AMARC COMMENCES DRILLING ON THE ASPIRA PROPERTY

August 27, 2008, Vancouver, BC - Amarc Resources Ltd. (TSX-V: AHR, OTCBB: AXREF) announces that diamond drilling has commenced at its 100%-owned Aspira property. The Aspira property is part of the highly prospective Sitlika Zinc-Copper Belt, which has significant potential for the discovery of zinc-copper rich volcanogenic massive sulphide (VMS) deposits.

The Aspira property is located in central British Columbia some 40 kilometres northeast of the town of Burns Lake and 35 kilometres north of the Endako Mine. It is approximately 44 kilometres by logging road to the Yellowhead Provincial Highway and the CNR rail line, which provide access to the bulk shipping terminals at Prince Rupert to the west.

The Aspira targets are defined by positive results from extensive soil geochemical sampling (5,184 samples), geological mapping, a 37 kilometre-line induced polarization geophysical survey, and a helicopter-borne AeroTem II magnetic geophysical survey.

These surveys have delineated four significant target areas along an 11-kilometre trend (see Aspira Project maps at www.amarcresources.com). The target areas show strongly anomalous zinc concentrations (500 ppm to 8,581 ppm) in soils with associated anomalous concentrations of copper, which are coincident with a pronounced trough feature internal to a linear, northwest-trending magnetic high and a chargeability high. Geological mapping has shown that the target areas are associated with a felsic volcanic and sedimentary rock package that represents typical stratigraphy for VMS type mineralization.

A drill access road has been constructed and the initial program of 15 diamond drill holes is in progress.
