FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GOVERNMENT OF SPAIN GRANTS CONCESSION FOR FREE-TO-AIR TELEVISION
CHANNEL TO CONSORTIUM IN WHICH TELEVISIVA PARTICIPATES

Mexico City, November 28, 2005--Grupo Televisa, S.A. ("Televisa"; NYSE:TV; BMV:TLEVISA CPO), today announced that the government of Spain has granted a concession for a free-to-air television channel to the consortium formed by Televisa and Grupo Audiovisual de Medios de Produccion ("GAMP").
Televisa holds a 40 percent participation interest in the consortium, and GAMP holds a 60 percent interest.

GAMP is formed by the Spanish production companies Grupo Arbol, Mediapro, Drive, El Terrat, and Baint. Grupo Arbol and Mediapro are the leading suppliers of prime-time content and provide production services for free-to-air television channels in Spain. Their primary activities include content production for television, movies, and pay-television channels; the purchase of transmission rights to sporting events and movies; digital production and technical services; and consulting. These two companies which are in an integration process will form the largest television content production company in Spain and second largest in Europe.

Televisa and the partners of GAMP will utilize their vast experience in the audiovisual and media industries and in developing high-quality television content to operate a creative, innovative, and complementary network in Spain's television market. The new channel will incorporate the latest technologies to offer viewers most advanced interactive services available through digital television.

This transaction is subject to execution of definitive documentation, closing conditions, and obtaining any applicable regulatory approvals.

Grupo Televisa, S.A. is the largest media company in the Spanish-speaking world and a major participant in the international entertainment business. It has interests in television production and broadcasting, production of pay television networks, international distribution of television programming, direct-to-home satellite services, publishing and publishing distribution, cable television, radio production and broadcasting, professional sports and live entertainment, feature film production and distribution, and the operation of a horizontal internet portal. Grupo Televisa also owns an unconsolidated equity stake in Univision, the leading Spanish-language media company in the United States.
