Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

Altair Nanotechnologies Inc. and its indirect operating subsidiary, Altairnano, Inc., (collectively, "Altair") recently became aware of newspaper articles and other publications (collectively, the "Disclosures") that have been published, primarily in China, concerning Altair's plan to build an LTO (lithium titanate) plant in the city of Wu'an in Hebei Province in China and to engage in related transactions. Certain of the Disclosures also include revenue, profit, investment, cost or other projections. Altair has announced that it intends to establish a near term sales presence in China by establishing a Wholly Foreign Owned Enterprise (a "WFOE") in China and, over time, to develop a manufacturing presence there. Representatives of Altair or its affiliates have had positive meetings with government officials in Wu'an with respect to the possibility of Altair's WFOE or an affiliate establishing operations in Wu'an. However, at this time, Altair has not committed to any specific LTO manufacturing or other related projects in China, nor has it made any revenue, profit, investment, cost or other projections for the China market. Altair is optimistic about its opportunities in China and affirms its intent to timely announce any significant developments or commitments in the China market.
