Dear Shareholder:

Municipal bonds came under significant pressure during the six-month period ended March 31, 2011. Concern over the fiscal health of state and local issuers, the end of the federal government's Build America Bonds program and a two-year extension of the Bush-era income tax rates, among other factors, combined to send prices of municipal bonds lower.

The Six-Month Period in Review

During the six-month fiscal period ended March 31, 2011:

PIMCO Municipal Income Fund III declined 11.41% on net asset value ( NAV ) and 3.67% on market price.

PIMCO California Municipal Fund III fell 13.42% on NAV and 9.47% on market price.

PIMCO New York Municipal Income Fund III decreased 10.71% on NAV and 8.82% on market price.

In this environment, the Barclays Capital Municipal Bond Index fell a tax-advantaged 3.68% for the reporting period, while the Barclays Capital U.S. Treasury Bond Index declined 0.98%. The broad, taxable bond market, represented by the Barclays Capital U.S. Aggregate Index, decreased 0.88% for the six months ended March 31, 2011.

The federal government discontinued its Build America Bonds program on December 31, 2010. The program, part of the Obama administration's economic stimulus package, subsidized taxable municipal securities in an effort to attract investors. As the program wound down, many state and local governments flooded the market with new bonds. This temporary oversupply exceeded demand, causing prices to fall. As 2011 began, state and local governments issued fewer new bonds helping to stabilize the municipal bond market.

The Road Ahead and the Case for Municipals

The fiscal pressures faced by many states and cities are undeniable. In fiscal year 2012, they are grappling with an expected aggregate budget shortfall of $134 billion. In addition, cities and states also have more in excess of $1 trillion in unfunded pension and benefit liabilities which is driving many painful decisions to raise taxes and/or reduce spending. These difficult measures may help explain why the number of municipal bonds defaults of late is lower than in recent periods. In 2010, Standard & Poor's, reports 110 bonds totalling $2.7 billion defaulted. This represented a decline from 2009, when 151 bonds worth a total of $2.9 billion defaulted. These numbers, in turn, should be considered within the overall context of the $2.7 trillion municipal bond market. In fact, since 1970, only 0.09% of municipal bonds rated by Moody's Investors Service have defaulted. States are not allowed by law to file for bankruptcy; 49 are required to have balanced budgets. As for local governments, while bankruptcy filings are permitted in 26 states, this has happened only twice in 40 years. In each of these situations, the entities continued to pay interest on their debt while their respective cases were being worked out.

Going forward, we believe states and cities will continue adjusting to their fiscal challenges. In addition, despite the extension of the Bush-era tax cuts through the end of 2012, our expectation is that taxes will trend higher at all levels of government in the years ahead. For these reasons, municipal securities, despite their recent challenges, will remain solid, long-term investments for many people.

PIMCO Municipal Income Funds III Fund Insights

March 31, 2011 (unaudited)

For the fiscal six-months ended March 31, 2011, PIMCO Municipal Income Fund III returned (11.41)% on net asset value ( NAV ) and (3.67)% on market price. The unmanaged Barclays Capital Long Municipal Bond Index returned (7.94)% during the reporting period.

For the fiscal six-months ended March 31, 2011, PIMCO California Municipal Income Fund III, returned (13.42)% on NAV and (9.47)% on market price. The unmanaged Barclays Capital Municipal Long California Bond Index returned (9.05)% during the reporting period.

For the fiscal six-months ended March 31, 2011, PIMCO New York Municipal Income Fund III, returned (10.71)% on NAV and (8.82)% on market price. The unmanaged Barclays Capital Municipal Long New York Bond Index returned (7.51)% during the reporting period.

It was a challenging period for certain segments of the fixed income sector. Yields across the Treasury curve moved sharply higher during the period, as two-year Treasuries rose from 0.42% to 0.80% and 10-year Treasuries increased from 2.53% to 3.47%. The rise in yields was attributable to a variety of factors, including mounting inflationary pressures due to higher oil and food prices. In addition, the economy continued to expand, manufacturing activity remained strong, and there were signs that the labor market was improving. For the six months ended March 31, 2011, the Barclays Capital U.S. Aggregate Index returned (0.88)%. Despite stabilizing somewhat toward the end of the period, the municipal market produced poor results. A confluence of events dragged down municipal bonds, including the rising interest rate environment, concerns regarding increased municipal defaults, a large increase in issuance of Build America Bonds at the end of 2010, and substantial redemptions from mutual fund shareholders. All told, the overall municipal market, as measured by the Barclays Capital Municipal Bond Index, returned (3.68)% during the six-month reporting period.

During the reporting period, the Funds exposure to the tobacco sector was a significant detractor from performance. During the fourth quarter of 2010, a number of municipal tobacco settlement trusts were downgraded to below investment grade status. This led to a sharp sell-off, which was exacerbated by forced selling into an illiquid market by mutual funds not permitted to hold non-investment grade securities. Exposure to the corporate-backed sector was also negative for performance as it underperformed the benchmark.

In contrast, exposure to the housing and power sectors was positive for performance as these sectors held up relatively well amid a weak environment in the overall municipal market. Higher credit quality biases were rewarded, as lower rated credits underperformed their higher quality counterparts as a result of concern for an increase in municipal defaults. Moreover, having a shorter duration than the benchmark was beneficial for performance, as municipal yields rose across the curve during the reporting period.

(1) Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Total return is calculated by determining the percentage change in NAV or market price (as applicable) in the specified period. The calculation assumes that all income dividends, capital gain and return of capital distributions, if any, have been reinvested. Total return does not reflect broker commissions or sales charges in connection with the purchase or sale of Fund shares. Total return for a period of less than one year is not annualized. Total return for a period of more than one year represents the average annual total return.

Performance at market price will differ from results at NAV. Although market price returns typically reflect investment results over time, during shorter periods returns at market price can also be influenced by factors such as changing views about the Funds, market conditions, supply and demand for the Funds' shares, or changes in Funds' dividends.

An investment in the Funds involves risk, including the loss of principal. Total return, market price, market price yield and NAV will fluctuate with changes in market conditions. This data is provided for information purposes only and is not intended for trading purposes. Closed-end funds, unlike open-end funds, are not continuously offered. There is a onetime public offering and once issued, shares of closed-end funds are traded in the open market through a stock exchange. NAV is equal to total assets attributable to common shareholders less total liabilities divided by the number of common shares outstanding. Holdings are subject to change daily.

(2) Market Price Yield is determined by dividing the annualized current monthly per share dividend (comprised of net investment income) payable to common shareholders by the market price per common share at March 31, 2011.
