MATERIAL FACT

PERDIGÃO AND SADIA SIGN AN APRO AGREEMENT WITH CADE

The Administrative Council for Economic Defense (the Brazilian anti-trust authority) CADE, signed July 7, a Transaction Reversibility Preservation Agreement (APRO) with Perdigão and Sadia in respect of the Association Agreement between the two companies.

This Agreement follows negotiations between the companies and CADE, the purpose being to ensure the reversibility of the Association Agreement until a final ruling from the anti-trust authority. The APRO provides for measures to preserve continued competition between the companies while the effects of a future merger are still being examined.

The Agreement does not prevent the business condition, it is only intended to ensure that certain actions will not become effective until a final decision is made by this authority.
