On December 29, 2006, Cytokinetics, Incorporated (the Company) entered into a Collaboration and Option Agreement (the Collaboration Agreement) with Amgen Inc. (Amgen) to discover, develop and commercialize novel small-molecule therapeutics that activate cardiac muscle contractility for potential applications in the treatment of heart failure. In addition, the terms of the Collaboration Agreement grant Amgen an option to participate in future development and commercialization of the Company's lead drug candidate arising from this program, CK-1827452. The collaboration is worldwide, excluding Japan.

Under the terms of the Collaboration Agreement, the Company will receive a non-refundable up-front license and technology access fee of $42 million. In connection with the Collaboration Agreement, the Company also entered into a Common Stock Purchase Agreement with Amgen (the CSPA), which provides for the sale of 3,484,806 shares of the Company's common stock (the Shares) at a price per share of $9.47 and an aggregate purchase price of approximately $33.0 million, and a Registration Rights Agreement (RRA) that provides Amgen with certain registration rights with respect to the Shares. Pursuant to the terms of the CSPA, Amgen has agreed to certain trading and other restrictions with respect to the Company's common stock. The Company and Amgen have also entered into a security agreement in connection with the Collaboration Agreement that will provide Amgen with a security interest in certain patents and related property to secure the Company's obligations under the Collaboration Agreement. Joint research activities under the Collaboration Agreement will focus on identifying and characterizing activators of cardiac myosin as back-up and follow-on potential drug candidates to CK-1827452. During the initial two year research term, in addition to performing research at its own expense under the collaboration, the Company will continue to conduct all development activities at its own expense for CK-1827452 subject to Amgen's option and according to an agreed development plan. Amgen's option is exercisable upon the satisfaction of certain conditions including CK-1827452 being developed to meet pre-defined criteria in Phase 2a clinical trials. To exercise its option, Amgen would pay a non-refundable exercise fee of $50 million and thereafter would be responsible for development and commercialization of CK-1827452 and related compounds, at its expense, subject to certain development and commercial participation rights of the Company.

Under the terms of the Collaboration Agreement, the Company may be eligible to receive pre-commercialization and commercialization milestone payments of up to $600 million in the aggregate on CK-1827452 and other potential products arising from research under the collaboration as well as royalties that escalate based on increasing levels of annual net sales of products commercialized under the Collaboration Agreement. The Collaboration Agreement also provides for the Company to receive increased royalties by co-funding Phase 3 development costs of drug candidates under the collaboration. If the Company elects to co-fund such costs, it would be allowed to co-promote products in North America and participate in agreed commercial activities in institutional care settings, at Amgen's expense. If Amgen elects not to exercise its option on CK-1827452, the Company may then proceed to independently develop CK-1827452 and the research collaboration would terminate.

The Company relied on the exemption from registration contained in Section 4(2) of the Securities Act, and Regulation D, Rule 506 thereunder, in connection with the issuance and sale of the Shares to Amgen.

A copy of the Collaboration Agreement will be filed as an exhibit to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006, or another report filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. A copy of the CSPA and a copy of the RRA are attached hereto as Exhibits 10.69 and 10.70, respectively, and are incorporated by reference into this Item 1.01.

On January 3, 2007, the Company also issued a press release announcing the Company's entry into the Collaboration Agreement and the sale of the Shares. A copy of the press release is filed as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and is incorporated by reference into this Item 1.01.
