Washington Mutual to Expense Stock Options

SEATTLE - Washington Mutual, Inc. (NYSE: WM) said it will adopt the prospective method of accounting for the expensing of employee stock options beginning in 2003.

"Stock options will remain an important component of our incentive compensation and we believe our granting of stock options is both appropriate and consistent with our goal of delivering long-term shareholder value," said Kerry Killinger, Chairman, President and CEO. "As a matter of practice, we have consistently and fully disclosed our stock-based compensation programs in previous public disclosures, but feel it is appropriate to include these expenses in our earnings per share calculations going forward."

The company estimates that expensing options will have no material impact on earnings per share in 2003, and will impact EPS by fewer than five cents per share in 2004.
