May 15, 2008

Dear Shareholders:

It is our pleasure on behalf of the Board of Directors to present the Semi-Annual Report for The Japan Equity Fund, Inc. (the Fund) for the six months ended April 30, 2008.

Performance Review

Table 1. Net Asset Value ( NAV ) performance in comparison to the benchmark (TOPIX), U.S. Dollar ( USD ) base

	Latest Six Months (Nov 07 - April 08) %
JEQ (NAV)	7.95
Benchmark (TOPIX)	7.57
Underperformance	0.38

Table 2. Equity Only performance in comparison to the benchmark (TOPIX), Japanese Yen ( JPY ) base

Underperformance	0.77

Comment

During the period from November 2007 to April 2008, the NAV of the Fund decreased by 7.95% in USD terms, while the benchmark (TOPIX) fell by 7.57% in USD terms over the same period. The Fund underperformed the benchmark by 0.38%. In JPY terms, the performance of the Fund (excluding expenses and not accounting for cash on-hand) was 16.03%, whereas the TOPIX declined by 15.26%.

Relative to the TOPIX, the sector selection effect was 1.59%, while the stock selection effect contributed +0.82% (see Table 3). As shown in Table 4, overweight positions in the machinery, nonferrous metals and transportation equipment sectors and an underweight position in the food sector were among the primary contributors to the negative sector selection effect. With increasing uncertainty in the global economy and financial markets, defensive sectors including foods performed relatively well, whereas cyclical names performed much poorer, as fears of a U.S. recession and turmoil in the financial markets spread.

Stock selection in the transportation equipment, retail trade and chemical sectors contributed positively, although they were partially offset by negative contributions from electrical appliances and real estate stocks. Major positive contributors during the period were Sumitomo Trust & Banking (banks) and Seven & I Holdings (retail trade), while Nomura Research Institute (information & communications), Makita (machinery) and Tokyo Tatemono (real estate) contributed negatively. Among benchmark stocks, the lack of any holdings of Sumitomo Mitsui FG (banks) had a negative impact. Sumitomo Trust rebounded sharply from mid-March, as fears of U.S. sub-prime related losses eased. Seven & I Holdings performed relatively well, as investors expected private brand developments and cost reductions to support a fiscal year 2008 earnings rebound from the depressed fiscal year 2007 levels. Nomura Research Institute declined after the IT service company announced lackluster results for fiscal year 2007 and a poor profit outlook for fiscal year 2008. Makita declined amid concerns of a slowing global economy as well as negative foreign exchange movements; however, demand for its electric power tools remained healthy, particularly in emerging countries. Tokyo Tatemono and other real estate companies were hit hard by concerns over declining condominium sales and reportedly tougher bank lending standards within the industry.

Market Review (November 2007 – April 2008)

The Tokyo market continued to struggle towards the end of 2007 and through the early part of 2008, as worsening U.S. sub-prime related issues, fears of a U.S. recession and its potential negative impact on the global economy, the JPY's appreciation against the USD, and a deteriorating domestic political situation were all digested by the market. On March 17, 2008, the TOPIX fell below the 1,150 level, its lowest point in more than two and a half years. On the heels of this steep decline, the market rebounded sharply following a series of unprecedented steps undertaken to ease the tension in the financial markets, including the near bail out of U.S. brokerage firm, Bear Stearns, aggressive liquidity injections by the Federal Reserve Bank and announcements of capital raising measures by several U.S. and European financial institutions. Better than expected U.S. macro-economic data and the USD's appreciation versus the JPY also helped lift the stock market higher. One encouraging development has been the market's resiliency in the face of negative earnings guidance and estimates. Most likely, the market has considerably discounted a cautious profit outlook for the year ending March 2009, and an appetite for risk is gradually returning to the market.

Outlook

After a rebound of nearly 20% from the March lows, the Fund's Investment Manager expects the market to consolidate going forward, looking for clues as to the direction of external economies, particularly that of the United States.

(1) Extreme undervaluation corrected

The negative yield spread (10-year Japanese Government Bond ( JGB ) yield minus equity dividend yield) has corrected and is currently flat, as the 10-year JGB yield shot up to between 1.6% and 1.7%, equaling the current dividend yield level. This is a possible indication that financial market valuations have normalized, and could signal the end of the recent financial stress in the markets. The average price-earnings ( P/E ) of the Tokyo market has risen to 17 times earnings due to the market rebound together with downward revisions to earnings estimates, making stocks reasonable, but not particularly attractive, from a valuation standpoint.

(2) Negative profit guidance, possibly suggesting upward earnings revisions

A number of major companies, including those in the technology, auto and steel sectors, have issued negative profit guidance for the year ending March 2009. As 40% of listed companies close their books at March end, the aggregate recurring profits of these 629 companies (excluding financials) increased by 1.8% in the year ended March 2008 and, according to Nikkei, are estimated by management to fall 6.5% in the year ending March 2009. Manufacturers predict a 12% decline in recurring profits, led by auto and steel companies, while non-manufacturers, led by trading firms, forecast growth of around 5%. The Fund's Investment Manager suspects that business considerations may have influenced some of the negative profit guidance in the steel and auto sectors, as they will each have to negotiate steel price increases in order to share the burden of iron ore and coal price hikes. Negative profit guidance, particularly for the six months ending September 2008, seems to have taken into account a JPY/USD exchange rate of 100 and a JPY/Euro rate of 155, as well as a U.S. economic recession and the resilience of emerging economies. Therefore, the Fund's Investment Manager believes that the profit outlook is more likely to be revised upward, as has been the case over the last several years, based on the potential stabilization of the U.S. economy and strengthening USD as the year progresses. This likely upward revision will provide a significant catalyst for a sustainable rally in the Tokyo market on the heels of its recent rebound.

(3) Rising inflation

Core Consumer Price Index ( CPI ) (which, in Japan, excludes fresh foods but includes energy prices) rose 1.2% year-on-year in March, reflecting price increases in energy and food on a global scale. Due to minimal wage increases and zero unit labor cost hikes, Japan's problem is now slow economic growth rather than inflation. Energy and food inflation will cut into disposable income, while corporate profit outlooks will continue to restrict wage hikes. Consumers cannot get relief from government tax cuts, due to the huge amount of government debt. Merchandise suppliers, who remain hung up on disinflation due to their experiences in the 1990s and 2000s, remain worried about losing customers after raising prices. Energy and food inflation alone cannot justify interest rate hikes by the Bank of Japan, which has downgraded its economic growth forecast from 2.1% to 1.5% for the year ending March 2009.

(4) Peaking political discounts

According to several polls, the Fukuda cabinet's approval rating fell below 20% due to its weak political leadership in handling the road construction purpose gasoline surtax, which was eliminated in April and then reinstated in May, as well as its implementation of a new medical insurance scheme for people over 75 years old. It is evident that the government, which consists mainly of bureaucrats and politicians, has been a drag on private economic activity for the last couple of years and, in light of low expectations for the current government, any changes should be considered to be for the better. Prime Minister Fukuda's declining approval rating could be a catalyst for a political reshuffling or, at least, some minor changes. Politics will likely remain a neutral factor for the Japanese market, barring any reshuffling, which would be interpreted as a positive.

Regarding sector strategy, the Fund's portfolio will remain overweight in the machinery and automobile sectors and underweight in public utilities and service stocks. Although the Fund's portfolio remains underweight in financials, we have reduced the degree to which the Fund's portfolio was underweight and added positions in major banks. The Fund's portfolio will continue to overweight the beneficiaries of infrastructure developments in the emerging markets and ecology/alternative energy investments on a global basis.

Fund Performance

During the six months ended April 30, 2008, the Fund's market price on the New York Stock Exchange ( NYSE ) ranged from a low of $6.16 per share on January 22, 2008 to a high of $8.00 on December 12, 2007. The Fund's NYSE market price closed at $7.40 per share on April 30, 2008.

The NYSE market price in relation to the Fund's net asset value per share during the six months ended April 30, 2008 ranged from a high discount of 10.57% on April 11, 2008 to a low discount of 2.49% on February 12, 2008, and ended the period at a discount of 6.92%.

The Fund has not invested in derivative securities. Although foreign currency hedging is permitted, the Fund has not engaged in any foreign currency hedging.

Notes to Financial Statements

Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

The Japan Equity Fund, Inc. (the Fund) was incorporated in Maryland on July 12, 1990 under its former name The Japan Emerging Equity Fund, Inc. and commenced operations on July 24, 1992. It is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as a closed-end, diversified management investment company.

The following significant accounting policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for investment companies. Such policies are consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual reporting results could differ from those estimates.

Valuation of Investments Securities which are listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange or listed on the over-the-counter market in Japan or listed on other exchanges in Japan and for which market quotations are readily available are valued at the last reported sales price available to the Fund at the close of business on the day the securities are being valued or, lacking any such sales, at the last available bid price. In instances where quotations are not readily available or where the price as determined by the above procedures is deemed not to represent fair market value, fair value will be determined in such manner as the Board of Directors (the Board) may prescribe. Short-term investments having a maturity of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, except where the Board determines that such valuation does not represent the fair value of the investment. All other securities and assets are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by, or under the direction of, the Board.

Foreign Currency Translation The books and records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars as follows: (1) the foreign currency market value of investment securities and other assets and liabilities stated in Japanese yen are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the period; and (2) purchases, sales, income and expenses are translated at the rate of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. The resulting exchange gains and losses are included in the Statement of Operations. The Fund does not isolate the effect of fluctuations in foreign exchange rates from the effect of fluctuations in the market price of securities.

Tax Status The Fund intends to continue to distribute substantially all of its taxable income and to comply with the minimum distribution and other requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 applicable to regulated investment companies. Accordingly, no provision for federal income taxes is required.

The Fund is not subject to any Japanese income, capital gains or other taxes except for withholding taxes on certain income, generally imposed at rates of 7% on interest and dividends, paid to the Fund by Japanese corporations.

Investment Transactions and Investment Income Investment transactions are recorded on the trade date (the date upon which the order to buy or sell is executed). Realized and unrealized gains and losses from security and foreign currency transactions are calculated on the identified cost basis. Dividend income and corporate actions are recorded generally on the ex-date, except for certain dividends and corporate actions from Japanese securities which may be recorded after the ex-date, as soon as the Fund acquires information regarding such dividends or corporate actions. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis.

Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders The Fund records dividends and distributions payable to its shareholders on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions from net investment income and net realized capital gains are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. These book basis/tax basis differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the capital accounts based on their federal tax basis treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassifications. Dividends and distributions which exceed net investment income and net realized capital gains for tax purposes are reported as distributions of paid-in-capital.

New Accounting Pronouncement In July 2006, Financial Accounting Standards Board Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes – an interpretation of FASB Statement 109 (FIN 48) was issued and is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. FIN 48 sets forth a threshold for financial statement recognition, measurement and disclosure of a tax position taken or expected to be taken on a tax return. Management has concluded that the adoption of FIN 48 did not result in a material impact to the Fund's net assets, results of operations and financial statement disclosures. Management will continue to monitor the Fund's tax positions prospectively for potential future impacts.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, Fair Value Measurements ( FAS 157 ). FAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. FAS 157 applies to reporting periods beginning after November 15, 2007. The adoption of FAS 157 is not expected to have a material impact on the Fund's financial statements.

Investment Manager and Investment Adviser

The Fund has an Investment Management Agreement with Daiwa SB Investments (U.S.A.) Ltd. (the Manager ). Daiwa SB Investments Ltd. ( DSBI or the Adviser ), an affiliate of the Manager, acts as the Fund's investment adviser pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement between the Manager and DSBI. For such investment services, the Fund is obligated to pay the Manager a monthly fee at an annual rate of 0.60% of the first $20 million, 0.40% of the next $30 million and 0.20% of the excess over $50 million of the Fund's average weekly net assets, of which 60% of this fee is paid by the Manager to DSBI. In addition, the Fund has agreed to reimburse the Manager and the Adviser for all out-of-pocket expenses related to the Fund. For the six months ended April 30, 2008, expenses of $7,871 were paid to the Manager, representing reimbursement to the Manager of costs relating to the attendance by its employees at meetings of the Fund's Board. No such expenses were paid to the Adviser.

Administrator and Custodian and Other Related Parties

In addition, as permitted by the Administration Agreement, the Fund reimburses the Administrator for its out-of-pocket expenses related to the Fund. For the six months ended April 30, 2008, expenses of $11,491 were paid to the Administrator, representing reimbursement to the Administrator of costs relating to the attendance by its employees at meetings of the Fund's Board.

The Board of Directors of the Fund has also approved the payment of the administrative compliance expense for the Fund in the amount of $75,000 per annum to DSTC, for services provided by DSTC staff in implementing the Fund's compliance management system and the Fund's compliance review program. This amount is included in the administration fee in the Fund's Statement of Operations.

The Japan Equity Fund, Inc.

DSTC also acts as custodian for the Fund's assets and has appointed Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation (the Sub-Custodian), an affiliate of the Manager, to act as the sub-custodian for all of the cash and securities of the Fund held in Japan. As compensation for its services as custodian, DSTC receives a monthly fee and reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. Such expenses include fees and out-of-pocket expenses of the Sub-Custodian. During the six months ended April 30, 2008, DSTC and the Sub-Custodian earned $29,398 and $65,754, respectively, as compensation for custodial service to the Fund.

At April 30, 2008, the Fund owed $15,604, $6,250 and $4,858 to DSTC for administration, compliance and custodian fees, respectively, excluding fees and expenses of $9,067 payable to the Sub-Custodian.
