PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS.

General

A.C. Moore Arts & Crafts, Inc. (the "Company") is a leading operator of arts and crafts stores that offer a vast assortment of traditional and contemporary arts, crafts and floral merchandise for a wide range of customers. The Company's business strategy is to provide the broadest and deepest selection of high quality merchandise at the lowest prices in an inviting, attractive store environment with superior customer service. The Company's objective is to become the leading arts and crafts retailer in each of its markets. The Company opened its first store in 1985 and since then has focused on developing and refining its retail concept. The Company became a holding company in July 1997 by incorporating in Pennsylvania and exchanging 4,300,000 shares of Common Stock for all the capital stock of its operating subsidiary which was organized in Delaware in 1984. As of December 31, 2000, the Company was operating 50 stores in the Eastern United States.

The Company's prototype store ranges in size from 20,000 to 25,000 square feet, with approximately 80% devoted to selling space. A typical store offers approximately 65,000 SKUs across 26 merchandise categories during the course of a year, with more than 45,000 SKUs offered at any one time. Merchandise is presented in a distinctive manner designed to maximize shopping convenience and to reinforce themes and colors often associated with holidays, seasonal events or specific merchandise categories. Completed arts and crafts projects are prominently displayed in each department throughout the store to stimulate new project ideas for customers and to enhance the shopping environment.

Business Strategy

The key elements of the Company's business strategy are as follows:

Vast Merchandise Selection. The Company's merchandising strategy is to offer the broadest and deepest selection of arts and crafts merchandise so that customers can obtain everything necessary to create and finish any arts and crafts project. The Company's key merchandise categories include silk and dried flowers, floral arrangements and accessories, ribbon, wedding crafts, potpourri, stitchery, yarn, jewelry crafts, kids crafts, art supplies, picture frames, stamps, doll-making, seasonal items and a variety of unfinished wood crafts. The

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

Company believes its merchandise appeals to a wide range of recreational and professional crafters of all ages across diverse economic backgrounds. The Company actively seeks new merchandise by monitoring industry trends, working with domestic and international vendors, attending trade shows and craft fairs and regularly interacting with customers. The Company has designed its merchandise distribution systems to ensure rapid replenishment and the highest levels of in-stock positions. Each store receives merchandise daily from vendors or the Company's distribution center, which during peak periods will deliver a minimum of three and up to five times per week to the stores.

Customer Friendly Stores. The Company believes that its high level of customer service and its attractive, easy-to-shop stores are important competitive advantages. To ensure prompt and personalized service, the Company staffs its stores with a high ratio of store personnel to customers, including a store manager, three associate managers and a staff of up to 60 full-time and part-time sales associates. Store personnel, many of whom are arts and crafts enthusiasts, assist customers with merchandise selection and project ideas. All stores are furnished with a customer service area, a counter for the free arrangement of floral merchandise, eight to ten registers to ensure quick customer checkout and a room in which classes are held up to seven days a week for adults and children on a wide variety of craft skills. The Company's stores are typically located in power strip centers with convenient parking and are easily accessible from main arteries.

Price Leadership. The Company seeks to maintain the lowest prices on all merchandise. Buyers and store managers actively monitor competitors' prices to ensure that the Company maintains the lowest prices. The Company's policy to beat any competitor's advertised price by 10% is clearly displayed in all stores. In addition, on a weekly basis, the Company advertises select items at 20% to 40% off their everyday low prices. The Company believes that its strategy of price leadership enhances customer loyalty and provides superior value.

Entrepreneurial Culture. Since inception, the Company has strived to foster an ownership culture and merchandising creativity at all levels of the organization. This culture allows the Company to have numerous merchandising initiatives, which, if proven successful, can be implemented very quickly throughout the Company. For example, each store manager is empowered to purchase merchandise to meet the unique needs of the local customer base. Store managers and associate managers earn incentive bonuses based upon annual increases in store profitability, and in 2000, average compensation for store managers was $98,000. The Company believes its focus on empowering and rewarding its employees helps in recruiting, hiring and retaining talented personnel.

Growth Strategy

The Company has developed an expansion plan to become the leading arts and crafts retailer in each of its markets and plans to open at least 22 stores in 2001 and 2002. The Company has no current plans to expand through acquisitions, but may consider possible acquisitions in the future. The Company is targeting its expansion in both existing and new markets within an approximate 500-mile radius of the Company's southern New Jersey distribution center. This area contains more than 30% of the United States' population.

Merchandising

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

The Company's typical store offers approximately 65,000 SKUs across 26 merchandise categories during the course of a year, with more than 45,000 SKUs offered at any one time. The merchandise offered by the Company, by major product category, is as follows:

Floral and Accessories

Silk Flowers - includes a wide, seasonally changing assortment of high quality silk flowers, hand wrapped flowers, polystems, potted plants and green and flowering bushes.

Dried Flowers - includes baby's breath, eucalyptus and many styles and colors of a seasonally changing assortment of bouquets of dried flowers.

Floral Accessories - includes clay, brass, glass and ceramic containers, assorted mosses, styrofoam shapes, wreaths and other components to create floral displays.

Floral Arrangements - the Company's floral designers work with customers to make any arrangement, free of charge, from silk or dried flowers purchased from the Company. The stores also carry a large assortment of pre-made arrangements.

Ribbon - includes ribbon by the spool, lace, a large selection of specialty ribbon sold by the yard and pre-made bows.

Wedding - includes wedding supplies, bridal headpieces, bridal flowers, bouquet holders, ribbon roses and items used for christenings and baby showers.

Potpourri - includes dried potpourri, potpourri oils, packaged scents and a wide assortment of candles, ranging from tealights to five pound three wick candles.

Candle Making - includes blocks of paraffin wax, wicks and other materials necessary to make candles, as well as candle kits and brass and glass candle holders.

Wicker - includes a wide assortment of wicker baskets in various shapes and sizes.

In 2000, 1999 and 1998, floral and accessories accounted for approximately 26%, 28% and 27% of sales, respectively.

Traditional Crafts

Stitchery - includes a broad range of stitchery kits which appeal to beginner and experienced stitchers, cross stitch supplies, stitchery accessories, floss and sewing notions.

Yarn - includes acrylic, crochet cotton, cotton blends, rayon and other blends, as well as a full assortment of hooks, needles and other accessories.

in various ways such as painting, staining or stenciling.

Cake and Candy Making - includes cake boards, bakeware, candy molds, chocolate melts, cookie cutters, icing coloring and flavors and spices.

Miniatures - includes dollhouses and dollhouse furnishings, such as room settings, wallpaper, flooring and lighting, as well as miniature porcelains and ceramics.

Doll Making - includes bodies, heads and hair used to make dolls and clothing for dolls, as well as teddy bears and other stuffed animals.

Kids Crafts - includes sand art, sidewalk chalk, bead art supplies, children's stitchery kits, coloring and other books and children's crafts similar to crafts done by adults.

Felt, Glitter - includes felt, glitter, pom-poms, chenille stems and loup, all of which are used in the creation of craft projects.

Books - includes a wide range of books to assist crafters in all categories, such as how-to books for the beginner and books for the experienced crafter.

In 2000, 1999 and 1998, traditional crafts accounted for approximately 29%, 29% and 30% of sales, respectively.

Art Supplies and Frames

Art Supplies - includes bottled and tube paints (oil, acrylic and water based), pastels, brushes, tablets, canvas pieces, drawing pencils, markers and art palettes.

Stamps and Stationery - includes decorative stamps, stamp pads, fashion stickers, embossing tools, photo and memory albums, memory album accessories, scissors, hole punchers and note and fashion papers.

Stencils - includes decorative stencils, crayons and paints for use on walls, wood, metal, clothing and other products.

Frames - includes frames of all types and sizes, including empty frames and frames with glass, matting, posters and framing hardware.

In 2000, 1999 and 1998, art supplies and frames accounted for approximately 31%, 30% and 28% of sales, respectively.

Fashion Crafts

Clothing - includes adult's and children's T-shirts and sweatshirts to be decorated with fabric art, as well as related accessories.

Transfers - includes pictures which are ironed or sewn onto clothing, most of which can be further embellished with glitter and fabric paints.

Jewelry Making - includes jewelry making components such as beads, sequins, rhinestones and findings, as well as the tools required to complete the project.

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

In 2000, 1999 and 1998, fashion crafts accounted for approximately 8%, 7% and 7% of sales, respectively.

Seasonal Items

Seasonal items include a wide range of merchandise used as decorations for all major holidays and seasons, including the two most popular holiday seasons, Christmas and Easter. Other holidays, such as Valentine's Day, St. Patrick's Day and Halloween also result in significant sales of seasonal merchandise.

In 2000, 1999 and 1998, seasonal items accounted for approximately 6%, 7% and 8% of sales, respectively.

Purchasing

The Company's purchasing programs are designed to support its business strategy of providing customers with the broadest and deepest selection of high quality arts and crafts merchandise at the lowest prices and maintaining high in-stock positions. In order to manage its inventory of approximately 65,000 SKUs, the Company has organized its product offerings into 26 merchandise categories. The Company's 24 person corporate buying staff develops corporate buying programs to establish the merchandise direction for the Company and creates "planograms" to provide store managers with detailed descriptions and illustrations of store layout and merchandise presentation. The Company's product offering at a store is often enhanced by merchandise purchased by that store's manager to meet the unique needs of the store's customer base. The Company monitors these purchases through vendor master file controls. In-store department managers are responsible for daily reordering of merchandise and are monitored by store managers. Ordering occurs frequently, and the Company seeks vendors who can deliver on a timely basis. Approximately 96% of merchandise orders are placed through the Company's Electronic Data Interchange ("EDI") system, which allows for the automated reordering of merchandise from most domestic vendors. Approximately 58% of orders are shipped directly from the vendor to the Company's stores. The remaining 42%, over 35% of which are floral and seasonal items, are shipped from the Company's distribution center. An early morning stocking crew unpacks deliveries and stocks merchandise before the store opens.

The Company purchases its inventory from more than 500 vendors world-wide. The largest 25 suppliers accounted for approximately 43% of the dollar volume of the Company's purchases in 2000, and the largest supplier, SBAR'S, Inc. ("SBAR'S") accounted for approximately 19% of the dollar volume of the Company's purchases in 2000. Approximately 10% of the Company's merchandise, primarily floral and seasonal items, is imported directly from foreign manufacturers or their agents, principally in the Far East. All of the Company's overseas purchases are denominated in dollars.

SBAR'S is a large distributor of arts and crafts merchandise, primarily to independent arts and crafts retailers. SBAR'S maintains an inventory of many of the items the Company purchases directly from other vendors, thereby allowing the Company to obtain merchandise from SBAR'S which cannot be delivered by vendors on a timely basis. SBAR'S maintains a product development and design department which assists the Company in identifying craft trends, and the Company often obtains from SBAR'S product samples and displays which are utilized in the Company's stores to generate customer interest. The Company has developed a disciplined purchasing and ordering relationship with SBAR'S, which includes daily reordering and two to five deliveries by SBAR'S per store each week, depending on the size of the store and time of the year. Merchandise purchased from SBAR'S typically has a high SKU count but small dollar volume, requires greater volume purchases from a manufacturer to obtain competitive pricing or involves a small number of SKUs from individual vendors with whom it would be impractical for the Company to establish a direct buying relationship. The Company does not have a purchase agreement or an exclusive arrangement with SBAR'S, and ordering of merchandise typically occurs through the issuance of individual purchase orders.

The Company's buying operation is divided into two divisions. One division, headed by an Executive Vice President assisted by three buyers, handles merchandising for all floral and seasonal items. The other division, headed by a Senior Vice President assisted by a divisional merchandise manager and 10 buyers, is responsible for merchandising all other items, which comprised approximately 84% of net sales in 2000. Buyers and store management regularly attend trade shows and craft fairs to monitor industry trends and to obtain new craft ideas.

Store Format and Operations

The Company's stores are typically located in power strip centers with convenient parking and are easily accessible from main traffic arteries. The Company's prototype store ranges in size from 20,000 to 25,000 square feet, with approximately 80% devoted to selling space and the remainder consisting of delivery, storage, classroom and office areas. Stores are typically open from 9:30 am to 9:00 pm, Monday through Saturday and from 10:00 am to 6:00 pm on Sunday.

Stores are designed with a layout intended to lead customers through the entire store in order to expose them to all 26 merchandise categories. Merchandise is grouped to aid the customer in finding project related items. Extensive use is made of the display shelving at both ends of each aisle to present the best selling items. Generally, the center of the store contains the floral area, which includes a counter for floral arrangement and a ribbon center. Stores also contain a customer service area, eight to ten registers for quick customer checkout and a room for classes.

Classes are regularly held on a wide variety of craft skills. Classes are taught by sales associates as well as outside professionals. Typical classes provide instruction on oil painting, cake decorating, advanced stamping, and on making bows, children's beaded necklaces and memory albums. Classes are free of charge unless there is an extensive use of materials.

A major component of the Company's promotional strategy is its use of in-store displays and samples. Because many customers browse for new craft ideas, eye-catching displays of completed craft projects are effective at motivating impulse purchases. These displays enhance the image of store departments. Knowledgeable store personnel are available to describe displays in detail to customers and to offer assistance on related arts and crafts projects. The Company has four field design coordinators who are responsible for ensuring high quality floral displays in all stores.

The Company's Chief Operating Officer is responsible for store operations and is assisted by the Senior Vice President, Store Operations and six Vice Presidents. Each Vice President is responsible for eight to ten stores.

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

Each store employs up to approximately 60 full and part-time sales associates and is managed by a store manager, assisted by three associate store managers, each of whom is responsible for approximately one-third of a store's selling space. New stores are opened by the Company's new store development team which consists of the Vice President, New Store Development, a set-up-crew, and staff from the human resources and planogram departments. The Company seeks to develop the management capabilities of its managers through both Company training programs and on-the-job training. In addition, store managers and associate store managers attend several Company-sponsored conferences each year to refine and develop their skills in merchandising, merchandise trends, store operations, finance, interviewing, performance appraisals and general management. Training sessions are also held for floral designers and classroom coordinators at various times during the year.

Distribution

The Company's objective of maintaining high in-stock positions in all merchandise categories in all store locations is supported by its distribution system. Approximately 42% of the selling value of all merchandise is delivered to stores from the Company's distribution center, 19% is delivered by SBAR'S and the balance is drop-shipped by other vendors. Deliveries are made from the Company's distribution center two or three times per week, depending on store size, during eight months of the year and three to five times during the peak selling season of September through December. The Company maintains its own leased fleet of tractors and trailers. The Company has contracted with an outside carrier to deliver to stores for which deliveries will require an overnight stay.

The distribution center's mission is to support the Company's stores. The distribution center is used strategically to distribute merchandise which is imported, cannot be delivered by a vendor on a timely basis or in the small quantities demanded by the store ordering process or is bulky and, therefore, difficult to maintain in the stores. Also, the Company will order merchandise in large quantities for delivery to the distribution center when the vendor offers substantial volume discounts or other economic incentives.

The Company's 250,000 square foot distribution center and adjoining 10,000 square foot office complex in Blackwood, New Jersey is leased for a term which expires in October 2004 with an option to renew for six years. Approximately one-sixth of the distribution center is used for order picking, with the balance used for receiving and bulk stock storage. The distribution center was expanded to its current size in 1998. The Company also leases an additional 150,000 square feet of warehouse space to house imported product and seasonal merchandise.

Management of the distribution process is accomplished through the use of a distribution center management system. The system includes the use of handheld computers to record all merchandise movement throughout the distribution center and to instantly update inventory records through the use of radio frequency communication. The Company believes that this system, which operates in a paperless environment, enables the Company to enhance the tracking of inventory in the distribution center, increases the efficiency of distribution center personnel and helps ensure the distribution center's ability to maintain high in-stock positions in each of the Company's stores as the Company expands its store base.

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

Advertising and Promotion

The Company creates its own advertising using photo art scanned into a Macintosh system supported by Pagemaker(R) software. The Company advertises 52 weeks per year, typically in midweek editions of local and/or regional newspapers. Approximately twelve times per year the Company runs multi-page newspaper inserts in local and regional newspapers. In addition, prior to store openings, the Company uses radio advertisements to develop customer awareness and runs special pre-opening ads, normal advertising copy and/or grand opening inserts in newspapers. In 2000, the Company's net advertising expenditures were approximately 3% of net sales.

The Company uses in-store displays and samples of completed arts and crafts projects as a major component of its promotional strategy. Because many customers browse for new craft ideas, eye-catching displays of completed craft projects are effective at motivating impulse purchases. The Company also promotes customer interest in crafting by offering classes on a wide variety of craft skills.

The Company believes that teachers, who often purchase arts and crafts merchandise for in-school projects, are an important customer segment. To generate goodwill, the Company offers teachers who join its Teachers Program a 10% discount on all regularly and sale priced merchandise. Over 450,000 discount cards have been issued to teachers.

The Company's "Crafty Kids Birthday Club" and "Teen Club" are intended to develop future crafters as customers. Members of these clubs receive a birthday card containing a $5.00 gift certificate each year through their fifteenth birthday. These clubs have over 400,000 members.

Management Information Systems

The Company operates a high speed multi-platform local area network (LAN) and a wide area network (WAN) which support the 10 servers and 250 workstations within its distribution center and corporate offices, and the 55 remote servers and 500 remote workstations located in the stores. In 1999 the Company successfully installed a voice over frame telecommunications system over its Virtual Private Network (VPN) that links its stores to its main office and distribution center. A VPN uses virtual connectivity to give all users the look and feel of a private network with the flexibility and economics of a public network. All voice and data transmissions are passed over this VPN.

The LAN and WAN support the Company's corporate systems which include its accounting, merchandising, store ordering and Radio Frequency (RF) warehouse management system. The Company's management information and control system has been designed to support the Company's key business objective of maintaining high in-stock merchandise positions in all of the Company's stores. This internally developed system is based upon EDI with most of the Company's vendors as well as with its distribution center. Stores electronically transmit their orders over the VPN to the corporate office where data is electronically sorted, processed and transmitted to the appropriate vendor. Orders are also fed automatically into the accounts payable system. This system captures daily purchases by SKU. The information is then used to develop planograms and is integrated into reports for the buyers and store managers.

In August 2000 the Company completed the installation of its new Point of Sale system (POS) in all of its stores. This new POS system which includes merchandise UPC scanning at the registers along with the expansion of the Company's Radio Frequency System, allows its stores to save or re-deploy manpower that had previously been used to mark each piece of merchandise. This system also improves the speed of the check-out process at the registers, cuts down the number of pricing errors, and provides greater control over register operations. With the POS data capturing capabilities, faster and more detailed sales and margin information is now available. In 2001 the Company anticipates completing a series of reports which will allow the organization to better utilize the information captured.

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

Competition

The arts and crafts retailing business is highly competitive. The Company currently competes against a diverse group of retailers, including several national and regional chains of arts and crafts retailers (such as publicly-held Michaels Stores and Rag Shops and privately-held Frank's Nursery and Crafts), local merchants that specialize in one or more aspects of arts and crafts and various mass merchandisers that typically dedicate a portion of their selling space to a limited selection of arts and crafts items. These mass merchandisers and some of the national chains have substantially greater financial resources and operate more stores than the Company.

The Company believes that the principal competitive factors in its business are pricing, breadth of merchandise selection, in-stock merchandise position and customer service. The Company believes that it is well positioned to compete on each of these factors.

Employees

As of December 31, 2000, the Company had 1,276 full-time and 2,063 part-time employees. Of the total 3,339, 3,094 worked at stores, 114 at the distribution center and 131 at the corporate offices. None of the Company's employees is covered by a collective bargaining agreement, and the Company considers its relationship with its employees to be good.

11

Trademarks

The Company uses the "A.C. Moore" name as a tradename and as a service mark in connection with the sale of its merchandise. The Company's "A.C. Moore" logo has been federally registered as a service mark.

Cautionary Statement Relating to Forward Looking Statements

Certain oral statements made by management of the Company from time to time and certain statements contained herein or in other periodic reports filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission or incorporated by reference herein or therein are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Exchange Act"), with respect to results of operations and the business of the Company. All such statements, other than statements of historical facts, including those regarding market trends, the Company's financial position and results of operations, business strategy, projected costs, and plans and objectives of management for future operations, are forward-looking statements. In general, such statements are identified by the use of forward-looking words or phrases including, but not limited to, "intended," "will," "should," "may," "believes," "expects," "expected," "anticipates," and "anticipated" or the negative thereof or variations thereon or similar terminology. These forward-looking statements are based on the Company's current expectations. Although the Company believes that the expectations reflected in such forward looking statements are reasonable, there can be no assurance that such expectations will prove to be correct. These forward-looking statements represent the Company's current judgment. The Company disclaims any intent or obligation to update its forward-looking statements. Because forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties, the Company's actual results could differ materially. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the Company's expectations ("Cautionary Statements") include those that are discussed below. All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements attributable to the Company or persons acting on behalf of the Company are expressly qualified in their entirety by the Cautionary Statements.

Risks Associated With Expansion. The Company's strategy to increase its net sales and earnings will depend in large part on its ability to open new stores and to operate them on a profitable basis. The Company opened ten stores in 2000 and anticipates opening 10-14 stores in 2001 and at least 12 stores in 2002, in both existing and new geographic markets. The opening of additional stores in an existing market could result in lower net sales from the Company's existing stores in that market. Opening stores in new geographic markets may present competitive and merchandising challenges that are different from those currently faced by the Company in its existing geographic markets. The Company may incur higher costs related to advertising and distribution in connection with entering new markets. If the Company opens stores that do not perform to the Company's expectations or if store openings are delayed, the Company's results of operations and financial condition could be materially adversely affected. The success of the Company's planned expansion will be dependent upon many factors, including the identification of suitable markets, the availability and leasing of suitable sites on acceptable terms, the availability of acceptable financing, the hiring, training and retention of qualified management and other store personnel and general economic conditions. The Company's expansion will place significant demands on the Company's management, resources, operations and existing information systems, and the Company must ensure the continuing adequacy of its financial controls, operating procedures and information systems. Also, the Company's continued growth will depend on its ability to increase sales in its existing stores. There can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in any of these areas, and, as a result, there can be no assurance that the Company will achieve its planned expansion or that new stores will be effectively integrated into the Company's existing operations or will be profitable.

Dependence on Key Personnel. The success of the Company and its growth strategy is dependent upon the active involvement of senior management personnel, particularly John E. ("Jack") Parker, its President and Chief Executive Officer. The loss of the services of Mr. Parker or other members of senior management could have a materially adverse effect on the Company. The Company has not entered into employment agreements with any members of its senior management team nor does it maintain any key man life insurance on them. The Company's success in the future will also be dependent upon its ability to attract and retain other qualified personnel, including store managers.

Small Store Base. As of December 31, 2000 the Company operated a chain of only 50 stores. The results achieved to date by the Company's relatively small store base may not be indicative of the results of the larger number of stores which the Company intends to operate in existing or new markets. Because the Company's current and planned stores are located in the mid-Atlantic,

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

Northeast and Southeast regions, the effect on the Company of adverse events in these regions (such as weather or unfavorable regional economic conditions) may be greater than if the Company's stores were more geographically dispersed. Furthermore, due to the Company's relatively small store base, one or more unsuccessful new stores, or a decline in sales at an existing store, will have a more significant effect on the Company's results of operations than would be the case if the Company had a larger store base.

Quarterly Fluctuations. The Company's business is affected by the seasonality pattern common to most retailers. Due to the importance of the fall selling season, which includes Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas, the fourth calendar quarter has historically contributed, and is expected to continue to contribute, a substantial majority of the Company's operating income for the entire year. As a result, any factors negatively affecting the Company during the fourth quarter of any year, including adverse weather and unfavorable economic conditions, would have a materially adverse effect on the Company's results of operations for the entire year. The Company's quarterly results of operations also may fluctuate based upon such factors as the timing of certain holiday seasons, the number and timing of new store openings, the amount and timing of store pre-opening expenses, the amount of net sales contributed by new and existing stores, the mix of products sold, the timing and level of markdowns, competitive factors, weather and general economic conditions.

Competition. The arts and crafts retailing business is highly competitive. The Company currently competes against a diverse group of retailers, including several national and regional chains of arts and crafts retailers, a substantial number of local merchants that specialize in one or more aspects of arts and crafts and various mass merchandisers that typically dedicate a portion of their selling space to a limited selection of arts and crafts items. These mass merchandisers and some of the national chains have substantially greater financial resources and operate more stores than the Company.

Risks Associated With Merchandising. The Company's success depends, in large part, on its ability to anticipate and respond, in a timely manner, to changing merchandise trends and consumer demands. Accordingly, any delay or failure by the Company in identifying and responding to changing merchandise trends could adversely affect consumer acceptance of the merchandise in the Company's stores. In addition, the Company makes decisions regarding merchandise well in advance of each of the seasons in which such merchandise will be sold. Significant deviations from projected demand for products would have a materially adverse effect on the Company's results of operations and financial condition, either from lost sales due to insufficient inventory or lower margins due to the need to mark down excess inventory.

Dependence on SBAR'S. SBAR'S is the Company's largest supplier of merchandise to the Company who accounted for approximately 19% of the dollar volume of the Company's purchases in 2000. The Company's future success is dependent upon its ability to maintain a continuing good relationship with SBAR'S and its other principal suppliers. The Company does not have any purchase agreements or exclusive arrangements with SBAR'S or any other vendors, and ordering of merchandise typically occurs through the issuance of individual purchase orders. The failure to maintain such relationships could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's results of operations, financial condition and planned store expansion.

Risks Associated with Sourcing and Obtaining Merchandise from Foreign Sources. The Company in recent years has placed increased emphasis on obtaining floral and seasonal items from overseas vendors, with approximately 10% of all merchandise being purchased from overseas vendors in 2000. A change in the competitiveness of a particular country's exports, whether due to a change in trade regulations, currency fluctuations or other reasons is likely to increase the cost of items purchased by the Company overseas or make such items unavailable with a possible resulting materially adverse effect on the Company's results of operations and financial condition.

Inventory Risk. The Company depends upon in-store department managers to reorder merchandise. The failure of the Company's staff to accurately respond to inventory requirements could adversely affect consumer acceptance of the merchandise in the Company's stores and thereby negatively impact sales which could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's results of operations and financial condition. In addition, as do most other retailers, the Company conducts a physical inventory in the stores once a year, and quarterly results are based on an estimated gross margin and accrual for estimated inventory shrinkage.

Future Capital Needs. The Company currently intends to finance the opening of new stores with cash flow from operations and borrowings. The Company plans to open 10-14 stores in 2001 and at least 12 stores in 2002. The Company expects that the average cash investment, including pre-opening expenses, required to open a store will be approximately $1,250,000. There can be no assurance that the actual cost of opening a store will not be significantly greater than that expected by the Company. The Company may be required to seek additional debt and/or equity financing in order to fund its continued expansion. There can be no assurance that such additional financing will be available on terms acceptable to the Company, if at all. In addition, the Company's ability to incur additional indebtedness or issue equity or debt securities could be limited by covenants in present and future loan agreements and debt instruments.

16

Ms. Parker-Vandenberg has been Senior Vice President, Merchandising of the Company since 1994. From 1990 to 1994, Ms. Parker-Vandenberg served as Vice President of Administration of the Company, and from 1985 to 1990, she was the Company's Accounting Manager. Ms. Parker-Vandenberg is the daughter of Jack and Patricia A. Parker.

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES.

As of March 15, 2001, the Company operated twelve stores in Pennsylvania, nine stores in New York, eight stores each in New Jersey and Massachusetts, five stores in North Carolina, four stores in Maryland, three stores in Connecticut, two stores in Delaware, and one store in each of New Hampshire and Rhode Island, all of which are leased. In addition, the Company has five stores (two each in North Carolina and New Jersey and one in West Virginia) under lease, all of which the Company plans to open in 2001. Most store leases have an average initial term of ten years, with three five-year renewal options, and provide for predetermined escalations in future minimum annual rent or additional rent contingent upon store sales levels. The pro rata portion of scheduled rent escalations has been included in other long-term liabilities in the Company's balance sheet.

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

The Company selects store sites on the basis of various factors, including physical location, demographics, anchor and other tenants, location within the center, parking and available lease terms. The Company looks for co-tenants that generate a high rate of shopping traffic, such as specialty value-oriented women's retailers, leading chain supermarkets, discount chains, home improvement centers, book stores and domestics stores. The Company believes its stores are attractive to developers because they attract high rates of customer traffic and generate above average net sales per square foot. The Company's store site selection process is headed by the Chief Operating Officer.

The Company's 250,000 square foot distribution center and adjoining 10,000 square foot office complex in Blackwood, New Jersey is leased for a term which expires in October, 2004 with an option to renew for six years. Approximately one-sixth of the distribution center is used for order picking, with the balance used for receiving and bulk stock storage. The Company also leases an additional 150,000 square feet of warehouse space to house imported product and seasonal merchandise. That lease expires in February, 2003.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

From time to time, the Company is involved in litigation arising in the ordinary course of its business. None of the pending litigation, in the opinion of management, is likely to have a materially adverse effect on the Company's results of operations or financial condition. The Company maintains general liability insurance in amounts deemed adequate by management.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS.

No matters were submitted to a vote of security holders during the fourth quarter of fiscal 2000, through the solicitation of proxies or otherwise.

PART II

ITEM 5. MARKET FOR REGISTRANT'S COMMON EQUITY AND RELATED STOCKHOLDER MATTERS.

The Company's Common Stock is traded on the NASDAQ National Market under the symbol ACMR. The following table shows the quarterly range of high and low sales prices of the Common Stock for each quarterly period within the two most recent years:

As of March 16, 2001, there were approximately 96 stockholders of record.

The Company does not intend to pay any cash dividends as it intends to retain its earnings to finance the expansion of its business. Future dividends, if any, will depend upon the Company's results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements and other factors deemed relevant by the Board of Directors. Furthermore, the Company's credit agreement prohibits the payment of cash dividends by the Company without the bank's consent.

- (1) Prior to the Company's initial public offering completed on October 9, 1997, the Company elected to be taxed under the S Corporation provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. Under these provisions, the shareholders of the Company included their pro rata share of income or loss in their individual returns. The pro forma information has been computed as if the Company was subject to federal and all applicable state corporate income taxes for each year presented, assuming the tax rate that would have applied had the Company been taxed as a C Corporation
- (2) EBITDA is calculated as income before income taxes plus interest, depreciation and amortization. EBITDA should not be considered as an alternative to net income, as an indicator of operating performance or as an alternative to cash flow as a measure of liquidity to service debt obligations and is not in accordance with or superior to generally accepted accounting principles, but provides additional information on the company's ability to incur and service debt.

ITEM 7. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

The following discussion of the Company's historical results of operations and its liquidity and capital resources should be read in conjunction with the selected financial data and the consolidated financial statements of the Company and related notes thereto appearing elsewhere in this report.

Overview

The Company is a rapidly growing operator of arts and crafts stores that offers a vast assortment of traditional and contemporary arts and crafts merchandise for a wide range of customers.

In 1995, the Company implemented a plan to build its infrastructure to position the Company for rapid future growth. By the end of 1996, the Company had recruited experienced senior retail executives in the areas of operations, merchandising and finance, made key additions in other areas such as buying, information systems, human resources and real estate, leased a new 130,000 square foot distribution center and office complex (expanded to 250,000 square feet in 1998), developed its automated ordering system to electronically link the Company with most vendors, and developed a real estate program to accommodate the Company's expansion plan. In 1996, the Company opened one new store. In 1997 and 1998, the Company continued the implementation of its expansion strategy by opening a total of 20 new stores and achieved a sales growth in the existing store base of 3% in 1998 and 4% in 1997. Newer stores, on average, do not generate the volume levels of older stores. As a result, average sales per store in 1998 of $6.3 million was lower than the average sales per store of $6.7 million in 1997, and sales per square foot of $302 in 1998 was lower than sales per square foot of $326 in 1997.

In 1998, the Company did not meet its sales and profit objectives and as a result made the decision to slow down its store expansion so that it could concentrate on improving the operations and profits of its existing stores. In 1999, the Company opened three new stores, improved its departmental plan-o-grams and also improved its internal communications between various components of its organization. In 1999, the sales growth in existing stores was 6%. Average sales per store and sales per square foot continued to decline in 1999 to $5.9 million and $271, respectively, from the previous year due to the factors cited above.

With the changes made by the Company in 1999, the Company re-established its aggressive opening schedule and opened 10 stores in 2000. The Company plans to open at least 22 new stores in 2001 and 2002, all within 500 miles of its southern New Jersey distribution center. This area contains more than 30% of the United States' population.

2000 Compared to 1999

Net Sales. Net sales increased $39.1 million, or 17.5%, to $262.1 million from $223.0 million in 1999. This increase resulted from (i) net sales of $25.2 million from 10 new stores opened during the period, (ii) net sales of

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

$7.5 million from stores opened in 1999 not included in the comparable store base, and (iii) a comparable store sales increase of $6.4 million, or 3%. Stores are added to the comparable store base at the beginning of the fourteenth full month of operation.

Gross Margin. Cost of sales includes the cost of merchandise, plus certain distribution and purchasing costs. Cost of sales increased $22.8 million, or 15.9%, to $165.9 million in 2000 from $143.1 million in 1999. The gross margin increased $16.3 million, or 20.4%, to $96.2 million in 2000 from $79.9 million in 1999. The gross margin increased to 36.7% of net sales in 2000 from 35.8% in 1999 mainly due to reductions in clearance sales in the fourth quarter and also reductions in costs obtained from both domestic and import suppliers.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses include (a) direct store level expenses, including rent and related operating costs, payroll, advertising, depreciation and other direct costs, and (b) corporate level costs not directly associated with or allocable to cost of sales including executive salaries, accounting and finance, corporate information systems, office facilities and other corporate expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased $13.2 million, or 18.7%, in 2000 to $83.5 million from $70.3 million in 1999. Of the increase, $10.2 million was attributable to the ten stores open during 2000 which were not open during 1999 and the stores opened in 1999 not in the comparable store base. The remainder of the increase is attributable to $1.6 million in operating expenses in the comparable stores (2.7%) and $1.4 million in corporate costs. The increase in corporate costs is the result of continued expansion of the infrastructure to support the growth of the Company. As a percentage of sales, selling, general and administrative costs increased to 31.9% of net sales in 2000 from 31.5% of net sales in 1999. This increase is primarily due to the new stores which, on average, have higher operating costs as a percent of sales than older stores.

Store pre-Opening Expenses. The Company expenses store pre-opening costs as incurred. Pre-opening expenses for the ten new stores opened in 2000 amounted to $1.9 million. In 1999, the Company opened 3 stores and had pre-opening expenses of $609,000.

Interest Expense. Interest expense was $345,000 for 2000, an increase of $173,000 from 1999. This increase was the result of greater short-term bank borrowings as compared with 1999.

Interest Income. Interest income was $158,000 in 2000, a decrease of $53,000 from 1999. The decrease was due to lower cash investments as monies received from the sale of common shares in 1997 have been used to fund the Company's growth.

Income Taxes. For 2000, the effective tax rate was 38.0%, .8% greater than the effective rate in 1999 due to the level of income which moved the Company into a higher federal income tax bracket.

1999 Compared to 1998

Net Sales. Net sales increased $36.0 million, or 19.2%, to $223.0 million from $187.0 million in 1998. This increase resulted from (i) net sales of $4.1 million from three new stores opened during the period, (ii) net sales of $21.1 million from stores opened in 1998 not included in the comparable store base, and (iii) a comparable store sales increase of $10.8 million, or 6%. Stores are added to the comparable store base at the beginning of the fourteenth

Gross Margin. Cost of sales increased $24.4 million, or 20.5%, to $143.1 million in 1999 from $118.7 million in 1998. The gross margin increased $11.6 million, or 17.1%, to $79.9 million in 1999 from $68.3 million in 1998. The gross margin decreased to 35.8% of net sales in 1999 from 36.5% in 1998 mainly due to competitive discounting in the marketplace.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased $10.1 million, or 16.8%, in 1999 to $70.3 million from $60.2 million in 1998. Of the increase, $9.8 million was attributable to the three stores open during 1999 which were not open during 1998 and the stores opened in 1998 not in the comparable store base. The remainder of the increase is attributable to $200,000 in operating expenses in the comparable stores and $100,000 in corporate costs. As a percentage of sales, selling, general and administrative costs decreased to 31.5% of net sales in 1999 from 32.2% of net sales in 1998. This decrease is primarily due to leveraging of corporate general and administrative expenses.

Store pre-Opening Expenses. Pre-opening expenses for the three new stores opened in 1999 amounted to $609,000. In 1998, the Company opened 12 stores and had pre-opening expenses of $2.2 million.

Interest Expense. Interest expense was $172,000 for 1999, an increase of $106,000 from 1998. This increase was the result of greater short-term bank borrowings as compared with 1998.

Interest Income. Interest income was $211,000 in 1999, a decrease of $260,000 from 1998. The decrease was due to lower cash investments as monies received from the sale of common shares in 1997 have been used to fund the Company's growth.

Income Taxes. For 1999, the effective tax rate was 37.2%, .3% greater than the effective rate in 1998.

Seasonality and Quarterly Results

Due to the importance of the fall selling season, which includes Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas, the fourth calendar quarter has historically contributed, and is expected to continue to contribute, a substantial majority of the Company's profitability for the entire year. As a result, any factors negatively affecting the Company during the fourth quarter of any year, including adverse weather and unfavorable economic conditions, would have a materially adverse effect on the Company's results of operations for the entire year.

The Company's quarterly results of operations also may fluctuate based upon such factors as the timing of certain holiday seasons, the number and timing of new store openings, the amount of store pre-opening expenses, the amount of net sales contributed by new and existing stores, the mix of products sold, the timing and level of markdowns, competitive factors, weather and general economic conditions.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company's cash needs are primarily for working capital to support its inventory requirements and capital expenditures, pre-opening expenses and beginning inventory for new stores.

At December 31, 2000 and 1999, the Company's working capital was $47.2 million and $46.6 million, respectively. During 2000 and 1999 cash of $6.7 million and $9.8 million was generated by operations, respectively. In 2000 and 1999, $13.5 million and $4.9 million of cash, respectively, was used to increase inventory levels to support both new and existing stores. In these periods, part of the inventory increase was financed through increases in accounts payable of $8.1 million and $2.6 million, respectively.

Net cash used in investing activities during 2000 and 1999 was $10.6 million and $1.7 million, respectively. This use of cash was attributed to capital expenditures of $10.6 million in 2000 and $5.5 million in 1999. In 1999 capital expenditures included $2.5 million for new store openings and for major renovations in existing stores and $2.0 million relating to point of sale and other systems development. In 2000 capital expenditures related principally to new store openings and the implementation of the point of sale system. In 1999, the Company received the proceeds of $3.9 million of marketable securities. In 2001, the Company expects to spend approximately $11.0 million on capital expenditures, which includes approximately $9.0 million for new store openings and the remainder for remodeling and systems in existing stores, warehouse equipment and systems development.

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

borrowings under the financing agreement will be sufficient to finance its working capital and capital expenditure requirements for at least the next 12 months.

Inflation

Management does not believe that inflation has had a material effect on its financial condition or results of operations during the past three years.

A.C. MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS, INC. NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization and basis of presentation. A.C. Moore Arts & Crafts, Inc. became a holding company in July 1997 by incorporating in Pennsylvania and exchanging its common stock for all of the capital stock of A.C. Moore Inc. held by its shareholders. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of A.C. Moore Arts & Crafts, Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiaries (collectively the "Company"). All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. As of December 31, 2000, the Company operated a 50-store chain of retail arts and crafts stores in the eastern region of the United States.

Cash and cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents are stated at cost, which approximates market value. Cash equivalents include only securities having an original maturity of three months or less.

Concentration of credit risk. Financial instruments, which potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk, are cash and cash equivalents. The Company limits its credit risk by placing its investments in highly rated, highly liquid funds.

Inventories. Inventories, which consist of general consumer merchandise held for sale, are stated at the lower of cost or market. The cost of store inventories is determined by the retail inventory method. Warehouse inventories are determined on a first-in, first-out basis. The Company includes as inventoriable costs certain indirect costs, principally purchasing, warehousing and distribution.

Property and equipment. Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Furniture, fixtures and equipment are depreciated over periods of five to ten years and leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of their estimated useful lives or the term of the related lease. Maintenance and repairs are charged to operations as incurred and major improvements are capitalized. Amortization of assets recorded under capital leases is included in depreciation expense.

Revenue recognition. Revenue is recognized at point of retail sale.

Store pre-opening expenses. Direct incremental costs incurred to prepare a store for opening are charged to expense as incurred.

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

Advertising costs. The costs incurred for advertising are expensed the first time the advertising takes place and are offset by reimbursements received under cooperative advertising programs with certain vendors. Net advertising expense during 2000, 1999 and 1998 was $6,518,000, $6,305,000 and $5,748,000, respectively.

Fair value of investments. The carrying amounts of cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities, accounts receivable, other current assets, accounts payable, accrued expenses and other liabilities approximate fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments. The carrying amount of capital lease obligations approximate fair value, as the interest rates on the obligations approximate rates currently available to the Company for obligations with similar terms and remaining maturities.

Use of estimates. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Differences from those estimates, if any, are recorded in the period they become known.

Stock option plan. The Company accounts for its employee stock options using the intrinsic value method prescribed in Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees" (APB 25). Compensation cost for stock options is measured as the excess of the quoted market price of the Company's stock at the date of grant over the amount an employee must pay to acquire the stock.

2. Earnings Per Share

The following is a reconciliation of the denominators of the basic and diluted earnings per share computations:

4. Financing Agreement

The Company has a financing agreement through April 1, 2002 with a bank which provides a $25,000,000 revolving credit facility. The agreement is collateralized by all of the Company's assets and bears elective interest rates which vary based upon the bank's prime rate or LIBOR. Available amounts under this facility are reduced by amounts outstanding under capital lease obligations with the bank. There were no amounts outstanding at December 31, 2000 or 1999 under the revolving line of credit.

5. Income Taxes

The Company utilizes the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under this method, deferred tax liabilities and assets are recognized for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying amounts and the tax bases of assets and liabilities. As of December 31, 2000 and 1999, the deferred tax liability of $2,320,000 and $1,720,000, respectively comprised principally temporary differences related to depreciation.

A reconciliation of income tax expense at the federal income tax rate to the income tax provision is as follows:

	Year Ended December 31,

Total income tax provision.....	$4,019	$3,350	$2,300

6. Shareholders' Equity

The Company has authorized 5,000,000 shares of undesignated preferred stock. The Company may issue preferred stock in one or more series by vote of its Board of Directors having the dividend rights, dividend rates, conversion rights, voting rights, terms of redemption, redemption prices and liquidation preferences approved by the Board of Directors.

At December 31, 2000, under the Company's Employee, Director and Consultant Stock Option Plan (the "1997 Plan"), the Company may grant up to 1,000,000 shares of common stock. Stock options expire ten years from the date of grant and vest ratably over a three year period. Shares available for future grants amounted to 198,384 at December 31, 2000 and 334,700 at December 31, 1999.

For 2000, 1999 and 1998, the Company's stock option activity is summarized below:

	Options	Weighted Average Exercise Price	Options	Weighted Average Exercise Price	Options
	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----
Outstanding at beginning of year	665,300	$ 9.31	507,000	$ 10.80	386,500

Exercisable at end of year	405,268	$10.17	279,385	$ 10.00	119,800

Exercise prices for options outstanding as of December 31, 2000 and the weighted average remaining contractual life of the option is as follows.

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

Exercise Price	Number of Options	Remaining Life
$ 4.75 - 5.75	174,183	8.5 years
$ 7.88 - 9.00	502,300	7.7 years
$ 13.38 - 15.38	114,800	7.5 years

Had compensation cost for the Company's stock-based compensation plan been determined based on the fair value at the grant date for awards under those plans, consistent with the requirements of SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation," net income and earnings per share would have been reduced to the following pro-forma amounts:

35

		2000	1999
Net income	-- As reported	$ 6,557,000	$ 5,664,000
	-- Pro forma	$ 5,713,000	4,962,000
Basic earnings per share	-- As reported	$.89	$.76
	-- Pro forma	$.77	.67
Diluted earnings per share	-- As reported	$.88	$.76
	-- Pro forma	$.77	.67

The pro forma results may not be representative of the effects on reported operations for future years. The fair value of the options was calculated using a Black-Scholes options pricing model with the following weighted-average assumptions: risk-free interest rate of 6.3% for 2000, 5.7% for 1999 and 5.1% for 1998; no dividend yield; and a weighted average expected life of the options of seven years. In accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 123 the expected stock price volatility was 46.6% for 2000 and 54.6% for both 1999 and 1998.

Effective September 15, 1997, options to purchase 444,500 shares of common stock were granted under the 1997 Plan at an exercise price per share of $9.00 with an exercise term of ten years. The estimated fair value of the shares on the measurement date was $10.20. The related compensation expense is being amortized ratably over the three year vesting period. At December 31, 1999, unearned compensation included in stockholders' equity was $102,000. At December 31, 2000, all such compensation has been recognized.

On February 28, 1995, in recognition of financial consulting services, the Company granted a Board member an option to purchase 64,500 shares of common stock, representing a 1.5% ownership interest in the Company. The option, which expires February 28, 2005, has an exercise price of $4.66. The Company utilized the Black-Scholes option-pricing model to estimate the fair value of the option. The fair value of the option did not materially impact the results of operations over the periods benefited.

7. Retirement Plan

In January 1999 the Company established a 401(k) savings plan (the "401(k) Plan") for eligible team members. Participation in the 401(k) Plan is voluntary and available to any team member who is 21 years of age and has completed a three month eligibility period. Participants may elect to contribute up to 20% of their compensation. In accordance with the provisions of the 401(k) Plan, the Company makes a matching contribution to the account of each participant in an amount equal to 25% of the first 6% of eligible compensation contributed by each participant with a maximum match of $1,500. The Company's matching contribution expense for 2000 was $170,000 and for 1999 was $168,000.

8. Commitments and Contingencies

Commitments

The Company leases its retail stores, administrative offices and warehouse facilities under noncancelable operating leases. The lease for the administrative offices and distribution center has an initial lease term of six years with a six-year renewal option. Most store leases have an average initial term of ten years, with three five year renewal options, and provide for predetermined escalations in future minimum annual rent or additional rent contingent upon store sales levels. The pro rata portion of scheduled rent escalations has been included in other long-term liabilities in the accompanying balance sheet. For the years 2000 and 1999 the amount of accrued rent expense recognized over the amount paid were $522,000 and $416,000, respectively and has been included in other long-term liabilities in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet.

Rent expense under operating leases consists of:

	Year Ended December 31,
	2000	1999	1998
		(in thousands)
Minimum rentals	$12,883	$10,846	$8,218
Contingent payments	118	146	188
	-----	-----	-----
	$13,001	$10,992	$8,406

In 2000, the Company entered into six leases for stores to open in 2001.

Future minimum lease payments (including those for unopened stores) as of December 31, 2000 for non-cancelable operating leases with terms in excess of one year are as follows (in thousands):

2001.....	$ 15,518
-----------	-----------

Edgar Filing: A C MOORE ARTS & CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

2002.....	15,949
2003.....	15,538
2004.....	14,053
2005.....	13,324
Thereafter.....	68,871

Total minimum future rentals.....	$143,253

Financing activities not affecting cash during 1998 included capital lease obligations incurred in connection with equipment purchases of $1,924,000. These leases require payments of principal and interest of $443,000 per year through 2003. Interest rates under these leases approximate 6.4%.

Contingencies

The Company is not a party to any material legal proceedings other than routine litigation incidental to its business. In the opinion of management, the amount of ultimate liability with respect to these actions will not materially affect the financial position, operating results or cash flows of the Company.

37
