Lynell Walton, Old National Bancorp Investor Relations Director:

Also in the 3rd quarter actually combined with our 2nd quarter earnings call we announced our intent to acquire Founders Financial Corporation in Grand Rapids, Michigan. We were happy to announce in an 8-K last Friday that we have received the necessary regulatory approval on this transaction...

Chris Wolking, Old National Bancorp Senior EVP and CFO:

Adjusted YTD net income is up 7.6% compared to this period last year. With the anticipated closings of our acquisitions of Lafayette Savings Bank in Lafayette, Indiana later this year and Founders Bank in Grand Rapids, Michigan early next year, and our continued attention to reducing operating expenses and maintaining quality credit, we expect the trend in adjusted income to continue

We expect additional merger and acquisition costs in the fourth quarter in the range of $3.5 to $4 million as we progress through our United Bank integration and prepare for the closings and conversions of Lafayette Savings Bank and Founders Bank

Bob Jones, Old National Bancorp President and CEO:

As Lynell mentioned in her opening comments, we will close on Lafayette Savings Bank November 1 and feel very good about where we are in the process. Last Thursday we received approval from our regulators on our partnership with Founders in Grand Rapids. We are well positioned with project teams in place and feel we are off to a good start. Laurie Beard and Greg Conway are providing excellent leadership and their teams are in a good place. We have not experienced any loss of talent in the market

Questions & Answers

Q: John Moran, Macquarie Capital Securities

The last one out of me the Founders transaction. With the approval in hand, I think last call the timing on this one you guys had said sometime in the first half of 2015. With everything kind of lined up in terms of regulatory approval at this point can you narrow that at all? Is it fair to think that that's coming in first quarter?

A: Bob Jones:

Actually, I'm working with Laurie Beard and Greg Conway and their team. I think the good news is we were very, very pleased to get regulatory approval as quickly as we did. I want to work with Laurie and Greg and their board and their counsel to see the proper time to close. We'll work through that. So, I would anticipate first quarter would be ideal for us, but again, we've got to work with Laurie and her team

Q: Taylor Brodarick, Guggenheim Securities

On slide 19, looking at the contribution for United is there an opportunity on the insurance side, and I'm just curious generally on the fee-based business we have a real opportunity in Michigan for our insurance franchise. We're actively looking at opportunities to either look at producers or potential other partnerships in the market, but with great receptivity from our folks in the market. I'm actually leaving this afternoon to go to an all-hands meeting with the insurance group. Part of that mission is to say we've got great opportunities in Michigan. I think for the other fee-based business, as wealth, obviously Founders has a huge platform there, a large platform at UBT. So I think where our opportunity is, is in the Kalamazoo market and those areas, but we think there are good opportunities. Obviously, with Tower we have a great team there and we're actually seeing new opportunities and new sales. I'm very encouraged by those.

A: Bob Jones:

The other side, our investment business, we just hired a regional sales manager for the investment group with a long history of experience and actually a former Old Kent person and we like former Old Kent folks so we've got opportunities to add investment reps in both Kalamazoo, up in Founders. Founders did not have investment reps, and then obviously expanding and continuing in Ann Arbor. So, none of that as you all know is built into our models as we talk about these partnerships, but early on we're very excited about these opportunities.

Q: Taylor Brodarick:

One last one for me so 3.5 to 4 acquisition in 4Q, anything in 1Q or just an update on that ?

A: Chris Wolking:

Well, a lot of it depends on how much we can take care of in the 4th quarter and how quickly these closings come around, but there's going to be obviously some as we work through the conversions in the first half of next year.

A: Bob Jones:

I think as you look at the amount for the 4th quarter if we close Founders in that I think modeling somewhere in that same range of 3 to 5 is not abnormal. If we close after the end of the year then we're going to have to take those charges in the first quarter

Q: Peyton Green, Sterne Agee:

Sorry if I missed this, but I was just wondering if you could maybe mention, if you do get the Founders acquisition closed in early 1Q, when could you convert it?

A: Bob Jones:

Probably in the second quarter or so of 2015. Again, I've got to work with Laurie and her team so they're prepared. We've got our project teams in place, but you know, once we have that information, we'll get it out to you. We were very pleasantly surprised to hear that we got regulatory approval as quickly as we did so a nice problem to have is that your scrambling to catch up a little bit
