BUSINESS REPORT

(From April 1, 2008 to March 31, 2009)

1. Matters on the Current Status of the Makita Group

(1) Progress and Results of Operations

The business environments surrounding Makita Corporation (the Company) and its consolidated subsidiaries (collectively Makita) have remained severe in Japan and the United States since the beginning of the year mainly due to the impact of the weak housing market, while in Western Europe, Russia and Eastern Europe and other emerging countries, the business was generally strong until the summer of 2008 supported by active investments in construction, the high prices of crude oil and other resources. However, the financial crisis expanded from the United States to other economies worldwide in September 2008 as a result of a series of stock price crashes and steep depreciation of currency values. The keen sense of recession has spread everywhere from Japan, Western Europe and developed countries to emerging countries in Eastern Europe and Russia, Central and South America, the Middle East and others. Consequently, investment in construction and housing dropped significantly in the world, which resulted in a sharp decrease in the demand for power tools. Accordingly, business conditions in the power tool market further worsened in the second half of the year forward the end of the year.

Under these circumstances, in development side, Makita expanded its product lines, including those of power tools, rechargeable tools and gardening equipment designed to further improve working conditions for users through the development of smaller and lighter tools or tools with lower noise and vibration. In production side, the construction of the second plant in Brazil, South America and the expansion of a plant in Romania, Eastern Europe, were completed and both plants began smooth operations. The aim of these plants is to further strengthen the global production system of the Group in order to flexibly satisfy the demand worldwide. In sales side, Makita strove to strengthen its global sales systems throughout the year. In North America, our business relationship with Home Depot, Inc. was strengthened. In addition, we strove to maintain and improve our No.1 sales and after-sales service system in the industry in Japan and other developed countries. Subsidiaries were established in Bulgaria, Colombia, and India, to strengthen our marketing in the expanding emerging countries. A subsidiary was also established in the Kingdom of Morocco, which serves as a marketing base in the expanding African market.

Our consolidated net sales decreased by 14.2% from the previous year to 294,034 million yen. This was because the significant appreciation of the yen had advanced steeply since last fall and the demand for power tools weakened throughout the world. The demand shrinkage in Japan and the United States started in the beginning of the current year, followed by weakening demand in West European countries. Moreover, economic growth in Eastern Europe and Russia, Asia, Central and South America, the Middle East and other emerging markets, where it had previously remained strong, also slowed down.

Our profit figures were adversely affected by a decrease in sales on the Japanese yen basis due to the appreciation of the yen against many other currencies and a higher ratio of SG&A expenses to sales, especially in the second half of the year. Consequently, operating income for the year decreased by 25.3% to 50,075 million yen from the previous year (operating income ratio: 17.0%). As for other expenses, exchange losses on foreign currency transactions and realized losses on securities due to falling stock prices increased from the previous year. Consequently, income before income taxes was 44,017 million yen (income before income taxes ratio: 15.0%), a 33.1% decrease from the previous year, and net income was 33,286 million yen (net income ratio: 11.3%), a 27.7% decrease.

Sales results by region were as follows:

Sales in Japan decreased by 11.4% from the previous year to 46,222 million yen due to the economic stagnation and weak housing start. There was no sign of recovery in the demand for power tools in the domestic market.

Sales in Europe decreased by 14.5% to 137,113 million yen due to the decline in construction demand in Western Europe, along with the decline in demand since last fall in Eastern Europe and Russia, where sales had been strong in the past. The stronger yen against the British pound, the euro and other European currencies also had an adverse effect on sales.

Sales in North America decreased by 25.0% to 42,289 million yen due to the worsening housing and commercial construction markets in the United States, weak sales in the Christmas season and the stronger yen against the U.S. dollar.

Sales in Asia totaled 21,995 million yen, a 2.8% decrease from the previous year. Sales in Asia were significantly affected by the steep decline in construction investments in Southeast Asian countries.

Sales results in other areas were negatively affected by sharply worsening economic conditions in these areas caused mainly by the steep decline in the prices of crude oil and other mineral resources. Significant depreciation in local currency values against yen also had a negative effect. Consequently, sales in Central and South America totaled 16,738 million yen, a 0.2% decrease from the previous year, sales in the Middle East and Africa region totaled 16,466 million yen, an 11.9% decrease, and sales in Oceania totaled 13,211 million yen, a 14.9% decrease.

Overall, overseas sales accounted for 84.3% of total sales.

Table of Contents(2) Future Tasks

Regarding the future forecast, business conditions for Makita are expected to remain severe for the present. The global simultaneous recession is expected to continue to worsen. Consequently, the demand for power tools will remain low everywhere in the world, with competition in the industry intensifying further. Movement in the foreign exchange market will be unpredictable. However, it is expected that the economy will show some signs of recovery in the second half of 2009 by the effect of all economic and financial measures implemented by countries around the world in concert.

Duly noting these circumstances, Makita aims to build a strong brand equity and to become a Strong Company. In other words, to become a company that can obtain and maintain worldwide market leadership as a global total supplier of products such as power tools for professional use, air tools, and gardening equipments. This is to be accomplished by the ability to develop new products that satisfy professional users, by global production structure that achieves both high quality and price competitiveness, as well as sales and after-sales service structure that secure the Company to lead the industry both in the domestic and overseas markets.

In order to carry out this management strategy, Makita will strive to reinforce its R&D and product development activities to deliver more user-friendly and earth-conscious power tools and gardening equipment. It will also strengthen technical development of compact engines including the establishment of the technical center. The global production organizations will be strengthened to respond to changes in demand conditions, Sales activities to professional users will be promoted. In addition, activities to maintain and improve our sales and after-sales service will be aggressively promoted.

In closing, we would like to thank you for your ongoing support and ask you for continued backing.

(3) Capital Expenditures

During the term, Makita allocated 17,046 million yen for its capital expenditures. These funds used by the Company amounted to approximately 6.2 billion yen. This reflected mainly capital expenditures for rebuilding the Shipping building at Okazaki plant, and metal molds for new products. These funds also used by subsidiaries amounted to approximately 10.8 billion yen. This reflected mainly capital expenditures for construction of R&D facility of China plant, second plant in Brazil, and new Sales office in France, and expansion of Romanian plant.

(Additional Information)

Traditionally, the Company has set the estimated service life of machinery and equipment at 10 years. From the current fiscal year, the estimated service life of some kinds of machinery and equipment has been changed to seven to ten years. These changes in estimated service life were in response to taxation system revisions implemented in fiscal 2008 (Revision of the Corporation Tax Law (the Law Concerning Revision of Part of the Income Tax Law and Other Law, Law No. 23, April 30, 2008)). As a result, operating income, ordinary income and net income before income tax were each 165 million yen less than as calculated using the former estimated service life.

Intangible fixed assets:
(Excluding Lease assets)

Straight-line method

Goodwill is amortized uniformly over a five-year period.

Software for internal use is depreciated on the straight-line method over its estimated useful life (five years).

Lease assets:

Lease assets relating to finance lease transactions, excluding those whose ownership is transferred to the lessee upon lease expiration, are depreciated by the straight-line method over the lease term with no residual value, the lease term being regarded as the estimated asset service life. Finance lease transactions whose lease transaction commenced on and before March 31, 2008, excluding those in which the ownership of the lease asset is transferred to the lessee upon expiration of the lease, are accounted for by the accounting method used for ordinary lease transactions.

Past service liabilities are amortized by the straight-line method over the average remaining employment period. Actuarial differences are amortized starting immediately after the year of accrual by the straight-line method over the average remaining employment period.
Estimated retirement allowances for directors and statutory auditors:	The Company terminated the retirement allowance plan for directors and statutory auditors as of the end of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 29, 2006. The balance of the term end is the amount of the reserve for the period of office served until abolition of the plan by those current directors (excluding outside director) and statutory auditors who served until June 29, 2006.
