Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Samuel Adams Brewery Company, Ltd., an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Registrant ("SABC"), has entered into a Production Agreement with Brown-Forman Distillery Company, a division of Brown-Forman Corporation ("Brown-Forman"), pursuant to which SABC will produce at its brewery located in Cincinnati, Ohio, a clear malt base using technology developed by Brown-Forman. Under the Production Agreement, SABC and Brown-Forman will share the investment costs of the equipment and fermenting and storage tanks required for this additional capacity. Capital expenditures required under the Production Agreement are expected to be between $2.5 million and $4 million, with Brown-Forman bearing its share over the life of the contract. The contract is not expected to have a material net effect on Registrant's revenue, operating costs or earnings.

Under the Production Agreement, Brown-Forman has the right to purchase up to a fixed percentage of the total capacity of the clear malt base that SABC can produce and SABC has the right to the balance of the production capacity for use in its own products, including Twisted Tea® flavored malt beverages, that are produced under the trade name Twisted Tea Brewery Company. Registrant currently believes that the clear malt base produced for use in Twisted Tea® products will allow those products to comply with the new regulations relating the production of flavored malt beverages promulgated by the U.S. Alcohol and Tobacco Trade and Tax Bureau which will become effective January 3, 2006.
