There will be five items of business:

Financial statements

Our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2015 and the report of the auditors thereon will be placed before the meeting. Auditors

You will vote on reappointing our auditors. See page 20. Representatives of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP (PwC) will be at the meeting to answer any questions regarding their audit report. You can read about the services they provided in 2015 and the fees we paid them on page 21.

Having a say on pay (advisory vote)

You may also vote on our approach to executive compensation. This is a non-binding advisory vote. See page 21.

Shareholder proposal

You will vote on a shareholder proposal received from Qube Investment Management Inc. which is explained in further detail beginning on page 22 and in Appendix A to this circular.

Other business

As of the date of this circular, the Board and management are not aware of any other items of business to be brought before the meeting.

We need a quorum

We need a quorum to hold the meeting and transact business. This means the people attending the meeting must hold or represent by proxy at least 25% of the total number of issued and outstanding Enbridge shares.

Sending of materials

We are not using what is referred to as notice-and-access to send this circular and related materials to our shareholders for this meeting.

We are sending these materials directly to our registered shareholders and indirectly to all non-registered shareholders, including non-objecting beneficial owners, through their intermediaries. We will pay for an intermediary to deliver these materials and a voting instruction form to objecting beneficial owners.

Live audio webcast

We are broadcasting a live audio webcast of our 2016 meeting if you're unable to attend in person. Be sure to check our website closer to the meeting date for details. We will also post a recording of the meeting on our website after we hold it.

Who can attend the meeting and vote

Our authorized share capital consists of an unlimited number of common shares and an unlimited number of preference shares, issuable in series. Preference shares do not have voting rights.

If you held common shares at the close of business on March 17, 2016, you are entitled and encouraged to attend the meeting or any adjournment, and vote your common shares. Each common share you hold represents one vote.

You must be registered to be admitted to the meeting.

Registration will take place outside of the Palomino Room at the BMO Centre, Stampede Park, Calgary, Alberta, Canada, beginning at 12:30 p.m. MDT, one hour before the meeting begins. Registered shareholders who hold their shares in their own name in the form of a share certificate will be required to register with our registrar and transfer agent, CST Trust Company. Beneficial shareholders who hold their shares through a broker, bank, trustee or nominee will be required to register with Broadridge Investor Communications Solutions. All shareholders should be prepared to present valid photo identification, such as a driver's licence, passport or other government-issued identification. Cameras and recording devices will not be permitted in the meeting. For the safety and security of all those in attendance, all bags are subject to search and you may be required to check your bag prior to being admitted into the meeting.

Principal owners of common shares

As of March 8, 2016, there are 928,601,582 common shares issued and outstanding.

There are also 18 series of preference shares issued and outstanding. Preference shares do not have voting rights and none will be voting at the meeting.

The Board and management are not aware of any shareholder who directly or indirectly owns or exercises or directs control over more than 10% of our common shares.

How to vote

You can attend the meeting and vote your common shares in person or you can vote by proxy.

Hold common shares as both a registered and non-registered shareholder?

If some of your common shares are registered in your name and some are held by your nominee, you will need to follow two sets of voting instructions. Please follow the instructions carefully. The voting process is different for registered and non-registered shareholders.

Registered shareholders

You are a registered shareholder if you hold your common shares in your name (in such case, you have a physical share certificate). Registered shareholders have two ways to vote:

- by proxy; or
- by attending the meeting and voting in person.

Voting by proxy

Voting by proxy is the easiest way to vote. It means you are giving someone else the authority to attend the meeting and vote on your behalf (called your proxyholder).

Al Monaco (President & Chief Executive Officer) and David A. Arledge (Chair of the Board or Chair) have agreed to act as the Enbridge proxyholders. Proxyholders must vote your common shares according to your instructions, including on any ballot that may be called. If there are changes to the items of business or new items properly come before the meeting, a proxyholder can vote as he or she sees fit.

If you appoint the Enbridge proxyholders but do not indicate on the enclosed proxy form how you want to vote your common shares, they will vote as the Board of Directors recommends:

FOR* electing the nominated directors;

FOR* reappointing the auditors;

FOR* the advisory vote on our approach to executive compensation; and AGAINST* the shareholder proposal from Qube Investment Management Inc.

You can appoint someone else to be your proxyholder. This person does not need to be a shareholder. To do so, do not check the names of the Enbridge proxyholders on your proxy form. Instead, check the second box and print the name of the person you want to act on your behalf. Make sure the person you re appointing knows that you have appointed them as your proxyholder and that he or she needs to attend the meeting. Your proxyholder will need to register with our transfer agent when they arrive at the meeting. The registrar and transfer agent for our common shares is CST Trust Company.

Table of Contents

Registered shareholders who choose to vote by proxy can vote online, by phone, mail or fax. Choose the method you prefer and then carefully follow the voting instructions on the enclosed proxy form.

- Internet:* You can also appoint a proxyholder on the internet at www.cstvotemyproxy.com.
- Telephone:* You can also appoint a proxyholder by telephone by calling 1.888.489.7352.
- Mail or fax:* You can appoint a proxyholder by mail or fax by completing the enclosed proxy form, signing and dating it, and then sending it to:
- CST Trust Company
Attn: Proxy department
P.O. Box 721
Agincourt, Ontario, Canada M1S 0A1
Fax: 1.866.781.3111 (toll-free in North America; outside of North America:
1.416.368.2502)

CST Trust Company must receive your instructions by 6 p.m. MDT on May 10, 2016 regardless of the voting method you choose. If the meeting is postponed or adjourned, your instructions must be received by 6 p.m. MDT two business days before the meeting is reconvened.

Voting in person

Voting in person gives you the opportunity to meet face to face with management and interact with our Board.

If you are a registered shareholder and want to attend the meeting and vote in person, do not complete or return the enclosed proxy form. When you arrive at the meeting, please let our representatives know you are a registered shareholder and they will direct you to the CST Trust Company table to register.

Changing your vote

If you are a registered shareholder and you voted by proxy, you can change or revoke your voting instructions as set out below.

Changing your vote

You can change a vote you made by proxy by:

voting again on the internet or by telephone, or completing a new proxy form that is dated later than the proxy form previously submitted and mailing it or faxing it to CST Trust Company. Your new instructions will revoke your earlier instructions. CST Trust Company must receive your new instructions by 6 p.m. MDT on May 10, 2016 regardless of the voting method you choose. If the meeting is postponed or adjourned, CST Trust Company must receive your new instructions by 6 p.m. MDT two business days before the meeting is reconvened.

Revoking your vote

You can revoke a vote you made by proxy by:

sending us notice in writing (from you or a person authorized to sign on your behalf). We must receive it by 6 p.m. MDT on May 10, 2016, or by 6 p.m. MDT on the business day before the meeting is reconvened if it was postponed or adjourned. Send your notice to the Corporate Secretary, Enbridge Inc., 200, 425 - 1st Street S.W., Calgary, Alberta T2P 3L8 Fax: 1.403.231.5929;

giving your notice to the chair of the meeting before the start of the meeting. If you give the chair of the meeting your notice after the meeting has started, your revocation will apply only to the items of business that haven't already been voted on; or in any other manner permitted by law.

If your common shares are owned by a corporation, your notice must be under a corporate seal or issued by an authorized officer of the corporation or its attorney.

Registered shareholder voting question?

If you are a registered shareholder, contact our transfer agent, CST Trust Company, at 1.800.387.0825 or www.canstockta.com, for any voting questions.

Non-registered shareholders

You are a non-registered (or beneficial) shareholder if your bank, trust company, securities broker, trustee or other financial institution (your nominee) holds your common shares for you in a nominee account. This means you do not have a physical share certificate but your common shares are recorded on the nominee's electronic system.

Beneficial shareholders have two ways to vote:

by voting instructions; or

by attending the meeting and voting in person.

Table of Contents

Voting by voting instructions

Only proxies deposited by registered shareholders can be recognized and acted upon at the meeting.

If you are a beneficial shareholder, your nominee is considered to be the registered shareholder and you will need to follow the voting instructions provided by your nominee to ensure your Enbridge shares are voted in the manner you wish.

Each nominee has its own instructions, but you can generally vote online, by phone, mail or fax. Carefully follow the instructions on the voting information form in the package sent to you by your nominee. Your nominee needs enough time to receive your instructions and then send them to our transfer agent, and so it is important to complete the form promptly.

Voting in person

Voting in person gives you the opportunity to meet face to face with management and interact with our Board.

If you are a beneficial shareholder and you want to attend the meeting and vote in person, your nominee needs to appoint you as proxyholder. We do not have a record of the number of common shares you own or how many votes they represent because your common shares are held in a nominee account and are not registered in your name. Print your name on the voting instruction form you received from your nominee and carefully follow the instructions provided. Do not indicate your voting instructions. When you arrive at the meeting, please let our representatives know you are a beneficial shareholder and they will direct you to the Broadridge Investor Communications Solutions table to register.

Changing your vote

If you vote by proxy, you can change or revoke your voting instructions, but the process and timing is different depending on whether you are a registered or beneficial shareholder.

If you are a beneficial shareholder, contact your nominee to find out how to change or revoke your vote and the timing requirements, or for other voting questions.

Beneficial shareholder voting question?

If you are a beneficial shareholder, contact your nominee for any voting questions.

Voting results

We need a simple majority (at least 50% plus one vote) of all votes cast to elect the nominated directors, appoint the auditors and approve our approach to executive compensation. The shareholder proposal also requires a simple majority of votes cast. Management and the Board recommend that shareholders vote against the shareholder proposal.

Electing our directors

You will elect 11 directors to the Board at the meeting. All 11 directors who were elected at last year's annual and special meeting of shareholders are standing for re-election to the Board.

All of the directors are independent, except for Al Monaco, our President & Chief Executive Officer. There is no family relationship between any of the nominated directors. Shareholders elect directors to the Board for a term of one year, until the end of the next annual meeting.

You can vote for all 11 of the nominated directors, vote for some and withhold your vote for others, or withhold your votes for all of them. Unless you instruct otherwise, the Enbridge proxyholders will vote for electing each of the nominated directors.

The Board unanimously recommends that shareholders vote FOR the election of each of the nominees set forth below, to hold office until the close of the next annual meeting of shareholders or until their respective successors have been elected.

Majority voting

Under Enbridge's General Guidelines for the Board, any nominee for director in an uncontested election who receives more withheld votes than for votes (i.e., the nominee is not elected by at least a majority of 50% + 1 vote), will immediately resign and will not participate in any meeting of the Board or any committee thereof at which the resignation is considered. The Board, on the recommendation of the Governance Committee, will determine whether or not to accept the resignation within 90 days after the date of the meeting, and will accept the resignation absent exceptional circumstances. Enbridge will promptly issue a news release with the Board's decision, and if the Board determines not to accept a resignation, the news release will state the reasons for that decision. The director's resignation will be effective when accepted by the Board. If the Board accepts the director's resignation, it can appoint a new director to fill the vacancy.

Table of Contents

Board size

Our articles allow us to have up to 15 directors. The Board believes that 11 directors provide the skills and experience we need to make decisions effectively and meet the needs of the standing Board committees. The Board has the ability to appoint additional directors between shareholder meetings and may do so for a number of reasons, including for Board succession planning purposes. In such cases, shareholders will have the right to vote for or withhold their votes from such interim directors at the next annual meeting of shareholders.

Interlocking relationships

Consistent with the Director profiles, for purposes of the tables below:

public means a corporation or trust that is a reporting issuer in Canada, a registrant in the US, or both, and that has publicly listed equity securities; and private means a corporation or trust (i) that is not a reporting issuer or registrant or (ii) that is a reporting issuer or registrant with publicly issued debt securities but it does not have any publicly listed equity securities.

The Board has determined that these board interlocks do not impair the ability of these directors to exercise independent judgment as members of our Board.

Appointing our auditors

You will vote on appointing Enbridge's auditors. You may vote for the reappointment of our auditors or withhold your vote. The Board, on the recommendation of the Audit, Finance & Risk Committee, proposes that PwC be reappointed as auditors and that you vote for the reappointment of our auditors.

If PwC is reappointed, they will serve as our auditors until the end of the next annual meeting of shareholders. PwC (formerly Price Waterhouse) has been our auditors since 1992 and auditors for Enbridge Pipelines Inc., our subsidiary, since 1949.

PwC is a participating audit firm with the Canadian Public Accountability Board, as required under the Canadian Securities Administrators' National Instrument 52-108 Auditor Oversight.

Auditor independence

Auditor independence is essential to the integrity of our financial statements and PwC has confirmed its status as independent within the meaning of the Canadian and US securities rules.

We are subject to Canadian securities regulations (NI 52-110 and National Policy 58-201 Corporate Governance Guidelines (NP 58-201)), the US Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (Sarbanes-Oxley) and the accounting and corporate governance rules adopted by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission under Sarbanes-Oxley, which specify certain services that external auditors cannot provide.

We comply with these Canadian and US rules. We believe, however, that some non-audit services, like tax compliance, can be delivered more efficiently and economically by our external auditors. To maintain auditor independence, our Audit, Finance & Risk Committee must pre-approve all audit and non-audit services. It is also responsible for overseeing the audit work performed by PwC.

Table of Contents

The Audit, Finance & Risk Committee reviews our external auditors' qualifications and independence once per year. Their review includes formal written statements that describe any relationships between the auditors, their affiliates and Enbridge that could affect the auditors' independence and objectivity.

External auditor services fees

The following table sets forth all services rendered by the company's auditors, PwC, by category, together with the corresponding fees billed by the auditors for each category of service for the financial years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014.

You can find information about the roles and responsibilities of the Audit, Finance & Risk Committee beginning on page 31 of this circular and details about the committee's pre-approval policies and procedures beginning on page 36 of our annual information form for the year ended December 31, 2015 (available online at www.enbridge.com and www.sedar.com).

The Board unanimously recommends that shareholders vote FOR the reappointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as auditors of the corporation, to hold office until the close of the next annual meeting of shareholders at such remuneration as shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

Having a say on pay

We have held advisory votes on executive compensation (say on pay) at the past five annual meetings. Voting results in the most recent three years are set out in the table below.

Say on pay vote	2013	2014	2015
Votes in favour	93.56%	96.02%	95.87%

The Board has decided to again hold an advisory vote on executive compensation at this year's meeting. While this vote is non-binding, it gives shareholders an opportunity to provide important input to our Board.

As a shareholder, you will be asked to vote for or against, or you may abstain from voting on, our approach to executive compensation through the following resolution.

The Board unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the advisory vote on our approach to executive compensation:

Resolve, on an advisory basis and not to diminish the role and responsibilities of the Board of Directors, that the shareholders accept the approach to executive compensation disclosed in Enbridge's management information circular dated March 8, 2016, delivered in advance of the 2016 annual meeting of shareholders on May 12, 2016.

The Board will take the results of this vote into account when it considers future compensation policies and issues. We will also examine the level of shareholder interest and the comments we receive and consider the best approach and timing for soliciting feedback from shareholders on our approach to executive compensation in the future.

Shareholder proposals

Proposals received for the 2016 meeting

We received two shareholder proposals for consideration at the meeting. One shareholder proposal was submitted by Pension Plan of the United Church of Canada (PPUCC, and the PPUCC Proposal), represented by Shareholder Association for Research and Education (SHARE). The PPUCC Proposal has been withdrawn. Further details are included in the table below.

Summary of PPUCC Proposal

PPUCC requested that the Board prepare a report, updated annually, disclosing, among other things, our policy and procedures governing lobbying, payments made for lobbying, and membership in tax-exempt organizations that write model legislation or advocate for policy change.

Summary of Our Response

Enbridge management engaged with SHARE to discuss the PPUCC Proposal. We are pleased to be including a new section in Enbridge's 2015 Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Report pertaining to governmental relations and lobbying. This new section will include information regarding Enbridge's political engagement philosophy, board oversight of government relations and lobbying, policy regarding political contributions, corporate political contributions in 2015, lobbying activities and industry or trade association memberships (including a list of those associations to which Enbridge has contributed $50,000 or more in membership dues in 2015). Enbridge's contributions to industry and trade associations and other organizations relating to policy development will also be reviewed annually, and, if applicable, significant contributions by Enbridge specifically for advocacy or lobbying activities will be included in the new section. In addition, beginning with the 2016 CSR Report, this new section will disclose Enbridge's membership in and/or contributions to tax-exempt organizations in Canada or the US that advocate for policy changes.

Status: Proposal Withdrawn

The second shareholder proposal was submitted by Qube Investment Management Inc. (Qube) on behalf of its clients (the Qube Proposal). The Qube Proposal and management's response are detailed in Appendix A to this circular. As a shareholder, you may vote for, against, or abstain from voting on the Qube Proposal. The Board recommends that shareholders vote AGAINST the resolution.

The Board wishes to acknowledge and thank each of these shareholders and organizations for their constructive dialogue on the subject matter of the shareholder proposals.

Proposals for the 2017 meeting

Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, which governs Enbridge, we must receive shareholder proposals by December 8, 2016 to consider them for inclusion in the management information circular and proxy for the 2017 annual meeting of shareholders, which is expected to be held on May 11, 2017 in Calgary, Alberta.

2. Governance

Our governance practices

Sound governance means sound business. At Enbridge, we believe good governance is important for our shareholders, our employees and our company.

We have a comprehensive system of stewardship and accountability that follows best practices and meets the requirements of all rules, regulations, standards and internal and external policies that apply.

This section discusses our governance philosophy, policies and practices. It also describes the role and functioning of our Board and the five Board committees.

You can find more information about governance in our annual information form for the year ended December 31, 2015. Our articles and by-laws also set out certain matters that govern our business activities. These are all available on our website (www.enbridge.com) and on SEDAR (www.sedar.com).

Regulations, rules and standards

Enbridge is listed on the TSX and the NYSE and we are subject to a range of governance rules, regulations, standards and policies including:

Canada

National Instrument 58-101 Disclosure of Corporate Governance Practices; NP 58-201;
NI 52-110; and Canada Business Corporations Act.

US

As a foreign private issuer under US securities laws, we are generally permitted to comply with Canadian corporate governance requirements, rather than those that apply to US listed corporations.

The NYSE rules, however, require us to disclose how we comply with US corporate governance standards and where our practices are different. You can find this document on our website (<http://www.enbridge.com/investment-center/corporate-governance/compliance>). We must also comply with the audit committee requirements under Rule 10A-3 of the US Securities Exchange Act of 1934. See Audit, Finance & Risk Committee in our annual information form for the year ended December 31, 2015 for a summary of these requirements.

As of the date of this circular, the Board believes we are in full compliance with all Canadian and US corporate governance rules, regulations, standards and policies that apply to us.

A culture of ethical conduct

A strong culture of ethical conduct is central to Enbridge.

Our Statement on Business Conduct (available on our website at www.enbridge.com) is our formal statement of expectations for all individuals engaged by Enbridge. It applies to everyone at Enbridge and our subsidiaries, including our directors, officers and employees, as well as consultants and contractors retained by Enbridge.

It discusses what we expect in areas like:

- complying with the law and applicable rules and policies;
- interacting with landowners, customers, shareholders, employees and others;
- protecting health, safety and the environment;
- acquiring, using and maintaining assets;
- using computers and communication devices;
- conflicts of interest; and
- proprietary, confidential and insider information.

Table of Contents

The Board reviews the Statement on Business Conduct policy at least once per year and updates it as necessary. The Board approved a revised Statement on Business Conduct in 2015, for implementation later in 2016.

All new employees at Enbridge and at each of our subsidiaries must, as a condition of employment, sign a certificate of compliance indicating that they have read the Statement on Business Conduct, understand it and agree to comply with it. Every year, all employees have to confirm that they have complied with it.

Directors must also certify that they agree with the Statement on Business Conduct and will comply with it, both when they join our Board and every year they serve as a director.

All employees were asked, through an electronic training and certification process, to certify their compliance with the Statement on Business Conduct for the year ended December 31, 2015. As of the date of this circular, 99.9% of Enbridge employees had certified compliance. The President & Chief Executive Officer and all members of the Board have certified their compliance with the Statement on Business Conduct for the year ended December 31, 2015.

Handling conflicts of interest

If a director or officer has a material interest in a transaction or agreement involving Enbridge, or otherwise identifies a potential personal conflict, he or she must:

declare the conflict or potential conflict;

not participate in any discussions on the matter; and abstain from voting on the matter at any Board meeting where it is being discussed or considered.

Building awareness

We use online training to help raise awareness and reinforce our commitment to ethical conduct.

To date, we have developed online training programs on fraud awareness, foreign corruption laws and the Statement on Business Conduct.

Through the annual online Statement on Business Conduct training program, Enbridge communicates its expectation that all Enbridge employees have a duty to report compliance issues (including suspected breaches of the Statement on Business Conduct) on a timely basis.

Interest of informed persons in material transactions

No informed person of Enbridge or nominated director (or any associate or affiliate) has or had a direct or indirect material interest in any Enbridge transaction in 2015 or in any proposed transaction that had or will have a material effect on Enbridge or any of our subsidiaries in the foreseeable future.

This approach is consistent with the requirements of the Canada Business Corporations Act.

Insider trading

Our insider trading and reporting guidelines, which were most recently revised in February 2016, place restrictions on those in a special relationship with Enbridge (including insiders) when they purchase or sell Enbridge shares or other securities. The guidelines, which fulfill our obligations to stock exchanges, regulators and investors, include the following measures:

- imposing quarterly and annual trading blackout periods on all directors and officers of Enbridge and its subsidiaries and certain employees, contractors and other persons in a special relationship with Enbridge when financial results are being prepared and have not yet been publicly disclosed (these periods currently begin on the fifth day following the end of each fiscal quarter or year end and end at the close of trading on the first trading day after we issue a news release disclosing our financial results for that fiscal quarter or year end);
- encouraging all insiders to pre-clear proposed purchases or sales of Enbridge securities with the Corporate Secretary's office; and
- prohibiting all directors, officers, employees and contractors of Enbridge and its subsidiaries from engaging in hedging transactions.

Whistleblower procedures

Our whistleblower procedures help uphold our strong values and preserve our culture of ethical business conduct.

We introduced whistleblower procedures a number of years ago to protect the integrity of our accounting, auditing and financial processes. We expanded and updated the procedures in 2008 and 2012.

Employees can report concerns about financial or accounting irregularities or unethical conduct confidentially to the chair of the Audit, Finance & Risk Committee. All submissions may be made anonymously and any complaints submitted in a sealed envelope marked "private and strictly confidential" will be delivered to the committee chair unopened. Complaints about financial or accounting irregularities, unethical conduct or any other compliance issues (including alleged violations of the Statement on Business Conduct) can also be made anonymously using the Enbridge Ethics and Conduct Hotline (the Hotline), which allows for the submission of confidential and anonymous reports through a toll-free telephone number and a web-based reporting system. The Hotline is administered by an independent third-party service provider. Copies of all reports received through the Hotline are provided to the chair of the Audit, Finance & Risk Committee.

Table of Contents

At least once each quarter (sooner if there is an urgent matter), the Chief Compliance Officer reports to the Audit, Finance & Risk Committee about all significant complaints received and to the Safety & Reliability Committee about all significant complaints received on matters within the Safety & Reliability Committee's mandate. Quarterly reports to the Audit, Finance & Risk Committee also include information about any other significant compliance issues that have been brought to the attention of Enbridge's Compliance Department through quarterly compliance surveys conducted in each Enbridge business unit. The Audit, Finance & Risk Committee then determines how to handle any issues or complaints brought to its attention. The committee can hire independent advisors (outside legal counsel, independent auditors and others) to help investigate a matter. We pay for these costs.

The role of the Board

The Board is ultimately responsible for governance at Enbridge and for stewardship of the company. It has full power to oversee the management of our business and affairs.

It carries out many of its responsibilities through its five standing Board committees:

Audit, Finance & Risk;
Corporate Social Responsibility;
Governance;
Human Resources & Compensation; and Safety & Reliability.

The Board:

reviews and approves the strategic plan, provides guidance and monitors our progress;
monitors our risk management programs and helps us identify principal risks;
makes sure we have appropriate internal control and management systems in place to manage money, compliance and risk and that these systems are functioning appropriately;
reviews and approves major projects, plans and initiatives that could materially affect the company; and reviews and approves compensation for the President & Chief Executive Officer and executive management team.
The Board delegates day-to-day management of Enbridge to the President & Chief Executive Officer and senior management, although major capital expenditures, debt and equity financing arrangements and significant acquisitions and divestitures require Board approval.

Duties

The Board is responsible for the oversight of key areas like governance, financial and strategic planning, risk oversight and management, succession planning, corporate disclosure, shareholder relations and corporate communications. These duties are described in our terms of reference for the Board and the Board committees. These terms of reference are drafted by management under the guidance of the Governance Committee and approved by the Board, which reviews them once per year and updates them as needed. Copies of the terms of reference for the Board and each of the Board committees are available on our website (www.enbridge.com), and the terms of reference for the Board of Directors is also attached at Appendix B.

The Board develops position descriptions for the Chair of the Board and each committee chair. These descriptions are part of their terms of reference and are reviewed annually. The Governance Committee defines the division of duties between the Board and the President & Chief Executive Officer. The terms of reference for the President & Chief Executive Officer are available on our website (www.enbridge.com).

Strategic planning

The Board is responsible for reviewing our strategic planning process and for reviewing and approving our strategic plan. The Board devotes two meetings per year to the strategic plan, including one meeting that is held over two days. In addition, the Board discusses strategy with management at every regular Board meeting throughout the year, oversees the implementation of the plan, monitors our progress, considers any adjustments to the plan and reviews and approves any transactions it believes will have a significant impact on the plan or our strategic direction.

Safety and operational reliability remains the company's number one priority and sets the foundation for the strategic plan. You will find more information about our strategic priorities in our annual report which is available on our website (www.enbridge.com).

Risk oversight and management

Risk oversight and management is an important role for the Board and Board committees. Each year, management prepares a corporate risk assessment report for the Board and regularly updates the Board and committees on our top risks. The Board is responsible for overseeing the following with respect to the company's risks:

Table of Contents

identifying principal risks when necessary, and at least annually;
establishing a risk tolerance level for those risks that are identified;
ensuring the implementation by management of appropriate and effective systems to manage risks;
considering reports on operational risk management;
reviewing management's implementation of risk policies and procedures and assessing the appropriateness and comprehensiveness of those policies and procedures;
reviewing the quality and adequacy of the risk-related information provided to the Board by management;
overseeing the Board's risk management governance model and reflecting the principal risks of the company's business in the terms of reference for the Board and its committees; and seeking assurance that our internal control systems and management information systems are in place and operating effectively.

Our MD&A for the year ended December 31, 2015 contains more information about the risks applicable to Enbridge, and is available on our website (www.enbridge.com) and on SEDAR (www.sedar.com).

Board committees' role in risk management

To better identify, manage and mitigate risk, the corporate risk assessment report is reviewed annually by the four Board committees with enterprise-wide risk management responsibility: the Safety & Reliability Committee, the Audit, Finance & Risk Committee, the Corporate Social Responsibility Committee and the Human Resources & Compensation Committee (HRC Committee). As a result of such review, each committee makes recommendations to the Board in respect of company practices. In addition, the Board committees can authorize the implementation of systems that address risks within the scope of their responsibility and monitor them to ensure they remain effective.

The Safety & Reliability Committee is responsible for oversight of operational matters and reviews and makes recommendations to the Board regarding safety and reliability matters, including environment, health, safety, pipeline and facility integrity management, security, emergency response preparedness, other operational risks and safety culture. The Safety & Reliability Committee oversees the enterprise-wide safety culture, reviews risk management guidelines applicable to safety and reliability matters and other operational risks, and receives results of operational compliance audits including operational risk management. The committee reviews policies directed to prevent injury and to minimize adverse environment impacts and health or safety impacts, and receives reports on insurable risks related to safety and reliability matters.

The Audit, Finance & Risk Committee reviews annually the strategies, policies and practices applicable to the assessment, management, prevention and mitigation of risks relating to foreign currency and interest rates, counterparty credit exposure, cash management, credit and financing and the use of derivative instruments and insurance. The committee also reviews major financial risk exposures and steps management has taken to monitor and manage these exposures, as well as insurance.

The Corporate Social Responsibility Committee is responsible for overseeing risks relating to corporate social responsibility matters.

The HRC Committee is responsible for overseeing the identification of people- and compensation-related risk.

For further information on each Board committee's role in risk management, please refer to Board committees, beginning on page 31.

Internal controls

The Board seeks assurance at least annually that our internal control systems and management information systems are operating effectively.

The Board has delegated responsibility for reviewing our quarterly and annual financial statements to the Audit, Finance & Risk Committee, which recommends them to the Board for approval. The committee is also responsible for overseeing our internal audit function and senior management reporting on internal controls.

Corporate communications

The Board reviews and approves all major corporate communications policies, including our corporate disclosure guidelines. It also reviews and approves all corporate disclosure documents, including our:

- annual and quarterly reports to shareholders;
- MD&A;
- annual information form; and
- management information circular.

The Board works to ensure we communicate effectively with shareholders, the public and other stakeholders to avoid selective disclosure.

Table of Contents

Succession planning

The Board is responsible for:

- appointing the President & Chief Executive Officer and ratifying the appointment of other members of executive management;

- monitoring senior management's performance; and

- annually reviewing the succession strategy for all senior management positions.

It delegates responsibility for reviewing our policies and procedures relating to employment, succession planning and compensation (including executive compensation) to the HRC Committee.

The HRC Committee is also responsible for:

- making sure we have appropriate programs for dealing with succession planning and employee retention;

- monitoring the performance of senior management;

- overseeing human capital risk to make sure our management programs (including those for our officers) effectively address succession planning and employee retention;

- overseeing the design of our compensation programs; and

- reporting to the Board on organizational structure and succession planning matters.

Our expectations of our directors

Our directors are expected to act in the best interests of Enbridge. They have a duty of care to exercise in both decision-making and oversight.

Independence

First and foremost, we believe in the importance of an independent board. The Governance Committee is responsible for making sure the Board functions independently of management.

The majority of our directors must be independent, as defined by Canadian securities regulators in NI 52-110, NYSE rules and the rules and regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

We define a director as independent if he or she does not have a direct or indirect material relationship with Enbridge. The Board believes that a relationship is material if it could reasonably interfere with a director's ability to make independent decisions, regardless of any other association he or she may have. The Board uses a detailed annual questionnaire to assist in determining if a director is independent.

Ten of our 11 nominated directors, including the Chair of the Board, are independent. Mr. Monaco is not independent because he is our President & Chief Executive Officer and a member of management.

The Governance Committee has developed guidelines to ensure each director is aware of the expectations placed on him or her as a director. Key expectations include meeting attendance, financial literacy and ethical conduct.

Independence of the board chair

We have an independent, non-executive Chair of the Board who is responsible for leading the Board. Our General Guidelines for the Board, available on our website (www.enbridge.com), provide that the Chair of the Board shall be an independent director.

Meeting in camera

Our General Guidelines for the Board, available on our website (www.enbridge.com), provide that after every meeting of the Board, an in camera meeting is held without officers or management present. The Chair of the Board provides the President & Chief Executive Officer with a summary of the matters discussed at these in camera meetings, including any issues that the Board expects management to pursue. In 2015, an in camera meeting was held following each Board meeting and each committee meeting.

Other directorships

Our directors may serve on the boards of other public companies and together on the boards and committees of other public entities, as long as their outside positions and common memberships do not affect their ability to exercise independent judgment while serving on our Board. See Interlocking relationships beginning on page 19 for information about some of our directors who serve together on other boards.

Directors who serve on our Audit, Finance & Risk Committee cannot sit on the audit committees of more than two other public entities unless the Board determines that such simultaneous service would not impair the ability of such director to effectively serve on our Audit, Finance & Risk Committee.

Table of Contents

Mr. England currently serves on the audit committees of FuelCell Energy, Inc. and the following companies in the Enbridge group of companies: Enbridge, Enbridge Commercial Trust, Enbridge Energy Company, Inc., Enbridge Energy Management, L.L.C., Enbridge Gas Distribution Inc., Enbridge Pipelines Inc. and Midcoast Holdings, L.L.C. See Mr. England's Director profile on page 11 and Interlocking relationships beginning on page 19 for further details. The Board has determined that such simultaneous service does not impair Mr. England's ability to effectively serve on Enbridge's Audit, Finance & Risk Committee.

External consultants and other third parties

To make sure the Board functions independently of management, Board committees have the flexibility to meet with external consultants and Enbridge employees without management whenever they see fit. The terms of reference also allow individual directors, the Board and Board committees to hire independent advisors, as needed, at Enbridge's cost.

Attendance

We expect directors to attend all Board and Board committee meetings of which they are a member as well as the annual meeting of shareholders. The Governance Committee reviews each director's attendance record every year. If a director has a poor attendance record, the committee chair and Chair of the Board will discuss and recommend how to handle the matter. A director whose attendance record continues to be poor may be asked to leave the Board. In 2015, the overall attendance at Board and committee meetings was 100%. Please see information on attendance in the Director profiles beginning on page 9 and under Director attendance on page 18.

Financial literacy

The Board defines an individual as financially literate if he or she can read and understand financial statements that are generally comparable to ours in breadth and complexity of issues. The Board has determined that all of the members of the Audit, Finance & Risk Committee are financially literate according to the meaning of NI 52-110 and the rules of the NYSE. It has also determined that Mr. England, Ms. Williams and Mr. Coutu each qualify as audit committee financial experts as defined by the US Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The Board bases this determination on each director's education, skills and experience.

Orientation and continuing education

The Board recognizes that proper orientation and continuing education are important for directors to fulfill their duties effectively. It has delegated these responsibilities to the Governance Committee, which has developed a comprehensive program for new directors and for directors who join a committee for the first time.

Orientation

Every new director meets with the Chair of the Board, the President & Chief Executive Officer and senior management to learn about our business and operations and participates in tours of our sites and facilities.

New directors are also given a copy of the Board manual, which contains:

Board guidelines;

personal information about each of the directors and senior officers;
a list of the members of the Board, the members of the Board committees and all meeting dates;
organizational charts (corporate and management);
our financial risk management policies and treasury authority limitations;
information about statutory liabilities;
information about the directors and officers liability programs;
our insider trading and reporting guidelines;
indemnification agreements;
information about our dividend reinvestment and share purchase plan;
our Statement on Business Conduct; and public disclosure documents for Enbridge and certain subsidiaries.

Directors are notified whenever there are updates to these documents. The manual and any updates are also made available electronically.

Continuing education

Our continuing education program for directors focuses on providing information relating to our business, industry, competitive environment and key risks and opportunities. We offer education sessions for directors on key topics and encourage them to participate in associations and organizations that can broaden their awareness and knowledge of developments related to our business. Directors can also request presentations on a particular topic. Throughout their tenure, directors have discussions with the Chair of the Board, receive quarterly presentations from senior management on strategic issues and participate in tours of our operations. Quarterly briefings include reviews of the competitive environment, our performance relative to our peers and any other developments that could materially affect our business. The table below lists the internal seminars and other presentations we offered in 2015 and director participation.

Board evaluation

The Governance Committee is responsible for assessing the performance of the Board and its Chair, the Board committees and individual directors on an ongoing basis.

Assessing the Board and Chair of the Board

All of the directors complete a confidential questionnaire every year so they can evaluate the effectiveness of the Board and suggest ideas for improving performance. The questionnaire is designed to provide constructive input to improve overall Board performance and includes questions on:

- Board composition;
- effectiveness of the Board, Board meetings and Chair of the Board;
- duties and responsibilities;
- Board orientation and development; and
- the evaluation process for senior management.

The evaluation process includes additional questions for directors to evaluate their peers. The directors are asked to consider criteria such as skills and experience, preparation, attendance and availability, communication and interaction with Board members and/or management and business, company and industry knowledge. Directors are encouraged to comment broadly, positively and negatively, on any issue concerning the Board, Board committees and director performance.

Directors submit their completed questionnaires to the chair of the Governance Committee, who presents the feedback to the Chair of the Board. The chair of the Governance Committee then presents the summary to the Board. The Board discusses the results and develops recommendations as appropriate.

From time to time, the Chair of the Board meets informally with each director, to discuss performance of the Board, Board committees and other issues.

Board committee assessments

Each director also completes a confidential questionnaire for each Board committee of which they are a member. The questionnaire is designed to facilitate candid conversation among the members of each Board committee about the Board committee's overall performance, function, areas of accomplishment and areas for improvement. This session takes place in camera at the first Board committee meeting after the directors complete their questionnaires.

The questionnaire helps the Board ensure that each Board committee is functioning effectively and efficiently and fulfilling its duties and responsibilities as described in its terms of reference. It includes questions about:

- the composition of the Board committee;
- the effectiveness of the Board committee and Board committee meetings;
- committee members, including the chair; and
- the orientation and development processes for the Board committee.

Table of Contents

Completed questionnaires are submitted to the chair of the Governance Committee, who summarizes them and provides a copy to each Board committee chair and the Chair of the Board.

Director term limits

Under our Board guidelines, a director will retire at the next annual meeting of shareholders after he or she reaches the age of 73, or after 15 years of service on the Board, whichever comes first. Members of the Board as at January 1, 2011, who reach 15 years of service before age 73, may remain on the Board to age 73. A director may be asked to remain on the Board for an additional two years after age 73 if the Board unanimously approves the extension. If a director receives an extension, he or she is not eligible to serve as Chair of the Board or chair of any of the Board's five standing Board Committees. Mr. Petty's tenure was extended in February 2015 and Governor Blanchard's tenure was extended in November 2015, in each case, for up to an additional two years.

Identifying new candidates

The Governance Committee serves as the Board's nominating committee and is responsible for identifying new candidates for nomination to the Board. The Governance Committee also invites and welcomes suggestions from other directors on our Board and from management. The committee reviews a Board composition plan annually. The plan consists of a skills matrix that includes the name of each director, his or her occupation, residence, gender, age, years on the Board, retirement date, business experience, other board commitments, equity ownership, independence and other relevant information. The committee summarizes the plan to identify the ideal attributes, skills and experience of a new candidate. These include executive management, board and industry experience, areas of expertise, global representation, gender and age, among others. The committee ranks each of these skills and areas of experience as a high, medium or low priority.

The Governance Committee, in collaboration with management and, in some cases, external consultants, then develops a list of potential candidates with the desired skills and experience and reviews and updates the list at least once per year. When a position becomes available, the committee reviews the list of potential candidates, revises it to reflect the skills and experience most needed at the time, adds other recently identified candidates and prepares a short list. The committee also considers the candidate's background and diversity of experience in making its choices and may engage independent consultants to assist in the review and recruitment process.

The chair of the Governance Committee, the Chair of the Board, the President & Chief Executive Officer and sometimes other directors, meet with potential candidates to determine their interest, availability, experience and suitability. The Governance Committee then makes a recommendation to the Board for consideration and approval.

Diversity

We are committed to increasing the diversity of our Board over time by actively seeking qualified candidates who meet diversity criteria. Enbridge is one of over 40 founding members of the Canadian Board Diversity Council.

In February 2015, the Board formally adopted a written diversity policy to highlight our approach to diversity and the importance we place on differences in skills, experience, gender, age, ethnicity and geographic background. The diversity policy sets out key criteria for the composition of the Board, including an aspirational target in which each gender comprises at least one-third of the independent directors. Three of Enbridge's 11 directors, or approximately 27% of the Board (and 30% of the 10 independent directors), are women. All 11 directors are standing for re-election.

The policy further sets out criteria for management to aspire to have at least one-third of senior management roles at Enbridge occupied by women. Of the 74 senior management positions at Enbridge and its major subsidiaries, 18 of those senior management positions are currently held by women, for a total of 24%.

It is the responsibility of the Governance Committee to identify and recommend to the Board potential nominees to the Board with the appropriate competencies, skills and characteristics required of Board members to promote the continued growth and success of Enbridge. In this process, the Governance Committee will take into account professional experience, educational background, skills and knowledge, as well as diversity considerations such as gender, age and ethnicity.

Similarly, in identifying candidates for Senior Management roles, professional experience, educational background, skills and knowledge, as well as diversity considerations such as gender, age and ethnicity, will be taken into account.

The Governance Committee will review the diversity policy and its targeted objectives annually to assess its effectiveness and will report to the Board and recommend any revisions that may be necessary.

They also meet with external consultants and/or Enbridge staff, without management present, whenever they see fit.

Succession plans were reviewed in detail for the entire Executive Leadership Team and in-depth discussions were held regarding the range of possible external candidates and development of internal candidates, including the enactment of planned moves at the executive level to new or modified roles for developmental purposes.

The HRC Committee also reviewed the bench strength and succession depth several layers below the Executive Leadership Team to ensure there are no significant gaps and that succession plans remain robust.

Governance

The committee reviewed its terms of reference. The members of the committee are satisfied that its mandate is appropriate and that it met all of its responsibilities in 2015.

The Safety & Reliability Committee met four times in 2015 and held an in camera meeting without any members of management present, at each meeting. Before each meeting, the chair of the committee met with executive management to discuss the agenda items for the meeting and any significant issues.

Shareholder outreach

Enbridge engages our shareholders on an ongoing basis and in a variety of ways, tailored to the specific needs of each shareholder group. Our main shareholder events are our annual investor days in Toronto and New York, which provide an opportunity for shareholders to obtain an update on the company outside of our quarterly earnings presentations. These events, along with our annual meeting of shareholders, quarterly earnings presentations and guidance call presentation, are webcast so that they are accessible to a broad audience of investors and are available on our website for a period of 12 months. Our executive team also meets with shareholders throughout the year by way of investor roadshows in a variety of cities. To further our investor outreach, we also participate in several investor conferences.

A list of upcoming and past events and presentations, including presentation slides and webcasts, where available, as well as investor documents and filings, can be found on our website (www.enbridge.com). Enbridge is also committed to communicating with shareholders through our website, where current and potential investors are invited to contact the Investor Relations team online, by letter, phone or email.

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Philosophy and approach

The Board is responsible for developing and implementing the directors' compensation plan and has delegated the day-to-day responsibility for director compensation to the Governance Committee.

Our directors' compensation plan is designed with four key objectives in mind:

- to attract and retain the most qualified individuals to serve as directors;
- to compensate our directors to reflect the risks, responsibilities and time commitment they assume when serving on our Board and Board committees;
- to offer directors compensation that is competitive with other public companies that are comparable to Enbridge and to deliver such compensation in a tax effective manner; and
- to align the interests of directors with those of our shareholders.

While our executive compensation program is designed around pay for performance, director compensation is based on annual retainers. This is to meet the compensation objectives and to help ensure our directors are unbiased when making decisions and carrying out their duties while serving on our Board.

The Governance Committee uses a peer group of companies to set the annual retainers for our Board and targets director compensation at about the 50th percentile. The HRC Committee uses the same peer group to determine executive compensation. See page 51 for more information about our peer group and how we benchmark executive compensation.

The Governance Committee reviews the directors' compensation plan every year, with assistance from management. Every second year a formal review by an external consultant is undertaken. The next formal review by an external consultant is scheduled for 2017. Each year, as part of this review, the committee considers the time commitment and experience required of members of our Board and the director compensation paid by a group of comparable public companies when it sets the compensation. The committee also reviews the compensation plan to make sure the overall program is still appropriate and reports its findings to the Board.

Share ownership

We expect directors to own Enbridge shares so they have an ongoing stake in the company and are aligned with the interests of shareholders. The share ownership guideline is three times the annual Board retainer. The annual Board retainer is $235,000. Directors must now hold at least three times their annual Board retainer, or $705,000, in DSUs or Enbridge shares and meet that requirement within five years of becoming a director on our Board. DSUs are paid out when a director retires from the Board. They are redeemed for cash, based on the weighted average of the closing price of common shares on the TSX for the last five trading days before the redemption date, multiplied by the number of DSUs the director holds. Directors may not engage in equity monetization transactions or hedges

About DSUs

A deferred share unit (DSU) is a notional share that has the same value as one Enbridge common share. Its value fluctuates with variations in the market price of Enbridge shares.

involving securities of Enbridge (see Hedging policy on page 82 of this circular).

DSUs do not have voting rights but they accrue dividends as additional DSUs, at the same rate as dividends paid on our common shares.

If a decrease in the market value of our common shares results in a director no longer meeting the share ownership requirements, we expect him or her to buy additional common shares in order to satisfy the minimum threshold.

Compensation components

Our Directors' compensation plan has four components:

- an annual retainer;

- an annual fee if he or she serves as the Chair of the Board or chair of a Board committee;

- a travel fee for attending Board and Board committee meetings; and

- reimbursement for reasonable travel and other out-of-pocket expenses relating to his or her duties as a director.

We do not have meeting attendance fees.

Our Directors' compensation plan has been in effect since 2004 and was revised in 2010 and 2013. The table below shows the fee schedule for directors in 2015. Directors are paid quarterly. If their principal residence is in the US, they receive the same face amounts in US dollars. Mr. Monaco does not receive any director compensation because he is our President & Chief Executive Officer and is compensated in that role.

Table of Contents

Directors who also serve as a director or trustee of one of our subsidiaries or affiliates may also receive an annual retainer and meeting and travel fees for attending those meetings.

Directors can receive their retainer in a combination of cash, Enbridge shares and DSUs, but they must receive a minimum amount in DSUs, as shown in the table below. Travel fees are always paid in cash.

	Annual amount($) Compensation component	Enbridge			Enbridge
		Cash before minimum	shares share ownership	DSUs	Cash after minimum	shares share ownership	DSUs
Board Retainer	235,000
Additional retainers
Chair of the Board retainer	260,000
Board committee chair retainer		Up to 50%	Up to 50%	50% to 100%	Up to 75%	Up to 75%	25% to 100%
Audit, Finance & Risk	25,000
Human Resources & Compensation	20,000
Safety & Reliability	15,000
Corporate Social Responsibility	10,000
Governance	10,000
Travel fee	1,500	100%			100%

Once they reach the minimum share ownership level, directors can choose to receive between one quarter and their entire retainer in DSUs, with the balance in cash, Enbridge shares or a combination of both, according to a percentage mix they choose. They must take at least 25% of the retainer in DSUs. Directors are allocated the Enbridge shares based on the weighted average of the closing price of the Enbridge shares on the TSX for the five trading days immediately preceding the date that is two weeks prior to the date of payment.

The table below shows the breakdown of each director's annual retainer for the year ended December 31, 2015.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Named executive officers

For 2015, the Enbridge named executives are the following individuals:

Al Monaco, President & Chief Executive Officer;
John K. Whelen, Executive Vice President & Chief Financial Officer;
D. Guy Jarvis, President, Liquids Pipelines;
David T. Robottom, Executive Vice President & Chief Legal Officer; and
C. Gregory Harper, President, Gas Pipelines & Processing.

Executive summary

Strategic focus

In 2015, Enbridge continued to focus on the four key priorities in its strategic plan:

1. drive safety and operational reliability;
2. execute on its growing slate of commercially secured projects;
3. secure the longer-term future; and
4. maintain the foundation.

Compensation philosophy

Performance is foundational to the executive compensation program and payouts are strongly aligned to the achievement of Enbridge's strategic priorities. Compensation is typically targeted at median within the markets where Enbridge competes, with performance driving at risk incentive payouts up or down accordingly. The vast majority of executive compensation is considered at risk because its value is based on specific performance criteria and payout is not guaranteed.

Operational and financial performance metrics are used for the short-term incentive plan while key financial performance metrics are used for the medium- and long-term incentive plans. These programs are designed to motivate management to safely and efficiently operate the business with a focus on the longer term, while providing the superior returns that shareholders expect.

Performance highlights for 2015

Enbridge common shares closed at $46.00 on the TSX on December 31, 2015, resulting in a total shareholder return of negative 20% in 2015, or 12% below the S&P/TSX Composite Index. However, over the past 10 years Enbridge's total shareholder return has exceeded the S&P/TSX Composite Index by an average of 9% per year.

The North American oil and gas industry, including the midstream sector, was a challenging environment in 2015, experiencing significant declines in commodity prices that resulted in industry-wide share price erosion. Despite this difficult operating environment, Enbridge was able to increase adjusted earnings per share (EPS) by 16% and available cash flow from operations (ACFFO) by 23%, while maintaining excellent safety and operational performance.

Pay for performance

Over a five-year period ending December 31, 2015, growth in average annualized total compensation for named executives remained largely flat. At the same time, an initial investment in Enbridge common shares at the beginning of the five-year period would have returned 90% (relative to a five-year return of 12% for a comparable investment in the S&P/TSX Composite index).

Compensation philosophy

Approach to executive compensation

Enbridge's approach to executive compensation is set by the HRC Committee and approved by the Board. These programs are designed to accomplish three objectives:

- attract and retain a highly effective executive team;
- align executives' actions with Enbridge's business strategy and the interests of Enbridge shareholders and other stakeholders; and
- reward executives for short-, medium- and long-term performance.

Alignment with company strategy

Enbridge's vision is to be the leading energy delivery company in North America.

Central to achieving that vision is a relentless focus on safety, operational reliability and protection of the environment to ensure that the needs of all stakeholders are met, and that Enbridge continues to be a good citizen within the communities where we live and operate.

Driving safety and operational reliability is Enbridge's number one priority.

Table of Contents

The following are Enbridge's top four priorities:

- uncompromising drive for safety and operational reliability; failing to adhere to this priority means the outcomes set out in the remainder of the strategic plan are at risk;
- execute on a large slate of commercially secured projects through a focus on project management and preserving financial strength and flexibility;
- secure the longer-term future by strengthening core businesses and developing new platforms for growth and diversification; and
- uphold the values of Integrity, Safety and Respect; shaping, promoting and protecting Enbridge's reputation; and attracting, retaining and developing our people.

Enbridge's executive compensation programs are aligned with the achievement of these strategic priorities and are designed to link payouts to those outcomes. They motivate management to deliver exceptional value to Enbridge shareholders through strong corporate performance and investing capital in ways that minimize risk and maximize return, while always supporting the core business goal of delivering energy safely and reliably.

Management is committed to delivering steady, visible and predictable results, and operating assets in an ethical and responsible manner.

Guiding policies

ü Enbridge does:

Use a pay-for-performance philosophy whereby the majority of compensation provided to executives is at risk and dependent on pre-defined performance variables that reflect operational and financial priorities defined in the Strategic Plan

Have a compensation structure that reflects a blend of short-, medium- and long-term incentive awards, and that is linked to business plans for the respective time frame to directly tie results to rewards

Incorporate risk management principles into all decision-making processes and ensure compensation programs do not encourage inappropriate or excessive risk taking by executives

Regularly review its executive compensation programs through third-party consultants to ensure the programs continue to support shareholder interests and regulatory compliance, and are aligned with sound principles of risk management and governance

Use both proactive/preventative and incident-based safety and operational metrics that are directly linked to the short-term incentive of every employee to reinforce the critical importance of safety, system reliability, and × Enbridge does not:

Pay out incentive programs when unwarranted by performance

Count performance stock units or unexercised stock options toward stock ownership requirements

Allow stock option grants below 100% fair market value or re-price underwater options

Include non-performance-based restricted stock units in the executive compensation pay mix

Implement employment agreements with single-trigger voluntary termination rights in favour of executives

environmental performance

Have meaningful stock ownership requirements that align the interests of executive officers with those of Enbridge shareholders

Benchmark executive compensation programs against a group of similar companies in Canada and the US to ensure that executives are rewarded at a competitive level

Have an incentive compensation clawback policy

Permit hedging of Enbridge securities

Grant, renew or extend any loans to directors or senior executives

Provide stock options to directors who are not full-time employees

Pay for performance

Performance is the cornerstone of Enbridge’s executive compensation programs. The Board reviews Enbridge’s business plans over the short, medium and long term and the HRC Committee ensures the compensation programs are linked to these time frames. This focuses management on delivering value to Enbridge shareholders not only in the short term, but also continued performance in the long term.

Relevant corporate and business unit performance measures are established for the short-term incentive plan that focus on the critical safety, system reliability, environmental and financial aspects of the business. In 2015, the corporate performance measure was based on adjusted earnings per share (EPS) relative to an externally communicated guidance range, while safety and operational reliability were key measures across all business units.

Performance is foundational to Enbridge’s executive compensation programs; incentive compensation plans incorporate operational and financial performance conditions.

The performance measures for the medium- and long-term incentive plans focus on overall corporate performance aligned with Enbridge shareholder expectations for earnings growth and total shareholder return.

When assessing performance, the HRC Committee considers both objective pre-defined performance metrics as well as qualitative factors not captured in the formal metrics. For example, a decision to complete a certain acquisition may have longer-term strategic benefits that may not be reflected in the short-term performance metrics. Also playing a role are a number of market-based and earnings-based key performance indicators that compare Enbridge’s results to a peer group and to the broader market over a one- to 10-year time horizon. Therefore, the assessment of overall performance is based on a combination of the pre-defined performance metrics, the key performance indicators, as well as the qualitative aspects of management’s responsibilities.

At risk compensation

The chart below shows the target compensation mix for the President & Chief Executive Officer and the average for the other named executives. The short-, medium- and long-term incentives are considered to be at risk because their value is based on specific performance criteria and payout is not guaranteed.

The vast majority of compensation for Enbridge’s President & Chief Executive Officer and other named executives is considered at risk.

In 2015, 81% of the target total direct compensation for the President & CEO, and an average of 74% for the remaining named executive officers, was at risk, directly aligning corporate, business unit and individual performance with the interests of Enbridge shareholders. For details on targets for the incentive programs, see pages 55 and 59.

Importance of operational performance

Operational performance is central to assessing the overall performance of an organization. At Enbridge, delivering on a commitment to drive safety and operational reliability means:

striving for and maintaining industry leadership in safety (public, personal and process);
ensuring the reliability and integrity of Enbridge pipelines and facilities; and protecting the environment.

Table of Contents

Our short-term incentive program is intended to reinforce Enbridge’s number one priority of driving safety and operational reliability and the associated design provides alignment in two ways:

all business units (including the corporate office) incorporate safety, system reliability/integrity, and environmental performance metrics into short-term incentive scorecards. See page 56 for examples of these metrics; and all employees (including the named executives) are required to have safety objectives incorporated into their individual performance goals, with a minimum weighting of 10%.

Every Enbridge employee is required to have safety objectives incorporated into the individual performance goals tied to their short-term incentive.

Executives are expected to support the safety culture by conducting site visits at both field and office locations to discuss the importance of safety, make safety observations and solicit any safety concerns from employees and contractors. The Board of Directors firmly supports this activity and participates in site visits where directors have an opportunity to speak to employees directly to discuss safety processes and procedures and get their perspective on safety at Enbridge. There were 155 executive/director site visits conducted across the enterprise in 2015.

Annual decision-making process

The HRC Committee reviews and approves the compensation plans and pay levels for all the named executives except the President & Chief Executive Officer. The HRC Committee reviews and recommends the compensation plans and pay level for the President & Chief Executive Officer to the Board.

The table below shows the process by which compensation decisions are made.

Benchmarking to peers

Total direct compensation for the named executives is managed within a framework that involves input and consideration by the CEO and the HRC Committee, with Mercer (Canada) Limited (Mercer) providing independent advisory support. The competitiveness of this framework is based on peer group market data extracted from third-party compensation surveys and publicly disclosed executive compensation information for comparable benchmark roles at peer companies. The market data is considered from several perspectives including organization size and industry sector (pipeline, energy and utility criteria).

As the responsibilities of Enbridge's named executives are primarily North American in scope, equally-weighted Canadian and US peer groups are determined and used for executive compensation benchmarking.

Peer group determination

Enbridge's compensation benchmarking peer group is reviewed annually. The peer group for 2015 remains unchanged from 2014, with the exception of the removal of Talisman Energy Inc. which was acquired by another company in 2015. Enbridge's peer group was developed based on an initial selection of companies of similar size (between 50% and 200% of enterprise value) and type of business, with additions or deletions to best reflect the organizations with which Enbridge competes for customers, capital (including risk profile) and executive talent.

The Canadian peer companies identified include a broader range of industries than the US peers, including large pipeline, energy, utility and railway companies that are similar to Enbridge in size (based on enterprise value and revenues), and in risk profile. Together, they reflect the Canadian business environment in which Enbridge operates.

Table of Contents

Since the US energy sector is much larger and has more depth than Canada's, the US peer companies identified are from a narrower range of industries, more similar to Enbridge, and include mainly oil and gas pipelines and utilities.

2015 peer group

While enterprise value is used as a primary peer group selection criteria with respect to company size (as a proxy for business complexity), other size metrics are also important. The 2015 compensation benchmarking peer group, and how Enbridge compares in terms of size as of December 31, 2015 (unless otherwise noted), is as follows:

Setting compensation targets

Enbridge generally targets overall total direct compensation at the median (including the CEO position), considering the skill, competency and experience of each senior executive. Some senior executive roles that have smaller scale or scope are benchmarked below median.

Assessing 2015 performance

Enbridge common shares closed at $46.00 on the TSX on December 31, 2015, resulting in a total shareholder return that underperformed the S&P/TSX Composite Index by 12% in 2015. Over the past 10 years, total shareholder return has exceeded the S&P/TSX Composite Index by an average of 9% per year. Since Enbridge's inception as a publicly traded entity over 63 years ago, it has delivered an average annual total shareholder return of 15%, outperforming the TSX Composite Index by 6% over a similar time frame.

Based on 2015 performance peer group. A new peer group is effective for 2016 – see page 66 for details.*

The North American oil and gas industry was a challenging environment in 2015, experiencing significant declines in commodity prices. While most of Enbridge's businesses have limited direct commodity price exposure, low oil prices impact Enbridge's customers. As a critical transportation provider, Enbridge strives to support the competitiveness of customers and the industry through stable and predictable tolls, operating and capital efficiency, reliable transportation and further improving market access.

Enbridge is well positioned to manage through this environment due to the resiliency of its low-risk business model, which is underpinned by strong commercial constructs, minimal direct commodity exposure and the reliable credit quality of customers. In addition, $18 billion of projects have been placed into service over the last two years, ideally situating Enbridge to satisfy future energy needs and generating strong future free cash flows. Finally, Enbridge has a strong balance sheet and access to capital, ample liquidity of over $10 billion as of the end of 2015, and the ability to generate stable and predictable cash flow.

These strengths contributed to achieving good results in 2015, augmenting Enbridge's solid foundation and resulting in the successful execution of its growth capital program, bringing 14 projects with a combined value of $8 billion into service, record volumes on the Mainline system, strong earnings and higher cash flows. Enbridge also achieved an increase in adjusted EPS of 16%, or $0.30 per common share, and an increase in ACFFO of 23%, or $0.70 per common share.

In December 2015, Enbridge announced:

a 14% increase in the quarterly dividend, effective March 1, 2016, marking the twenty-first consecutive year of dividend increases;

ACFFO guidance range for 2016 of $3.80 to $4.50 per share; and adjusted earnings before interest and taxes guidance range for 2016 of $4.4 billion to $4.8 billion.

The dividend increase for 2016 reflects the strength of Enbridge's businesses, its sound financial position and the successful execution of its capital program. In 2015, Enbridge continued to grow across all of its businesses and exited the year with a $26 billion secured capital investment growth program of which $8 billion was brought into service in 2015, and $18 billion in projects are scheduled to be brought into service from 2016 through 2019.

The scalable and flexible nature of Enbridge's liquids Mainline has enabled steady increases in throughput over the past five years. In December, the Mainline system ran at full capacity, being oversubscribed by 19% and reaching new record volumes. These projects open up good markets for shippers that can now access new markets and global pricing, and draw incremental volumes through the Mainline system.

Enbridge continued to develop its renewable power and natural gas businesses to support a key priority of extending and diversifying growth beyond 2019. During 2015, Enbridge engaged in a $0.9 billion Greater Toronto Area Project through which Enbridge Gas Distribution is upgrading and expanding its systems to meet growing demand from residential, commercial and industrial customers.

Table of Contents

The project is expected to be in service during the first quarter of 2016. Enbridge also grew its renewables energy portfolio in 2015 by putting into service the 110-Megawatt Keechi Wind Project in Texas, and acquiring over 500-Megawatts of new wind assets in the US and offshore UK.

As part of its sponsored vehicle strategy, Enbridge completed the transfer of its Canadian Liquids Pipeline Business and certain Canadian renewable energy assets to Enbridge Income Partners LP, in which Enbridge Income Fund has an indirect interest, for aggregate consideration of $30.4 billion plus incentive distribution and performance rights. The transfer was a key component of Enbridge's Financial Optimization Strategy supporting dividend growth and is expected to further enhance the value of Enbridge's industry leading capital program by providing access to diversified sources of low-cost funding for the company's $26 billion secured capital investment growth program, and enhancing competitiveness in the pursuit of new growth opportunities and asset acquisitions.

Enbridge was also active in the debt markets during 2015, issuing approximately $1.6 billion in medium-term notes, through its subsidiaries Enbridge Pipelines Inc. and Enbridge Gas Distribution Inc., and a further US$1.6 billion in senior notes issued in October 2015 through Enbridge Energy Partners, L.P.

Safety and operational reliability remains Enbridge's number one priority. Enbridge delivered its 2014 Safety Report to the Community in October 2015, which highlights progress toward the goal of being an industry leader in the areas of safety and operational reliability performance in the ongoing maintenance and enhancement of pipelines and facilities. Total recordable injury frequency (TRIF) – a key safety performance indicator – was at a record low in 2015 for both employees and contractors, with TRIFs 44% and 34% below the five-year average, respectively. Enbridge also continues to invest heavily in pipeline integrity, leak detection capability, environmental protection and emergency response to ensure its energy transportation and distribution systems operate safely, reliably and in an environmentally responsible manner.

Once again, Enbridge received recognition for corporate and social responsibility and sustainability practices, including being named to both the Dow Jones Sustainability North America Index and the Dow Jones Sustainability World Index. Enbridge has been included in the North America Index eight times in the past nine years, and named to the World Index six times, including the past four years running. In January 2016, Enbridge was included in the Global 100 Most Sustainable Corporations for 2016.

Short-term incentive – corporate performance metric

The calculation of short-term incentive awards is derived from three factors, one of which is corporate performance. The other two (business unit and individual performance) are described on pages 56 and 57.

For 2015 short-term incentive purposes, Enbridge's corporate performance was measured by adjusted EPS. This is a metric that focuses on the return to Enbridge shareholders and is aligned with how investors and securities analysts assess Enbridge's performance on an annual basis.

Consistent with Enbridge's financial reporting and public disclosure of results, adjusted earnings excludes the impact of non-recurring and non-operating items. Approximately $1,903 million of net adjustments were made to arrive at adjusted earnings of $1,866 million, including adjustments for non-cash mark-to-market gains/(losses) on derivatives to hedge exposure to market price risks (foreign exchange, interest rates and commodity prices), one-time charges in relation to the Canadian Liquids Pipelines transaction, and goodwill impairment losses. For incentive compensation purposes, adjusted earnings also exclude the impact of certain long-term financing activities on earnings, bringing adjusted EPS to $2.23.

Table of ContentsExecutive compensation design and 2015 decisions

Enbridge's executive compensation program is made up of seven components.

Base salary

On April 1, 2015, the named executives (excluding Mr. Monaco) received base salary increases of 2.5% to 3.9% to recognize their individual performance and to maintain their competitive position within the market. A larger increase of 12% was awarded to Mr. Monaco to better align his positioning relative to the competitive market.

Base salary

Executive	January 1, 2015 ($)	Change in 2015 (%)	December 31, 2015 ($)
Al Monaco	1,144,000	12.0%	1,281,000
John K. Whelen	500,000	2.5%	512,500
D. Guy Jarvis	530,000	3.9%	550,900
David T. Robottom	522,700	2.5%	535,800
C. Gregory Harper ¹	485,539	20.9%	587,231

1. Mr. Harper's salary was US$424,300 as of December 31, 2015, compared with US$414,000 as of January 1, 2015 (i.e., a 2.5% increase in 2015). The 2015 increase (in $CA) is a result of the weakening of the Canadian dollar over the year. See page 84 for details on exchange rate used.

Short-term incentive

It is critically important to ensure all Enbridge executives are incented to achieve not only financial results but also operational results in the areas of safety and environmental performance, as well as customer, employee and other stakeholder based measures. For this reason, the short-term incentive awards are paid based on performance against a combination of corporate, business unit and individual goals that are set at the beginning of the year. For executives who have primary responsibility for overall corporate performance, the corporate performance metrics are given more weight. Business unit performance metrics are given the most weight for executives with primary responsibility within an operating business unit.

Each executive's target award and payout range reflect the level of responsibility associated with their role, as well as competitive practice, and is established as a percentage of base salary.

Table of ContentsShort-term incentive targets (as a % of base salary)

Executive	Change		December 31, 2015	Payout range	Performance measures/weightings (as a % of total)
	January 1, 2015	in 2015			Corporate	Business unit	Individual
Al Monaco	100%		100%	0 200%	60%	20%	20%

C. Gregory Harper	60%		60%	0 120%	25%	50%	25%

The awards are calculated using an actual performance multiplier that ranges anywhere between 0.0x and 2.0x, depending on whether the combination of goals has been met.

Use of discretion

The President & Chief Executive Officer can recommend an adjustment to the calculated short-term incentive award for his direct reports when he feels it is appropriate, to reflect extraordinary events and other factors not contemplated in the original measures or targets. The HRC Committee must consider and, if appropriate, approve the President & Chief Executive Officer's recommendations.

The HRC Committee can adjust the calculated short-term incentive award for the President & Chief Executive Officer up or down at its discretion. It can also change or waive the eligibility criteria, performance measures and scorecards, and the target and maximum award levels when it believes it is reasonable to do so, considering matters such as key performance indicators and the business environment in which the performance was achieved. The Board must approve the HRC Committee's recommendations.

2015 performance resultsCorporate performance

Corporate performance, measured using adjusted EPS in 2015, represents between 25-60% of the named executives short-term incentive award. See page 52 and 53 for a summary of corporate performance and results.

The external guidance range established for adjusted EPS was the sole metric used for determining corporate performance anchors for 2015 short-term incentive purposes. The target (1.0x multiplier) anchor was set using the midpoint of the guidance range (Board-approved budget) that was publicly disclosed prior to the start of 2015, while the threshold (0.5x multiplier) and maximum (2.0x multiplier) anchors were based on the lower and upper ends of the guidance range. Based on the 2015 adjusted EPS measure of $2.23 for incentive compensation purposes, the resulting corporate short-term incentive performance multiplier is 1.20x.

1. Adjusted EPS between the thresholds in this table results in a multiplier calculated on a linear basis. Before approving the 2015 corporate performance multiplier, the HRC Committee considered Enbridge's performance compared to other companies in its performance peer group and companies in the TSX Composite index, as measured by dividend per share growth, total shareholder return and risk-adjusted total shareholder return over the past one-, three-, five- and 10-year periods. Enbridge's 2015 performance on all of the key performance indicators remained at or near the top quartile, with the exception of 1-year total shareholder return (which was closer to median versus the peer group). After thoroughly reviewing corporate, business unit and individual performance, the HRC Committee was comfortable that the recommended short-term incentive awards, as calculated, appropriately reflected the results achieved and approved the awards as presented.

Business unit performance

Business unit performance is assessed relative to a scorecard of metrics and targets established by each business leader and their senior management teams at the start of the year. Scorecard targets are approved and results are reviewed by an evaluation committee, comprised of members of the Executive Leadership Team and other executives representing specific functional disciplines. The President & Chief Executive Officer reviews all business unit results, which are then recommended to the HRC Committee for approval.

The makeup of scorecards varies by business unit, but includes a range of metrics including:

operational performance

personal, public & process safety system integrity

environmental performance

financial performance

commercial and customer measures

workforce measures

Each business unit scorecard has a minimum of 40% tied to operational performance to highlight its importance at Enbridge.

The following table provides examples of the types of metrics that are used in the scorecards of the various business units.

Performance Area		Metric
Operational (Safety, System Integrity & Environmental Performance)	Proactive/preventative	number and quality of safety observations recorded by employees number of system inspections or process safety management audits
	Incident-based	meeting mainline and facility integrity and reliability targets Environment, Health & Safety Training course completion number of releases or process safety incidents total recordable injury frequency employees and contractors % of action items closed from incident investigations
Financial		adjusted earnings, available/distributable cash flow cost containment
Commercial/Customer		newly secured business and re-contracting of assets stakeholder relationship project integration customer experience

Workforce	% of employees having completed Individual Development Plans
	% of employees having minimum of two career conversations per year

Individual performance

In consultation with Mr. David A. Arledge, Chair, Board of Directors, and Ms. Catherine L. Williams, chair, HRC Committee, the President & Chief Executive Officer established his individual 2015 objectives at the start of the year, taking into consideration the company's financial and strategic priorities. The President & Chief Executive Officer's objectives were provided to all of the Board members.

The President & Chief Executive Officer established individual objectives with the other members of the Executive Leadership Team for 2015 at the start of the year, basing them on strategic and operational priorities related to each executive's portfolio and other factors.

The discussion of each named executive's individual and business unit performances starts on page 68.

Medium- and long-term incentives

Enbridge's medium- and long-term incentives for executives include three primary plans: the performance stock unit plan, performance stock option plan and incentive stock option plan. A fourth program was introduced in 2015 for executives of Midcoast Energy Partners, L.P. (MEP), an indirect subsidiary that owns Enbridge's gas gathering and processing assets in the US – see page 60 for details. With the exception of performance stock options which are granted periodically (usually every five years in August), medium- and long-term incentives are granted annually early in the year.

The various plans that apply to executives have different terms, vesting conditions and performance criteria. This mitigates the risk that executives produce only short-term results for individual profit. This approach also benefits shareholders and helps to maximize the ongoing retention value of the medium- and long-term incentives granted to executives.

Medium- and long-term incentive grants are determined as follows:

The table below outlines Enbridge's medium- and long-term incentive plans.

1. Performance stock options are granted approximately once every five years, and they are intended to cover a five-year period. The above table displays the intended annualized value. The last regular performance stock option grant was in 2012, which was intended to provide annual value over the period from 2012 to 2016; however, Mr. Harper was provided an initial grant of performance stock options upon his hire in 2014. For further details, see page 63.

Performance stock units

Performance stock units give executives the opportunity to earn up to two times the value of their units when such units mature after three years, by achieving certain performance measures. Performance stock units are granted annually.

Two performance measures were used for the 2015 grant, each weighted at 50%:

- i. Adjusted EPS growth: this measure represents a commitment to Enbridge shareholders to achieve adjusted earnings that meet or exceed the average industry growth rates projected at the time of grant.
- ii. Relative P/E ratio: Enbridge uses this measure because it is a strong reflection of how shareholders view its stock and growth potential relative to its peers. For this measure, Enbridge compares itself against the following group of companies, chosen because they are all capital market competitors with a similar risk profile, operating in a comparable industry sector.

Performance comparator group: P/E ratio

Ameren Corporation	OGE Energy Corp.
Canadian Utilities Limited	ONEOK, Inc.
CenterPoint Energy, Inc.	PG&E Corporation

Emera Incorporated
Fortis Inc.
National Fuel Gas Company
NiSource Inc.

Sempra Energy
Spectra Energy Corp.
TransAlta Corporation
TransCanada Corporation

The peer group used to measure relative P/E ratio is reviewed annually. No changes were made to the peer group for 2015.

Payout is determined at the end of the three year term using an actual performance multiplier that ranges anywhere from 0.0x to 2.0x depending on whether the performance conditions were met. The final Enbridge share price at the end of the term is the weighted average trading price of an Enbridge common share on the TSX or NYSE for the last 20 days before the end of the term.

2015 performance stock unit grant

The mechanics of the 2015 performance stock unit grant are illustrated below.

Table of Contents

Performance thresholds for adjusted EPS growth and relative P/E ratio are reviewed annually.

Effective January 1, 2015, the following performance stock units were granted to the named executives.

C. Gregory Harper ⁵	2,490	145,634	485,539	30%

1. Grant date value in CA$.

2. Mr. Monaco received an additional 26,910 performance stock units in 2015 in recognition of his successful strategic leadership of Enbridge's financial restructuring, and to better align his compensation positioning relative to external peers.

3. Mr. Whelen received an additional 6,580 performance stock units in 2015 to compensate for not receiving a 2012 performance stock option grant. Mr. Whelen became eligible for performance stock options upon his promotion in 2014, but since the 2012 performance stock option grant covers the period from 2012 – 2016, he will not receive his first grant of performance stock options until 2017.

4. Mr. Jarvis received an additional 1,050 performance stock units in 2015 to compensate for his 2012 performance stock option grant, covering the period from 2012 – 2016, being delivered at a lower target than his 2015 target.

5. Mr. Harper was granted US$ denominated performance stock units in 2015, valued at grant of US$49.87 per unit for a total value of US$124,176. Based on his salary of US$414,000 as of January 1, 2015, this translates into a value of 30% of base salary. See page 84 for details on exchange rate used.

2013 performance stock unit payout

The performance stock units granted January 1, 2013 matured on December 31, 2015 and both performance targets were exceeded. The performance multiplier of 2.0x was calculated based on:

Measure	Adjusted EPS growth	Relative P/E ratio	Combined (50/50 weighting)
Lower threshold	3% compound growth (0.0x multiplier)	Below 50 th percentile (0.0x multiplier)
Target (midpoint)	6% compound growth (1.0x multiplier)	Between 50 th – 75 th percentile (1.0x multiplier)
Upper threshold	10% compound growth (2.0x multiplier)	Above 75 th percentile (2.0x multiplier)
Actual	11% compound growth (2.0x multiplier)	92nd percentile (2.0x multiplier)	2.0x multiplier

This resulted in the following payouts for the named executives in early 2016:

	Performance stock units granted		Notionally reinvested dividends		Total performance stock units		Performance x multiplier		Final share price¹		Payout
	(#)	+	(#)	=	(#)	x multiplier	x	($)	=	($)

MEP performance stock units

A medium-term incentive plan tied to the publicly traded units of MEP was introduced in 2015.

MEP performance stock units are granted to eligible executives and employees of that business. Mr. Harper was the only named executive to participate in this plan in 2015. Mr. Harper's total medium- and long-term incentive target of 200% of base salary remained unchanged in 2015, but was allocated as follows:

Enbridge performance stock units	30%	120% Enbridge medium- and long-term incentives
Enbridge performance stock options	60%
Enbridge incentive stock options	30%	80% MEP medium-term incentives
MEP performance stock units	80%

Mr. Harper will continue to receive the majority of medium- and long-term incentives tied to the equity of Enbridge Inc.

Table of Contents

The provisions governing MEP performance stock units are consistent with those of Enbridge performance stock units, with the exception of the performance measures. Two measures were used for the 2015 grant, each weighted at 50%:

- i. Distributable cash flow (DCF) per unit growth: DCF represents the cash MEP has available for distribution to its unitholders, and is a key metric for master limited partnerships like MEP. This performance measure reinforces a commitment to MEP unitholders to achieve DCF per unit growth that meets or exceeds average industry growth rates projected at the time of grant.
- ii. Distribution yield relative to peers: MEP's yield is a measure of how effective it is at deploying capital and growing cashflow and the underlying business. Reduction in yield relative to peers represents improvement in both areas. MEP's peer group is comprised of a mix of US gas gathering and processing master limited partnerships whose strategies involve organic growth or drop-downs from general partners, similar to MEP.

The peer group used to measure reduction in relative yield is reviewed annually.

All other provisions of the MEP performance stock unit plan are consistent with the Enbridge performance stock unit plan.

2015 MEP performance stock unit grant

The mechanics of the 2015 MEP performance stock unit grant are illustrated below.

Performance thresholds for DCF per unit growth and distribution yield relative to peers are reviewed annually. The 2015 target performance anchor for distribution yield was set at the 60th percentile, in part based on MEP's positioning relative to peers at the start of 2015.

Effective January 1, 2015, the following MEP performance stock units were granted to the named executives.

	A	B	C	(B / C)

2. Mr. Harper's 2015 MEP performance stock units (denominated in US$) were valued at US$14.10 per unit at grant, for a total value of US$331,209. Based on his salary of US$414,000 as of January 1, 2015, this translates into a value of 80% of base salary. See page 84 for details on exchange rate used.

Table of ContentsPerformance stock options

Performance stock options are granted approximately every five years and are both time and performance vested. They provide executives the opportunity to buy Enbridge common shares at the exercise price specified at the time of the grant, as long as share price hurdles are met by a certain date. Hurdles are set before the performance stock options are granted, and are based on growth rates that represent exceptional (top quartile) performance and historical P/E ratio information for the industry.

2012 performance stock option grant

In August 2012, the named executives received performance stock options intended to cover the period of 2012 – 2016, summarized in the table below.

3. Mr. Whelen was not eligible for performance stock options during the 2012 performance stock option grant.

4. Mr. Harper was not yet hired during the 2012 performance stock option grant.

The 2012 performance stock options had a grant price of $39.34. The vesting of performance stock options is contingent on both time and performance vesting provisions. Performance stock options vest in equal annual installments over five years, subject to share price hurdles ($48, $53 and $58 for the 2012 grant) being achieved. The weighted average trading price over a period of 20 consecutive trading days must exceed the share price hurdles in order for the performance condition to be met.

For clarity, the following table further describes the vesting provisions and performance criteria of the 2012 performance stock option grant. The percentage exercisable is the Percentage Performance Vested multiplied by the Percentage Time Vested:

Mr. Harper was granted an initial award of performance stock options in March 2014 in conjunction with his employment with Enbridge as part of his regular long-term incentive compensation. This grant was intended to cover the period from 2014 – 2016, has the same performance period and expiry dates as the performance stock options granted in 2012, and was denominated in CA$.

Consistent with the 2012 performance stock option grant, Mr. Harper's 2014 performance stock options are contingent on both time and performance vesting provisions. However, Mr. Harper's options vest in equal annual installments over four years (instead of five), and are subject to share price hurdles of $53 and $58 (instead of $48, $53 and $58) being achieved. The performance stock option had a grant price of $48.81.

2015 performance stock option grant

There were no performance stock option grants in 2015, as the 2012 grant covers the period from 2012 to 2016.

The 2007 performance stock option grant (which covered the period from 2007 to 2011) expired in August 2015.

Incentive stock options

Incentive stock options provide executives the option to buy Enbridge common shares at some point in the future at the exercise price defined at the time of grant.

Incentive stock options are typically granted in February or March every year to both Canadian and US members of senior management who are eligible to participate in the incentive stock option plan. Options granted to US employees can either be qualified or non-qualified, as defined by the US Internal Revenue Code.

Incentive stock options vest in equal installments over a four-year period. The maximum term of a stock option is 10 years, but the term can be reduced if the executive leaves Enbridge. Please see page 83 for further details.

The exercise price of an incentive stock option is the weighted average trading price of an Enbridge common share on the listed exchange for the last five trading days before the grant date. If the grant date is during a trading blackout period, the grant date will be adjusted to no earlier than the sixth trading day after the trading blackout period ends. Stock options are never backdated or re-priced.

Table of Contents

Incentive stock options may be granted to executives when they join Enbridge, normally effective on the executive's date of hire. If the hire date falls within a blackout period, the grant is delayed until after the end of the blackout period.

The table below shows the incentive stock options granted to each of the named executives in March 2015.

1. Grant date value in CA$.

2. Mr. Whelen received an additional 53,500 incentive stock options in 2015 to compensate for not receiving a 2012 performance stock option grant. Mr. Whelen became eligible for performance stock options upon his promotion in 2014, but since the 2012 performance stock option grant covers the period from 2012 – 2016, he will not receive his first grant of performance stock options until 2017.

3. Mr. Jarvis received an additional 8,510 incentive stock options in 2015 to compensate for his 2012 performance stock option grant, covering the period from 2012 – 2016, being delivered at a lower target than his 2015 target.

4. Mr. Harper was granted US$ denominated incentive stock options in 2015, valued at grant of US$7.10 per option for a total value of US$128,510. Based on his salary of US$414,000 as of January 1, 2015, this translates into a value of 31% of base salary. See page 84 for details on exchange rate used.

Retirement benefits

As of January 1, 2000 (or the time of hire or promotion to a senior management position if after that date) the named executives joined the senior management pension plan, which is a non-contributory defined benefit plan that provides market-competitive retirement income to all senior management employees. Before becoming members of this plan, certain named executives participated in a non-contributory defined benefit or defined contribution pension plan.

Defined benefit plan

The following graphic shows how the retirement benefit payable under the defined benefit pension plan applicable to the named executives is calculated:

Some key terms of the defined benefit plan:

Retirement age: executives can retire with an unreduced pension at age 60, or as early as age 55 if they have 30 years of service. If they have less than 30 years of service, they can still retire as early as age 55, but their retirement benefit is reduced by 3% per year before age 60;

Adjustment for inflation: retirement benefits are indexed at 50% of the annual increase in the consumer price index;

Survivor benefits: the pension is payable for the life of the member. If the member is single at retirement, 15 years of pension payments are guaranteed. If the member is married at retirement and dies before their spouse, 60% of the pension will continue to be paid to the spouse for his/her lifetime; and Flexibility: to attract and retain executives, additional years of credited service or higher pension accruals can be negotiated, subject to approval by the HRC Committee.

Table of Contents2015 summary of defined benefits

The following table outlines estimated annual retirement benefits, accrued pension obligations and compensatory and non-compensatory changes for the named executives under the defined benefit pension plans. All information is based on the assumptions and methods used for the purposes of reporting the company's financial statements and which are described in the company's financial statements.

	Credited service (years)	Annual benefits payable ($)		A	B	C	A+B+C
		At year end	At age 65	Accrued obligation at January 1, 2015 ($)	Compensatory change ¹ ($)	Non-compensatory change ² ($)	Accrued obligation at December 31, 2015 ($)
Al Monaco ³	17.08	619,000	1,034,000	11,459,000	1,643,000	(415,000)	12,687,000
John K. Whelen	18.16	188,000	344,000	4,021,000	190,000	(108,000)	4,103,000
D. Guy Jarvis	15.50	204,000	412,000	3,904,000	246,000	(207,000)	3,943,000
David T. Robottom ⁴	9.58	270,000	349,000	4,343,000	434,000	(106,000)	4,671,000
C. Gregory Harper ⁵	1.92	25,000	233,000	208,000	251,000	48,000	507,000

1. The components of compensatory change are current service cost including special arrangements, if any, and the difference between actual and estimated pensionable earnings.
2. The non-compensatory change includes interest on the accrued obligation at the start of the year, changes in actuarial assumptions and other experience gains and losses not related to compensation.
3. Mr. Monaco participated in the defined benefit pension plan for 1.08 years and in the defined contribution pension plan for 3.00 years prior to January 1, 2000. Mr. Monaco's retirement benefit is calculated using a 2.5% accrual rate for each year of credited service between 2008 and 2013. The higher accrual rate is equivalent to approximately 1.50 years of credited service. Upon Mr. Monaco's appointment to President & Chief Executive Officer, a cap to the annual pension payable of $1,750,000 was implemented.
4. Mr. Robottom's retirement benefit is calculated using a 4.0% accrual rate for each year of credited service from his date of employment. The higher accrual rate is equivalent to approximately 9.58 years of credited service as of December 31, 2015.
5. The impact of changes to exchange rates on Mr. Harper's accrued obligation is reflected in the non-compensatory change. See page 84 for details on the exchange rate used.

Defined contribution plan

The defined contribution pension plan is a non-contributory pension plan. The level of contribution varies, depending on age and years of service.

2015 contributions

None of the named executives are currently participating in the defined contribution pension plan.

Mr. Monaco and Mr. Whelen participated in the defined contribution plan from 1997 to 1999, inclusive. The values shown below reflect the 2015 year end market value of assets for Mr. Monaco s and Mr. Whelen s prior participation in the defined contribution plan.

	Accumulated value at the start of the year	Compensatory change¹	Accumulated value at the end of the year
	($)	($)	($)
Al Monaco	52,231		52,852
John K. Whelen	57,944		56,460

1. The compensatory change is equal to contributions made by the company during 2015.

Other retirement terms

Other retirement provisions impacting executive compensation include:

short-term incentive awards are prorated for the period of active employment in the final year of employment;
 unvested performance stock units are prorated for the period of active employment during the term of the grant. The units continue to mature according to the terms of the performance stock unit plan; performance stock options are prorated for the period of active employment in the five-year period starting January 1 of the year of grant. Executives may exercise these options until the later of three years after retirement or 30 days after the date by which share price targets must be met (or up to the date the option expires, whichever is earlier), as long as the share price targets are met; and unvested incentive stock options continue to vest according to the terms of the stock option plans. Executives may exercise these options up to three years after retirement, or up to the date the option expires (whichever is earlier).

Table of ContentsOther benefits

Enbridge's savings plan, perquisites and benefits plans are key elements of the total compensation package for its named executives.

Savings plan

The savings plan encourages share ownership by matching employee Enbridge common share purchases of up to 2.5% of base salary (5% in the US, subject to limits established by the Internal Revenue Service). In Canada, matching contributions are provided as flex credits which may be used to purchase additional benefits or taken as after tax cash; in the US, matching contributions are invested in the savings plan. The named executives participate in this plan along with all other employees.

Perquisites

The named executives receive an annual perquisite allowance to offset expenses related to their positions. This includes the cost of owning and operating a vehicle, parking and business clubs. These allowance levels are reviewed regularly for competitiveness. The named executives are also reimbursed for a portion of costs for personal financial planning.

Perquisites

	2015 allowance	Financial planning reimbursement
Al Monaco	$ 49,500	50%, up to $10,000
John K. Whelen	$ 35,000	50%, up to $5,000
D. Guy Jarvis	$ 35,000	50%, up to $5,000
David T. Robottom	$ 35,000	50%, up to $5,000
C. Gregory Harper ¹	$ 44,754	50%, up to $5,000

1. Mr. Harper received a 2015 perquisite allowance of US$35,000. See page 84 for details on exchange rate used.

Life and health benefits

Medical, dental, life insurance and disability insurance benefits are available to meet the specific needs of individuals and their families. The named executives participate in the same plan as all other employees. The plans are structured to provide minimum basic coverage with the option of enhanced coverage at a level that is competitive and affordable.

The HRC Committee reviews the retirement and other benefits regularly. These benefits are a key element of a total compensation package and are designed to be competitive and reasonably meet the needs of executives in their current roles.

Compensation changes in 2016

The HRC Committee reviews Enbridge's compensation philosophy and practices every year with assistance from Mercer, to ensure they are appropriate, competitive and continuing to meet intended goals. Based on the annual senior executive compensation benchmarking review conducted by Mercer in the fall of 2015, the following changes are approved to incentive compensation targets for named executives effective January 1, 2016.

	Short-term incentive target	Medium- and long-term incentive target
Al Monaco	from 100% to 110%	from 330% to 400%
John K. Whelen	from 65% to 75%	from 225% to 250%
D. Guy Jarvis	from 65% to 75%	from 225% to 250%
David T. Robottom	no change	no change
C. Gregory Harper	from 60% to 65%	no change

These changes were recommended to attain or maintain the named executives' competitive external positioning.

To better reflect Enbridge's evolving business model, changes have been approved to the Canadian and US peer groups used for executive compensation benchmarking in 2016.

Changes resulting from Financial Optimization Strategy

Compensation program changes were also implemented in conjunction with the financial restructuring of Enbridge's Canadian Liquids Pipelines business that closed on September 1, 2015. Adjustments were made to the short-term incentive plan metric and payout curve and to the performance stock unit plan metrics to maintain alignment between the interests of shareholders and those of executives. Changes were also made to Enbridge's performance peer group used to gauge relative performance for the performance stock unit plan as well as the performance peer group utilized for future grants of MEP performance stock units. All of these changes are effective January 1, 2016.

Table of Contents

Short-term incentive plan changes

The sole financial metric used to assess performance of the Enbridge (corporate) component has been adjusted EPS versus Enbridge's external guidance range. With the completion of the financial restructuring, Enbridge's focus moves from EPS to ACFFO per share. ACFFO is a better measure of financial performance as it enhances the transparency of Enbridge's cash flow growth, increases comparability of results relative to peers, and will help ensure full value recognition for Enbridge's superior assets, growth and commercial arrangements.

Enbridge's threshold performance anchor (0.5x) will be based on the ACFFO per share external guidance range at the minimum, while target (1.0x) and maximum (2.0x) performance anchors—and indirectly all other points along the payout curve—will be a blend of the guidance range and the range of average to exceptional industry ACFFO per share growth.

The below chart illustrates the short-term incentive plan design being implemented in 2016.

Performance stock unit changes

Consistent with the focus on ACFFO driven by the financial restructuring, Enbridge has revised the metrics used to assess performance under the performance stock unit plan. Beginning with the 2016 grant, the two metrics in the performance stock unit plan (each weighted 50%) will be:

- i. ACFFO per share performance over the three-year term versus absolute targets established at the time of grant;
- ii. risk-adjusted total shareholder return (risk-adjusted TSR)—defined as total shareholder return divided by volatility over the period—relative to Enbridge's performance peers. Enbridge strongly believes risk-adjusted TSR resonates with the investor value proposition of strong, consistent returns over the long term.

As part of its ongoing assessment, Enbridge will continue to review compensation programs during the course of 2016. Any changes will be brought forward to the HRC Committee and the Board, as applicable, for approval. Any approved changes would come into effect in 2017 at the earliest.

Total direct compensation for named executives

The profiles for each named executive provide:

- a summary of individual accomplishments in 2015;
- 2015 actual pay mix;
- a summary of the total direct compensation over the prior three-year period; and
- short-term incentive performance details.

1. Performance / restricted stock unit plan (see page 59).

The value of the performance stock units and restricted stock units appearing in the Summary Compensation Table above are determined by multiplying the number of performance and restricted stock units granted by the unit values in the table below:

Enbridge PSUs/RSUs	CA$	US$	MEP PSUs	US$
2015	$56.99	$49.87	2015	$14.10
2014	$44.30	$41.65	2014	n/a
2013	$41.69	$42.27	2013	n/a

The unit value is the volume weighted average of an Enbridge share on the TSX or the NYSE for the last 20 trading days before the grant date. For compensation reporting, the grant date fair value is used. Upon his hire in January 2014, Mr. Harper was granted 12,400 non-performance-based restricted stock units with value at grant of CA$549,152 (US$516,460). See page 84 for the applicable exchange rates.

2. Performance stock option plan (see page 62).

Performance stock options are granted approximately once every five years. The Black-Scholes method is used to determine the performance stock option value, which is then discounted using a Monte Carlo simulation to reflect the Enbridge common share price targets that must be met for the performance stock options to vest. All performance stock options were granted in CA$. The inputs to the Black-Scholes model and the performance discount are presented in the table below:

Assumptions	2014 grant date fair value / accounting value (Mr. Harper)	2012 grant date fair value / accounting value
Expected option term in years	6.5	8
Expected volatility	15.00%	16.10%
Expected dividend yield	2.80%	2.80%
Risk free interest rate	1.70%	1.60%
Exercise price	$ 48.81	$ 39.34
Performance discount	8.5%	11.4%
Performance option value	$ 5.77	$ 4.25

The value of the performance stock options appearing in the Summary Compensation Table above are determined by multiplying the number of performance options granted by the performance option value.

Table of Contents3. Incentive stock option plan (see page 63).

Incentive stock options are granted annually. The Black-Scholes method is used to determine the stock option valuation. The inputs to the Black-Scholes model for CA$ options, as well as the 2014 and 2015 US$ option values granted to Mr. Harper are presented in the table below:

	March 2015	March 2015	March 2014	March 2014	February 2013
	(CA$)	(US$)	(CA$)	(US$)	(CA$)
Assumptions	Grant date fair value and accounting value
Expected option term in years	6 years	6 years	6 years	6 years	6 years
Expected volatility	19.46%	22.36%	17.07%	20.07%	16.78%
Expected dividend yield	3.20%	3.20%	2.87%	2.87%	2.77%
Risk free interest rate	0.87%	1.87%	1.76%	1.90%	1.34%
Exercise price	$ 59.08	$ 47.41	$ 48.81	$ 44.09	$ 44.83
Option value	$ 6.64	$ 7.10	$ 6.03	$ 6.68	$ 5.45

The value of the incentive stock option granted is determined by multiplying the number of incentive stock options granted by the stock option value. See page 84 for the applicable exchange rates.

4. Non-equity (annual incentive plan) (see page 54).

Amounts in this column reflect the short-term incentive plan awards earned in 2015 and paid on February 26, 2016. Awards are based on corporate, business unit and individual performance. Particulars on the short-term incentive awards calculations for each named executive officer are set forth starting on page 68 of this circular. There are no long-term non-equity incentive plans within the compensation programs.

5. Retirement benefits (see page 64).

The pension values are equal to the compensatory change shown in the defined benefit plan table.

6. Other benefits (see page 66).

Amounts in this column include the annual perquisite allowance, excess flexible benefit credits paid to the executive, parking, relocation subsidies, medical expenses, financial counseling benefits and other incidental compensation. Mr. Harper's other compensation in 2015 includes a cash payment of CA$80,558 (US$63,000) in respect of long-term incentives from a former employer forfeit upon joining Enbridge. Mr. Harper's other compensation in 2014 includes a cash signing bonus of CA$409,109 (US$370,000).

7. Mr. Harper's 2014 STIP is valued here using an exchange rate as of December 31, 2014 rather than the 2014 average exchange rate that was used in last year's disclosure. See page 84 for the applicable exchange rates.

Table of ContentsExecutive compensation and shareholder return

The chart below shows the value of a $100 investment made January 1, 2011 in both Enbridge common shares and the S&P/TSX Composite Index, at the end of each of the last five years (assuming reinvestment of dividends throughout the term). It also shows the growth in average total compensation for the named executives reported in the Summary Compensation Table over the same period. Average total compensation is taken by dividing total compensation from the Summary Compensation Table by the number of named executives in any given year.

Total return vs. growth in total compensationBased on a notional $100 investment January 1, 2011

	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015
As at December 31	$	$	$	$	$
Enbridge Inc. total return (base = 100)	140	162	180	238	190

Total compensation of named executives (CA$ millions) ¹	$ 16.3	$ 40.5	$ 15.5	$ 20.3	$ 18.2
Annualized total compensation of named executives (CA$ millions) ²	$ 19.0	$ 30.9	$ 18.2	$ 22.2	$ 21.0
Number of named executives	5	6	5	6	5
Average annualized total compensation	$ 3.8	$ 5.1	$ 3.6	$ 3.7	$ 4.2
Growth in total compensation (base = 100)	91	123	88	89	101

1. Includes total compensation disclosed in previous management information circulars for the named executives in those years. Total compensation includes base salary, short-term and longer-term incentives (grant date fair value), annual pension value and all other compensation. Performance stock options are fully reflected in year of grant.

2. Annualized total compensation reflects the value of performance stock options spread over the period they are intended to cover, rather than reflecting the value fully in the year granted.

The total return on Enbridge common shares has been positive in 2011 to 2014 (with a negative return in 2015), while on a normalized basis, aggregate compensation paid to the named executives has largely remained flat over the same period. The spike in average annualized total compensation in 2012 was due to the five-year performance stock option grant in that year which is intended to reward executives for performance over a five-year period, despite being granted in a single year.

1. Calculated using the closing Enbridge common share price on December 31, 2015 (CA$46.00 and US$33.19). Where applicable, the number of options or units and the option exercise prices have been adjusted consistent with the May 2011 Enbridge stock split.
2. Incentive stock options are subject to time vesting conditions. Performance stock options are subject to time and performance vesting conditions. See pages 62 and 63 for details.
3. The market value of performance stock units and restricted stock units that have not vested was calculated using the formula set forth on page 59, and the closing Enbridge common share price on December 31, 2015 (CA$46.00 and US$33.19). Restricted stock units are similar to performance stock units except they do not contain a performance multiplier and vest after 35 months instead of 36 months.
4. A performance multiplier of 1.0x has been used (performance stock units only), based on achieving the Target Performance Level as defined in the plan.
5. This is a reflection of the payout value of the 2013 performance stock unit grant, which vested on December 31, 2015 but will not be paid until March 2016. A performance multiplier of 2.00x is used. See page 60 for details.
6. The exercise price for Mr. Harper's option-based awards expiring March 2, 2025 and March 13, 2024 are listed in $US. The value of in-the-money unexercised options has been converted to CA$. See page 84 for the applicable exchange rate used. The market value of Mr. Harper's 26,255 MEP performance stock units that mature December 31, 2017 was calculated using the closing MEP unit price on December 31, 2015 (US$9.72).

Additional stock option informationEnbridge common shares used for purposes of equity compensation

Options are granted to employees of Enbridge under the current stock options plans, which were approved by Enbridge shareholders in 2007, as follows:

the incentive stock option plan (2007), as amended and restated (2011 and 2014); and the performance stock option plan (2007), as amended and restated (2011) and further amended (2012 and 2014). Before these plans were approved, stock options and performance stocks options were issued under the legacy incentive stock option plan (2002). While options are no longer granted under the legacy 2002 stock option plan, there are still some options outstanding.

Making changes to the stock option plans

The Board or the HRC Committee may make the following adjustments to the options or to the common shares that can be issued under the stock option plans upon the occurrence of certain events, including the payment of a stock dividend or a restructuring of the share capital:

increase or decrease the number or change the kind of shares reserved under the stock option plans or that can be issued when outstanding options are exercised;
increase or decrease the option grant price per Enbridge share;
make changes to how installments of options vest and can be exercised; and adjust the number of shares available under the stock option plans, the option price per Enbridge share and the option period.

The Board may also change the stock option plans, in whole or in part, as long as securities regulators approve the changes; however, Enbridge shareholders must also approve the following changes:

changing the number of common shares that can be issued under the stock option plans;
removing or exceeding the insider participation limit;
extending the term of an option;
allowing someone who is not a permanent employee to participate in the stock option plans;
changing the rules related to transferring or assigning options; and changing the amendment provisions of the stock option plans.

2015 changes

There were no changes to the stock option plans in 2015.

Table of ContentsTermination provisions of stock option plans

The termination provisions for the incentive stock options are summarized below.

Reason for termination	Provision¹
Resignation	Can exercise vested options up to 30 days from the date of termination or until the option term expires (if sooner).
Retirement	Incentive stock options continue to vest. Vested options can be exercised up to three years from retirement or until the stock option term expires (if sooner). Conditions for performance stock options are mentioned below.
Death	All options vest and can be exercised up to 12 months from the date of death or until the option term expires (if sooner).
Disability	Current stock option plans: Options continue to vest based on the regular provisions of the plan. Legacy stock option plan: Vested options can be exercised up to three years from the date of disability or until the option term expires (if sooner).
Termination	Current stock option plans: Unvested options continue to vest during the notice period, and options that are vested or become vested can be exercised up to 30 days after the notice period expires or until the option term expires (if sooner).
- involuntary, not for cause	Legacy stock option plan: Vested options can be exercised up to 30 days from the date of termination or until the option term expires (if sooner).
- involuntary, for cause	Current stock option plans: All options are cancelled on the date of termination.
- change of control or reorganization	Legacy stock option plan: Vested options can be exercised up to 30 days from the date of termination or until the option term expires (if sooner). Current stock option plans: For a change of control, options vest on a date determined by the HRC Committee before the change of control. For any other kind of reorganization, options are to be assumed by the successor company. If they are not assumed, they will vest and the value will be paid in cash.
Other transfer or assignment of stock options	Legacy stock option plan: Options will be assumed by the successor company. If they are not assumed, they will vest and the value will be paid in cash. The holder of an option may not transfer or assign it other than by will, or as allowed by the laws of descent and distribution.

1. Differences in termination provisions apply for US$ options where the executive has elected treatment as incentive stock options within the meaning of US Internal Revenue Code Section 422.

Performance stock options have the same termination provisions as the incentive stock options except for the following differences:

for retirement, performance stock options are prorated for the period of active employment in the five-year period starting January 1 of the year of grant. These options can be exercised until the later of three years after retirement, or 30 days after the date by which the share price targets must be met (or the date the option expires, if earlier), as long as the share price targets are met;

for death, unvested performance stock options are prorated and the plan assumes performance requirements have been met;

for involuntary termination not-for-cause, unvested performance stock options are prorated; and for change of control, the plan assumes the performance requirements have been met.

Compensation governance

Enbridge's compensation governance structure consists of the Board and the HRC Committee, with Mercer providing independent advisory support. The governance structure is reviewed annually against best practices and regulatory guidance.

Board and HRC Committee

The Board is responsible for the oversight of the compensation principles and programs at Enbridge. The HRC Committee approves major compensation programs and payouts, including reviewing and recommending the compensation for the President & Chief Executive Officer to the Board. The HRC Committee also approves the compensation for the other named executives.

The HRC Committee assists the Board in carrying out its responsibilities with respect to compensation matters by providing oversight and direction on human resources strategy, policies and programs for the named executives, senior management and the broader employee base, including compensation, equity incentive plans, pension and benefits as well as talent management, succession planning, workforce recruitment and retention. The HRC Committee provides oversight regarding the management of broader people-related risk and, in addition, specifically reviews the compensation programs from a risk perspective.

All members of the HRC Committee are independent under the independence standard discussed in this circular.

The members of the HRC Committee are Catherine L. Williams (chair), Charles W. Fischer, V. Maureen Kempston Darkes and Marcel R. Coutu.

For information on their Board committee participation, please refer to page 17 of this circular.

Table of ContentsIndependent advice

The Enbridge Board of Directors has voluntarily chosen to comply with the revised listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange that were approved by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission in January, 2013 regarding compensation committees, including standards as to compensation advisors and compensation committee independence. As such, the HRC Committee is directly responsible for the appointment, compensation and oversight of the work of any compensation consultants, outside legal counsel or other advisors (each, an Advisor) it retains. The HRC Committee may select or receive advice from an Advisor only after taking into consideration all factors relevant to the Advisor's independence from management including:

- the provision of other services to Enbridge by the Advisor;
- the amount of fees received from Enbridge by the Advisor as a percentage of the Advisor's total revenue;
- the policies and procedures of the Advisor that are designed to prevent conflicts of interest;
- any common shares owned by the Advisor; and
- any business or personal relationship of the Advisor with a member of the HRC Committee or with an executive officer at Enbridge.

Although the HRC Committee is required to consider these factors, it is free to select or receive advice from an Advisor that is not independent.

Since 2002, Mercer, an independent Advisor, has provided guidance to the HRC Committee on compensation matters to ensure Enbridge's programs are appropriate, market competitive and continue to meet intended goals. Advisory services include reviewing:

- the competitiveness and appropriateness of executive compensation programs;
- annual total direct compensation for the President & Chief Executive Officer and the Executive Leadership Team;
- executive compensation governance; and
- the HRC Committee's mandate and related Board committee processes.

While the HRC Committee considers the information and recommendations Mercer provides, it has full responsibility for its own decisions, which may reflect other factors and considerations.

The HRC Committee chair reviews and approves the terms of engagement with Mercer every year. The terms specify the work to be done in the year, Mercer's responsibilities and its fees. Management can also retain Mercer on compensation matters from time to time or for prescribed compensation services. The chair of the HRC Committee must, however, approve all services that are not standard in nature, taking into account whether or not the work would compromise Mercer's independence.

Management and the HRC Committee engaged Mercer in 2015 to provide analysis and advice on various compensation matters. The following table provides a breakdown of services provided by and fees paid to Mercer and its affiliates (a significant portion of which relate to risk brokerage service fees paid to Marsh Inc., a Mercer affiliate) by Enbridge and its affiliates in 2015 and 2014:

Nature of work	Approximate fees 2015 ($)	Approximate fees 2014 ($)
-----------------------	-----------------------------------	-----------------------------------

Executive compensation-related fees ¹	557,811	318,648
All other fees ²	2,733,507	3,900,098
Total	3,291,318	4,218,746

1. Includes all fees related to executive compensation associated with the President & Chief Executive Officer and the Executive Leadership Team.
 2. Includes fees paid for other compensation matters that apply to Enbridge as a whole, such as pension actuarial valuations, renewal and pricing of benefit plans, evaluation of geographic market differences and regulatory proceedings support. Also includes non-compensation risk brokerage service fees ($405,192 in 2015 and $1,903,343 in 2014) paid to Marsh for services provided to our operating affiliates.
- Compensation services received by Enbridge from Advisors are not sole-sourced from one provider; each situation and need is assessed independently, and other providers are used depending on the nature of the service required, and the qualifications of the provider. In 2015, Enbridge did not engage the services of other compensation consultants.

Advisory say on pay vote

While non-binding, the annual advisory vote on Enbridge's executive compensation provides a key line of sight into how Enbridge shareholders view the reasonableness and performance of Enbridge's executive compensation programs. The strong shareholder support for these programs (continually in excess of 90% approval) is taken as a vote of confidence in the appropriateness of the programs.

The approval rates for the prior three say on pay votes (as a percentage of shares voted) are given below.

Say on pay vote	2013	2014	2015
Votes in favour	94%	96%	96%

Table of Contents

Compensation risk management

The HRC Committee oversees Enbridge's compensation programs from the perspective of whether the programs encourage individuals to take inappropriate or excessive risks that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse impact on Enbridge.

Enbridge annually conducts a comprehensive compensation risk assessment. This evaluation covers program design, governance (oversight and decision-making), policy alignment and best practice incorporation. Mercer provided input into the design of the assessment, reviewed management's conclusions and provided its opinion to the HRC Committee in support of the conclusions reached by management.

Compensation risk mitigation practices

Enbridge uses the following compensation practices to mitigate risk:

- a pay for performance philosophy that is embedded in the compensation design;
- a mix of pay programs benchmarked against a relevant peer group in terms of both relative proportion and prevalence;
- a rigorous approach to goal setting and a process of establishing targets with multiple levels of performance, which mitigate excessive risk-taking that could harm Enbridge's value or reward poor judgment of executives;
- compensation programs that include a combination of short-, medium- and long-term elements that ensure executives are incented to consider both the immediate and long-term implications of their decisions;
- program provisions where executives are compensated for their short-term performance using a combination of safety, system reliability, environmental, financial and customer and employee metrics that ensure a balanced perspective and are a mix of both leading (proactive/preventative) and lagging (incident based) indicators;
- performance thresholds that include both minimum and maximum payouts;
- stock award programs that vest over multiple years and are aligned with overall corporate performance that drives superior value to Enbridge shareholders;
- share ownership guidelines that ensure executives have a meaningful equity stake in Enbridge to align their interests with those of Enbridge shareholders;
- an anti-hedging policy to prevent activities that would weaken the intended pay for performance link and alignment with Enbridge shareholders' interests; and
- an incentive compensation clawback policy that allows Enbridge to recoup over-payments made to executives in the event of fraudulent or willful misconduct.

The HRC Committee has considered the concept of risk as it relates to the compensation programs and has concluded that the programs do not encourage excessive or inappropriate risk taking and are aligned with the long-term interests of shareholders.

Share ownership

It is important for all Enbridge officers, including the named executives, to have a meaningful equity stake in Enbridge. Owning Enbridge common shares is a tangible way to align the interests of executives with those of Enbridge shareholders.

Target share ownership is a multiple of base salary, depending on position level, and executives are required to meet and maintain the target within four years of being appointed to the position. Executives can acquire Enbridge common shares by participating in the employee savings plan, exercising stock options or by making personal investments in Enbridge common shares. Personal holdings, and Enbridge common shares held in the name of a spouse, dependent child or trust, all count toward meeting the guidelines. Investments in Enbridge affiliates, as well as performance stock units, restricted stock units and unexercised stock options do not count toward meeting the guidelines (resulting in a more stringent threshold than typical practice).

Target and actual share ownership as of December 31, 2015

1. Mr. Harper has until January 30, 2018 (four years from his date of appointment on January 30, 2014) to meet share ownership requirements.

Table of ContentsHedging policy

Enbridge's insider trading and reporting guidelines, among other things, prohibit directors, officers, employees and contractors (of Enbridge and its subsidiaries) from purchasing financial instruments that are designed to hedge or offset a decrease in market value of equity securities granted as compensation or held by the named executive officer, as such positions delink the intended alignment of employee and shareholder interests. The following activities are specifically prohibited:

- any form of hedging activity;
- any form of transaction involving stock options (other than exercising options in accordance with the plans);
- any other form of derivative trading (including puts and calls); and
- short selling (selling securities that the individual does not own).

Clawback policy

The incentive compensation clawback policy allows Enbridge to recover, from current and former executives, certain incentive compensation amounts awarded or paid to individuals if the individuals engaged in fraud or willful misconduct that led to inaccurate financial results reporting, regardless of whether the misconduct resulted in a restatement of all or a part of Enbridge's financial statements.

Termination of employment and change of control arrangementsEmployment agreements

Enbridge has entered into employment agreements with each of the named executives. The terms in the agreements are competitive and part of a comprehensive compensation package that assists in recruiting and retaining top executive talent.

The agreements generally provide payments for executives in the case of involuntary termination for any reason (other than for cause) or voluntary termination within 150 days after constructive dismissal, as defined in each agreement.

Enbridge's employment agreement policy specifies only double trigger voluntary termination rights in favour of an executive following a change of control event. The agreements with all named executives reflect this position.

Other restrictive covenants include:

Executive	Confidentiality provision	Non-competition/solicitation	No recruitment
Al Monaco	2 years after departure	1 year after departure	2 years after departure
John K. Whelen	2 years after departure	1 year after departure	2 years after departure

1. Mr. Harper's agreement does not provide an end date to enforcement of the confidentiality provision.

4. Loans to directors and senior officers

No current or former directors or officers of Enbridge or any of our subsidiaries, or their associates, had any loans with Enbridge or any of our subsidiaries at any time in 2015, other than routine indebtedness previously outstanding as defined under Canadian securities laws.

This routine indebtedness consists solely of loans for relocating to another business location or incentive loans offered to new hires. We offered these types of loans to some officers in the past.

We have not granted, renewed or extended any loans to our directors and officers since Sarbanes-Oxley was enacted on July 30, 2002.

5. Directors and officers liability insurance

We have liability insurance for our directors and officers and those of our subsidiaries, to protect them against liabilities they may incur in their capacity as directors and officers. The Canada Business Corporations Act contains provisions regarding directors and officers liability coverage. We also review our coverage program on an annual basis, including benchmarking the level of directors and officers liability coverage to other energy and peer sized companies.

We maintain a coverage limit of US$290 million, which is subject to a deductible of US$1 million for each claim that we grant indemnification for. The insurance program renews annually on October 30 and the premium we paid for the current coverage year is approximately US$2.28 million net of applicable premium taxes.

Appendix A Shareholder Proposal

In this appendix, you and your mean holders of Enbridge common shares. We, us, our, company and Enbridge mean Enbridge Inc. Board or Board of Directors means the Board of Directors of Enbridge Inc.

Background

Qube Investment Management Inc. (Qube), on behalf of its clients, has submitted a shareholder proposal (the Qube Proposal) to be considered at our 2016 annual meeting of shareholders. The Qube Proposal, substantially in the form it was submitted to us, including supporting comments, is set out in italics below.

For the reasons set forth below under Management's Response, the Board and management recommend that shareholders vote AGAINST the Qube Proposal.

Shareholder Proposal

PROPOSAL Request for Proposals for the Audit Engagement

RESOLVED That the Board of Directors shall require that the Audit Committee will request proposals for the Audit Engagement no less than every 8 years.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

While the concept of the auditor rotation is less common in North America, the European Union has moved forward with audit rotation rules and regulations. Some European countries, including Holland, have adopted even more assertive audit rotation measures than the EU. The annual audit provides the public with additional assurance (beyond management's own assertions) that a company's financial statements can be relied upon. This has important implications for investors, on their comfort level when making investment decisions and the return they expect on their capital. We have been unable to confirm a change in the audit partner at Enbridge since 1992.

It has been reported that over a third of the companies in the Russell 1000 index have auditors holding their position for more than 20 years. Qube Investment Management believes that excessive tenure creates potential conflict of interest that is not in the shareholder's best interest. Over time, there is risk that the auditor will become conflicted maintaining a good relationship with the client (management) while working to fulfill the duty to rigorously question the corporate financial statements on behalf of shareholders.

Opponents to audit rotation assert that audit quality could be temporarily compromised due to the disruption of an auditor change. According to Eumedion (a European Corporate Governance Forum), this has not been the general experience in Europe. In fact, the opposite was found, with a number of companies postponing annual reports, reportedly due to the severity of the new external auditor. Further, Qube Investment Management believes a regular and formal RFP will ensure the audit committee is fully and openly assessing the quality of the incumbent audit firm.

Some fear that first-year audit fees could escalate by as much as 20% under a policy of mandatory rotation. In Europe, it has been reported that the majority of listed companies experienced a material decrease in audit costs after rotation, due to free market forces in the competitive bid process. Qube Investment Management further believes that these free market forces could inspire mid-tier accounting firms to grow and enter the audit market.

Having the audit committee issue a regular request for proposal on the audit engagement is a compromise to a forced rotation. It continues to empower the audit committee, but asks them to perform a genuine cost/benefit analysis on a potential change in auditor. The audit committee decides if a rotation brings benefit that outweighs cost. It is our belief that competitive market forces will prevail, audit fees will reduce (or at least hold constant), while valuable governance and oversight will increase.

Such regular market competition for the audit engagement will also increase share value by increasing long-term audit quality, without an unjustified increase in audit cost. Increased audit quality will increase investor confidence, making shares more valuable.

Management's Response

The Board of Directors recommends that shareholders vote AGAINST the Qube Proposal.

The Board of Directors and its Audit, Finance and Risk Committee (AF&RC) have concluded that the governance procedures and professional standards currently in place provide the necessary checks and balances required to ensure the ongoing independence of the company's external auditor, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP (PwC), and the reliability of the company's financial statements.

The concept of auditor rotation is not widely adopted in North America and the recommendations contained in the report entitled Enhancing Audit Quality (Report) published jointly by the Canadian Public Accountability Board and the Chartered Professional Accountants (CPA) Canada did not support either the mandatory rotation of auditing firms or mandatory tendering. While the

Competition and Markets Authority (formerly the Competition Commission) in the United Kingdom believes that requiring companies to put their audits out to tender on a regular basis will encourage competition among audit firms, several potential disadvantages to this practice have also been identified by regulators and commentators, including:

a focus on fees, rather than audit quality;

a loss of knowledge base and expertise specific to the company's business, which could increase costs, eliminate efficiencies and disrupt the company during the auditor onboarding process;

the potential for the company to be compelled, due to the imposition of an arbitrary time frame, to undertake a tendering process at a time when a change in auditor may not be in the best interests of the company or its shareholders; and for large, complex public companies, the choice of external auditor may be limited to the four major North American audit firms possessing the expertise and infrastructure necessary to complete the audit, with that small pool potentially reduced further due to, among other things, possible conflicts arising from the provision of ongoing non-audit services.

While the Qube Proposal suggests that the imposition of a mandatory tendering process no less than every eight years is a compromise to a forced auditor rotation (which has been rejected by the Competition and Markets Authority in the United Kingdom), the Board of Directors believes that the end result could ultimately be the same as the AF&RC may be pressured to change auditor just to demonstrate that the process was effective, rather than focusing on the performance and independence of the incumbent auditor. In addition, it is always open to the AF&RC to conduct a tender process for the audit function if it thinks it necessary or appropriate. The Board of Directors believes that having in place a robust internal governance process over the external auditor, in addition to the professional obligations and standards imposed upon them by the applicable regulating bodies, is both adequate and effective in maintaining audit quality and establishing auditor independence.

To ensure proper governance and oversight, the AF&RC conducts a review of the company's audit firm on an annual basis and makes a recommendation to the Board of Directors which, in turn, makes its recommendation to the company's shareholders regarding the appointment of the external auditor for the upcoming year. In order to formulate its recommendation to the Board, the AF&RC carefully reviews the annual audit plan, the scope of work to be provided, the reasonableness of proposed fees, and the qualifications, independence, expertise and performance of the external auditor. During this process, the AF&RC establishes that the relationship the auditor has with the company in no way conflicts with the auditor's ability to question the corporate financial statements on behalf of the shareholders, that those financial statements can be relied upon and that costs are being properly contained.

In addition, when examining the quarterly and annual financial statements, the AF&RC meets with management, the external auditor and the internal auditor both independently and together. This facilitates the AF&RC's monitoring of the audit plan execution with emphasis on materially complex and risky areas of the audit as well as ongoing evaluation of the external auditor, including their independence.

The AF&RC also ensures that the lead audit partner is replaced after five consecutive years in accordance with applicable professional and regulatory requirements. The company's lead audit partner was last replaced in 2014.

The Board of Directors does not favor mandatory auditor rotation or tendering and believes that the AF&RC should, with the support of the company's shareholders each year, retain control over the engagement and term of the external auditors. This approach is consistent with, and supported by, the recommendations contained in the Report. The AF&RC will continue to closely monitor any regulatory developments and assess the performance and independence of the external auditor through our high standards in this area of governance.
