Vodafone Group Plc (VOD) Successful placing of Mandatory Convertible Bonds (MCBs)

5 March 2019

Transaction Highlights:

- Vodafone to raise £3.44 billion through the issuance of MCBs
- Bonds to be issued in two tranches - maturing March 2021 and March 2022
- Net proceeds of the bonds will be used as part of the financing of the acquisition of Liberty Global's assets in Germany, Czech Republic, Hungary and Romania
- Potential for Vodafone to buy back shares in order to mitigate dilution. Any decision to buy back shares will be taken independently of the conversion of the bonds and will be dependent on market conditions and Vodafone's financial position and outlook at the relevant time. Any such share buyback will be funded from the issuance of hybrid securities, depending on credit market conditions

- An option strategy gives Vodafone the ability to mitigate, partially or fully, any share price appreciation relative to the initial conversion price of the bonds, should it decide to execute a share buyback. Vodafone reserves the right to cancel or modify any option strategy entered into during the tenor of the bonds

Further Details:

Vodafone Group Plc (Vodafone) announces the placement of £3.44 billion of MCBs, to be issued in two tranches maturing March 2021 and March 2022 (together, the Bonds).

The Bonds will be physically settled on mandatory conversion in accordance with their terms. Vodafone will be entitled to satisfy this delivery obligation by allotting and issuing new ordinary shares of Vodafone (Ordinary Shares) to Bondholders or by transferring existing Ordinary Shares from treasury. The number of Ordinary Shares into which the Bonds are initially convertible (determined by dividing the nominal amount of the Bonds by the Conversion Price described below) represents approximately 9.8% of Vodafone s current share capital and accordingly falls within the limits approved by Vodafone s shareholders at its annual general meeting in July 2018 for the purposes of making offers of Ordinary Shares on a non-pre-emptive basis.

The initial Conversion Price will be determined on the basis of the higher of (i) GBP 1.3136 (being Vodafone's closing share price on the London Stock Exchange (the "LSE") on Monday, 4 March 2019, the "initial Share Price") and (ii) the arithmetic average of the daily volume-weighted average prices of an Ordinary Share on the LSE on each of the three scheduled trading days starting on (and including) 6 March 2019. The Conversion Price, as so determined, will be announced by Vodafone following the close of market trading on the LSE on 8 March 2019.

The Bonds will be issued at par. The coupon has been fixed at 1.20% per annum (in respect of the Bonds maturing March 2021) and 1.50% per annum (in respect of the Bonds maturing March 2022). The Bonds (less an amount equal to the present value of all future coupons under the Bonds) are expected to be accounted for as equity. In addition, and in accordance with securities of this type, the Bonds will represent subordinated debt of Vodafone and all coupon payments to be made under the Bonds are deferrable at Vodafone's option.

Settlement and closing is scheduled to take place on 12 March 2019.

After the Bonds have been issued, Vodafone intends to apply for the Bonds to be admitted to trading on Euronext Dublin's Global Exchange Market or another recognised stock exchange.

The option strategy referred to above will consist of (i) call options to hedge against any potential increase of the share price of the Ordinary Shares; and (ii) corresponding put options to decrease the cost of entering into the call options. Such options are expected (subject to limited exceptions) to have scheduled exercise dates on 125 consecutive trading days beginning three days after the delivery of Ordinary Shares pursuant to a conversion of the relevant tranche of Bonds referencing the arithmetic average of the daily volume-weighted average prices of an Ordinary Share on the LSE, BATS, Chi-X or any other exchange determined at the relevant time. Certain of the Joint Bookrunners (as defined below), acting in their capacity as initial option counterparties, will enter into transactions to hedge their respective positions under the call and put options described above, which may include transactions to be conducted during the share reference period for the determination of the initial Conversion Price, as well as subscribing for a proportion of the Bonds themselves. In connection with their respective positions, such initial option counterparties subscribed for and were allocated, at Vodafone's sole discretion, 45% of the aggregate nominal amount of each tranche of the Bonds to be issued.

Reference is also made to Vodafone's share buy-back programme, which will continue to operate during and after the share reference period for the determination of the initial Conversion Price. Please refer to Vodafone's announcement of 28 January 2019 for further details.

MiFID II Product Governance / Professional investors and ECPs only target market: Solely for the purposes of the product governance requirements contained within: (a) EU Directive 2014/65/EU on Markets in Financial Instruments, as amended ("MiFID II"); (b) Articles 9 and 10 of Commission Delegated Directive (EU) 2017/593 supplementing MiFID II; and (c) local implementing measures (together, the "MiFID II Product Governance Requirements"), and disclaiming all and any liability, whether arising in tort, contract or otherwise, which any "Manufacturer" (for the purposes of the MiFID II Product Governance Requirements) may otherwise have with respect thereto, the Bonds have been subject to a product approval process, which has determined that: (i) the target market for the Bonds is eligible counterparties and professional clients only, each as defined in MiFID II; and (ii) all channels for distribution of the Bonds to eligible counterparties and professional clients are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Bonds (a "distributor") should take into consideration each Manufacturer's target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Bonds (by either adopting or refining each Manufacturer's target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels. The target market assessment is without prejudice to the requirements of any contractual or legal selling restrictions in relation to the Bonds.

For the avoidance of doubt, the target market assessment does not constitute: (a) an assessment of suitability or appropriateness for the purposes of MiFID II; or (b) a recommendation to any investor or group of investors to invest in, or purchase, or take any other action whatsoever with respect to the Bonds.

No key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014, as amended (the PRIPs Regulation) for offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIPs Regulation.

No action has been taken by Vodafone or by any financial institutions acting for Vodafone in relation to the placing of the Bonds (together, the Joint Bookrunners) or any of their respective affiliates that would permit an offering of the securities or possession or distribution of this announcement or any offering or publicity material relating to such securities in any jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required. Persons into whose possession this announcement comes are required by Vodafone and the Joint Bookrunners to inform themselves about and to observe any such restrictions.

The Joint Bookrunners are acting exclusively for Vodafone and no one else in connection with the offering. They will not regard any other person as their respective clients in relation to the offering of the Bonds and will not be responsible to any other person for providing the protections afforded to clients of each Joint Bookrunner or for providing advice in relation to the offering, the Bonds or any other transaction, matter or arrangement referred to in this announcement.

Each of Vodafone, the Joint Bookrunners and their respective affiliates expressly disclaims any obligation or undertaking to update, review or revise any statement contained in this announcement whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise.

Any discussions, negotiations or other communications that may be entered into, whether in connection with the information set out herein or otherwise, shall be conducted subject to contract.

Acquiring investments to which this announcement relates may expose an investor to a significant risk of losing all of the amount invested. Each prospective investor should proceed on the assumption that it must bear the economic risk of an investment in the Bonds and/or Ordinary Shares for an indefinite period. None of Vodafone or the Joint Bookrunners makes any representation as to (i) the suitability of the Bonds and/or Ordinary Shares for any particular investor, (ii) the appropriate accounting treatment and potential tax consequences of investing in the Bonds and/or Ordinary Shares or (iii) the future performance of the Bonds and/or Ordinary Shares either in absolute terms or relative to competing investments. Persons considering making such investments should consult an authorised person specialising in advising on such investments. This announcement does not constitute a recommendation concerning the Bonds or the Ordinary Shares. The value of the Bonds and/or Ordinary Shares can decrease as well as increase. Potential investors should consult a professional advisor as to the suitability of the Bonds and/or Ordinary Shares for the person concerned.

In connection with the offering, the Joint Bookrunners and any of their affiliates, acting as investors for their own accounts, may subscribe for or purchase Bonds and/or Ordinary Shares and in that capacity may retain, purchase, sell, offer to sell or otherwise deal for their own accounts in such Bonds and/or Ordinary Shares and any other securities of Vodafone or related investments in connection with the Bonds and/or Ordinary Shares or Vodafone or otherwise. Accordingly, references to the securities being issued, offered, subscribed, acquired, placed or otherwise dealt in should be read as including any issue or offer to, or subscription, acquisition, placing or dealing by, the Joint Bookrunners and any of their respective affiliates acting as investors for their own accounts.
