 Net Income.....35,212 million yen (up 20% year on year)
 Earnings Per Share (Basic)420.87 yen (up 18% year on year)

Revenues: 497,897 million yen (up 4% year on year)

"Residential condominium sales" increased due to the steady performance of the condominium development business in all three quarters of the nine months ended December 31, 2002. In addition, "other operating revenues" grew due to the listing and sale of units of a real estate investment trust (J-REIT) in the first quarter, and as a result of revenues from companies in which investments were made as part of ORIX's corporate restructuring business. "Interest on loans and investment securities" rose due to an increase in the balance of housing loans and consumer card loans to individuals in Japan. While there was a decrease in revenues in the life insurance business owing to a change in business strategy, overall revenues were up 4% year on year to 497,897 million yen.

Expenses: 442,275 million yen (up 4% year on year)

Lower interest rates and a decrease in debt led to a drop in "interest expense," while "life insurance costs" declined in line with lower life insurance revenues." On the other hand, "selling, general and administrative expenses" increased mainly due to acquisitions that were made in the second half of the last fiscal year, and increased costs associated with expansion of consumer lending operations. In addition, the write-down of a golf course under "write-downs of long-lived assets" in the second quarter and the increase in "costs of residential condominium sales" that accompanied the increase in revenues from condominium development, contributed to an increase in overall expenses of 4% year on year to 442,275 million yen.

Edgar Filing: ORIX CORP - Form 6-K

Net Income: 35,212 million yen (up 20% year on year)

In addition to the 4% increase in operating income, a 5,676 million yen gain in "equity in net income (loss) of and gain (loss) on sales of affiliates," and a "cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle" resulted in a 20% rise in net income year on year to 35,212 million yen.

Operating Assets: 5,301,801 million yen (down 4% on March 31, 2002)

As a result of the careful selection of good quality assets, new business volumes increased in areas related to corporate real estate-related finance and the consumer card loan operations. However, some direct financing lease and loan assets were securitized, and some "investment in securities" were liquidated in the life insurance operations. In addition, "other operating assets" declined due to the listing and sale of units of a J-REIT in the first quarter. As a result, operating assets were 5,301,801 million yen, down 4% on March 31, 2002.

Segment Information ("Segment profits" refer to income before income taxes)

Domestic Operations

Corporate Finance: While acquisitions added new assets, the securitization of direct financing leases resulted in flat asset growth in this segment. Segment profits were up 2%, or 616 million yen, year on year to 36,062 million yen, with the automobile leasing operations enjoying higher profits.

Equipment Operating Leases: Segment profits were down 39% to 4,572 million yen year on year. The automobile rental operations performed well, but the rental of precision measuring equipment continued to suffer due to a decrease in demand as a result of a weak business environment.

Real Estate-Related Finance: Segment profits jumped to 12,664 million yen from 2,155 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year due to the continued strong contribution from corporate non-recourse loans and consumer housing loans, an increase in profits from loan servicing, and proceeds from the first quarter listing and sale of a J-REIT.

Real Estate: The condominium development business continued to perform well, especially in the third quarter. Segment revenues also included the gains of the sales of some office buildings, and revenues from rental properties and building maintenance operations. However, this segment still experienced a loss of 4,466 million yen compared with a profit of 4,303 million yen in the nine months ended December 31, 2002 due to a 14,665 million yen write-down of a golf course in the second quarter.

Life Insurance: Segment profits came in at 2,949 million yen compared to 3,889 million yen in the nine months ended December 31, 2001 (5,764 million yen for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2002), with a slight loss in the third quarter due to a decrease in gains on investment securities.

Other: Segment profits rose sharply to 10,155 million yen compared to 3,244 million yen thanks to an increase in the balance of consumer card loans as well as a contribution from the securitization of loans in the card loan business in the second quarter. In addition, Fuji Fire & Marine Insurance Co., Limited, an affiliate accounted for by the equity method, contributed to earnings in the third quarter.

Foreign Operations

Edgar Filing: ORIX CORP - Form 6-K

The Americas: As a result of instability in the U.S. economy and deteriorating corporate earnings, "provisions for doubtful receivables and possible loan losses" and the "write-downs of securities" of high yield and other bonds were recorded, while the commercial mortgage-backed securities operations experienced lower earnings. However, progress in restructuring resulted in decreased losses at ORIX Financial Services, Inc. The segment lost 590 million yen compared to a segment loss of 338 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Asia and Oceania: Asia has been steadily recovering in the wake of the Asian Currency Crisis, and companies throughout the region are experiencing growing earnings. In particular, the automobile leasing operations performed well, resulting in an increase in segment profits to 5,859 million yen compared to 4,496 million yen in the nine months ended December 31, 2001.

Europe: While the sale of investment securities contributed to profits in the same period of the previous fiscal year, no such gains were made in this fiscal year. This, combined with the decrease in assets for the nine months ended December 31, 2002 resulted in a segment loss of 722 million yen compared to a segment profit of 1,474 million yen in the same period of the previous year.

2. Summary of Third Quarter (Three Months Ended December 31, 2002)

In the third quarter, revenues increased 15,077 million yen, or 10%, year on year, to 163,169 million yen. This was primarily due to the strong performance of the condominium development business. In addition, "other operating revenues" increased due to revenues from companies in which investments were made as part of ORIX's corporate restructuring business. While there was a decrease in "interest expense" and "write-downs of securities," "selling, general and administrative expenses" were up and "costs of residential condominium sales" and "other operating expenses" increased in line with revenue growth. Overall, expenses increased 8%, or 10,024 million yen, year on year, to 142,182 million yen. Operating income rose by 32%, or 5,053 million yen, to 20,987 million yen compared with the third quarter of the previous fiscal year. Furthermore, an increase in "equity in net income (loss) of and gain (loss) on sales of affiliates" in the third quarter contributed to a 42% increase in income before income taxes to 23,302 million yen and a 34% rise in net income to 12,449 million yen.

3. Outlook and Forecasts for the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2003

While the economic environment in Japan and overseas remains severe, ORIX's earnings for the nine months ended December 31, 2002 demonstrated comparatively stable growth. For the fiscal year ending March 31, 2003, we forecast "revenues" of 680,000 million yen (up 3% compared with the fiscal year ended March 31, 2002), "income before income taxes" of 80,000 million yen (up 10%), and "net income" of 46,000 million yen (up 14%). These forecasts are unchanged from those announced on April 25, 2002 at the time of the earnings announcement for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2002.
