To Our Shareholders:

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I am pleased to invite you to attend AGL Resources' annual meeting of shareholders to be held on Wednesday, April 16, 2003, at our new corporate headquarters at Ten Peachtree Place, Atlanta, Georgia. The meeting will start at 10:00 a.m., local time. A map with directions is enclosed. If you plan to attend the meeting in person, please bring the attached admission ticket with you.

The following items of business will be considered at the meeting: 1) the election of three directors; and 2) such other business as properly may come before the Annual Meeting of Shareholders. During the meeting, we will discuss the record of our efforts and achievements in fiscal 2002, a year of particular success. We also will update shareholders on more recent events in the energy industry and in our various businesses. Directors, officers and other employees of the Company will be available to answer any questions you may have.

Your vote is very important to us. Regardless of the number of shares you own, please vote. All shareholders can vote by written proxy or vote instruction card. All shareholders of record and many shareholders whose shares are held in street name (in the name of a broker or bank) also can vote by proxy via the Internet (<http://www.eproxyvote.com/atg>) or by telephone (toll-free at 1-877-779-8683). All shareholders of record who do not hold their shares in street name or through a Company stock plan can attend and vote their shares at the meeting. These various options for voting are described on the enclosed proxy card. You may also view a copy of our proxy materials and annual report on our website at www.aglresources.com.

Please note that in 2001, we changed our fiscal year-end from September 30 to December 31. The attached proxy statement, therefore, includes disclosure for both the calendar year ended December 31, 2002 and the three-month transition period ended December 31, 2001.

Again, thank you for your ongoing support as we continue to transform our Company and provide greater shareholder value. We look forward to seeing you at our annual meeting.

Sincerely,

Paula G. Rosput

PROXY STATEMENT

ABOUT THE ANNUAL MEETING

What will I be voting on?

You will be voting on the election of three directors, each to serve a three-year term.

Who is soliciting my vote?

The board of directors of AGL Resources is soliciting your vote for all shares of AGL Resources common stock that you own.

How does the board recommend I vote on the proposal?

The board of directors recommends you vote FOR each of the director nominees.

How do I vote?

There are four different ways you may cast your vote. You can vote by:

telephone, using the toll-free number listed on each proxy card (if you are a shareholder of record) or vote instruction card (if your shares are held by a broker or a bank);

the Internet, at the address provided on your proxy or vote instruction card; marking, signing and dating your proxy card or vote instruction card and mailing it in the enclosed postage-paid envelope; or attending the meeting, if your shares are registered directly on AGL Resources books and are not held as Company plan shares or through a broker, bank or other nominee. If you want to vote in person at the annual meeting and your shares are held through a broker, bank or other nominee (that is, in street name), you must obtain a proxy from your street name nominee and bring that proxy to the meeting.

Edgar Filing: AGL RESOURCES INC - Form DEF 14A

For AGL Resources plan participants: If you participate in the AGL Resources Inc. Retirement Savings Plus Plan (RSP Plan), your telephone, Internet or proxy vote will serve as voting instructions to the trustee of the RSP Plan. If you have shares credited in the RSP Plan, only the trustee can vote your plan shares even if you attend the annual meeting in person.

Can I change my vote?

Yes. You may change your vote at any time before the annual meeting by voting again by telephone or via the Internet or by signing and returning another proxy or vote instruction card with a later date. Shareholders of record and street name holders who have obtained a proxy card from their street name nominee also may attend the annual meeting and vote in person. If you attend the annual meeting and want to vote in person, you can request that your previously submitted proxy or vote instruction card not be used.

What if I don't specify my choices when returning my proxy or vote instruction card?

If you return a signed proxy or vote instruction card without indicating your vote, your shares will be voted FOR the director nominees listed on the card.

If you hold AGL Resources shares through the RSP Plan and (1) you do not return the proxy card for those plan shares and do not vote by telephone or via the Internet or (2) you properly sign and return the proxy card but do not specify how you want your plan shares voted, the trustee, upon instruction from the Administrative Committee of the RSP Plan, will vote your plan shares FOR the election of the director nominees named.

Can my shares be voted if I don't submit any voting instructions and don't attend the annual meeting?

If your AGL Resources shares are held in street name or by a brokerage firm or bank and you do not submit any voting instructions, your brokerage firm or bank, under certain circumstances, may vote your shares. When a brokerage firm or bank votes its customers' unvoted shares, the shares are counted for purposes of establishing a quorum.

We believe that under applicable stock exchange rules, brokerage firms and banks will be able to vote their customers' unvoted shares with regard to the proposal to elect directors.

If your shares are registered directly on AGL Resources' books and you do not return a signed proxy or vote instruction card, your shares will not be voted.

How many shares can vote?

As of February 13, 2003 (the record date), 56,777,909 shares of common stock of AGL Resources were outstanding and entitled to vote at the annual meeting. This total includes shares issued to certain grantor trusts, which are not considered outstanding for financial reporting purposes. You will have one vote for every share of AGL Resources common stock you owned on the record date.

How many votes must be present to hold the annual meeting?

A majority of the 56,777,909 shares of AGL Resources common stock outstanding on the record date must be present, either in person or represented by proxy, to conduct the annual meeting. This total includes shares issued to certain grantor trusts, which are not considered outstanding for financial reporting purposes.

How many votes are needed to elect directors?

Directors are elected by a plurality of the votes, which means the three nominees who receive the largest number of properly executed votes will be elected as directors.

What if I vote "Withhold Authority" to elect directors?

In voting for the election of directors, a vote to "withhold authority" for the election of one or more director nominees will not be counted in determining the number of votes cast for those persons and will not affect the outcome.

Could other matters be decided at the annual meeting?

Edgar Filing: AGL RESOURCES INC - Form DEF 14A

We do not know of any other matters that will be considered at the annual meeting. If a matter that is not listed on the proxy or voting instruction card is properly brought before the annual meeting in accordance with Section 1.2 of our bylaws, the proxies will vote in accordance with their judgment of what is in the best interest of the Company, based on the discretionary voting authority conferred on them by the proxy and voting instruction cards.

Who will count the vote?

Representatives of EquiServe Trust Company, N.A., our transfer and shareholder services agent, will count the vote and act as inspector of elections.

Where and when will I be able to find the voting results?

AGL Resources will post the voting results on our web site at www.aglresources.com approximately two weeks after the annual meeting. You also can find the results in our Form 10-Q for the second quarter of 2003, which we will file with the Securities and Exchange Commission no later than August 14, 2003.

What does it mean if I receive more than one proxy card?

It means that you have multiple accounts with brokers, banks and/or our transfer agent. Please vote all of these shares. We recommend that you contact your broker, bank and/or our transfer agent to consolidate as many accounts as possible under the same name and address. Our transfer and shareholder services agent is EquiServe Trust Company, N.A. All communications concerning accounts for shareholders of record, including address changes, name changes, inquiries to transfer shares and similar issues, can be handled by making a toll-free call to our transfer agent at the AGL Resources Shareholder Services number at 1-800-633-4236.

What do I need to bring with me if I want to attend the annual meeting?

The annual meeting is open to all holders of our common stock. To attend the annual meeting, you will need to bring evidence of your stock ownership. If your shares are registered in your name, your admission ticket is included inside the back of this proxy statement, and you will need to bring it with you to the meeting. If your shares are held in street name by your broker or bank, you will need to bring evidence of your stock ownership, such as a proxy obtained from your street name nominee (particularly if you want to vote your shares at the annual meeting) or your most recent brokerage account statement (in which case you will not be able to vote your shares at the meeting), together with valid picture identification. If you do not have either an admission ticket or proof that you own our common stock, you may not be admitted into the meeting.

What happens if the annual meeting is postponed or adjourned?

Your proxy will still be good and may be voted at a postponed or adjourned meeting, unless the board of directors fixes a new record date for the postponed or adjourned meeting, which the board is required to do if the postponement or adjournment is for more than 120 days. Otherwise, you will still be able to change or revoke your proxy until it is voted.

When are the shareholder proposals for the 2004 annual meeting due?

All shareholders who wish to present business at the annual meeting in 2004, whether director nominees or otherwise, must provide notice to our Corporate Secretary of their intent to do so on or before November 20, 2003. Such notice must provide the information set forth in Section 1.2 of our bylaws. A copy of these bylaw requirements will be provided upon written request to the Corporate Secretary, AGL Resources Inc., P.O. Box 4569, Location 1465, Atlanta, Georgia 30302-4569.

Under our bylaws, this deadline applies to any shareholder proposal sought to be considered at the 2004 annual meeting, including but not limited to those sought to be included in the proxy statement and form of proxy for the 2004 annual meeting.

This deadline does not apply to questions a shareholder may wish to ask at the annual meeting.

How much will this proxy solicitation cost?

AGL Resources will pay the expenses of soliciting proxies. Proxies may be solicited on our behalf by directors, officers and employees, in person or by telephone, facsimile or electronic transmission. Directors, officers and employees will not be paid for those services. AGL Resources has hired Georgeson Shareholder, Inc., a proxy solicitation firm, to assist in the distribution and solicitation of proxies. We will pay

Edgar Filing: AGL RESOURCES INC - Form DEF 14A

Georgeson Shareholder, Inc. approximately $6,500 plus reasonable out-of-pocket disbursements for those services.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

General

The board of directors presently consists of ten members, nine of whom are non-employee directors. The board is divided into three classes of approximately equal size, with the directors in each class serving a three-year term. GOVERNANCE OF THE COMPANY

Board of Directors

The business affairs of AGL Resources are managed under the direction of the board of directors in accordance with the Georgia Business Corporation Code, AGL Resources' articles of incorporation and its bylaws. The role of the board of directors is to effectively govern the affairs of the Company for the benefit of its shareholders and other constituencies, which include the Company's employees, customers, suppliers and creditors and the communities in which it does business. The board strives to ensure the success and continuity of the Company's business through the appointment of qualified management overseen by the board.

Director Independence

All of the Company's directors are independent, non-employee directors except Ms. Rosput, the Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of AGL Resources. Ms. Rosput does not participate in any action of the board relating to her compensation. The board of directors has determined that each of the independent directors meets the standards adopted by the board of directors to determine director independence. These standards for determining director independence are attached as Annex A to this proxy statement.

Members of the board are kept informed through reports routinely presented at board and committee meetings by the Chief Executive Officer and other officers, and through other means. During the 15-month period ended December 31, 2002, the board of directors held eight meetings. With the exception of Ms. Osar, each director attended 75% or more of the aggregate of all meetings of the board and each committee on which he or she served.

Executive Sessions Without Management

To promote open discussion among the non-employee directors, the board of directors schedules regular executive sessions in which the non-employee directors meet without management's participation. Such sessions typically occur after every regularly scheduled board meeting.

Committees of the Board

The board of directors has established six committees to assist it in discharging its duties. Actions taken by any committee of the board are reported to the board, usually at the board meeting next following a committee meeting. The committees of the board and their current members are as shown below. Biographical information about each of the directors, whose term will commence or continue after the annual meeting, is described above under the heading Election of Directors.

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

General

A director who is an officer or employee of the Company receives no compensation for his or her services as a director or as a member of a committee of the board. A director who is not an officer or employee receives compensation for his or her services as described in the following paragraphs. All directors are reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with attendance at board and committee meetings.

Initial Stock Award

Upon initial election to the board, each non-employee director receives 1,000 shares of common stock on the first day of board service.

Annual Retainer

Prior to April 17, 2002, each non-employee director received an annual retainer of $30,000 payable in cash, shares of AGL Resources common stock or deferrable under the 1998 Common Stock Equivalent Plan for Non-Employee Directors, which we refer to as the CSE Plan. Effective April 17, 2002, the annual retainer was changed so that each non-employee director would receive on the first day of each annual service term (i) $30,000 payable, at the election of each director, in cash, shares of AGL Resources common stock or deferred under the CSE Plan and (ii) $30,000 payable in the form of options to acquire shares of AGL Resources common stock, which options would have an aggregate Black-Scholes value equal to $30,000. On December 12, 2002, the granting of stock options to non-employee directors was eliminated. As a result, the portion of the annual retainer described in clause (ii) above is now paid, at the election of each director, in shares of AGL Resources common stock or deferred under the CSE Plan.

Amounts deferred under the CSE Plan are invested in common stock equivalents that track the performance of AGL Resources common stock and are credited with dividend payments that are made on AGL Resources common stock. At the end of their board service, participating directors receive a cash distribution based on the market value of their common stock equivalents and dividends. Stock options previously granted to non-employee directors have a per share exercise price that is equal to the fair market value of the Company's common stock on the date of grant of the option. Directors realize value from these stock options only to the extent that the fair market value of the common stock of the Company on the date of exercise of the stock option exceeds the fair market value of the common stock on the date of grant.

Meeting Fees

Each non-employee director receives $1,000 for attendance at each meeting of the board and any committee of the board of which he or she is a member.

Meeting fees may be paid in cash or, at the election of a director, may be deferred under the CSE Plan. As noted above, under the CSE Plan, deferred meeting fees are invested in common stock equivalents that track the performance of AGL Resources common stock and are credited with dividend payments. At the end of their board service, participating directors receive a cash distribution based on the market value of their common stock equivalents and dividends.

Director Compensation Paid

In 2002, for the 2002 term of service that expires at the 2003 annual meeting, Mr. Jepson was granted 1,410 shares of AGL Resources common stock, while Ms. Osar and Messrs. Brumby, Johnson, Knox, Love, Riddle, Rubright and Ward were each credited with 1,410 common stock equivalents under the CSE Plan. The share amount and common stock equivalent amount were calculated by dividing $30,000 by $21.28, the per share fair market value of AGL Resources common stock as of February 1, 2002. Prior to April 17, 2002, in connection with the payment of the annual retainer, each non-employee director also was entitled to receive a non-qualified stock option to purchase the same number of shares as were awarded in payment of the annual retainer. As a result, each of these directors was granted an option to purchase 1,410 shares of AGL Resources common stock at a price of $21.28 per share, which reflects the fair market value of the common stock on the date of grant, February 1, 2002.

Additionally, on August 1, 2002, as a result of the mid-year change in the annual retainer payable to non-employee directors, each of the non-employee directors was granted a catch-up option to purchase 5,763 shares of AGL Resources common stock at a price of $22.10 per share, which reflects the fair market value of the common stock on the date of grant. The number of shares subject to this catch-up option was calculated by dividing $30,000 by $4.23, the then applicable Black-Scholes value.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

The Audit Committee of the board of directors is composed of five directors who are independent directors as defined under the rules of the New York Stock Exchange. The Audit Committee operates under a written charter adopted by the board of directors.

The Audit Committee reviews the Company's financial reporting process on behalf of the board of directors. In fulfilling its responsibilities, the Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed the audited financial statements contained in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for fiscal 2002 with the Company's management and the independent auditors. Management is responsible for the Company's financial statements and the financial reporting process, including the system of internal controls. The independent auditors are responsible for expressing an opinion on the conformity of those audited financial statements with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Edgar Filing: AGL RESOURCES INC - Form DEF 14A

The Audit Committee has discussed with the independent auditors the matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, Communication with Audit Committees, as amended, regarding the independent auditor's judgments about the quality of the Company's accounting principles as applied in its financial reporting. In addition, the Audit Committee has discussed with the independent auditors the auditor's independence from the Company and its management, including the matters in the written disclosures and the letter provided to the Audit Committee as required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1, Independence Discussions with Audit Committees.

Based on the reviews and discussions referred to above, the Audit Committee concurs with the board of directors' decision to approve the inclusion of the audited financial statements in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for fiscal 2002 for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT

The Compensation Committee of the board of directors of AGL Resources has prepared the following report regarding 2002 executive compensation. The Compensation Committee, which is composed entirely of non-employee directors, is responsible for all components of the Company's executive compensation programs and the aggregate cost-related aspects of non-officer compensation. The Compensation Committee works closely with the entire board of directors in the execution of its duties. This report is required by rules established by the Securities and Exchange Commission and provides specific information regarding compensation for the Company's Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer, the other named executive officers and all other executives of the Company.

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives of Executive Compensation Programs

It is the philosophy of the Company and the Compensation Committee that all executive compensation programs should: (i) link pay and performance and (ii) attract, motivate, reward and retain the executive talent required to achieve corporate objectives. AGL Resources also focuses strongly on compensation tied to stock price performance and the attainment of earnings per share targets, since this type of compensation provides a clear link to enhanced shareholder value. From time to time, the Compensation Committee works with independent compensation consultants to assist with the design, implementation, and communication of various compensation plans.

The Company believes that its executive officers should have an ongoing stake in the success of the Company. The Company also believes these key employees should have a considerable portion of their total compensation tied to the Company's stock price performance, since stock-related compensation is directly tied to shareholder value.

The Company determines competitive levels of compensation using published compensation surveys (for energy and general industry companies of comparable size to the Company as measured by revenues), information obtained from compensation consultants, and an analysis of compensation data contained in the proxy statements for energy industry peer companies of comparable size in similar core businesses. The companies against which the Company compares its compensation are not necessarily identical to those included in the S&P Utilities Index referred to in the Stock Performance Graph below.

The Company's compensation programs for executives include base salaries, annual performance-based incentives, certain executive benefits and long-term incentives. Each of these pay delivery programs is further detailed below.

Base Salaries

Base salaries in 2002 for the named executive officers, among others, were reviewed through comparisons with the market survey data described above. The Compensation Committee does not consider any financial performance criteria on a formulaic basis in determining salary increases. Rather, the Compensation Committee, using its discretion, considers market base salary rates at the 50th percentile, average annual salary increases for executives in energy industry peer companies, and overall corporate financial performance. The Compensation Committee also makes a subjective review of individual performance in making base salary increase decisions for executives. These criteria are assessed in a non-formulaic fashion and are not weighted. Base salary adjustments were made in 2002 for Messrs. O'Brien and Shlanta in conjunction with increased job responsibilities associated with an internal reorganization.

Annual Incentive Compensation

The Compensation Committee has established the Annual Team Performance Incentive Plan, which is referred to as the ATPI Plan, as the program under which annual cash incentives, tied to the achievement of Company earnings per share targets and individual performance goals, may be earned by all employees, including executives. The ATPI Plan seeks to offer rewards that motivate executives and other employees to devote their maximum efforts toward the realization by the Company of aggressive and significant, yet achievable, improvements in financial performance.

The program provides that each participant will have an annual incentive compensation opportunity, expressed as a percentage of base annual salary. For the 15-month measurement period ended December 31, 2002, the Compensation Committee approved target percentages at levels slightly above the market median. Annual incentives may be earned to the extent that Company performance exceeds a threshold level. No incentive payments are made under the ATPI Plan unless the threshold is met.

For the 2002 period, the ATPI Plan approved by the Compensation Committee provided that 50% of the target annual incentive compensation of the named executive officers (other than the Chief Executive Officer) was determined by improvement in the Company's financial performance as measured by earnings per share, 25% was determined by business unit, and 25% was determined by individual performance. Maximum awards for the named executive officers may be up to 200% of target awards.

For purposes of the ATPI Plan, business units include AGL Services Company, AGL Networks, and Distribution Operations. Business unit performance for AGL Services Company was measured by a combination of the business unit's operating margin less direct operation and maintenance expenses and capital expenditures. Performance for AGL Networks and Distribution Operations was measured by a combination of Earnings Before Interest and Taxes and capital expenditures.

Calculation and Payment of 2002 Annual Incentive Awards

For the 15-month measurement period ended December 31, 2002, the Company's threshold level of performance was exceeded. Individual performance objectives were achieved in varying degrees by each executive officer, and all of the named executive officers (other than Mr. Duszynski) received an annual cash incentive payment under the ATPI Plan, as reflected in the Summary Compensation Table below.

Edgar Filing: AGL RESOURCES INC - Form DEF 14A

Concurrent with the Company's formation of its Sequent Energy Management, LP subsidiary, the Committee approved an incentive compensation program for certain employees of that subsidiary, including Mr. Duszynski. The compensation opportunities that are generally consistent with compensation practices in the energy marketing industry.

Sequent compensation program offers incentive

Long-Term Incentive Compensation

In February 2002, the Company implemented a performance unit plan designed to create a long-term incentive for key executives (including the Chief Executive Officer) to increase shareholder value over a three-year period. The plan provides awards in the form of performance units that are payable in shares of AGL common stock at the end of the three-year performance period. A predetermined percentage of units will vest based on the highest average closing price of Company common stock over any ten (10) consecutive trading days during the performance period. Specifically, if AGL Resources' average closing stock price reaches $43 for 10 consecutive trading days during the performance period, 100% of the units will vest and each unit will be valued at the highest average closing stock price during the performance period. 40% of the units will vest if the average closing price reaches a $38 hurdle. 20% of the units will vest if the average closing price reaches $35. Finally, 10% of the units vest at the end of the performance period if the highest average price is $25 or less. The Compensation Committee utilizes a straight-line interpolation method for calculating results between points. If the highest average price is $25 or less and only 10% of the units vest, the award will not be eligible for exemption for performance-based compensation under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

For the 2002 to 2004 measurement cycle, Ms. Rosput was awarded 350,000 units. Other named executive officers, among others, were awarded between 125,000 and 175,000 units.

Share Ownership Guidelines

Consistent with the Compensation Committee's belief that management's interests should be aligned with those of the shareholders, AGL Resources has adopted share ownership guidelines for every Company executive. The ownership guideline is based on the executive's position. The guideline for the Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer is five times base salary. The guideline for other named executive officers ranges from two to three times base salary, and for the other officers of the Company, the guideline is one to two times base salary. Each current officer is expected to make progress each year toward achieving compliance with the applicable ownership guidelines, and any officer who is hired in the future is generally expected to achieve the applicable ownership guidelines over a three-year period.

Chief Executive Officer Performance and Compensation

The Compensation Committee reviews the performance and compensation of the Company's Chief Executive Officer, Paula G. Rosput, on an annual basis. The Company's compensation consultants provided the Compensation Committee with data on the Chief Executive Officer's compensation, considering AGL Resources' size and complexity and the markets in which it competes for personnel. In determining Ms. Rosput's total compensation, the Compensation Committee also considered: (i) her performance in prior positions with the Company and its subsidiaries; (ii) her tenure in her current position; (iii) her demonstrated leadership abilities and potential; (iv) retention; and (v) the demands that will be placed on her if the Company's long-term growth strategies are to be achieved.

Based on market data available to the Compensation Committee, the Compensation Committee structured Ms. Rosput's fiscal 2002 compensation package to produce total compensation that would be competitive with the market median if performance was delivered at target. However, the total compensation structure was sufficiently leveraged through annual and long-term incentives to deliver above market compensation if performance exceeded expectations.

Since November 2000, Ms. Rosput's annual base salary has been set at $600,000. Ms. Rosput also received annual incentives and long-term incentives as set forth in the Summary Compensation Table below.

Specifically, for the 15-month period ended December 31, 2002, Ms. Rosput's total target incentive opportunity was 67% of her base salary. Of this total target incentive, three-fourths was determined by the Company's financial performance, and one-fourth was determined by achievement of individual performance objectives established by the Compensation Committee. As is the case with the other executive officers, no incentive payments are made under the ATPI Plan unless the threshold levels of Company performance are met.

For the 15-month period ended December 31, 2002, the amount awarded to Ms. Rosput as an annual incentive under the ATPI plan was based (i) on the Company's achievement of specific performance measures as established by the Compensation Committee, and (ii) Ms. Rosput's achievement of individual performance objectives including (1) the articulation of a viable growth strategy for the business, (2) the achievement of improvements in the performance of the Company's operating units, and (3) the building of a high-performance culture that is focused on maintaining positive relationships with the public, regulators and investors.

The performance units granted to Ms. Rosput in February 2002 were intended to increase Ms. Rosput's stake in the Company and to provide rewards consistent with Company performance over the long term. The performance units will fully vest only when very aggressive share price levels are achieved, as set forth above in this report under Long-Term Incentive Compensation.

Code Section 162(m) Implications for Executive Compensation

It is the responsibility of the Compensation Committee to address the issues raised by Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, which we refer to as the Code. Code Section 162(m) limits the Company's annual deduction to $1,000,000 for compensation paid to its chief executive officer and to each of the next four most highly compensated executives of the Company. Certain compensation which qualifies as performance-based or which meets other requirements under the Code may be exempt from the Code Section 162(m) limit. The Company intends to qualify certain compensation paid to executive officers for deductibility under the Code, including Code Section 162(m).

Notes to Option/SAR Grant Table

- (1) Options and SARs were granted at prices equal to the fair market value of the Company's common stock on the date of grant. In general, nonqualified stock options and SARs first become exercisable 12 months after the date of grant. Options and SARs are subject to early termination upon the occurrence of certain events related to termination of employment. All options and SARs immediately become exercisable in the event of a change in control.

- (2) The exercise price of options may be paid in cash, by delivery of already-owned shares of common stock of the Company or by any other approved method. To the extent that the exercise price of an option is paid with shares of common stock of the Company, a reload option will be granted to the employee. A reload option is an option granted to an employee for the same number of shares as is exchanged in payment of the exercise price and is subject to all of the same terms and conditions as the original option except for the exercise price, which is determined on the basis of the fair market value of the Company's common stock on the date the reload option is granted. One or more successive reload options may be granted to an employee who pays for the exercise of a reload option with shares of common stock of the Company.

Upon exercise, the holder of a SAR receives an amount, payable in cash, equal to the excess of the fair market value of one share of common stock of the Company over the base value of the SAR.

- (3) Grant date present value represents the estimated present value of stock options or SARs, measured at the date of grant using the standard Black-Scholes Warrant Valuation Call Option Model. An option or SAR holder realizes value from a stock option or SAR only to the extent that the price of AGL Resources common stock on the exercise date exceeds the price of the option or SAR on the grant date. Consequently, there is no assurance that the value realized by an option or SAR holder will be at or near the estimated grant date present value. Those amounts should not be used to predict stock performance.

- (1) The respective values for in-the-money options and SARs represent the positive spread between the exercise price of options or base value of SARs outstanding at December 31, 2002 and December 31, 2001 and the fair market value of the Company's common stock at December 31, 2002 and December 31, 2001, respectively.

Long-Term Incentive Plan (LTIP) Awards

The following table presents information concerning long-term incentive awards granted to the named executive officers during the calendar year ended December 31, 2002. There were no long-term incentive awards granted to the named executive officers during the transition period ended December 31, 2001. Payments of long-term incentive awards are made in shares of the Company's common stock. The amount of payment is based on the highest average closing price of Company common stock over any ten (10) consecutive trading days during the measurement period of February 1, 2002 through December 31, 2004 (the "Highest Average Price"), in accordance with the following matrix:

Highest Average Price	Percentage of Units Vested
$38	40%
$35	20%
$25 or less	10%

In determining the Highest Average Price, the closing price per share of the common stock on any day shall be the closing price for such day as published in the Eastern Edition of The Wall Street Journal report on the New York Stock Exchange Composite Transactions.

Note to Long-Term Incentive Awards Table

- (1) Performance units were granted under the LTIP. The amount of payment at the end of a thirty-five month measurement period ranges from 10% to 100% of the award indicated in this column.

A participant is eligible for dividends credit on vested performance units only if the common stock price closes at or above $25 over any ten consecutive trading days during the measurement period. Dividends will be credited on vested performance units from the vesting date forward.

Performance units are subject to transfer restrictions and are subject to early termination upon the occurrence of certain events related to termination of employment. Upon a change in control of the Company, the performance units may become fully vested.

Retirement Plan

The Retirement Plan is a qualified defined benefit pension plan which covers employees of the Company and its participating affiliate companies (except leased employees) who have attained age 21 and who have been employed for at least one year. Benefits under the Retirement Plan are based upon age, compensation and length of service, with varying provisions for employees who are terminated or take early, normal or deferred retirement. The Retirement Plan also provides, subject to certain conditions, for the payment of vested benefits of a deceased employee to his or her surviving spouse during such spouse's lifetime.

The Company makes contributions to the Retirement Plan to fund the benefits accrued thereunder. Annual contribution amounts are determined actuarially. Participant contributions are not permitted.

The Retirement Plan benefit formula has historically been based on a final average earnings computation, based on a participant's earnings for the highest compensation during 78 consecutive payroll periods out of his or her last 130 consecutive payroll periods of employment with the Company. Effective July 1, 2000, the Retirement Plan was amended to change the benefit formula for future benefit accrual from a final average earnings formula to a career average earnings formula. Participants who were age 50 or more on June 30, 2000 will continue to be covered under the final average earnings formula until July 1, 2010.

For individuals who are subject to the final average earnings formula, the compensation covered by the Retirement Plan includes the base rate of earnings actually paid to a participant by the Company (up to dollar limits imposed by the Internal Revenue Service). That amount of compensation does not include overtime or annual incentive compensation.

For participants who are subject to the career average earnings formula, a participant's annual benefit accrual will be equal to 1% of compensation plus 1/2% of compensation in excess of 1/2% of the Social Security wage base for the year. For persons subject to the career average earnings formula, the compensation counted for purposes of the Retirement Plan will include overtime and incentive compensation for the applicable year.

In addition, the Company maintains an Excess Benefit Plan for its employees. The purpose of the Excess Benefit Plan is to restore pension benefits to employees who are prevented from receiving their total accrued benefits under the Retirement Plan because of the maximum benefit limitations imposed on qualified retirement plans by Code Sections 415 and 401(a)(17). The Excess Benefit Plan is not funded, and benefit payments are made directly by the Company. Benefits under the Excess Benefit Plan are payable in the same form and according to the same general terms and conditions as benefits under the Retirement Plan. All employees who participate in the Retirement Plan whose benefits are limited by the provisions of the Code will receive restoration of benefits under the Excess Benefit Plan.

The following Pension Plan Table I shows the estimated annual lifetime benefits calculated on a straight-life annuity basis and payable under the AGL Resources Inc. Retirement Plan and the AGL Resources Inc. Excess Benefit Plan under the final average earnings formula to persons in specified compensation and years of service classifications upon retirement at age 65. Benefit amounts shown in the table below are based on assumed continued employment to age 65 and are subject to reductions for a portion of Social Security benefits.

The amounts shown in the Summary Compensation Table above do not include the Company's contributions for the named executive officers in connection with the Retirement Plan or the Excess Benefit Plan. Such amounts are not and cannot be readily separated or individually calculated. The Company made an actuarially determined contribution of $10 million to the Retirement Plan for the plan year ended June 30, 2002. However, the Company did not make a contribution to the Retirement Plan for the short plan year of July 1, 2002 to December 31, 2002 (which resulted from the Retirement Plan's change in plan year-end to December 31 effective with the plan year beginning on January 1, 2003).

As of the year ended December 31, 2002, the estimated years of benefit accrual service for each of the executive officers named in the Summary Compensation Table are as follows: Ms. Rosput and Mr. Shlanta, 4 years; and Messrs. O'Brien and Duszynski, 2 years. As of December 31, 2002, Mr. Madden was not yet eligible to participate in the Retirement Plan.

The Retirement Plan and the Excess Benefit Plan are administered by the Retirement Plan Administrative Committee appointed by the board of directors. The Bank of New York serves as Trustee of the Retirement Plan.

OTHER MATTERS INVOLVING DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

Change in Control Agreements

All named executive officers have continuity agreements with the Company. The purpose of these agreements is to retain key management personnel and assure continued productivity of such personnel in the event of a change in control of the Company.

The continuity agreements define a change in control to generally mean the occurrence of any of the following events:

the acquisition by a person or group of persons of 10% or more of the voting securities of the Company;

the approval by the shareholders of a merger, business combination, or sale of 50% or more of the Company's assets, the result of which is that less than 80% of the voting securities of the resulting corporation is owned by the former shareholders of the Company; or the failure, during any two-year period, of incumbent directors to constitute at least a majority of the board of directors of the Company.

Generally, no benefits are provided under the continuity agreements for any type of termination that occurs before the Company's announcement of its intention to engage in a transaction that is expected to result in a change in control, which we refer to as a change in control transaction, or for terminations that occur after such an announcement due to death, disability, voluntary termination without good reason or any termination for cause, which includes failure to perform duties and responsibilities and fraud or dishonesty. Good reason includes a material diminution of position or duties, adverse changes in compensation, adverse changes in benefits (unless all executives suffer the same changes), relocation to a location in excess of 35 miles from the location where the executive was based, and failure of a successor to assume the agreement.

Upon the announcement of a change in control transaction, the continuity agreements provide a severance benefit of three years of base salary and target annual incentive compensation to a named executive officer who experiences a qualifying termination. A named executive officer experiences a qualifying termination when such officer's employment is involuntarily terminated without cause or voluntarily terminated for good reason. The severance benefit remains payable in connection with any qualifying termination that occurs through the second anniversary of the date of the consummation of the change in control.

The continuity agreements also provide a three-year continuation of medical, dental and life insurance benefits, full vesting of all long-term incentive compensation, payment of any forfeited matching contributions under the RSP Plan and NSP, and outplacement assistance. In addition, the continuity agreements provide that if the officer is age 50 or above, he or she will be deemed vested in the accrued benefits under the Retirement Plan, and if he or she is already vested, then he or she will be deemed to be age 55 for purposes of the Retirement Plan. The Company will pay any additional retirement benefit payable due to these provisions of the continuity agreements from general assets. The officers may also receive up to $100,000 of legal fees in connection with the enforcement of payouts under the continuity agreements.

If the payments to the Chief Executive Officer under the continuity agreement are subject to excise taxes under Code Section 4999, the Company will pay the Chief Executive Officer an additional amount equal to the excise tax, plus an amount equal to the state, federal and FICA taxes on the additional amount. If the payments under the continuity agreements for the other named executive officers exceed the base amount permitted under Code Section 280G(b)(3) by 10% or more, the Company will pay the affected officer an additional amount equal to the excise tax, plus an amount equal to the state, federal and FICA taxes on the additional amount.

Other Agreements

In connection with Mr. Duszynski's employment as President and Chief Executive Officer of Sequent Energy Management, LP, AGL Services Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, which we refer to as AGSC, and Mr. Duszynski entered into an employment agreement setting forth the terms and conditions of Mr. Duszynski's employment. The agreement had an initial term of three and one-half years from April 1, 2001 and thereafter was to automatically extend for consecutive one-year terms unless either party gave notice to the other party of its intent for the agreement not to renew. In addition to setting forth basic terms of employment, including compensation, the agreement required AGSC to provide Mr. Duszynski with $1 million of term life insurance during the term of the agreement. The agreement imposes certain restrictions, both during and after the term of the agreement, on Mr. Duszynski's ability to provide services to persons or entities that compete with AGSC or any of its affiliates, to solicit customers and employees of AGSC or its affiliates and to disclose confidential information of AGSC and its affiliates.

The agreement also provided that in the event Mr. Duszynski's employment was terminated other than for cause (as defined in the agreement) or in the event Mr. Duszynski terminated his employment for good reason (as defined in the agreement) and upon Mr. Duszynski's execution of a general release, he would be entitled to severance in an amount equal to the sum of (i) the greater of (a) 12 months of his monthly base salary then in effect or (b) the base salary payable for the remainder of the then remaining term of the agreement and (ii) a prorated portion of the annual incentive compensation that would otherwise have been payable to him for the year in which the termination occurred. In addition, upon termination by AGSC other than for cause, or upon termination by Mr. Duszynski for good reason, Mr. Duszynski and his covered dependents would be entitled to all employee benefits and the above-referenced life insurance until the later of (i) the date that is one year from the termination date or (ii) the last day of the then remaining term of the agreement. The agreement provided that it would terminate immediately upon Mr. Duszynski's death or disability (as defined in the agreement). In such event, the agreement provided that all employee benefits and the above-referenced life insurance would continue to be provided by AGSC to Mr. Duszynski and his covered dependents until the later of (i) one year following the termination date or (ii) the last day of the then remaining term.

Mr. Duszynski's employment terminated in November 2002. Mr. Duszynski has not executed a general release as described above. The Company and Mr. Duszynski have discussed a possible separation agreement but have not yet entered into a final agreement.

STOCK PERFORMANCE GRAPH

The following line graph and accompanying tabular presentation compare the cumulative 63 month shareholder return on common stock of the Company with the cumulative 63 month total return of companies in the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index and the Standard & Poor's Utilities Index. The graph and table assume that $100 was invested on September 30, 1997 in common stock of the Company, the S&P 500 Index and the S&P Utilities Index and also assumes dividend reinvestment.

The information contained in the Stock Performance Graph shall not be deemed to be soliciting material or to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, nor shall such information be incorporated by reference into any future filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, except to the extent that the Company specifically incorporates it by reference in such filing.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires the Company's directors and executive officers and any person who owns more than 10% of the Company's common stock to file reports of initial common stock ownership and changes in common stock ownership with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the New York Stock Exchange. Such persons are required by SEC regulations to furnish the Company with copies of all Section 16(a) forms that they file.

To the Company's knowledge, based solely on its review of the copies of such reports received by the Company and written representations that no other reports were required for those persons, during the 15-month period ended December 31, 2002, all filing requirements were met except for, due to a clerical error, one late report by Mr. Jepson with respect to a Form 4 to report the acquisition of shares in January 2002.

Information Regarding Change in Independent Auditors

The firm of Deloitte & Touche LLP, 191 Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Georgia 30303, served as the independent auditor for the Company and examined the financial statements of the Company for the calendar year ended December 31, 2002 and for the transition period ended December 31, 2001.

As a result of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and related regulations adopted and proposed by the SEC and the New York Stock Exchange, audit committees of public companies are now formally charged with the responsibility of evaluating, retaining and discharging a company's independent auditors. The Company's audit committee takes this responsibility very seriously and recently requested that its senior management evaluate and interview a limited number of national accounting firms, including its former independent auditors, Deloitte & Touche LLP.

As a result, the Company's audit committee, on March 5, 2003, decided to dismiss Deloitte & Touche LLP the Company's independent public accountants and to engage PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, as of March 7, 2003, to serve as the Company's independent public accountants for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003.

Deloitte's reports on the Company's consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2001, the transition period ended December 31, 2001 and the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002, did not contain an adverse opinion or disclaimer of opinion, nor were they qualified or modified as to uncertainty, audit scope or accounting principles.

During the Company's fiscal year ended September 30, 2001, the transition period ended December 31, 2001, the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002 and through March 10, 2003 (the date the Company filed a report on Form 8-K disclosing its decision to no longer engage Deloitte & Touch LLP), there were no disagreements with Deloitte on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure, or auditing scope or procedure which, if not resolved to Deloitte's satisfaction, would have caused them to make reference to the subject matter in connection with their report on AGL Resources' consolidated financial statements for such years; and there were no reportable events, as listed in

Item 304(a)(1)(v) of Regulation S-K.

During the Company's fiscal year ended September 30, 2001, the transition period ended December 31, 2001, the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002 and through March 10, 2003, the Company did not consult PricewaterhouseCoopers with respect to the application of accounting principles to a specified transaction, either completed or proposed, or the type of audit opinion that might be rendered on the Company's consolidated financial statements, or any other matters or reportable events listed in Items 304(a)(2)(i) and (ii) of Regulation S-K.

Representatives of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP and Deloitte & Touche LLP will attend the annual meeting with the opportunity to make a statement if they so desire and will also be available to answer appropriate questions.

Audit Fees, Financial Information Systems Design and Implementation Fees, and All Other Fees.

During October 1, 2001 to December 31, 2002, Deloitte & Touche LLP billed the Company fees in the aggregate amount of approximately $1,267,314. Of this amount, approximately $81,700 related to fees for the audit of the transition period ended December 31, 2001 and review of the financial statements included in the Form 10-Q report that the Company filed with the SEC in the transition period, and approximately $592,000 related to fees for the audit of the twelve months ended December 31, 2002 and reviews of the financial statements included in the three Form 10-Q reports that the Company filed with the SEC in calendar 2002.

Deloitte & Touche did not provide any professional services to us for financial information systems design and implementation during the twelve months ended December 31, 2002 or in the transition period ended December 31, 2001.

The aggregate fees that Deloitte & Touche billed us for all other services that it rendered to us were $323,999 during calendar 2002 and $269,615 during the transition period ended December 31, 2001. These fees were for services that auditors traditionally provide, including audits of employee benefit plans, income tax consulting services and regulatory consulting services. Deloitte & Touche billed for services provided in connection with the Georgia Public Service Commission's (GPSC) earnings review of Atlanta Gas Light Company, which was initiated by the GPSC in August 2001. The Audit Committee has considered whether the provision of the services covered by this paragraph was compatible with maintaining Deloitte & Touche's independence and has determined that it was.

I. General Board Member Independence

Relationships that may prevent a director from being deemed independent :

A director may not be deemed independent if he or she has had within the past fiscal year, or is expected to have during the current fiscal year, transactions with the Company or any of its subsidiaries in which the aggregate amount involved exceeded, or is expected to exceed, $60,000.

A director may not be deemed independent if he or she within the past fiscal year has been an executive officer, or owner (of record or beneficially in excess of ten percent equity interest), of any business or professional entity:
