ITEM 8.01 Other Events.

While Bluefly, Inc. (the “Company”) continues to be in active discussions regarding a strategic transaction, the consideration payable to shareholders is expected to be minimal. We currently have sufficient funds to support our operations until the anticipated closing date of the transaction. There can be no assurance that the proposed transaction can be consummated.

This Form 8-K may include statements that constitute “forward-looking statements,” usually containing the words “believe,” “project,” “expect” or similar expressions. These statements are made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements inherently involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements. The risks and uncertainties are detailed from time to time in reports filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including Forms 8-K, 10-Q and 10-K. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, the following: we do not have a binding agreement regarding the consummation of any strategic transaction and there can be no assurance that a definitive agreement regarding a strategic transaction can be reached or consummated; the Company’s limited capital; the Company’s history of losses and anticipated future losses; the risk of default by us under our credit facility and the consequences that might arise from us having granted a lien on substantially all of our assets under that agreement; the dependence on third parties and certain relationships for certain services, and our dependence on our third-party web hosting, fulfillment and customer service centers; and our dependence upon executive personnel who do not have long-term employment agreements.
