a license agreement with Ethypharm, a society anonyme organized under the laws of France (Ethypharm) which, among other things, granted rights in Ethypharm's patented technology for use with an ODT formulation of tramadol for non-pain indications (the License Agreement).

The closing of the transaction is subject to certain closing conditions, including receipt of the consent of Ethypharm to the assignment of the License Agreement. Additionally, the Agreement may be terminated sixty (60) days after the Effective Date if certain essential components of the Know-How have not been transferred to Ampio.

The consideration payable by Ampio to Valeant in connection with the purchased assets consists of (i) consideration of US$2,000,000 that is payable by Ampio within five calendar days of the date on which Valeant completes the transfer to Ampio of the Samples and certain essential components of the Know-How, and (ii) additional consideration based on a percentage of the aggregate annual worldwide net sales of any ODT formulation of tramadol by Ampio for an indication other than pain, which additional consideration is payable by Ampio on a quarterly basis.

The Agreement also provides for customary representations, warranties and covenants of each of the parties, including customary indemnification obligations.

The Company expects to file the Agreement as an exhibit to its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ending December 31, 2011, and intends to seek confidential treatment for certain terms and provisions of the Agreement. The foregoing description is qualified in its entirety by reference to the text of the Agreement when filed.
