V-ONE CORPORATION NOTES TO THE CONDENSED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited)

1. Nature of the Business

V-ONE Corporation ("Company") develops, markets and licenses a comprehensive suite of network security products that enable organizations to conduct secured electronic transactions and information exchange using private enterprise networks and public networks, such as the Internet. The Company's principal market is the United States, with headquarters in Maryland, with secondary markets in Europe and Asia.

2. Basis of Presentation

The condensed financial statements for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002 and September 30, 2001 are unaudited and reflect all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring adjustments, which are, in the opinion of management, necessary to present fairly the results for the interim periods. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements as of December 31, 2000 and 2001 and for the three years in the period ended December 31, 2001, which are included in the Company's 2001 Annual Report on Form 10-K ("Form 10-K").

The preparation of financial statements to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates and would affect future results of operations and cash flows.

The results of operations for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002 are not necessarily indicative of the results expected for the full year ending December 31, 2002.

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the 2002 presentation. These changes had no impact on previously reported results of operations.

3. Common and Preferred Stock

Edgar Filing: V ONE CORP/ DE - Form 10-Q

On September 28, 2002, the Company sold 15,413 shares of common stock at a price of $.1785 per share as part of its Employee Stock Purchase Plan.

4. Management's Plans

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company reported a net loss of $6,237,278, $8,862,015 and $9,679,944 for the years ended December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively, and a further net loss of $4,522,916 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002. In addition, the Company may continue to incur losses during 2002. Notwithstanding acceptance of V-ONE's security concepts and critical acclaim for its products, there can be no assurance that the consummation of sales of V-ONE's products to existing customers or proposed agreements with potential customers will generate timely or sufficient revenue for V-ONE to cover its costs of operations and meet its cash flow requirements. Accordingly, V-ONE may not have the funds needed to sustain operations during 2002.

In addition, Nasdaq notified the Company that it had questions concerning, among other things, the Company's ability to maintain the minimum listing requirements for continued Nasdaq listing. The Company was not able to satisfy the minimum listing requirements. As a result, the Company's common stock has been removed from the Nasdaq SmallCap Market and is now trading on the OTC Bulletin Board (OTCBB). The transfer to the OTCBB was effected without interruption in the trading market for the Company's securities. The ticker symbol for the Company's securities has not changed.

The Company is seeking to expand its current banking relationships to explore alternatives to preserve its operations and maximize shareholder value, including potential strategic partnering relationships, a business combination with a strategically placed partner, or a sale of the Company.

In July and August 2002, the Company closed on approximately $1,188,000 in a private placement of 8% Secured Convertible Notes with detachable warrants, due 180 days after issuance with an additional 180-day extension available at the option of the Company or the holders. The holders may convert their notes at any time prior to maturity into the Company's common stock at a conversion price equal to the greater of $0.25 per share or 60% of the average closing sales price of the Company's common stock for the five trading day period immediately preceding the Company's receipt of the holders notification of conversion. Detachable five year warrants, exercisable at $0.50 per share, are included to provide one warrant share for every dollar invested as warrant coverage to the note holders. As of September 30, 2002, holders had converted $585,000, or 49%, of the notes into shares of common stock at $.25 per share.

Upon issuance of the Notes, the Company recorded a debt discount of approximately $233,900 in accordance with the accounting requirements for a beneficial conversion feature on the Notes. During the three months ended September 30, 2002, the Company amortized approximately $83,000 of the discount to interest expense. Additionally, the Company will record interest expense upon conversion of the Notes as a result of the embedded conversion feature. The additional interest expense is not recorded until conversion because the Notes contain a contingency that does not permit the number of shares to be received upon conversion to be calculated until conversion occurs. Upon conversion of the $585,000 of Notes during the three months ended September 30, 2002, the Company recorded $94,400 in interest expense.

The Company reduced operating expenses for the third quarter by approximately

Edgar Filing: V ONE CORP/ DE - Form 10-Q

$1,107,000 and by approximately $2,114,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 compared with the same periods last year. Steps were taken to reduce expenses in mid-July by implementing a reduced workweek designed to ensure that customers' requirements are met without jeopardizing the Company's workforce. With these cost saving measures in place, the Company will focus its engineering design efforts on completing features committed to meet the needs of existing and potential customers in the government sector and supporting the relationships with its channel partners for sales and marketing to commercial accounts. Even at reduced operating levels, however, the Company may not be able to maintain operations for any extended period of time without additional capital or a significant strategic transformative event. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on its ability to generate sufficient cash flow to meet its obligations on a timely basis or to obtain additional funding.

Item 2.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 21E of the Exchange Act. These statements may differ in a material way from actual future events. For instance, factors that could cause results to differ from future events include rapid rates of technological change and intense competition, among others. The Company's total revenues and operating results have varied substantially from quarter to quarter and should not be relied upon as an indication of future results. Several factors may affect the ability to forecast the Company's quarterly operating results, including the size and timing of individual software and hardware sales; the length of the Company's sales cycle; the level of sales and marketing, research and development and administrative expenses; and general economic conditions.

Operating results for a given period could be disproportionately affected by any shortfall in expected revenues. In addition, fluctuation in revenues from quarter to quarter will likely have an increasingly significant impact on the Company's results of operations. The Company's performance in recent periods may not be an accurate indication of future results of operations in light of the evolving nature of the network security market and the uncertainty of the demand for Internet and intranet products in general and the Company's products in particular. Because the Company's operating expenses are based on anticipated revenue levels, a small variation in the timing of recognition of revenues can cause significant variations in operating results from quarter to quarter.

Readers are also referred to the documents filed by the Company with the SEC, specifically the Company's latest Annual Report on Form 10-K that identifies important risk factors for the Company.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

REVENUES

Total revenues increased slightly from approximately $1,100,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2001, to approximately $1,152,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2002. This increase of approximately $52,000 or 5% is due primarily to an increase in product sales. Total revenues increased from approximately $2,813,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2001 to approximately $2,891,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 due primarily to an increase in consulting and services revenue. Product revenues are derived principally from software licenses and the sale of hardware products. Product revenues increased from approximately $763,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2001, to approximately $806,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2002. The increase resulted from strong orders from existing customers to expand current product deployments. Product revenues decreased from approximately $1,858,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2001, to approximately $1,770,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002. The decrease this year was due to weaker orders for turnkey products. Consulting and services revenues are derived principally from fees for services complementary to the Company's products, including consulting, maintenance, installation and training. Consulting and services revenues increased slightly from approximately $337,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2001, to approximately $346,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2002. Consulting and services revenues increased from approximately $955,00 for the nine months ended September 30, 2001, to approximately $1,121,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002. This was due principally to a higher number of new and renewing maintenance contracts provided to customers in the third quarter and year.

While the Company anticipates that the unpredictability of its revenue streams may stabilize during the fourth quarter and that existing government customer requirements are on track to achieve its previously announced revenue projection for the second half of 2002, it cannot be certain that these requirements will be funded during this period or of the relative levels of software, hardware, consulting and services revenues to be generated in future periods.

COST OF REVENUES

Total cost of revenues as a percentage of total revenues decreased from approximately 38% and 36%, or approximately $424,000 and $1,000,400 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, to approximately 12% and 15%, or approximately $137,700 and $430,400 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The decreases were primarily due to an increase in software product sales and reductions in large turnkey and hardware system sales. Total cost of revenues is comprised of cost of product revenues and cost of consulting and services revenues.

Cost of product revenues consists principally of the costs of computer hardware, licensed technology, manuals and labor associated with the distribution and support of the Company's products. Cost of product revenues decreased from approximately $287,000 and $619,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, to approximately $58,000 and $149,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The decrease in costs of product revenue for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002 was primarily attributable to an increase in software product sales and a lower proportion of turnkey systems and third-party firewalls sales. Cost of product revenues as a percentage of product revenues was approximately 38% and 33% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, and approximately 7% and 8% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The percentage decreases were primarily attributable to a lower proportion of turnkey systems and third-party firewalls sales, as compared to sales of software licenses.

Cost of consulting and services revenues consists principally of personnel and related costs incurred in providing consulting, support and training services to customers. Cost of consulting and services revenues decreased from approximately $137,000 and $381,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, to approximately $80,000 and $282,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. Cost of consulting and services revenues as a percentage of consulting and services revenues was approximately 41% and 40% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, and approximately 23% and 25% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The percentage decreases were due mainly to the reduction in training staff and a lower proportion of sales of third-party firewall maintenance contracts.

OPERATING EXPENSES

Research and Development -- Research and development expenses consist principally of the costs of research and development personnel and other expenses associated with the development of new products and enhancement of existing products. Research and development expenses decreased from approximately $1,019,000 and $3,071,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, to approximately $520,000 and $2,276,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The dollar decreases for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002 of approximately $499,000 and $795,000, respectively, over the same periods in the prior fiscal year were primarily due to lower wage related expenses of $231,000 and $168,000, respectively, as well as lower consulting expenses of $176,000 and $347,000, respectively. Research and development expenses as a percentage of total revenues were approximately 93% and 109% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively and approximately 45% and 79% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The Company has completed and released the product enhancements needed to meet existing customer requirements and believes it can maintain development requirements in the near term with the current headcount.

Sales and Marketing -- Sales and marketing expenses consist principally of the costs of sales and marketing personnel, advertising, promotions and trade shows. Sales and marketing expenses decreased from approximately $1,221,000 and $3,757,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, to approximately $743,000 and $2,508,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The dollar decreases for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002 of $478,000 and $1,249,000, respectively, relate to lower wage related expenses of $227,000 and $170,000, respectively, lower travel expense of $39,000 and $117,000, respectively, lower advertising and trade show expenses of $71,000 and $145,000, respectively, lower recruiting expenses of $16,000 and $127,000, respectively, and lower consulting expenses of $82,000 and $336,000, respectively. Sales and marketing expenses as a percentage of total revenues were approximately 111% and 134% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, and approximately 65% and 87% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The percentage decreases for the quarter and year are due to lower expenses for fiscal 2002 when compared to similar periods for fiscal 2001.

General and Administrative -- General and administrative expenses consist principally of the costs of accounting and finance, legal and human resources management, administrative personnel and facilities expenses. General and administrative expenses decreased from approximately $642,000 and $1,960,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, to approximately $512,000 and $1,890,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The decrease for the third quarter of 2002 of approximately $130,000 was due principally to lower wage related expenses of $117,000 and consulting fees of $54,000, partially offset by an increase in bad debt expense of $50,000. The decrease in general and administrative expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 of approximately $69,000 was due to lower wages related expenses of approximately $200,000, lower consulting expense of $76,000, and lower board meeting expenses of approximately $54,000, partially offset by increased D & O insurance expense of $198,000, and increased legal fees of $66,000. General and administrative expenses as a percentage of total revenues were approximately 58% and 70% for the three and nine months ended

Edgar Filing: V ONE CORP/ DE - Form 10-Q

September 30, 2001, respectively, and 44% and 65% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The percentage decreases were due to lower expenses in fiscal 2002.

Other (Expense) Income -- Other (expense) income represents the net income or expense resulting from non-operational activities that are of an infrequently occurring nature. Other (expense) income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002 was approximately ($5,000) and ($8,000), respectively. Other (expense) income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001 was approximately $2,000 and $1,307,000, respectively. Other (expense) income for the nine months ended September 30, 2001 includes the gain of $1,334,000 on the sale to NFR Security, Inc. of a 6.8% minority interest in its common stock.

Interest Income and Expenses -- Interest income represents interest earned on cash and cash equivalents. Interest income decreased from approximately $63,000 and $215,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, to approximately $2,000 and $16,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. The decreases were attributable to lower levels of cash and cash equivalents. Interest expense represents interest paid or payable on loans and capitalized lease obligations. Interest expense increased from approximately $3,000 and $10,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, to approximately $315,000 and $317,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively, substantially all of which was for recognition of a beneficial conversion feature on the 8% Secured Convertible Notes.

Income Taxes -- The Company did not incur income tax expenses as a result of the net loss incurred during the nine months ended September 30, 2001 and 2002.

Dividend on Preferred Stock -- The Company provided for dividends on preferred stock of approximately $205,000 and $2,467,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, respectively, and approximately $174,000 and $526,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. Under the terms of the purchase agreements for the Series C and Series D Preferred Stock, the Company may elect to pay these dividends in cash or stock.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company's operating activities used cash of approximately $5,691,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2001, which was net of the gain on the sale of the Company's minority interest in the common stock of NFR Security, Inc. and approximately $3,157,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002. The decrease was primarily due to an increase in accounts payable.

The Company's investing activities provided approximately $1,250,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2001 and used cash of approximately $65,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002. Net capital expenditures for property and equipment were approximately $375,000 and $65,000 during the nine months ended September 30, 2001 and 2002, respectively. These expenditures have generally been for computer workstations and personal computers, office furniture and equipment, and leasehold additions and improvements. The capital expenditures were higher in 2001 as the Company acquired approximately $300,000 of equipment and furniture, which had been under a three-year operating lease. Proceeds from the sale of the Company's minority interest in the common stock of NFR Security, Inc. were approximately $1,625,000 in the nine months ended September 30, 2001.

The Company's financing activities provided cash of approximately $6,307,000 and $776,000 during the nine months ended September 30, 2001 and 2002, respectively. In fiscal 2001, the cash was provided primarily by the issuance of a private placement of Series D Convertible Preferred Stock to certain accredited investors pursuant to Rule 506 of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, for an aggregate offering price of $7,019,250. The Company received $6,469,250 in net proceeds after payment of all fees and offering expenses. In fiscal 2002, the cash was provided primarily by the issuance of 8% Secured Convertible Notes with detachable warrants, due 180 days after issuance with an additional 180-day extension available at the option of the Company or the holders. The Company received $807,000 in net proceeds after payment of all fees and offering expenses. The holders may convert their notes at any time prior to maturity into the Company's common stock at a conversion price equal to the greater of $0.25 per share or 60% of the average closing sales price of the Company's common stock for the five trading day period immediately preceding the Company's receipt of the holders notification of conversion. Detachable five year warrants, exercisable at $0.50 per share, are included to provide one warrant share for every dollar invested as warrant coverage to the note holders. As of September 30, 2002, holders had converted $585,000, or 49%, of the notes into shares of common stock at $.25 per share.

The Company had net tangible assets of $2,882,000 and ($629,000) at December 31, 2001 and September 30, 2002, respectively.

As of September 30, 2002, the Company had an accumulated deficit of approximately $63,836,000.

The Company reported a net loss of $6,237,278, $8,862,015 and $9,679,944 for the years ended December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively, and a further net loss of $4,522,916 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002. In addition, the Company may continue to incur losses during 2002. Notwithstanding acceptance of V-ONE's security concepts and critical acclaim for its products, there can be no assurance that the consummation of sales of V-ONE's products to existing customers or proposed agreements with potential customers will generate timely or sufficient revenue for V-ONE to cover its costs of operations and meet its cash flow requirements. Accordingly, V-ONE may not have the funds needed to sustain operations during 2002.

In addition, Nasdaq notified the Company that it had questions concerning, among other things, the Company's ability to maintain the minimum listing requirements for continued Nasdaq listing. The Company was not able to satisfy the minimum listing requirements. As a result, the Company's common stock has been removed from the Nasdaq SmallCap Market and is now trading on the OTC Bulletin Board. The transfer to the OTCBB was effected without interruption in the trading market for the Company's securities. The ticker symbol for the Company's securities has not changed.

The Company is seeking to expand its current banking relationships to explore alternatives to preserve its operations and maximize shareholder value, including potential strategic partnering relationships, a business combination with a strategically placed partner, or a sale of the Company.

The Company reduced operating expenses for the third quarter by approximately $1,107,000 and by approximately $2,114,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, compared with the same periods last year. Steps were taken to reduce expenses in mid-July by implementing a reduced workweek designed to ensure that customers' requirements are met without jeopardizing the Company's workforce. With these cost saving measures in place, the Company will focus its engineering design efforts on completing features committed to meet the needs of existing and potential customers in the government sector and supporting the relationships with its channel partners for sales and marketing to commercial accounts. Even at reduced operating levels, however, the Company may not be able to maintain operations for any extended period of time without additional capital or a significant strategic transformative event. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on its ability to generate sufficient cash flow to meet its obligations on a timely basis or to obtain additional funding.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The Company is not materially exposed to fluctuations in currency exchange rates as all of its products are invoiced in U.S. dollars. The Company does not hold any derivatives or marketable securities. However, the Company is exposed to interest rate risk. The Company believes that the market risk arising from holdings of its financial instruments is not material.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Within the ninety-day day period prior to the date of this report, the Company carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the Company's President, Chief Executive Officer and Principal Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Rule 13a-14 promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Based upon that evaluation, the Company's President, Chief Executive Officer and Principal Financial Officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective in timely alerting management to material information relating to the Company required to be included in the Company's periodic filings with the SEC. There have been no significant changes in the Company's internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect internal controls subsequent to the date the Company carried out its evaluation.

Item 2. Changes in Securities and Use of Proceeds

In closings on July 23 and 26 and August 2, 2002, the Company issued in a private placement to accredited investors 8% Secured Convertible Notes with detachable warrants for an aggregate price of $1,188,000. The notes are due 180 days after issuance with an additional 180-day extension available at the option of the Company or the holders. The holders may convert their notes at any time prior to maturity into the Company's common stock at a conversion price equal to the greater of $0.25 per share or 60% of the average closing sales price of the Company's common stock for the five trading day period immediately preceding the Company's receipt of the holders notification of conversion. Detachable five year warrants to purchase 1,188,000 shares of the Company's common stock, exercisable six months after issuance at $0.50 per share, are included to provide 100% warrant coverage to the note holders. The net proceeds of the offering will be used for general working capital purposes. The offering was made pursuant to Rule 506 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. The Company has filed a registration statement to register for resale the common stock underlying the notes and detachable warrants.
